Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Johnson spent Saturday and Sunday with the former's uncle, Mr. Caleb Walton, who resides near Good Hope in Saluda county. Mr. Johnson showed us two very large ears of corn that were grown by Mr. Walton in 1904. Wonder how many farmers in Edgefield county have corn that is two years old? We have never known a Walton who was not a successful farmer, and, what is more, they are as good all-round citizens as they are farmers.

Mr. R. A. Cochran, who was in Columbia the major portion of last week in attendance upon a meeting of the State E ual zation Board, gave us the fol cwing in- formation that will be of interest to our readers: The assessment of real estate remains the same in Edgefield as fixed by the county board, which is about 6% higher than the returns for 1902. The real estate average now is $4.04 per acre against $3 69 in 1902. This valuation was arrived at by taking 48% of the average price at which land has sold during the past four years. This places Edge- field on an equitable basis with the other counties. The State Board raised the assessments in some of the counties 50%.

Mr. E. M. Williamson, who has made himself famous as an expert corn grower, will lecture before the Farmers Institute at Clemson Col- lege on Thursday. The minimum estimate placed upon Mr. Wil- liamson's present corn crop of 76 acres is 60 bushels to the acre. There are a number of farmers in our county whose corn has been injured by the rain who would like to have even one acre of Mr. Williamson's corn.

The suit of M. W. Lowry of Bath, S. C., against the Western Union Telegraph Company, to re- cover $100 damages, was tried before Magistrate N. L. Brunson on Thursday last. The first hear- ing resulted in a mistrial. Before the second jury a verdict of $40 was awarded the plaintiff. J. H. Tillman, Esq., and J. Wm. Thur- mond, Esq., represented the plain- tiff, and Tompkins and Wells, and Nelson and Nelson, of Columbia, represented the defendant. Con- siderable interest was manifested in the case.

Mr. Luther Paul, than whom no one wields the paint brush more skilfully, is doing some excellent work in our town. He has recently repainted the residence of Mr. Barnwell Jones on Co- lumbia street, and is now beautifully repainting the in- terior of Mr. J. W. Peak's store. If you contemplate having painting done, consult Mr. Paul. His work is first- class.

When court adjourned for din- ner on Monday the members of the former sub-alliances held a meeting in the court house pur- suant to the call. Mr. S. M. Smith was elected chairman and Mr. L. R. Brunson, secretary, Dr. W. H. Timmerman stated that he has on hand 60% per cent of the stock originally subscribed by the by the sub-alliances. He stands ready to pay this money to the proper parties, being anxious to disburse it. Five or six allian- ces have already received their proportion. Each sub-alliance sub- scribed to one share of stock in the Alliance Exchange, the par value being $50. There being only about five alliances represented at the meeting Monday, no definite ac- tion was taken.

A young lady from Laurens count, was telling us a few days ago about some of the delightful family reunions they have up there. We wondered then, and still wonder now, why some of the large families of Edgefield county do not have these annual occa- sions. They would not only afford delightful social intercourse but would greatly strengthen the ties of love and sympathy.

Mr. J. W. Cheatham, Edgefield's first cotton weigher to be elected by the people, has for two years weighed cotton for the hundreds of farmers who patronize this mar- ket. And while he may have made some mistakes, for no mortal is perfect, he has come as near giving entire satisfaction as any cotton weigher whom we have ever known. During the two years in which he has served in the ca- pacity of cotton weigher, Mr. Cheatham has made a record to which he can point with pride.

Prof. J. F. Entzminger pur- chased a dinner set of very fine snow-white china and is having it beautifully painted by Edgefield's gifted artist, Miss Eliza Mims. Upon the return of Col. and Mrs. F. N. K. Bailey from their trip north Prof. Entzminger will pre- sent them with this very hand- some set of china. A full dinner set of hand-painted china is a very rare and exceedingly valu- able present. Old bachelors, see what you are missing?

A story is going the rounds that a certain woman was reading the matrimonial columns of a paper and remarked to her husband: "Here's a strange co-incidence—a Mr. William Strange is married to a Miss Martha Strange." "Strange indeed," remarked her husband, "but I expect the next news will be a little stranger."—Ex.

Hon. W. R. Parks, of Parks- ville, made a business trip to Edgefield on Monday, being ac- companied by his daughter, Miss Ella Parks, who spent the day with her cousins, Misses Addie and Emmie Cartledge. Miss Ella is a graduate of Winthrop college and is possessed of very decided talents. She is one of the leading lights in her church at Parksville. We are pleased to announce that in the near future Miss Ella will honor Edgefield with a visit of greater length.

Mr. George Youngblood, Misses Eliza and Cottie Youngblood and Mrs. Nannie Griffin always look forward with much genuine pleas- ure to the annual visit of their sister, Miss Tillie Youngblood. For a number of years the latter has been the leading teacher in the Augusta orphanage and it is her wont to spend the month of August amid the scenes of her childhood and with those nearest and dearest to her. Miss Tillie's Edgefield friends are greatly de- lighted to see her enjoying such excellent health. She is accompa- nied by her two pretty nieces, Misses Leila and Minnie Young- blood.

The Centre Spring Picnic.

In spite of the lowering clouds and very muddy roads, a tremen- dous crowd gathered early at Cen- tre Spring on Thursday last to en- joy the picnic. An excellent band from Augusta furnished very in- spiring music for those who enjoy the dance. All went serenely and merrily until the arrival of the dinner hour, when great torrents of rain fell. A portion of the din- ner had been placed on the table, this, together with the meats over the pits, was thoroughly wet by the merciless flood. Fully 1,000 loaves of choice bread were almost ruined. In spite of this great em- barrassment Capt. Blocker and his men fed the multitude. Of course, in every crowd a few chronic "kickers" can be found, but if, by reason of the rain, the dinner or any part of it was dis- appointing no censure can be laid at the door of the company. Every- thing possible that could be done to promote the comfort and pleas- ure of the guests was cheerfully done by the hosts. Notwith- standing the great disadvantage under which the Dragoons labored, they received sufficient funds to meet all expenses incident to the picnic.

The Silver Medal Contest.
(Contributed.)

On Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Manly Timmons, the first silver medal contest was held under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. This organization is making preparation for the State Conven- tion which convenes in Edgefield on September the 15th, one feature of which will be a gold medal con- test for the best temperance recita- tion.

The contests were held Monday afternoon. In the first contest were the following: Misses Eva Wates, Sophie Mims, Josie Sheppard, Lula McClure, Lizzielou Jones and Cora Whittle. In the second contest were Misses Lura Mims, Raven Simkins, Verner Haltiwan- ger, Earline Allen and Ruth Tompkins. The judges were Miss Annie Clisby, Miss Tillie Young- blood and Mrs. [illegible]. Wells. Miss Clisby presented the silver med- als to Misses Cora Whittle and Ruth Tompkins, so that these two will be Edgefield's representatives in the gold medal contest to be held next month. Three young ladies, Misses Ellen Dunovant, Ruth Cogburn and Edwardina Blalock, furnished beautiful mu- sic. Miss Clara Boyd delighted the audience with two vocal selections, quite different in style, and mani- fested a versality in the use of a sweet voice, quite unusual. Choice and tempting refreshments were served by the local W. C. T. U.

A Veritable Cloud Burst.

Not within the memory of the oldest inhabitants of Edgefield, has a heavier rain fallen in this vicinity than that which fell dur- ing Wednesday night of last week. The streets, roads and fields have been washed into great gullies where they never washed before. The large bridge on Jeter street across Beaverdam was carried down stream a considerable dis- tance. The most signal damage, however, of which we have heard was done at the quarry. There was evidently a cloud burst in that vicinity. The entire plant was almost destroyed. An eighty- horse engine and boiler were washed a considerable distance and great damage was done to the crushing machinery and building. The two large holes, one of which was a quarter of a mile in length, about seventy-five feet deep and several hundred yards wide, were filled to overflowing. So great is the volume of water in them that Mr. Thomas, the efficient manager, says that it will take more than a month to pump it out with two 12 inch centrifugal pumps. The quarry will probably not be in full operation again for two months, which will not only entail con- siderable loss on Mr. Ross, the owner, but on our town also.

Orders Solicited.

During the remainder of the Summer and during the Fall months, I will act as agent for C. F. Kohlruss' Marble and Granite Works, August, Ga. Any party in Edgefield, Saluda or Green- wood desiring work of this kind done will please write me. I will be glad to communicate with them.

