THE PEOPLE.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1878.

JOHN W. HOLMES, Editor.
JAS. M. RYAN, Associate Editor.

We are not responsible for the views of our correspondents.

Our contributors and communicants are requested to get their matter in the office by or before Monday. This will be apt to insure its publication in the succeeding issue.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS.

Some months ago we advocated primary elections as the most satisfactory mode of making nominations for the next election. Since then we notice that several of our exchanges have adopted the idea. The following pertinent remarks upon the subject from the Aiken Courier Journal will be read with interest:

"Our idea is that at the proper time an election should be ordered by the Executive committee through the county chairman at which none but those who voted the democratic ticket in the last campaign, and who were formally enrolled on precinct lists, shall have the right to vote. That this election shall be conducted in all other respects as if it was a regular county election, and that those names receiving the highest popular vote shall be officially announced by the county chairman with the sanction of the executive committee as the regular nominees of the party. In this way one who wishes to try his strength with the white people of the county can be gratified, and if beaten has no right to expect his name put upon an independent candidacy. If he is fishing for a miscellaneous vote of disaffected democrats, carpet baggers, scallawags and negroes then he has no right to appear before decent people, and should be stamped out socially and politically. But the parties receiving the nomination would feel strong in the knowledge that they were put forward by a majority of the entire party and not by a fractional representation.

This plan would be essentially democratic in principle, simple in practice and would effectually prevent any such catastrophe as that which happened in Sumter.

The radical party is not dead, it only slumbers to take fresh energy and life for the next struggle. Decency, virtue, intelligence, and patriotism must peer through the beautiful foliage of Palmetto and preserve the integrity of our grand old member of the revolutionary thirteen. In those recent elections where the radicals have been rallied by experienced leaders they have triumphed, because of the mismanagement, discord and strife prevailing among the democracy. Let it not be so in Aiken county."

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE FROM THE CAPITAL.

COLUMBIA, February 4.—The long expected and promised report of the bond commission has not yet put in an appearance, because of unavoidable and unexpected difficulties, and I am, therefore, able to defer the infliction of my promised letter on figures and finance. The election of circuit judges has been postponed by the refusal of the Senate to concur in the House resolution to enter into an election, but I have the consolation of knowing that the report and the election are necessities and that they will furnish material for future communications. The judicial question is the most important at present before the public. The resignation of Judge Wiggin leaves six of the eight circuits without judges, but not without a host of candidates for that exalted position. The numerous aspirants and their seconding friends are industriously engaged in airing their claims to place, power and pernquisites, but I am glad to find in many members of the General Assembly a desire and determination to place in that responsible office the purest and ablest men of the State. Rumors of attempted coalitions are afloat, but it is to be hoped that they are without foundation, for no true man would accept so high a position bought and paid for in such an unfair and unpatriotic manner. The last safeguard of the lives, property and liberties of a people rests in a pure judiciary, and while political office may be properly bestowed as the reward of political services, the judicial office should be conferred on those who are in purity and ability humble imitators of the great lawgiver, men influenced by fear, favor or affection, should that the present General Assembly shall give to our State judges who are pre-eminent in learning, solidity, purity and devotion to justice, and who will govern themselves upon the model of Marshall, Mansfield and other jurists of olden time. The chances of ex-Judge Cooke and Mackey are rapidly weakening. Ten days ago they were thought sure of re-election, now their prospects are decided by compromising, and the friends of Col. D. Wyatt Aiken, of Newberry, and Thomas Thomson, of Abbeville, who are opposing candidates, are confident of success. Judge Mackey's election should will be contested without opposition. In the fourth Cir. J. G. Blue, of Marion, seems to lead his competitors, Mr. E. Hudson, Gen. W. W. Harlee and ex-Judge Townsend. In the first circuit Messrs. B. C. Pressly, T. M. Hanckel and Samuel Dibble seem equally matched, while in the second the race between Judge Aldrich and Col. William Elliott will be a close one. In view of the delay of the judicial election and the near approach of the Spring terms of the courts the House judiciary committee have determined, after conference with the Supreme Court, that when in case of vacancy the judge does not attend the court on the day set for its opening the clerk should dismiss jurors and witnesses until the succeeding Monday, on which day he shall open and adjourn the court from day to day until the judge shall appear, and if he does not appear during the week that the clerk shall on the following Monday adjourn the court sine die. I do not think that there will be any delay in holding the court for our county, and our jurors, witnesses, lawyers, and litigants should prepare themselves for a new judge and a clearing of the dockets.

