Private Families who aim to raise vegetables of the best quality ONLY, need not to be reminded "THAT NOT ALL GROW ON THIS EARTH" not that from good SEED ALONE can good vegetables be obtained.

Seeds may, indeed, grow freely enough but unless they prove good in every respect, it were better they had not grown at all. The seeds offered by us being mainly the produce of Bloomsdale, raised under our own personal supervision, with the aid of years of practical experience, we are enabled to speak with entire confidence as to their quality, and of the reasonable probability of satisfactory results. ☞ We have but few "Novelties" to offer, our experience (obtained at some cost) is that out of the multitude of the class of vegetables advertised for sale, in most cases the GOOD are not NEW, and the NEW are not good—substantial, staple, well-known sorts are in the main the most reliable.

Purchasers who do not reside within easy access of the city, nor near merchants or druggists who vend our seeds, can be supplied by mail, post-paid. Priced Catalogues, FOR FAMILY USE, with the RURAL REGISTER for 1868 (abounding in useful hints), will be mailed, without charge, to all who apply enclosing a 3-cent stamp,

THE BEST ARE THE CHEAPEST.

THE MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS have just been awarded a FIRST PRIZE MEDAL at the Grand Exposition in Paris, in competition with instruments from the best makers of all countries. This makes over SEVENTY HIGHEST PREMIUMS awarded them within a few years. Testimonials from more than three hundred of the most prominent musicians in the country these instruments are unequalled are published in the circulars of Mason & Hamlin.

Observe that dealers in musical instruments are strongly tempted to recommend as equal to the best, those instruments on which they can make the largest profit. The prices of M. & H. are fixed and invariable. They cannot afford the large discounts made by manufacturers of inferior work, many of whom sell at 40 to 50 per cent discount.

At the prices at which they are sold, the Mason & Hamlin Organs are believed to be not only the best but the cheapest instruments of their class. Send for a circular, with particulars to MASON & HAMLIN,

Also, now a second edition of this new work is ready and nearly in advance. It is new in method and matter, embracing modern exercises and specimens from the best, while its selection of Exercises, Recreations, and Pieces, mostly from composers of recognized eminence, is unusually large and very choice.

This is the first instruction book to include the technical and modern pianoforte playing—has a full elucidation and illustration of Mr. Mason's new system. No critical Treatment of Exercises, by which they—action of the pupil is almost compelled into careless practice is rendered nearly impossible, while not only the hand, but the mind, is trained and all the faculties are cultivated and trained. It is emphatically a work "the result of long and most successful experience in the actual business of pianoforte teaching. It is carefully progressive, very clear and precise, and full in its explanations and directions, illustrated by cuts and diagrams, and is adapted to the use of young learners as well as of those who have made progress. 224 pp. Price $4.