Cotton Weigher Elected.

Edgefield is conceded to be one of the best cotton markets in this section of the state. Many far- mers who formerly hauled their cotton to Augusta have been sell- ing it here, because the very small difference in price did not warrant their hauling it so great a dis- tance. By reason of this widening of territory from which cotton is drawn, the vote in the election of public cotton weigher has been larger with each succeeding year. On Saturday last an unusually large number of citizens from every point of the compass gathered to cast their ballots for cotton weigher for Edgefield. The total vote this year being 520 against 435 last year.

Mr. W. L. Holston who resides in the Antioch section was elected by a handsome majority. The vote was as follows: W. L. Holson 124, T. P. Morgan 100, James A. Timmerman 77, W. H. Timmer- man, Jr., 68, J. W. Cheatham 67, P. R. Wates 46, F. Pierce Ouzts 36.

The successful candidate is a very deserving citizen of the west- side. He is honest, upright, con- scientious, and will as far as lies in his power render exact justice to the sellers and buyers of the fleecy staple. Mr. Holson will enter upon the duties of the posi- tion to which he has been elected on September the 1st.

LANDRAM-BAILEY.

Wedding in Kentucky of Interest in South Carolina.

Smithland, Ky., August 3.—At the beautiful Kentucky home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Landram, Col. F. N. K. Bailey of South Carolina and Miss Ora Evelyn Landram were united in marriage Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock.

Mendelssohn's wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Edna Presnall of Smithland. Capt. R. B. Cain of Sumter, the groom's best man, entered with the bride's maid of honor, Miss Dave Cowper of Smithland, fol- lowed by Mr. C. E. Landram, brother of the bride, with Miss Emma Shemwell of Birdsville, Ky.

After the attendants had taken their places, the bride and groom entered and were in a short and sim le ceremony united in the holy bonds of wedlock by the Rev. J. S. Conway, pastor of the Baptist church.

The bride was dressed in a beautiful grey silk traveling dress. The groom was attired in an Eng- lish grey walking suit. The parlor was decorated with beautiful ferns and hot house plants.

Immediately after the ceremo- ny, Col. and Mrs. Bailey left for an extended tour North. The bride is one of the most attractive and popular young ladies of western Kentucky. For the past two years she has been at the head of the music department of the South Carolina Co-Educational Institute of Edgefield, where she has a host of friends. Col. Bailey is presi- dent of the South Carolina Co- Educational Institute and one of the leading educators of that sec- tion of the country.

The happy couple took the steamer "Royal" for Paducah, where they boarded the train for a tour of the Northern and Eastern cities.

Sixteen Reasons Why

You should send your SONS and DAUGH- TERS to the

South Carolina Co-Educational Institute. (S. C. C. I.)

Edgefield, S. C.

1. Because only 75 boarders are taken, thereby making it possible for each student to receive the personal attention of the faculty.

2 Edgefield is noted for its health—being situated in a high, dry, roll- ing country.

3 Handsome new buildings with modern improvements and up-to- date equipments.

4 Extensive grounds—beautiful oak grove ideal surroundings.

5 High-toned, cultured, Christian men and women compose the Facul- ty of fourteen teachers, each a specialist.

6 Greatest care in selecting teachers whose personal influence over the students will be elevating.

9 The president and twelve teachers live in the building with the students.

8 From the time students reach Edgefield until they take the train for their homes, they are under the watchful care and close personal attention of the president and faculty.

9 Regular study hours morning, afternoon and night under the direct supervision of the teachers.

10 High Standard—Thorough Course of Study—our work bears close inspection.

11 In competative examinations for West Point, Annapolis and other scholarships, our students have always been eminently successful.

12 On account of our thorongh Literary Course, excellent training in discipline and the general up-building of character, morally and religiously, our graduates are always in demand as Teachers, Stenographers, Bookkeep ers, etc.

13 Table supplied with good, wholesome and properly prepared food; ten teachers in dining room with students.

14 Only two students to each room in the Dormitory. Six students to each table in the Dining Room. No crowding allowed in any Departments of the Institution.

15 Because for fourteen years our school has been in successful opera- tion under the same management, thereby proving itself worthy to ask for your patronage.

16 Notwithstanding the expensive Faculty employed, the wholesome and abundant table fare and other home comforts, the charges are moderate.
