Edgefield Advertiser

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 12, 1896.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mrs. Alice McIntosh, of Albany, has returned home.

Miss Linie Mims is visiting friends at Meeting Street.

Mrs. Fannie Andrews, of Greenwood, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ida Sheppard.

Mr. Elbert Adams, son of Dr. Patrick Adams of Phœnix, S. C., is visiting relatives in town.

So hot was it last week that work was discontinued on the factory each day after twelve o'clock.

Mrs. W. J. McKerall, Sr., and Miss Kate Shaffer are in Edgefield and expect to spend several months.

Dr. Gwaltney has concluded his meeting at Rocky Creek church. As a result numbers were added to the church.

Misses Hettie and Lillie Sheppard have returned from a delightful visit to Greenwood and other points.

Misses Julia and Kate Tompkins have returned from a pleasant visit to their grand parents at Batesburg.

Miss Reta Boatwright, of Monetta, is expected in Edgefield this week, the guest of Miss Julia Tompkins.

A protracted meeting commenced at Stevens Creek church last Sunday, conducted by Rev. Mr. Hartzog.

The examination for the Furman scholarship takes place in the court house on Friday August 21st instant.

We regret to state that Messrs. Alvin Hart, John McHugh and Dr. J. G. Tompkins are ill with malarial fever.

Mrs. H. E. Crim and her two sweet little girls Leona and Ruby have returned home from a two weeks visit on Saluda.

In the competitive examination for the South Carolina College Scholarships, Mr. T. E. Cochran and Mr. J. H. Thrailkill bore off the honors easily.

Cashier A. E. Padgett has moved into his recently purcased house, which he has much improved and adorned by a general rejuvenation, a handsome cupola and a fresh coat of paint.

Col. R. B. Watson of Edgefield, was among the jurors summoned for the U. S. Court, and he spent a day or two in our city. He was excused from serving on the jury.—Greenville Mountaneer.

At the competive examination for Winthrop Scholarships the following young ladies won the prizes: Miss Elise Watson, Miss Gertrude P. Mitchell, Miss Kate G. Carter, Miss Bertha Whatley, and Miss Estelle Bussey.

Camp Manning Austin held a special meeting on Friday afternoon, and cast a unanimous vote for Maj. Thos. W. Carwile of Edgefield, to fill the vacancy created by the death of Gen. I. G. McKissick.—Greenville Mountaneer.

We call attention to the advertisement in this issue of the South Carolina Military Academy. There is one beneficiary vacancy for this county. Applications should be made promptly to Gen. Johnston Hagood Chairman Board of Visitors, Barnwell S. C

Mr. Edgar Hart went to New York on Tuesday to buy goods for the firm of E. B. Hart & Co. Mr. James E. Hart to buy for Alvin Hart & Co. Mr. Julien Hart to buy for Hart & May, and Mr. R. L. Fox for the Fox Jewelry Emporium.

Mr. W. A. Strom, of Limestone in this county, has 900 acres in cotton that gave promise one month ago of making 600 bales. To-day, 300 bales is all he calculates on. But it is better to make half a crop and get a double price—which seems to be the outlook now—than to make a full crop and get half price.

This long continued hot spell is playing havoc with the cotton, and with other crops, but especially the cotton. The young bolls are drying up and falling off. This hot wave extends all over the cotton region and the damage is co-extensive with it. As a consequence of this, cotton has advanced within the last ten days a cent and a half a pound.

The special committee appointed by the Grand Jury to examine into the finances of the county will meet at Edgefield C. H., on Monday the 17th of August to enter upon that duty. All Trial Justices are requested to have their books on hand for examination.

Knights of the Road.

Members of this organization are ordered to meet at Edgefield on Wednesday, August 9, as matters of vital importance will come up. Among other things certain members are to be disciplined for refusing to hold torches at night while their wives were cutting the stove wood.

GINSE WOOD,
President.

Ben Covar, Sec'ry and Knight Hawk.

