THE MOON THIS MONTH.

May:—

First Quarter	2
Full Moon	9
Last Quarter	16
New Moon	24

HERE AND HEREABOUTS.

W. H. Townsend Esq. of Columbia brightened Barnwell with his welcome presence on Monday.

This month has two full moons. The first fell on the first and the second will come on the 30th.

The Court of Common Pleas will commence a two weeks session on the 20th inst. with Circuit Judge Hayne F. Rice of Aiken presiding.

Capt. J. B. Guess of Denmark must have been arm weary last week after the many vigorous handshakes of his numerous Barnwell friends.

J. B. Ehrhardt of Ehrhardt, a student of Newberry College, is the winner this year of the highest honor in Technology at that good institution.

Gen. Frank H. Creech came home from his two days absence at the Confederate Reunion in Macon looking two years younger and ten happier than when he started.

Fine oat crops are reported. The fall sown fields promise to make more profit for the sowers than the spring planted cotton acres can yield for hoers and growers.

Messrs William McNab, P. W. Price, H. L. O'Bannon and A. A. Lemon are delegates from Barnwell to the meeting of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, to be held in Spartanburg.

The sad news reached Barnwell on Tuesday of the death on Monday after an illness of several weeks of Mr. A. J. Bennett one of the worthiest citizens and foremost business men of his community.

Messrs J. M. Easterling, T. S. Cave and W. J. Lemon were elected Commissioners of Public Works to superintend the installation of an electric light and waterworks plant for which a bond issue of $22,000 was voted on the 8th inst.

Col. Harry D. Carlson attended the Confederate Reunion at Macon and took his journey to Amarillo, where the recent emigrants from Barnwell gave him the glad hand on arrival and the regretful goodbye as he set his face eastward at parting.

The trustees of the Barnwell High School elected on Monday night as Principal for the next year Prof. D. P. McLean of Opp, assisted by Miss Mimmick and a graduate of Winthrop College. The lady teachers resident in Barnwell were all reelected.

Principal W. F. Scott has accepted a call to Johnston at an attractive advance of salary. His services there will be worth in mind, morals and manner moulding more than the money he will receive. His success here guarantees that above all doubt.

Capt. C. Dixon returned to Kingstree last week concluding his 12th business season with head quarters here. There's not a man in the State of half his years who can stand off Judy's horse back ride with less fatigue than he, not even a candidate seeking votes.

The best ball game of the season was played on Thursday afternoon between the nines of the Carlisle Fitting School and the Barnwell High School on the latter's diamond, score 16 to 5 in favor of the locals. The Carlisles played finely and behaved beautifully. So did their rivals.

It was like a white leaf from the happier years of the Eighties to have Major Andrew C. Dibble of Orangeburg seated facing us for a golden winged half hour on Friday. He is now Probate Judge and Master, a model official as he has always been a gentleman of the purest high character.

The asparagus season is over. It was shortened by the lateness of Spring and the price lowered by the Mississippi flood, which held back the California crop and brought it in competition with with Carolina "grass." In one day 22 refrigerator cars loaded with California product were delivered in the East.

One of the best merchants of this county told us last week that Farmer ——— had sent 500 pounds of home raised, home cured bacon to his store for sale. The supply of hams left in the farm smokehouse is large enough to last the good living farmer's family and friends until far into next year.

"What everybody says must be so," and that is the unanimous verdict as to the record breaking quantity and superior quality of the work of the General Sessions last week. The spirit to do justice impartially and industrially seemed to be the common purpose of all connected with the court, from Special Judge Charles Carroll Simms on the Bench to the crier at the door.

And they all succeeded.

A pioneer oat grower whose example has been worth more to his community than all the talking of all the politicians in his township in ten years has set another needed lesson this season. To keep down cotton acreage he sowed last fall a good big field in rye, and the crop now promises fifteen bushels to the acre.

A century ago Barnwell grown rye was regularly shipped to England as the best seed obtainable. It never disappoints.

Head Master Guilds of the Carlisle Fitting School one of the foremost and best equipped young educators of the State was a welcome visitor to Barnwell last week.

