Mrs. Valentine was assisted in her duties as hostess by Mrs. Frank Johnstone, an elegant salad course being served after the games. The guests for the afternoon were: Mrs. Percy Wells of Wilmington, N. C.; Mrs. W. L. Brinsley, Mrs. J. J. Mrs. Ralph Ramsey and Mrs. Jim Ramsey of Central will spend next week here the guests of Mrs. Horace McGee. Mrs. Jim Ramsey is very pleasantly remembered here as Miss Lila Folger.

Delightful Affair for Miss Ruth Fretwell.
Mrs. Carrie McCully entertained at a very delightful and informal affair last night in honor of Miss Ruth Fretwell and Mr. Clarence Beatty, whose engagement is announced in this paper.
The guests for the evening were the bridal party and members of the Fretwell and Beatty families, and the time was spent in a charmingly social manner.
The bridal party will be Mrs. Raymond Fretwell and Mrs. Joe Fretwell, Jr., as dames of honor; Miss Elizabeth Fretwell, maid of honor; Misses Zedde and Catherine Fretwell, Lois Jackson, Bertha Caslin and Vina Patrick as maids.
Beautiful roses everywhere were the only decorations and during the evening Mrs. Walter Beatty, Misses Elizabeth and Catherine Fretwell gave several delightful songs that were fully enjoyed as were the recitations by Miss Carrie Fretwell and Miss Helen Patrick. Several pretty musical selections were given by others, making in all a delightfully pleasant evening.

The guests were invited into the dining room where an original and charming May pole center piece was arranged on the dining table. Here the color scheme of green and white was carried out in the dainty little dolls in green and white which were arranged in a circle around a maypole, from which green and white ribbons were attached to each doll. A miniature bride and groom completed this charming scene. Delightful refreshments were served.

Mrs. Ben Wilson will have charge of the tablet in the court house.

The Dardanelles Campaign.
Washington Star.

The absolute contradiction between the Turkish and English reports regarding the operations along the Dardanelles leaves the observer of the war in a state of confusion. London claims that the allied forces have made steady progress toward the occupation of the peninsula, while Constantinople asserts that the British and French troops have been systematically repulsed. Nevertheless, the repeated mention of geographical names in the dispatches indicates that the invading forces have, with the exception of the French who landed on the Asiatic side of the straits, advanced considerably since the disembarkation. The withdrawal of the French from their first landing point is stated in London to have been in accordance with the arranged program, and has not affected the campaign on the peninsula. The attacks upon the Turkish positions are successful; the peninsula must soon be evacuated by the sultan's troops, and the capital itself becomes menaced. The all-important point, however, for the allies is to clear the Dardanelles, and until this is done there will be no victory in the campaign.

Central Division.
Monday afternoon Mrs. E. P. Vandiver was hostess to the Central Division of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church.

The meeting opened with song "Sweet Hour of Prayer," followed by prayer from Mrs. Hoffman.

After a few remarks from the leader, Mrs. Dillingham, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. A. W. Kay. The subject for consideration was "The Negro."
Mrs. Vandiver read an interesting paper on "The Servant in the Home." She brought out many important points to be guarded against and tenderly touched upon the "Old Negro Mammy."

An instructive paper was ready by Mrs. Sam Craig "The Negro as a Citizen."

Miss Helen Burris rendered a delightful solo, "Good-night."
This meeting was one of unusual beauty and sadness, inasmuch as we were to soon lose one of our best loved members, Mrs. Vines, who is to leave for a new and far away home. Many of the members expressed their sorrow in losing Mrs. Vines and told what an inspiration she had been to them; how she had encouraged the work and faltering and by her womanly example she had become an incentive to that higher and nobler life. Several mothers expressed their gratitude for the beautiful things she had instilled in their boys.

Mrs. Vines tenderly and beautifully responded. She assured the members that in her return had been helpful to her and that she would not have them, for one moment, to look back but ever press onward to the highest goal and that not only the Missionary Society but the whole city could and would be just what the women chose to make her and that her (Mrs. Vines) heart's desire was to know that some day Anderson had really and truly become the "City Beautiful."

