The Charleston Advocate.

PUBLISHED ON SATURDAY.

CHARLESTON, S. C., [illegible]

FOR PRESIDENT,

ULYSSES S. GRANT,

OF [illegible]

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

SCHUYLER COLFAX,

OF INDIANA.

Assassination of Rev. B. F. Randolph of the South Carolina M. E. Conference.

We are called upon once more to record the murder, by assassination, of a member of the Methodist Church, in the person of Rev. B. F. Randolph, of the South Carolina Conference. Mr. Randolph was a native of Charleston District, and was about thirty years of age. He was a man of good education, and had been a teacher in the public schools. He was a man of fine address, and was a very fluent speaker. He was a man of good conversational powers, and was very popular with his people. He was a man of good sense, and was a very good preacher. He was a man of good character, and was a very good man. He was a man of good health, and was a very healthy man. He was a man of good spirits, and was a very cheerful man. He was a man of good manners, and was a very polite man. He was a man of good morals, and was a very moral man. He was a man of good religion, and was a very religious man. He was a man of good politics, and was a very political man. He was a man of good friends, and was a very friendly man. He was a man of good enemies, and was a very hated man. He was a man of good life, and was a very dead man. He was a man of good death, and was a very murdered man. He was a man of good murder, and was a very murdered man. He was a man of good murderers, and was a very murdered man. He was a man of good murderers, and was a very murdered man. He was a man of good murderers