FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 13, 1867.

LOCAL MATTERS.

To Transient Advertisers. No transient advertisement will be published in this journal hereafter unless paid for in advance. By transient we mean an advertisement from any person who is not a regular advertising customer of the News.

Job Work. We have now completed our office so as to execute, in the shortest possible time ALL KINDS OF JOB WORK, and we most respectfully ask the patronage of our friends.

Change of Hour for Delivery of Sunday Mail. On and after Sunday 8th inst., this Office will be open from half-past five to half-past six for delivering mails. STANLEY G. TROTT, P. M.

Post Office Notice.

Post Office, }
Charleston, S. C., July 6, 1867. }

After to-day the mails for Northeastern Railroad will close at 8 o'clock A.M., and to-day and afterwards they are expected to reach the Railroad "Station," at 2:30 o'clock P.M., and to be ready for delivery at this office at 3:30 o'clock P. M.

STANLEY G. TROTT, P. M.

Postoffice Notice. An evening mail for Augusta and Savannah, and for distribution beyond those offices, will close daily at the Postoffice at half-past 6 o'clock.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Mecklenburg Female College, which appears in our paper to-day.

Arrivals. Among the arrivals at the Charleston Hotel we notice the name of ex-Governor Vance, of North Carolina.

Attention is called to an advertisement of Messrs. John Campsen & Co., offering for sale improved portable grist, meal, and flour mill combined.

We notice in looking over our country exchanges that the Newberry Herald laments the removal of General Sickles, fearing that General Order No. 10 may be revoked.

Registration in Georgetown. The Georgetown Times says: "The number of votes registered in this District to the 9th inst. is thus: Whites, 385; blacks, 3,343.

Pardoned.—Smart Chisholm alias Scipio Jenkins (colored), convicted of the murder of his child, and sentenced to be hung on the first Friday in October, has been pardoned by the Governor, on condition that he leaves the State for five years.

The rains appear to have been universal all over the country. The weather still continues unsettled, and, we presume, will continue so until the eclipse of the moon, on the day after which, according to weather prophets, we are inclined to hope for fair weather.

The Cotton Crop.—From information gathered from some of our Sea Island planters, as well as from some from the up-country, the cotton crop has been very much shortened by the rains. Many of the bolls of the cotton are rotting through moisture, while the rain has also caused a rust which is injurious.

School. Mr. Joseph T. Caldwell advertises in this morning's issue, that his school will commence at the school house in Wentworth street early in October. Parents having boys to be instructed will find it advantageous to see Mr. Caldwell in reference to their education, as he has had many year's experience as an instructor.

New Arrivals.—We call the particular attention of our readers to the announcement of our friend, Mr. Chafee, in this morning's paper. His advertisements say much more for him than we can. They illustrate his enterprise, and they say to the public "W. H. Chafee is ready for the Fall business." In saying this they say the truth, as any one will be convinced by calling at No. 207 East Bay.

Registration in the City Yesterday.—

Why is it?—Sometimes we take a jaunt through the market during market hours. Now, we can truly say, that we have a very good market. It is tolerably well supplied. Being inquisitive, we consequently inquire the price of this and that, in order to keep ourselves posted; and we cannot help from thinking and saying, too, that prices range exceedingly high; one result is, that poor people are compelled to buy very sparingly. We had hoped from the grain and fruit prospects that a great decline would have taken place.

Base Ball.—A game came off yesterday evening between the first nine of the Carolina Base Ball Club and the second nine of the Palmetto's. There were present nine of the Carolinas and six of the Palmettoes. The former obtained forty-four innings, the latter twenty-two. It was a good game, and well contested; but the latter were greatly over-matched and had a poor chance to win. The Carolina Club is quite young, we understand, but they have the material for a fine organization. The Palmettoes are old and skillful. Skill, however, will not always prevail over determined odds.

