D O Rhame, Summerton; Dr W M Brockinton, Manning.

In another column appears an advertisement from that well and favorably known establishment Welch & Eason of Charleston. This house hardly needs an introduction to our readers, for they are thoroughly known as one of the most reliable grocery dealers in the State. Welch & Eason carry an immense line of family groceries and whatever is bought from them is a guarantee of purity.

There are some simple remedies indispensable in any family. Among these, the experience of years assures us, should be recorded PAIN-KILLER. For both internal and external applications we have found it of great value; especially can we recommend it for colds, rheumatism or fresh wounds and bruises. — Christian Era. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. Price 25c and 50c.

Congressman Norton is accompanying a postoffice inspector over the district with a view to get a recommendation for the free rural delivery system. Candidly, we do not believe the system will operate successfully in our sparsely settled country; the present system is better, but our representative in Congress is anxious to help his constituents and he wants them to have an opportunity to try the system. Norton is a crack-a-jack about the departments where real good to the people can only be done.

It was the editor's pleasure to spend a few days of last week in the town of Bennettsville and the attentions shown him left a warm spot in his heart for the people of that pretty town. In looking around we think we see a bright future for that town; in fact we do not believe there is anything to keep it from being one of the foremost towns in the State. It now has a cotton mill, oil mill, and is surrounded by the finest farming lands in South Carolina, with a people who pay one hundred cents on the dollar and make a stranger feel at home.

"Reading maketh a full man." To become so, call at the R. B. Loryea drug store, Isaac M. Loryea, proprietor, and inspect their line of standard and light literature in bound and paper covered editions. Also a superb collection of the English poets from Chaucer to Tennyson, and the American poets from Bryant to Longfellow. Prices on all of the above books very reasonable.

Inasmuch as the town council did not give a full and proper notice of the tax collection, we, in behalf of a large number of taxpayers, protest against imposing the 15 per cent penalty now. The time for collecting the town taxes should in all fairnest be extended a reasonable length of time, full notice given thereof, and then after having given such notice, should their be any delinquents, enforce the penalty regardless of who may be in default. We can make this protest without being personally interested, for our town taxes are paid up, but we do so, because we do not believe the taxpayers have had proper notice or at least the customary methods of informing the people was not adopted by council.

You never know what form of blood poison will follow constipation. Keep the liver clean by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers and you will avoid trouble. They are famous little pills for constipation and liver and bowel troubles. D O Rhame, Summerton; Dr W M Brockinton, Manning.

We call our readers' attention to the advertisement of S. R. Venning, who has opened up a jewelry store in THE MANNING TIMES block. Mr. Venning is a natural mechanic and has had considerable experience in the repairing of clocks and watches. He does good work and is very deserving of patronage. Mr. Venning keeps a neat and varied assortment of all kinds of jewelry, watches, clocks and silverware. Besides this he has laid in a very handsome line of all kinds of holiday novelties, where a splendid selection can be made for presents, either for a wedding, engagement, birthday or token of friendship. Venning has all of these and we hope our readers will give him a call, and they may rest assured that whatever Mr. Venning tells them about his goods can be relied upon.

It will not be a surprise to any who are at all familar with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, to know that people everywhere take pleasure in relating their experiences in the use of that splendid medicine and in telling of the benefit they have received from it, of bad colds it has cured, of threatened attacks of pheumonia it has averted and of the children it has saved from attacks of croup and whooping cough. It is a grand, good medicine. For sale at the R. B. Loryea drug store.

The Theatre.

The Summerton Dramatic Club treated Manning on last Friday evening to a very pleasing dramatic entertainment. The play was on the melo-drama order of five acts, entitled "A White Mountain Boy."

The Moses Levi Memorial Institute was well filled with an appreciative audience. The play was the usual romantic love story with its "villain who still pursued her," its heroine and its hero, the trusting but cruelly forsaken wife, the beautiful and bewitching maiden whose father is rich. The big-hearted, noble country lad who saves the life of the rich man's daughter, and, of course, falls in love, which is reciprocated; not, however, without parental objections, which are finally overcome after the simple-hearted countryman makes a grand display of heroism and reinstates the parent to the wealth he lost through the machinations of the crafty villain who was his private secretary and who deserted his trusting wife, to entrap his employer's daughter into a marriage with him. This villain finally, to get clear of his wife, makes a deal with a murderous gang to put her out of the way, and is followed by the countryman, who discovers his villainy, gets the gang to betray the villain and has him arrested.

