

AD CLUB MEN HELD
SPLENDID MEETING

SMOKER LAST NIGHT AT
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
MOST ENJOYABLE

GOOD SPEECHES

Pertaining to Advertising Were Made by Several Local Business Men.

The regular monthly meeting of the Anderson Ad Club was held last night at the rooms of the chamber of commerce. The meeting was in the form of a smoker. The refreshments for the occasion were furnished by Mr. Gus Antonakis and a substantial repast was served.

Speeches were made by several members of the club. Among the most enjoyable of those addresses were those made by Mr. Eugene Brown of the Anderson Cash Grocery Company, his subject being, "Who Pays for Advertising?" He made an excellent talk on this subject, and thoroughly convinced the members assembled that successful advertisement was not paid for by any one person, but was an investment which pays dividends.

Mr. J. J. Mullan, a comparative stranger to most of the members of the club, made a short talk and described some of his experiences since he has been in Anderson. Mr. Mullan is representing the Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company and he gave an account of the advertising methods used by him since he has been in the city at work.

Mr. Sam Bailes, whose subject was "The Advantages of Good Window Dressing" made a fine talk. He was cheered all through his speech. Others made speeches and all were thoroughly enjoyed.

After the regular program was carried out, the question as to what will be the form of the Fourth of July celebration to be held in Anderson was discussed. The matter was put before the meeting for discussion, and a committee was finally appointed to look up such matters as they consider pertinent to such a celebration and make a report on the same at a call meeting which will be held Thursday, May 20. Auto races, a display of fireworks, and other things are being considered.

The committee on the next window dressing contest was notified that a classification of the different windows is desired by the club. There shall be several classes of windows and a separate prize shall be given to the winner in each class.

It was suggested that a cup be purchased and given for the best dressed window regardless of class distinction. This cup is to pass from one winner to the next. It will be engraved and the winner shall engrave his name and address and the time of winning it after each contest is decided.

The full program outlined for last night's meeting was as follows:

8:00—Eugene Brown of the Anderson Cash Grocery Co., "Who Pays for Advertising."

8:15—John Lanley, "Successful Real Estate Advertising."

8:30—Raymond E. Cochran of W. H. Kress & Co., "Selling Goods Over the Counter."

8:45—Meth Dixon of Evan Pharmacy, "Getting the Punch in Candy Advertising."

9:00—Sam Bailes of the Bee Hive, "Window Dressing."

9:15—B. Johnson, manager of the post office of the Southern Express company, "Express Service."

9:30—Mr. M. L. Campbell, "The Relation of Good Eyesight to Successful Business."

9:45—Clifford Shearer of the Bank of Anderson, "What a Bank Account Means to a Young Man."

The delightful repast consisted of the following tempting viands: Roast pork or beef, baked mackerel, green peas, spaghetti a la Italian, sliced tomatoes, olives, pickles, rice pudding, coffee, tea and milk.

COMPULSORY SCHOOL
LAW TO BE DISCUSSED

MEETING OF NEALS CREEK
SCHOOL PATRONS CALLED FOR SATURDAY

MUCH INTEREST

Is Being Manifested in New Measure Throughout the County.

Citizens of the county generally are becoming interested in the compulsory school attendance law recently enacted by the legislature and meetings of school trustees and patrons generally are being called for the purpose of discussing the merits of the new measure.

A public meeting will be held at Neals Creek school house on Saturday May 8 for the purpose of discussing the advisability of holding an election in that school district on the question of having the law made applicable to that district. The meeting has been called by the trustees of school district No. 60, and the patrons of the school are invited to attend the meeting.

A few days since a meeting of trustees and patrons of Eureka school was held for the purpose of discussing the merits of the new law. The meeting was well attended and much interest was manifested in the matter under consideration.

It is probable that between now and the expiration of the time limit for voting on this question the patrons of other school districts will hold meetings for the purpose of discussing the new measure.

business men in the United States for moral support for China in the present crisis was received today at the state department, and transmitted to the state department.

It was signed by twelve Christian Chinese organizations in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago and was addressed as well to the leading religious bodies of America.

U. S. Issues Statement.
Washington, May 6.—The silence which the United States has consistently maintained with reference to the Japanese-Chinese negotiations since they began nearly four months ago was broken tonight by the issuance of a statement by Secretary Bryan explaining the American government's position.

The statement was prepared after a consultation with President Wilson. While dispatches told of Japan's intention to send an ultimatum, no official information was received tonight. The Japanese ambassador, and the Chinese minister interviewed Bryan today, but each declined to discuss the object of his visit.

Washington, May 6.—The state department tonight issued the following statement after a conference between President Wilson and Secretary Bryan: "In order that there may be no misunderstanding of the position of the United States with reference to the negotiations pending between Japan and China, the following announcement is made: At the beginning of negotiations the Japanese government confidentially informed this government of the matters which were under discussion and accompanied the information by the assurance that Japan had no intention of interfering with either the political independence or territorial integrity of China, and that nothing she proposed would discriminate against other powers having treaties with China, or interfere with the open door policy to which all the leading nations are committed.

The United States not only has no thought of surrendering any of its treaty rights with China, but has never been asked by China or Japan to make any surrender of these rights. There is no abatement of its interest in the welfare and progress of China, its sole interest in the present negotiations is that they may be concluded in a manner satisfactory to both nations and that the terms of agreement will maintain the cordial relationship essential to the peace of the world."

OLDEST CITIZEN OF GREENVILLE IS DEAD

associate justice. He was appointed chief justice in 1895 but did not serve. Dr. Rutledge's father, Edward Rutledge, was governor of South Carolina from 1789 to 1800 and United States senator.

Dr. Rutledge was held in general esteem in Greenville, although practically all of those who knew him well have long since passed away. His strength despite his years was the subject of universal remark.

Dr. Rutledge contracted pneumonia last Saturday, and this illness combined with old age caused his death.

He is survived by two sons and three daughters as follows: James R. Rutledge of Greenville, E. B. Rutledge of Virginia, and Misses Kate, Marie and Marion Rutledge of this city.

The deceased had been a devoted communicant of Christ Episcopal church, and his funeral services will be held from there. The hour of service will be announced later.

A Great Distinction.
A garrulous attorney was arguing a technical case before a judge in Illinois. He had rambled on in such a desultory way that it became very difficult to follow his train of thought, and the judge had yawned ominously once or twice.

Whereupon the long-winded lawyer, with a trace of sarcasm, said: "I hope, your honor, I am not unduly trespassing upon the time of the court."
"My friend," observed the judge, "there is considerable difference between trespassing on time and encroaching on eternity."