Upon a warrant sworn out by owner B. R. Myrick of the store buildings burned in Allendale on the 6th inst. Mr. Shurfein and Louis Hepner, uncle and nephew, were charged with arson, arrested and bound over for trial in the Court of General Sessions. The preliminary examination was held by Magistrates Best of Kline, Judge W. K. Brabham of Allendale being unwell.

KLINE DOTS.

(Too late for last week.)

On Saturday evening of last week a party of little folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs E. H. Jenkins to celebrate the ninth anniversary of their little daughter, Viola. Many games were indulged in and the little ones seemed to be full of merriment. After playing awhile and being amused otherways, the little guests then were served with refreshments, which they enjoyed immensely. The occasion was very enjoyable to all present.

Mrs. E. H. Jenkins who has been sick for a few days is better now.

Mrs Hickson is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Barber of Fairfax.

Mrs. J. F. Carter of Bamberg is visiting her relatives here this week.

Mrs S R Hickson has returned from Augusta where she has been visiting her brother.

Farmers crops are looking nicely in this section.

THE CONFERENCE.

The meeting of the Orangeburg District Conference with the Barnwell Methodist Church last week, beginning on Wednesday evening and continuing until Friday evening, brought many good ministers and worthy laymen to town. Homes of members of all denominations gave them welcome and if the visitors were as well satisfied with their stay as their hosts were pleased the meeting was in every particular a perfect success. The absence of Pastor W. J. Snyder, who had not returned from Columbia, where he had undergone an operation for appendicitis, was regretted. Presiding Elder M. L. Banks was too unwell for his home in Orangeburg to be present each Friday. All church interests were reported in satisfactory condition. Next year the Conference will be held at Holly Hill. The delegates elected to the annual conference to be held in Anderson next November are William McNab of Barnwell, William Knoad of Bamberg, C. F. Rizer of Olar and A. C. Dibble of Orangeburg, with J. F. Cook of Holly Hill and J. C. Guilds of Bamberg as alternates.

HOME AGAIN.

The magic of the White Oak Spring to bring back the wanderers to the old home was proven again last week. When Sergeant Goodale of Reserve at Moore, Ga., Mr. Douglas Lohr came to Barnwell to spend a few days with kindred and to renew the friendships of his boyhood and the army life with the few remaining veterans of the old days.

When he left his South Texas home rain was needed, cotton was being growth retarded and was quite high. The winter had been dry on the lone Star State and he was surprised by the backward ness of land preparation and crop planting East of the Mississippi. He lodges county Texas, expects to pick the first bale of new 1912 grown cotton on the market in June.

Mr. John Tobin, a younger brother, came also, from Tampa, Florida, where he is making good as his brother has done in the West. He reported the winter season in the land of flowers as having been the best enjoyed in a long while.

Mr. Douglas Lohr had been away from Barnwell since he last visited seven years ago. Seven or eleven years have passed since Mr. Johnson Tobin moved away.

CANDIDATES' CARDS

The card of C. R. M. Mixson is published today announcing his candidacy for the House of Representatives.

He began his service as an unflinching and unfeaning Democrat in the State saving campaign of 1876, and has since answered to every call to duty without hesitation. In becoming a candidate for legislative honors he yields to the wishes of his friends from all sections of the county.

A farmer first he has a thorough practical knowledge of the hardships and handicaps that trouble and hamper agricultural progress and development.

For years connected in a responsible capacity with one of the leading railroad systems of the middle South he has an expert understanding of transportation problems needing right solution. Several years ago severing his railroad association he resumed active management of his planting interests and the personal conduct of his insurance agency. He is a ready speaker, a fluent debater, keeps well informed on all the issues of the day and is excellently equipped to make, if elected, an influential and useful legislator. His knowledge of railroad and insurance conditions is thorough and sane, a most valuable asset for a public servant.

Of late years he has contributed to leading daily papers of the South strong arguments on the engrossing questions of the time that have attracted wide attention and established his standing as a sound thinker and a forceful reasoner.