At a meeting of the State executive committee held in this city on Saturday last, Gen. Johnson Hagood was elected a member of the committee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Associate Justice Haskell. Gen. Hagood is winning golden opinions by his able discharge of his responsible duties, and many up country men are declaring themselves in favor of a ticket in the coming campaign which shall be headed by Hampton for Governor and Hagood for Lieutenant Governor. The fidelity with which Governor Hampton has fulfilled the pledges made in the last campaign has given him a deep hold upon the confidence of the colored people, and while I have it from undoubted authority that the republican leaders are assiduously reorganizing their party for another struggle, and that the union leagues are holding midnight meetings thrice a week, I don't think they will have the audacity to put a State ticket in the held in opposition to the one headed by Governor Hampton.

After protracted opposition a bill to re-enact the sections of the lien law repealed at the last session has passed the second reading in the House and goes to the Senate and will pass that body. The bill provides a statutory lien for rent to the extent of one-third of the crop, and requires that the lien be filed and indexed in the clerk's office instead of being recorded as formerly. It will become a law in time to meet the absolute necessities of the people.

The House judiciary committee have reported favorably on a bill to regulate the boundary line between the counties of Aiken and Barnwell in the manner heretofore described in THE PEOPLE. The Aiken delegation will oppose the measure, but the wish of the people most interested should govern in the matter. They should speak out promptly, for the session will end by the first of March, if I am not greatly deceived. The debt question will occupy a week, and the crowded calendars can be cleared off in fifteen days at the present rate of dispatches business. H.

State and National News.

The Greenville, Spartanburg and Charlotte papers complain of the rain, sleet and cold on the 30th ultimo.

There are one hundred and seventy papers in Texas, a large number, but fewer to the square acre than the papers in any other State.

Furman Collegian: THE PEOPLE comes to us full of interest, and we look for it eagerly every week. Few country papers are so ably edited.

There is a project on foot to build a railroad from Belton, the junction of the Blue Ridge and Greenville railroads, to Easely, a station on the Air line railroad in Pickens county.

A newsboy, while passing from one car to another on a train in Connecticut, last Tuesday, was blown off by the wind and thrown twenty-five feet across a stone fence into a field. He escaped with severe bruises on his head and side, no bones were broken.

On Friday last Frank Southerland was taken to Florence and lodged in the guardhouse, charged as being a lunatic on the information of John L. Barden and Dr. A. M. Hill. He was very violent, having torn all his clothes and everything that he could lay hands on.

Pickens Sentinel: A difficulty occurred yesterday afternoon in Mr. John Freel's restaurant between revenue detective Wm. Spridge and Jerry Moore, of this county, in which the former received a severe cut on the side of the neck, and nearly severing the right ear. Both parties were drinking at the time.

Governor Hampton has pardoned John Dean, colored, convicted of burglary and larceny at the last term of the court of sessions for York County and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of years. Dean was convicted on what seemed to be conclusive evidence, but soon after his trial Jim Williams confessed the crime, asserting that Dean was in no manner connected with it.

The "boss" barbers of New York recently held an indignation meeting against those practitioners of the tonsorial profession who charge only five cents for a shave. Out of the 2,000 barber shops in the city 250 have reduced the tariff to that price, and against them the conservative "bosses" propose to wage war to the razor.

Mercedes of Spain is a fair, sweet looking maiden with a round girlish face, extremely winning and attractive. She is intelligent, gentle and amiable. Worth, by the way, has been making her a court dress in crimson velvet, embroidered with lions and castles in gold and silver, the blended crests of Castile and of Aragon.