The Elementary Union.
The regular monthly meeting of the Elementary union was held last Tuesday afternoon at 8 o'clock at the Central Presbyterian church. The subject for the meeting was "Cradle Roll Work" and the program was one of the most interesting ever carried out. The devotional was conducted by Miss Vera Pruitt. Mrs. J. R. Vandiver made an interesting and beautiful talk on the subject, "And They Brought Young Children." The cradle roll conference was presided over by Mrs. Raymond Beatty and she gave very useful and practical suggestions about cradle roll work. Mrs. Kinard gave an interesting talk telling what it meant to parents to have baby's name placed on the cradle roll. Mrs. Speake then gave some suggestions on the organization of cradle roll work. Mrs. A. L. Smethers then conducted the study class which proved unusually interesting and profitable.

Circles.
Circles No. one, two and four of the First Presbyterian church were delightfully entertained on Monday afternoon at the following homes: Mrs. Keith Provost, Mrs. J. G. Cunningham and Mrs. Wayman Glimmer. Each meeting was well attended and was delightfully pleasant, as this social side of the church life is always helpful and enjoyable.

Senior Philathea.
The Senior Philathea class of the First Presbyterian church was delightfully entertained on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Frank Sloan and Mrs. Andrew Speer, at the home of Mrs. Sloan in North Anderson. There was quite a number of members present, an dthe meeting was a very enjoyable one. Full and interesting reports were given by every committee, showing the class to be up to its high standard of work.
A dainty sweet course was served after all business was disposed of and the ladies spent about an hour in a delightful social manner.

The Epworth League will meet this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the church.

Meeting of Baptist Philathea.
The Senior Philathea class of the First Baptist church was entertained on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Tom Bolt on West Market street, with Mrs. Frank Bolt, Miss Cecelia VanHaseln and Mrs. Tom Bolt as hostesses. It would be hard to find hostesses more gifted with the power of making every one feel at home. After a social hour Mrs. D. C. Brown, president of the class, called a short business session, which was followed by an enjoyable program of music and readings. Miss Anna Harford, guest of Mrs. Tom Bolt, rendered an instrumental solo; Mrs. William Sullivan a vocal solo, and Miss Helen Patrick and Miss Gertrude Wallace readings. The guests were then invited into the dining room where cream and cake were served. Fruit punch was also served throughout the afternoon on the front porch. Miss Lena Poore of Belton was among the out of town guests.

Christian Growth Club.
The Christian Growth club met yesterday afternoon at the church and completed all the articles they had started for the Baptist hospital. The devotional was conducted by Miss Glenna Barrett, after which a new personal service committee was appointed.
The treasurer reported that their apportionment of $17.00 for home missions had all been raised. Miss Allie Pearson gave a splendid report of the meeting recently held in Gaffney. A dainty picnic lunch was served after the work was laid aside.

Sewing Party.
Mrs. Ollie Burris and Mrs. Ed Consey entertained the young married Women's Sunday school class of the Baptist church at a delightful little sewing party yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Burris on West Franklin street.
This class has only been organized in the past few months, and is headed for the young mothers who find it hard to attend Sunday school regularly.
After sewing and chatting pleasantly for some little time the hostesses asked the ladies to lay aside their sewing and gave them a charming and original little contest on "birds." After a delightful salad course was served and ended a very pleasant afternoon.

COULD YOU USE THIS YOUNG MAN

Young Pennsylvania Farmer Wants to Locate in This State.

The industrial and immigration agent of the Southern railway at Columbia, is in receipt of a letter from a young man living in Pennsylvania, as follows:
"I am taking the liberty of writing to you to ask if there is a dairy, stock or general farm, known to you, that is managed by a man who would be willing to give me an opportunity of learning practical farm management. I have completed the farming course offered by the International Correspondence schools of Scranton, Pa., and also the farm management course with the Farmers' school, and during last year worked on a large diversified farm of 450 acres so as to learn the practical side of farming. I am 24 years of age, of American birth, am single and do not use tobacco or strong drink in any form. Wages are of no object if I can find a position with the right man. I can give the best of references as to my character and ability."
Nothing is known of the young man beyond what his letter tells, but presuming it states facts, he is a worthy young man and it ought to be possible to place him on a South Carolina farm where he can "make good."
This done, very likely he would in time become a citizen of the State, and finally, no doubt, a land-owner and successful farmer.
Can you use him?