Improvements.—Among the numerous improvements going on in the city are those of the Mills House and Pavilion Hotel. The proprietors of these two splendid establishments are subjecting them to a thorough state of repairs. Rotunda, office, sleeping apartments, dining rooms, etc. In fact the entire buildings within, under the manipulations of skillful hands, will present a new appearance. Everything, from indications, in connection with both houses, will be "done up" in superb style. The travelling public may rest assured that at both these houses their sojourn will always be pleasant and agreeable.

Railroad Ties. We are informed that a large and valuable contract for yellow pine cross ties for railroads is being filled by Mr. S. S. Solomons, of the Northeastern Railroad Company. Considerable amounts are being shipped North, and more are in course of going forward, and several schooners have been chartered by Mr. Wm. Roach, of our city, to take a portion of the freight. The pine along the Northeastern Railroad affords excellent material for this purpose, and we learn that a large number of men are employed on the line of the road in putting the ties in a condition for shipment.

Good for Charleston.—We have good reason for the assertion that the city of Charleston has paid nearly one-third of the entire taxation of the State thus far received by the Treasurer at Columbia.

While this is a remarkable tribute to the enterprise and growth of the city—taking into consideration the fact that two years ago we started from the bare ground—the fact is food for reflection. Why shall a mercantile community bear a burden in the general scheme of taxation, so utterly disproportionate to the estimated wealth of the State? Must the merchant forever carry the dead weight of half the plantations in the State? Must one class pay for his goods and chattels because they happen to be "merchandise," and another be exempted because property is represented by lands, implements and crops?

If it be true that there is a revolution in progress, let us at least share in some of its benefits, and see to it that in the formation of a new government every man, without distinction of race or color, shall pay his just proportion of the public expense.

Death of William Gregg, Esq.—It is with a saddened heart and reluctant pen that we record the sudden death of the above named well known public spirited citizen. No man in South Carolina, it may be safely said, has been more closely identified with her material interests, the development of her resources, and the progress of her people, than William Gregg.

Years ago he was a resident of Charleston. Recognizing the importance of cotton manufactures in the State, he moved to Graniteville, and there laid the foundation of the present prosperous village, now the site of the largest cotton factory in South Carolina, and one that may well be adopted as a model of order, economy and perfection in the art.

Uniting to rare practical talents, large information acquired by reading, travel and experience, he frequently gave to the public in former years the benefit of his suggestions, and our older citizens and planters will remember the progressive views which he took occasion to set forth in pamphlet and journal from time to time, and the interesting discussions to which they gave rise.

Mr. Gregg was emphatically a self-made man. He started business life when a boy, dependent on his own efforts, at wages of twenty-five cents a day. He ended life a millionaire. And the reward of energy, honesty and ability could not have been bestowed upon a worthier man. He never forgot the poor. He never neglected to encourage honest industry. He never failed to honor those who deserved well. The wealth he accumulated was employed in giving homes and employment to his operatives, in the enlargement of his manufacturing enterprises, in the education of the children growing up around him, in the support of the teachers he employed—in short, he applied his means wherever he found that the interest upon his capital could be illustrated by intelligence, activity, and general good.

Such men are always a loss, and wherever these paragraphs are read—for Wm. Gregg was no obscure man—sorrow will be expressed that one so useful, so true, so genial, so thoroughly the friend and father, at once the upright citizen and consistent Christian—should be called away before his labors were done, and at a period when his ripe knowledge was being constantly invoked in behalf of the welfare and commercial growth of our people.

We are informed that the cause of the death of Mr. Gregg was fever, superinduced by exposure while directing the reconstruction of a dam at Graniteville, which had been recently washed away. The funeral takes place to-day.

He had held sundry offices of honor in the State, and was a member of various incorporated companies, and it is but a few days since he attended a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the South Carolina Penitentiary, of which he was Chairman.

"Every man has his appointed time allotted him, a short and irrecoverable term of existence is assigned to, bestowed on all; but to extend our fame, our renown, to gain a good name by distinguished achievements, this is indeed true virtue's work."

