CONGRATULATORY ADDRESSES TO AMADEUS—TERRIBLE EXPLOSION—SUSPENSION OF NEWSPAPERS—DESTRUCTIVE FIRE—MARINE DISASTER, &C., &C.

LONDON, November 13—A very extensive and alarming fire has been raging during some hours past in the city of Geneva, Switzerland. The telegrams which have been received here to this moment state that the conflagration had already swept away two blocks of houses, and that the quay and the Hotel Couronne had been destroyed. The greatest consternation prevailed among the inhabitants. The militia had been called out and placed on duty for the preservation of order and property.

GENEVA, November 13—Evening.—The fire which broke out in this city, this morning, continues to-night without abatement. The Rue Rhone, on which the flames originated, is a scene of ruin, a large number of the buildings thereon having fallen victims to the devouring element.

The subjoined sketch of the city of Geneva will be interesting, in view of this fearful visitation:

This ancient town is the capital of the Swiss canton of the same name. It is situated on the River Rhone, at its Western outlet from Lake Geneva. It is the most populous and most industrious town in Switzerland. Here is a grand Gothic cathedral and a university academy, the latter founded by Calvin. There is also a college, school of arts, a library, containing 40,000 volumes and manuscripts of rare value; extensive manufactories; the botanic garden, which was commenced by De Candolle in the year 1816; an observatory, museum, and many fine churches—Calvinist, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, and for Israelite worship There also are the famous watch factories, which employ over 3,000 working hands. Geneva has produced, or sheltered, more men of eminence than any other Old World town of the same extent. In its dwellings were, at times, Calvin, Craumer, Beza, LeSage, Saussure, DeLuc, LeFort, Necker and Rousseau. John Knox resided in the city. Calvin introduced the Protestant reformation in the city in the year 1535. The world will hope that the good old town may be spared from destruction by the fire-fiend.

MADRID, November 17—A deputation of Senators and Deputies in attendance upon the Cortes, with the Ministers of the Crown, waited, this morning, upon Amadeus, and presented congratulations upon the anniversary of his accession to the throne of Spain. The King, in response, gave the strongest assurances of his patriotism and devotion to the cause of recovering for Spain her position among the powers of Europe, and restoring the national industry and prosperity.

VIENNA, November 17.—Count Buest, Chancellor of the Empire, has addressed a circular to diplomatic agents of the Austro-Hungarian Empire resident abroad, stating his resignation was not based upon any political grounds, but upon reasons of a purely personal character.

PARIS, November 17.—A despatch from Rome states that the Holy Father has consented to the consecration of the Church of St. Suaire. He had hitherto refused to permit the ceremony to be performed, because the church was the private property of King Victor Emanuel.

MADRID, November 18.—A committee of Cortes agreed to report in favor of taxing interest on Spanish bonds at home and abroad.

NEW YORK, November 17.—A boiler in a small building attached to a public school, on Navy street, Brooklyn, exploded, this morning, shattering the walls and windows and tearing fences, and producing a panic in the school, where some 800 children were studying. The teachers succeeded in dismissing the children without injury to any one.

O'Conor denies that he and Tilden are preparing a draft of a new city charter.

John Shanley, Election Inspector, and John Campbell and Matthew McKenna, Poll Clerks, in Brooklyn, Sixth Ward, were arrested, to-day, charged with ballot-stuffing. Others will be arrested during the day, on charges of election frauds in this city, which are being investigated by the Board of Canvassers, to-day.

The commander of the Russian steamer Bogaline reports that he experienced the severest storm he has ever known after parting company with the Velland. The missing vessel must have encountered fearful weather to be so long unheard of.

Mayor Hall stated that he had Tweed's resignation in possession, conditional upon the appointment of a gentleman related to himself. He has also tendered appointments to the successors of Sweeney, Hilton and Fields as Commissioners of Parks, and to Comptroller Green, considering that the Democratic Reformers won the victory, and are entitled to fill offices and direct party affairs.

PHILADELPHIA, November 17.—The funeral services of Rev. Alfred Cookman were held this morning, in the Union Methodist Episcopal Church. The coffin was placed on a catafalque used for the remains of Lincoln. The remains were interred in Laurel Hill.

WASHINGTON, November 18.—Lord Tenterden has been appointed British agent to the Geneva arbitration.