Jennings Hepatic is the best remedy to take at this season of the year for correction of the torpidity of the liver, the King of our internal organs. It rejuvenates and rehabilitates and touches up and tones down all the others. For sale only at the Lynch drug store.

Mr. James Hill.

Mr. James Hill, an elder brother of Dr. J. Walter Hill of our town, died at the residence of the latter on Saturday last. On Sunday his remains were carried to Gazzaway church and there interred. About ten days ago Dr. Hill, hearing of the illness of his brother, who lived alone on his plantation in the country, went to see him and brought him back to his own home that he might the more efficiently nurse and treat him—an act of thoughtful consideration and brotherly love. Here Mr. Hill passed away, gently and peacefully, surrounded in his last moments by all the comforts that such brotherly love could suggest or medical skill could devise. Mr. Hill was about sixty-five years of age and these years he had lived in a most exemplary manner, a good man he was and a citizen without reproach.

Peace to his memory.

Mr. J. W. Peak, proprietor of the New York Racket Store of this place, left for New York on Monday of this week where he goes to purchase his fall and winter supply of goods—an immense stock. While in New York Mr. Peak will attend the democratic ratification meeting at Madison Square garden, at which Mr. Bryan will be officially notified of his nomination to which he will respond in the speech of the century. Mr. Peak tells us that he will make an effort at this meeting to have another plank put in the democratic platform, a free coinage of copper plank, as he needs just that sort of a plank in his business a business in which a copper frequently goes as far as a nickel. However if he can't get in this plank he says he can only bring it back home with him.

CORRESPONDENCE

A Word of Inspiration and Hope to Democracy.

MR. EDITOR: The impulse of an aroused Democracy has its impress stamped upon a national platform worthy the support of a solid Southland and that of all Americans in sympathy with a democratic form of government and who would make effective opposition to Radical success which is itself but another name for money power, force bill, more debts, and other steps towards centralization and monarchy and enslavement of the people. Yes, the national Democratic platform recently adopted at Chicago embodies the sentiments of a large majority of the Democracy in these United States and is true to southern statesmanship, and Democracy in its past history previous to the civil war as well as consistent with Democratic effort and speechmaking in congress during the last thirty years confronting and restraining Radical legislation and corruption.

This straight-cut platform demanding free and independent coinage of silver on equal terms with gold, the issuance of paper money directly by the government, instead of indirectly through national banks as at present, giving them power thus to contract the peoples' currency at will; the repeal of laws permitting a Cleveland or Carlysle issuing interest-bearing bonds in the time of peace solely for the benefit of speculating syndicates and money hoarders to appreciate the dollar hoarded, the national government of trusts, pools, railroads &c., that the masses be not oppressed by such; and besides other just and reasonable means, demanding "a return to that simplicity and economy which befits a Democratic government." This platform adopted by two-thirds of the whole Democratic delegations in national convention which were fairly chosen after free discussion of the principles inside of the party should receive the support surely of every consistent voter who acknowledges that the Radical party must be whipped. The cause of the people has been properly formulated and charitably if fearlessly presented to them during eight or ten years, till this cause has won its present prominence in the Democratic platform.

Then let no one of the party deem himself worthy to fight longer with impunity this success with weapons made foul with envy, prejudice or nonyielding and uncharitable opposition; but let the forces of Democracy harmonize and become a unit in this fight against the corruption and oppression of Radicalism and its money power.

Let all our people remember that it is a duty they owe the Southland to cease factional differencies on questions involved in this platform, that confidence may be restored and the merits of Democracy be properly proclaimed. All acknowledge that Democrats have made a good fight in congress against the Radicals for the last thirty years, yet their arguments not known to the masses have not been conclusive to Radical schemes and money forces for these were cognizant of the fact that the people were not informed and aroused with the same arguments. It remained for the patriotism and the genius of our Southern and Western people to adopt new and different methods to arouse and educate the masses against the wrongs and corruption of the Radical party. Though many leaders resisted the inovation and men in honorable positions ridiculed the several organizations through which this education was given, yet the means were reasonably suited to the end sought. That the people should cling to those who aided in teaching them and supplant many a noble Democrat in honorable position with men from the rank and file who had shown themselves worthy to lead, is no fauft of leaders whose fiery methods were thought necessary to keep the people aroused till their individual forces could be conserved into an aggressive organized force with which to hurl from power the Radical party and their corrupt and oppressive laws.

The people have spoken then, and it is their decision that the supreme test at the ballot box should be on the lines of a united South and West and others who believe that the majority of the party should have its say demanding that a square issue be made whether man shall rule money or money shall rule, oppress and destroy the liberty of man. Demanding this in spite of the wishes of a large contingency of heretofore Democrats who controlled largely the voice in natural Democratic platforms and lines of action, the gold standard men of the North and East. There have been many efforts to unite the agricultural forces of the South and West for a president and congressmen that more favorable laws might be had for our interests and section, but at no time with such promise of success as now. Then let our Southern people cease factional differences and work for the general good.

Let South Carolinians be grateful that those leaders who have aided in carrying the cause of us all to the front steered clear of Third Partyism, and cease factional fight to no good, but to continue factional sway of men into office without due consideration of individual merit and of important measures relative to county and State affairs.

SILVER DOLLARS.

Jim Minor Thinks That Things are in a Muddle.

I think my old friends Jim Penn and Goody Timmerman will agree with me. Boys did you see Jim? I know you did if you were at Edgefield last Wednesday. Oh how I wish I was one of those fellows that could draw pictures. I would have drawn him and attached hereto for the benefit of the Shadowfield boys who unavoidably or for some other reason were kept away. Why did'nt you come boys it would have done you good. It was a grand and gorgeous display. How I enjoyed looking at Jim. He sat through the whole performance as if nailed. Not even the "Grand Act" caused a muscle to twitch—perhaps you might have discovered a slight facial expansion while Duncan was untying the string to the bag that held the cats; but before the cats began to jump got back to normality and remained normal throughout the leap. After such marked attention I ask you Jim as a friend, I do consider you my friend, "old fellow," though we differ a little along the silver line and a few other things not of a nature though to break our friendship, yes I ask you with all candor. Don't it appear to you as it does to me, two good looking men—that there is a little decay in Denmark. It appears to me that there was webbing done. You know a spider will weave him a nice webb and when an enemy approaches he runs off on a strand that he has made for that purpose and is gone, the webb is left to take care of itself.

I've been pegging along trying to make a living for myself wife and 6 babies, and thank God I've succeeded very well notwithstanding the fact we hav'nt had 16 to 1. I hav'nt had time to go to that great "Free School" established a few years ago to educate politically the "wool hat" and one gallus boys. Boys when are you going to graduate, get your sheep skins and be prepared to work your rabbit foot on "bond deals" &c., &c., &c.

I am going to quit pegging in the field send my boys, as it don't cost anything, to Clemson College, rest myself on my wooden leg under the shade, surrounded by the silver lined sky, study the present political weather flags, run for coronor, advocate free coinage of silver 16 to 1, get elected and die rich.

Hurrah for political education and when free silver comes what a time we will have. Why some folks say a band wagon will go round about once a month with silver horses, and loaded with money, back up to every man's house and dump a big bag of money in the back piazza—in fact it will rain dimes in the winter, have an april shower of quarters in the spring and a hail storm of half dollars in mid summer when the liens give out. Some folks up here now are so opposed to gold that they are going to draw all the gold plugs out of their teeth and the children will no longer be taught that there is a bag of gold at the end of the rain bow—not a bit; it must be a bag of silver. The silver lined clouds have turned into a cloud of solid silver, and the dentist have all got silver now to plug teeth with, and in the next two years we will see the banks going round borrowing silver from the farmers to lend to poor old gold bugs.

My food would not digest, and my kidneys were very badly out of order. I was treated by the best physicians, and they said I could live but a short while. I then commenced using Royal Germetuer. In three weeks I could eat anything, and do as much work as ever. I continued the Germetuer, and can testify that I am entirely cured, and that Germetuer did the work."