The card of Mr. C. M. Turner as candidate for Magistrate for Four Mile Township is published today.

The card of Mr. L. D. Pender as candidate for Magistrate at Balloc is published today.

OUR BEN ADHEM.

That was a fine tribute of confidence and affection paid by the County Convention in the election of delegates to the State convention to a splendid citizen. On 111 of the 121 ballots cast was written the name of J. W. Jenny.

WORTHY OF THE HONOR.

In his charge to the Grand Jury last week Special Judge Charles Carroll Simms showed with conspicuous clearness and courage his conscientious appreciation of the responsibilities resting upon him. In the discharge of his duties he has been guided and governed by the high standards that have made illustrious the names of the greatest Judges that have served the State. He has held the scales with even hand, with jealous care for the supremacy of law and consistent regard for the rights of the citizen. The ability and readiness of his rulings have demonstrated his thorough knowledge of the exalted profession to which he has devoted his life and his diligence has been admirable. His brethren of the Bar acted wisely in their request for his appointment and the impress that he has made will make for a better citizenship and a greater respect for and readier obedience to law for long years to come.

WILLISTON NEWS.

One of the most delightful entertainments ever given in Williston was the Japanese party, at which the young ladies of the town were hostesses Tuesday evening, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith. The elegant home was brilliantly lighted. Chinese lanterns were used in profusion to light the long piazzas and spacious grounds. The decorations were elaborate each column of the piazza being wreathed with vines; ferns and potted plants were used with artistic effect. The punch bowl was placed on the lawn and covered with a large Chinese umbrella with numerous lanterns pendant from it. It was gracefully presided over by Misses Hattie Smith and Helen Willis.

The guests, young men and ladies alike were dressed in kimonas. The awkwardness of the young men in this unaccustomed costume was a source of much merriment. Miss Elizabeth Roberts, a musician of marked talent, rendered some artistic selections on the piano. At 11 o'clock delicious refreshments were served. Among the out of town guests were Messrs. St. Clair Grimes, Walker Graham, W. D. and J. K. Mayfield of Denmark and Miss Juanita Matthews of Blackville. The young ladies received many compliments and congratulations on the success of their Japanese party, and much can not be said of the genial hospitality of Dr. Smith and his charming wife, who by their untiring efforts added so much to the pleasure of the evening.

Mr. Percy Johnson, wife and son of Birmingham, Ala., who have been visiting in Williston for two weeks, left on Tuesday on a pleasure trip to New York, carrying with them as their guest Mr. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Lorena Johnson.

The Farmers and Merchants Bank opened its doors for business on Tuesday. The officers are R. M. Mixson, President; J. J. Bell, Vice President; B. E. Scott, Cashier. The directors are R. M. Mixson, J. J. Bell, C. M. Bell, J. L. Newson and M. C. Dowling.

PRESENTMENT OF GRAND JURY.

To His Honor, Judge Charles Carroll Simms:

We, the Grand Jury of Barnwell County take pride in the fact that His Excellency, the Governor, has seen fit to appoint one of our distinguished jurists to preside over this Special Term of Court, and we feel sure from our knowledge of his character and ability that he will discharge the duties of his high office with honor to himself, his County and his State.

We wish to make the following presentment:

It has been reported to us that certain Lumber Companies doing business in this County are obstructing the streams with tree tops and logs thereby backing up stagnant water, which we fear will cause sickness, and we would advise that the proper officers look into the matter and prosecute the guilty parties.

Our last recommendation in reference to improvements in conditions of the County Jail has been partly carried out and we would urge that they be carried out in the entirety as soon as possible.

The sheriff having appealed to us for aid in abating a public nuisance, said nuisance being the location of the town's water closets almost directly in front and quite near to the jail, we requested the honorable body of the Town Council of Barnwell to appear before us. We find that they belong to the County and we advise that they be removed to some more suitable location; and we wish to again call attention to the leak in the Grand Jury Room, which has not been fixed.

J. G. Moody.
Foreman.

On the 3rd inst. during the celebration of the founding of Winthrop College this graceful telegram was sent to Senator Tillman:
