The insurance people have had their adjusters here looking after my losses and I am now in position to advertise this great sale that you all have been waiting for so long. Having made settlement with the insurance people I am now in position to make radical reductions on this entire stock in order to wipe out if possible every dollars worth of goods, so that I can replace with an entire new stock. Hundreds of dollars worth of goods that were slightly soiled or mussed from either handling or from water and smoke will go on monster bargain tables at about ONE HALF PRICE and in many cases less than this. There is not one article that will be offered during FIRE ADJUSTMENT SALE that is damaged so as to decrease the value to you. What few goods there were have been disposed of and will not be offered for sale. I did not want to place on sale a thing that was not perfectly alright in every respect as I knew that I could make the prices so low on the good merchandise that I would not need anything that could be sold cheap to get crowds with. Everything marked with the red tag is the cheapest piece of merchandise that you ever bought and the red tag covers every article in the store.

Chautauqua Program Yesterday A Feast

AN INTERESTING LECTURE AND DEMONSTRATION IN

His Readings From Favorite Authors Highly Appreciated by Large Audiences.

THE PROGRAM

- Friday Morning.
- Children's hour, Russian folk o
- tales and folk dances—Miss Mab- o
- elle Conquist.
- Lecture, "Canadian Writers in o
- Prose and Verse."—Wallace o
- Bruce Ambsary.
- Friday Afternoon.
- Grand Concert, Signor Pallaria o
- and His Band.
- Friday Evening.
- Grand Concert, Signor Pallaria o
- and His Band.

The most wonderful and one of the most intensely interesting lectures and exhibitions ever given in Anderson was that by Mr. Montraville Wood at the chautauqua last night. It was the opportunity of a life time for Anderson people and for almost two hours Mr. Wood, assisted by his daughter, held his immense audience enthralled by his wonderful and marvelous demonstration of the ultra violet ray, and the gyroscope.

First he demonstrated the ultra violet ray, one of the new and most modern scientific discoveries. Mr. Wood has been closely associated with Mr. Edison, and ranks as one of the foremost scientists of today. His second lecture was on the gyroscope, the most intensely interesting of modern inventions.

He gave many demonstrations of its workings and peculiarities and often convulsed an audience with its antics. On a w! across the tent his mono rail car made a trip and brought forth a burst of enthusiasm.

Mr. Wood possesses a most attractive personality, and was charmingly assisted by his daughter, Miss Alleon Wood.

debited to the Redpath chautauqua for the privilege of seeing this splendid exhibition.

The Daylight Program.
If the Redpath Chautauqua excels in any one thing it is in the diversity of its attractions and entertainment they give. Each day is full of great things and different things, and each day the audience not only enjoys the beauty of the attraction, but the novelty.

The speaker for yesterday was Wallace Burke Ambsary, and both in the morning and afternoon he delighted his audience, most of whom had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Ambsary here last year, with Redpath.

In the morning his subject was "The Post of the Empire." For one hour Rudyard Kipling's life and his works were given in a most interesting way. Selections from some of his favorite poems were given in Mr. Ambsary's attractive style.

In the afternoon, he gave reading from such popular writers as Irving Bacheller, Ople Read and others, all of which were thoroughly enjoyed. The afternoon and evening, concerts were given by the Orchestral Club, a charming combination of six young people, all brothers and sisters, except one. They gave delightful programs, using many different instruments.

Their numbers were beautiful and received the heartiest applauses.

Beginning yesterday afternoon, Miss Mabelle Conquist gave the children's hour exercises on Judge W. F. Cox's lawn. This was an ideal play ground for little folks, and a more charming scene than Miss Conquist surrounded by a hundred or more children on this beautiful lawn could hardly be imagined.

It was Indian day and Indian stories were told, after which she played games with them.

LEGAL NOTICES

Columbia, March 13, 1915.
Mr. Winston Smith, County Auditor,
Anderson, S. C.

Dear Sir: The State tax commission of the State of South Carolina has sent me the following communication relative to the enforcement of the income tax law:

"The time for making returns under the income tax law of this State expired on the 20th of February last, and a very large number of persons liable to the payment of the tax omitted to make such returns within the time limited.

"The neglect to make the returns in time may have been caused by an erroneous impression that the returns and payment of the income tax to the federal government relieved these tax payers from paying the income tax imposed by the laws of this State.

"The failure to make returns within time have been so general and wide-spread that we think further opportunity should be allowed such persons to make these returns before the penalties provided by law are imposed upon them."

In order, therefore, to save such persons who will now come forward and make the proper returns, I, Carlton W. Sawyer, under, and by virtue of power conferred upon the comptroller general, with the approval of the governor, in Section 767 of Volume 1, Code of Laws of South Carolina, 1912, do hereby extend the time for the making of returns and assessment of income taxes without penalty until the first day of July, A. D., 1915.

You will govern yourself accordingly.

CARLTON W. SAWYER,
Comptroller General.

Approved,
RICHARD I. MANNING,
Governor.

If we could look as mean as some folks we would not need to know how to swear. Why, there are some fellows in this town who can look at you with an expression which implies every known oath in every known tongue, and then some.—Marion Star.

Pres. Wilson Said—

"If you have to buy anything, buy it now; thus you will become seller as well as buyer--"