The various parts, considering the lack of stage facilities, were acted very good indeed. Mr. Gordon Belser made a fine hero, with Miss Rosa Mood exhibiting much coyness in the part of love-making which may have been the result of many rehearsals. Prof. H. A. C. Walker portrayed the part of villain well, as also was his dude performance. D. O. Rhame was a typical mountaineer with chestnut-burr whiskers accustomed to the mountain zephyrs sighing through them. Miss Foster, the trusting wife, was one of those cycloneless women that invariably wins for her better-half, a hard-hearted, cruel wretch and although with bruised heart and deserted, remains true and continues to love blindly; that is on the stage she was that way. Miss Tisdale was like the average widow, ready to perform deeds of mercy, even if a widower had to be a part of the mission. Mr. Richardson was the usual indulgent father solicitous about his daughter's welfare, but more so for his money and was ready to sacrifice his daughter to recover his wealth. Miss Cooper made a typical dive hag and played her part first class.

Of course we do not pretend to class this club with professionals, but there are troupes on the road today that do not entertain their audiences as well.

After the performance was over the crowd "went below," as they say in nautical parlance, where Chef Inabnit had oysters served, and which was well patronized.

You may do without love—
What is love but repining?
But where is the man that
Can do without dining?

We carry a superb line of Chocolates, Cocoa, Eagle Condensed Milk, Essence of Coffee, Duryeas Corn Starch, Gelatine, Mustard 10 and 15 cent boxes. The R. B. Loryea, drug store, Isaac M Loryea, Prop.

Encouraging Indeed!

In a talk with a business man of this town, one who has made a success, and is a keen observer, he made us feel good with his expressions of appreciation of THE TIMES. He said, "I regard THE TIMES the best county paper published in the State, and that it has done a vast amount of good in development of this town and county, and as a business man I have no hesitency in saying that a town so fortunate as to send out a newspaper with the magnificent reputation of THE TIMES, is indeed blessed; regardless of what may transpire in the future, there is no combination that can come into the field to affect THE TIMES. Continuing this gentleman said "There is a determination on the part of a few, who by nature, would rather pull down than to build up, and who through a spirit of contemptible jealousy, want to cripple THE TIMES, but the more they attempt it, the more will they be disappointed. As a business man I would rather have one good solid, progressive, intelligently, edited newspaper in a town than a half dozen such as I see being published elsewhere. A poorly conducted newspaper is not a credit nor a help to a community but a strong, well managed one, like THE TIMES is indispensible. With people who do not appreciate the value of a good paper cheap rates are attractive, but with the business man who advertises, and the intelligent reader who wants to know what is going on, quality is the controlling influence; just as the merchant has shoddy articles which he sells cheap, and good substantial, serviceable goods, which cost more, so is also, a newspaper rated by business men. Continue pushing and improving your paper and as long as you treat us as fairly as you have done in the past the business element, recognizing your ability, and your faithful service will stand by you, regardless of what a few ground moles may undertake to do."

Supervisor Owens Appreciated.

Editor THE TIMES:

Thinking that it might be of interest to the public to know what the chaingang is doing I take this means of informing them through the columns of your widely circulated paper.

Supervisor T. C. Owens appeared in our neighborhood about three weeks ago with his band of outlaws and struck camp near the residence of Mr. D. F. Mahoney. Since that time this force of county criminals under the direction of our efficient Supervisor has performed a surprising amount of work upon the principal roads in our section. Low, swampy places that heretofore have been almost impassable in wet weather have been ditched and drained, and the roadbed raised and leveled; rough and precipitous hillsides have been graded and filled in. Deep and narrow cuts in roads where it has been impossible for two vehicles to pass have been widened and straightened out. The embankment across Sammy Swamp which has always been a dread to those having occasion to haul a load across it, has been widened and raised to the level of the bridges. The long bridge across the main stream has been shortened fifty feet and this gap filled in with solid earth, thus saving in the future the expense of keeping up fifty feet of the bridgeing. The remaining portion of the bridge has been strengthened and put in first class condition with substantial guard rails.

It would be difficult to estimate the value of the splendid work that has been and is being done here under the skilful direction of Supervisor Owens. It is to be regretted that the force of workers is not larger. If all of the rascals in this county that ought to be on the chaingang were there, it would not be long before Clarendon county could boast of a system of roads equal if not superior to that of any county in the State.
