"She Always Made Home Happy."

In an old church-yard stood a stone,
Weather marked and stained,
Touched of time had crumbled it,
Its only part remained.
Upon one side I could just trace
"In memory of our mother;"
An epitaph which spoke of "home"
Was chiseled on the other.

I'd gazed on monuments of fame,
High towering to the skies;
I'd seen the sculptured marble-stone
Where a great hero lies;
But by this epitaph I paused,
And read it o'er and o'er,
For I had never seen inscribed
Such words as these before.

"She always made home happy." What
A noble record left!
A legacy of memory sweet
To those she loved, bereft.
And what a testimony given
By those who knew her best,
Engraven on this plain, rude stone
That marked their mother's rest.

It was an humble resting place.
I knew that they were poor;
But they had seen their mother sink,
And patiently endure.
They had marked her cheerful spirit,
When bearing, one by one,
Her many burdens up the hill,
Till all her work was done.

So, when was stilled her weary heart,
Folded her hands so white,
And she was carried from the home
She'd always made so bright.
Her children raised a monument
That money could not buy,
As witness of a noble life,
Whose record is on high.

A noble life! but written not
In any book of fame;
Among the list of noted ones
None ever saw her name;
For only her own household knew
The victories she had won;
And none but they could testify
How well her work was done.

Better than costly monument
Of marble rich and rare,
Is that rude stone whose humble face
Such words of honor bear.
Oh! may we chisel on the hearts
Of those of whom we love
An epitaph whose truth may be
Witnessed for us above.

A colored woman, boasting the other day of the progress made by her son in arithmetic, exultingly said, "He is de mortification table."

What song might a tall, slim man with propriety sing to his sweetheart? "Love me little, love me long."

Young ladies should be careful and not keep chaps on their lips. They have been known to lead to an affection of the heart.

A Boston spinster, at a recent Woman's Rights Convention, said she did not care about female suffrage, unless it carried with it the right to make proposals of marriage.

Whatever you dislike in another take care to correct in yourself.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA.
BUREAU OF AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS,
COLUMBIA, June 15, 1869.

THE attention of the citizens of the State is respectfully invited to the annexed extracts from an Act passed at the recent session of the General Assembly, and ratified on the 19th day of March, 1869; and their cordial co-operation with the officers charged with the execution of the law is earnestly requested.

The enumeration of the inhabitants is to furnish a basis for the apportionment of representation in the next General Assembly, in accordance with Section 4 of Article II of the Constitution, and the necessity for its correctness will commend itself to citizens of all political views.

In connection with this work the statistics of the agricultural productions of last year will be taken, and it is eminently desirable that they should be returned as fully and intelligibly as circumstances will permit, as it is expected that they will furnish valuable data in the future agricultural history of the State.

THE PIEDMONT LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF RICHMOND VIRGINA,

HAS DETERMINED TO ESTABLISH A Branch Office in South Carolina, which will give us the benefits of an entirely Home Company, by investing in the State, all the funds received in it. In fact it is better than a new company, because the Piedmont is a success already established, with ample capital and assets.

This Company has insured some Four Hundred persons in Edgefield, near Two Hundred in Abbeville, a good many in other counties, and about Thirty in Newberry. It is the duty of every person o. family to insure in behalf of that family at ONCE. It takes much less than you think to insure. Don't wait till Fall, but take out as large a Policy as you can now, and increase it when you get able. You may die this coming sickly season, and in that event a small Policy would do your family much good, and it is your duty to make the best provision you can for them, no matter how small.

Come, take a Policy in this Southern Home Company without a day's delay.