We would call attention to the advertisement of the Great Inland Air Route from Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore to Charleston, in which will be found the tariff of through rates.

Bills Receivable.—There is a probability that the bills receivable of the State will all be husbanded within the next thirty days. An order has been issued by His Excellency, the Governor, as we are informed, to the effect that sheriffs shall be authorized to receive the State issue in payment of all tax executions in their hands for collection.

We understand that so few of these bills are now uncleemed, that they stand almost at par, and further, that attempts have been recently made to purchase them for speculative purposes without avail. We regard this as one of the healthy signs of the times.

From Spartanburg.—The Spartanburg Spartan says:

"We have been requested to give notice that the South Carolina Presbytery will meet in the Presbyterian Church of Spartanburg on Thursday, the 26th inst., at 10 A. M., and that a full attendance is expected, as business of importance will come before that body."

The same paper says, respecting the re-establishment of the mails in the up-country: "Our subscribers living on the route from this place to Hendersonville, N. C., will be pleased to know that the mail route between the above named places has been re-established, and the contract awarded to Mr. J. Barnett, of this town. This contract supplies seven postoffices, viz.: Valley Falls, Mt. Lebanon, New Prospect, Cannon's Store, Earlesville, Campobella, and Columama, N. C. Campobella, S. C., and Columbus, N. C., are the only offices that have postmasters, and at which the mails are now opened."

Our New York Steamships.—The steamship Granada, Captain Crowell, of the Lacry line arrived here yesterday forenoon from New York, via Hampton Roads. The Granada was detained in consequence of having met on the 8th inst., the Haytien steam corvette "Alexander Petion," bound to New York for repairs, but having experienced a heavy gale had lost her rudder, and her boiler gave out, rendering the ship unmanageable, in which condition she was fallen in with by the Granada, and towed to Hampton Roads.

The Granada has a full cargo of general merchandise, for merchants in all parts of the South and Southwest, which will be promptly sent forward. We were pleased to notice that the admirable characteristics which distinguish Capt. Crowell as a shipmaster are being appreciated in full freight and passenger lists. We learn that the Messrs. Leary will place immediately on the New York route the fine steamship Alabama, Captain Lightburner, and it is thought that she will leave New York for this port on the coming Saturday.

"Life is the Old Land Yet."—Depend upon it, reader, whenever you see the announcement of a new newspaper in a community that somebody is going to "make a spoon or spoil a horn." Whether the enterprise succeeds or fails makes no difference. The newspaper is a sign of thrift, and the eyes of the merchant follow its progress as a vane answers to the wind. Such a sign has recently come to us from Columbia, where some of the Printers have organized a monied and muscled company, and announce that on the 17th instant they will issue the first number of the Daily Chronicle, and as long thereafter as people choose to sustain the liveliest interior paper in South Carolina. They propose in their prospectus to devote their journal to the interests of the State, to ignore politics, and simply—make money, giving a quid pro quo to everybody who contributes to the undertaking. To advertisers they hold out the rare inducement of a free circulation of something less than five hundred thousand for the first week. There is a cum about the undertaking which we think we recognize, the scent of whose roses still hang about a shattered vase.

A Card.

What is TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT, and what are its effects? These are questions which the great American public has a right to ask, and it also has a right to expect a candid and satisfactory reply. The preparation is a mild and gentle saline cathartic, alterative and tonic, and is most carefully prepared in the form of a snow white powder, containing all the wonderful medical properties of the far-famed Seltzer Springs of Germany.

Of its effects we would say that those who have tested the preparation are the best judges, and they declare over their own signatures that the preparation will promptly relieve indigestion, Regulate the flow of the bile, Cure every species of headache, Tranquilize the nervous system, Refresh and invigorate the weak, Mitigate the pangs of Rheumatism, Neutralize acid in the Stomach, Cleanse and tone the bowels, Assist the falling appetite, Cure the heartburn.

If you are a sufferer give this Remedy one trial, and it will convince you of the above facts.

Growing Reputation.