The Dutch embassy at the Papal Court has been abolished.

The Seventy-eighth Regiment leaves Halifax for Queenstown this week.

The majority for Beveridge, Congressman at large in Illinois, was only 19,000.

The disguised men who hung three negroes for the murder of the Park family, met no serious resistance. The assailants beat down two doors of the Charleston (Ind.) jail, when the sheriff gave them the keys to the third. It is understood that the negroes made additional confessions before their execution. Three Counties contributed the men engaged in the execution.

The Guardian Savings Institution, located in Chatham street, New York, has failed. Tweed was President. The trustees say the assets are abundant, though not immediately available.

The crew of the vessel S. C. Sherman, wrecked on Lake Erie, are safe, except the chambermaid, who died from exposure. The crew drifted twenty hours in an open boat.

The importers of New York publish a letter, complaining of the continued abstraction of goods coming through the custom house.

At Prospect Park, Kingston and mate beat Honest Allen and mate for $2,000; time 2.19½, 2 17¼, 2 18½, 2 20.

NIGHT DESPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, November 18.—The November returns of the Department of Agriculture relative to the condition and yield of the cotton crop, indicate a larger product than was expected in October, and promise fully to make good the moderate expectation of July and August. There had been no killing frosts up to the date of these reports. In rich and well cultivated soils of the lower tier of States, the plant was as green and vigorous as in summer. In some places the top crop was maturing, though complaints of the immaturity or loss of the latter growth, are quite general. In the latitude of middle Georgia the squares formed between August 25 and September 25, under favorable circumstances, promised to make good cotton. The principal cause of the reduction of yield in Texas is drought; in Louisiana drought and black rot; in Mississippi, wet weather in spring and drought in summer; and in isolated sections the caterpillar or boll worm; in Florida, driving winds and floods, which occasioned nearly a total destruction of considerable areas. Drought has wrought more or less injury in Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina. The yield per acre as indicated by County estimates, is largest in Arkansas, decreasing in the following order: Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, North Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina and Florida. The more Northern belt of cotton estimates shows the least reduction from their usual average. The tabulations for November are estimates for each County of the total product of the year, expressed as per centages of the actual crop of last year. These averages are adjusted with regard to the relative production of the counties reported, and give the following result as the average of each State: North Carolina, 80 per cent.; South Carolina, 68; Georgia, 67; Florida, 58; Alabama 73; Mississippi 72; Louisiana 65; Texas 68; Arkansas 85; Tennessee 90. A few Counties in Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri make the reports of much the same tenor as the returns from North Carolina and Tennessee. The quality of the fibre is reported good in all sections up to the present date. A very small proportion of discolored or trashy cotton has been gathered; some attention has been paid to improvement in quality, by the introduction of the Peeler and other improved varieties. Many correspondents note the superiority in yield and comparative exemption from disease, under careful culture and judicious fertilization. The November and December numbers of the "Monthly" will be issued together, and will contain the substance of all the cotton reports up to December.

The President saw no visitors. The Washington treaty commission adjourned to December 6.

Horace H. Harrison has been appointed attorney for Middle Tennessee.

Probabilities—The barometer will probably fall decidedly on Sunday from Pennsylvania South-westward. North-easterly winds, with threatening weather, in the middle and South Atlantic coast; Westerly winds, with clear weather, will extend Eastward into Alabama and Indiana; increasing Easterly winds, backing to North-west, on Lakes Michigan and Superior. Cautionary signals continue for this evening at Chicago, Milwaukee and New Orleans.

NEWBERN, N. C., November 18.—The steamer Mary Sanford, on her voyage from Wilmington, N. C., to Philadelphia, sprung a leak and was beached at Hatteras, with six feet of water in her hold. She took fire immediately afterwards, and burned to the water's edge. The vessel is a total loss. A small part of the cargo was saved. No lives lost.

SAVANNAH, November 18.—There was a heavy frost this morning—making the fourth of the season. The weather is decidedly cool. The fair of the Industrial Association, which opens here next Tuesday, promises to be a complete success. The entries in all departments are very full, and the attendance promises to be unusually large.

NEW YORK, November 18.—Judge Gilbert denied the application to compel the Brooklyn board of canvassers to reject the returns of certain districts in Brooklyn.

An extensive run has been made on the Bowling Green Savings Bank, caused by a rumored connection with the Guardian Bank.