IF THE ENTIRE CORRESPONDENCE FROM South America, Central America and the West Indies, received by Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, during the last twelve months, were published at length, it would probably be considered one of the most extraordinary collections of approbatory testimony on record. The letters, written in every variety of style, and emanating from individuals of almost every class, are, nevertheless, all of the same tenor. Physicians, priests, merchants, planters, military officers, artisans, lawyers, &c., tell one story, admitting, without reserve or qualification, that the tonics heretofore in use in those regions have been generally and justly superseded by Hostetter's Bitters.

The confidence manifested by the people of these countries might be fairly called enthusiastic. Yet these are not the only tokens of the growing popularity of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The foreign orders for the article from Europe, Australia, New Zealand, China, Japan, East Indies, Cape of Good Hope, Sandwich Islands, &c., have been heavier than at any former period.

As an antidote to malaria, a stomachic and general invigorant they all testify to its remarkable efficacy.

Know thy Destiny.

Madame E. F. Thornton, the great English Astrologer, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of her own invention, the Psychometrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can attest. She will send, when desired, a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and giving place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. INGERSOLL'S

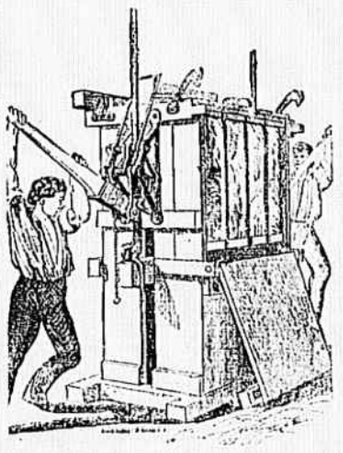
HAND POWER COTTON PRESS.



For Convenience, Economy and Cheapness, the greatest Labor Saving Machine that can be put on a Plantation.

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE:

ALLENDALE, BARNWELL DISTRICT, S. C., }
March 1, 1867. }

Messrs. Little & Marshall:

Gentlemen: I used, during the past season, one of "Ingersoll's Portable Cotton Presses," purchased of you last September. I have always been prejudiced in favor of the "Screw Press," and nothing but dire necessity induced me to try any other. I take pleasure, however, in adding my testimony in favor of its entire adaptation to the wants of a cotton plantation. It has surpassed my most sanguine expectations. I have packed with but two hands, yet I packed four—two at each lever. My bales all weighed over 500 lbs. The first bot I sent to market averaged 562 lbs. My impression is that 500 lbs. is about the capacity of the Press, and a greater number of pounds subject the following-block to too much risk, unless the sides of the cotton box was increased. It would add greatly to the value of the Press if the cotton box was ten inches longer. In haste, I am, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant, &c., B. W. LAWTON.

P. S. I took my Press down and carried it some four miles to pack the crop of a neighbor, who failed to have a "Screw" built; he was so much pleased that he has determined to abandon the "Screw" and purchase "Ingersoll's Press." B. W. L.

Office of King's Mountain Railroad Company, }
Yorkville, S. C., April 15, 1867. }

Gentlemen: I have just received your letter of February 14th—upon my return to this place, after an absence of two months—and this reply may be too late for your "Descriptive Circular of Ingersoll's Cotton Press."

The Press I used in packing my cotton last year worked admirably, packing with ease from 500 to 525 lbs. With good active hands to work it, I am satisfied that from eighteen to twenty bales might readily be packed in a day.

This Press combines the advantages of lightness, and consequent portability and simplicity (being easily managed by any one of ordinary intelligence). Great compressing force, with little motive power, and—last, but not least," it is worked entirely by hand, thus saving for the farm horses the hard labor imposed upon them by the use of the ordinary "screw." E. M. LAW.

Respectfully, &c., yours,

To LITTLE & MARSHALL, Charleston, S. C.

WAILEY'S

PATENT SELF-FASTENING WROUGHT IRON

BUCKLE TIE.

FIRST PREMIUM AWARDED AT LOUISIANA STATE FAIR.

IT IS A CHEAP A TIE, AND THE BEST ONE YET invented. It is the strongest Tie, standing by test a strain of (9000) two thousand pounds. The most easily adjusted Tie, as it is self-fastening. The most simple, requiring only to slip the band into the buckle, and the elasticity of the cotton fastens itself, and it cannot become unfastened.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PHILADELPHIA UNIVERSITY OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY.

THE PHILADELPHIA UNIVERSITY OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY was organized in 1848, chartered by the Legislature, February 25, 1853, Name changed by a legislative enactment to the Eclectic Medical College, of Philadelphia, in 1856. In 1861 it purchased the Pennsylvania Medical College, established in 1847, and the Philadelphia Medical College, which had previously been merged into the Pennsylvania Medical College. In 1864 it purchased the Penn Medical University. The Trustees of the separate schools united, incorporated and obtained a special Act of the Legislature, consolidating these institutions and changing their names to that of the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery, March 15, 1865. All the several Acts are published in the statutes of Pennsylvania. The cost of the building and museum was over one hundred thousand dollars. It will be observed that the University, as now organized, is the legal representative of the four Medical Colleges that it has absorbed. It is a liberal school of medicine, confined to no dogma, nor attached to any medical dispute; but embraces in its teaching everything of value to the profession.

Sessions.—It has two full sessions each year, commencing on the 1st of October, and continuing until the 1st of January, as its first session, and from the 1st of January to the 1st of April, as its second; the two constituting one full course of lectures. It has also a summer session, commencing the 1st April and continuing until August, for the preparatory branches, such as Latin, Greek, Mathematics, Botany, Zoology, Chemistry, Anatomy, Physiology, etc.

Tickets.—Tickets to the full course of lectures $150, or $50 for each session. For the summer or preparatory course $25. Graduating fee $30. To aid young men of moderate means, the University has issued five hundred scholarships, which are sold to first course students for $75, and to second course students and elegiates for $50, each constituting the holder a life member, with the perpetual privilege of the lectures, and all the teaching of the school. The only additional fees are a yearly directing and matriculating ticket, each of which is $5.

The Advantages of Scholarships.—The student holding a scholarship can enter the College at any time during the year, attend as long as he chooses, and re-enter the institution as frequently as he will.

It requires no previous reading or study to enter the University on scholarships, hence, all private tuition fees are saved.

Students, by holding scholarships, can prosecute other business a part of the time.

The candidate for graduation can present himself at any time, and receive his degree as soon as qualified.

In every student should hold a scholarship and not be able to attend lectures, it can be transferred to another, thus preventing any loss.

Parents, guardians or friends of students wishing to purchase scholarships for them a year or more before their attendance at the University, can secure them by advancing one-half the price and paying the balance when the student enters. Physicians and benevolent men can bestow great benefit upon poor young men by presenting them a scholarship, and thus enabling them to obtain an honorable profession.

The Faculty embraces seventeen eminent physicians and surgeons. The University has associated with it a large hospital clinic, where every form of medical and surgical disease is operated on and treated in the presence of the class.

College Building.—The College building, located in Ninth street, ninth of Walnut, is the most in the city. Its front is collegiate gothic, and is adorned with embattlements and embrasures, presenting a novel, bold, and beautiful appearance. The facade is of brown stone, ornamented by two towers, rising to the elevation of eighty feet, and crowned with an embattled parapet. The building contains between fifty and sixty rooms, all supplied with water, gas, and every other convenience that modern improvement can contribute to facilitate medical instruction. Only five hundred scholarships will be issued, and as two hundred and fifty are now sold, those who wish to secure one should do so at once. Money can be remitted by express, or a draft or check sent on any National Bank in the United States, when the scholarship will be returned by mail, signed by the President of the Board of Trustees, JOSEPH S. FISHER, Esq., and the Dean of the Faculty, W. PAINE, M. D. All orders or scholarships or other business of the University, should be addressed to Professor W. PAINE, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.