The Charlotte mining board, in addition to having addressed letters to Governor Holliday, of Virginia, and Governor Hampton, of South Carolina, to intercede to securing the co-operation of these two States in the memorial to Congress for the appointment of a mining commissioner for the South Atlantic gold belt, have also written to Governor Vance, and to Governor Colquitt, of Georgia, on the same subject.

Charlotte Observer, Jan. 30: Yesterday afternoon twenty-six negroes, exclusive of children, left Gastonia on the Air line train, having for their destination the far off State of Kansas, where they will settle for the purpose of engaging in farming operations. Very few of the colonists were from Gaston, nearly all coming from York and Chester counties, S. C. They were in charge of a passenger agent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad.

Some time since, one Petrman, a specimen United States marshall, published a bugaboo story about a prisoner named Snow having been rescued from him by force at Senaca City. Mr. Coleman, proprietor of the hotel at that place, testifies that Peterman went to sleep, and that no one knowing that the prisoner was a prisoner, he walked off. When the constable awoke he found that his Snow had melted, and he concocted the rescue story to hide his own negligence.

Washington Star: It is rumored that Governor Hampton, of South Carolina, has fowarded requisitions for the arrest of Senator Patterson to the Govenors of Maryland, Delaware, and Ohio, through which the senator will pass on his way to Pennsylvania, to visit Hon. Simon Cameron, in company with Col. W. H. More, Mrs. P.'s brother, a banker from Lock Haven, and Maj. John M. Pomeroy, of Chambersburg, Pa., who have arrived to assist in the removal of the Senator. The friends of the senator think this action shows a want of gratitude for his signal service lately rendered in seating South Caolina's favorite son, Gen. M. C. Butler.—Washington Star.

N. Y. Letter, 28th ult.: The passage of the Baker anti-subsidy resolution in the House, this afternoon, is an unexpected wet blanket upon a good many schemes here that were confidently looking forward to Congressional help. At least two steamship subsidies were calculated upon as sure, and so little doubt was entertained that the money would be voted, that people concerned in them had entered into the preliminary arrangements for dock room, etc. It is believed at the Produce Exchange that another effect will be indefinite postponement of the Washington convention, called by the Pittsburg chamber of commerce to promote the export trade, by establishing steamship lines to South America and other ports through government aid.

The Savannah News says that on Tuesday morning Capt. H. H. C. Smith, of the steam tug Sonder, whilst cruising in the vicinity of Tybee perceived some object in the water a short distance ahead of him. He at once made for the locality, and discovered that the object was a man, who was clinging to the bottom of a boat. He rescued the man, who could not have held out much longer, and brought him up to the city. He gave his name as Kelly, and stated that he left Savannah on Saturday for Bluffton, S. C., in his boat, loaded with provisions, and had on his person every dollar he possessed. When off Tybee he encountered a heavy blow, which capsized his craft, and his entire stock went to the bottom.

News and Courier: It has transpired that Judge Bradley after hearing all the facts and records in the case of the Louisiana returning board, has declined to interpose. His opinion has been mailed, and will be promulgated by the clerk of the circuit court in New Orleans on Monday. The members of the returning board are therefore abandoned to the laws of Louisiana.

Later.—Judge Bradley in refusing to grant the petition of J. Madison Wells and others of the Louisiana returning board for a transfer of their case to the Circuit Court of the United States, has reserved to them the right to take an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

True Southron: At a meeting of the corporators of the Sumter Manufacturing Company, held last Friday evening, the following officers were elected: President, R. W. Sader; directors, J. B. Laurens, Geo. W. Reardon, W. H. Epperson, R. W. Mims; treasurer, D. J. Wint, Jr. Preparations for the commencement of the work on the building will be begun at once and pushed vigorously. The size of the building will be 173 feet long, 68 feet wide and three stories high, and will be built of brick. All the arrangements for machinery, appliances, and for skillful workmen to put up the same, have all been made. All the necessary castings, such as columns, gratings, ventilators, and son on, will be made at the Hauser Iron Works of this place, thus giving patronage and encouragement to home enterprise.

AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS.—South Carolina is sadly in need of a Commissioner of Agriculture, for the advancement of its interests in the State.

With our diversity of soil and climate, capable of so many different productions, the establishment of a Commissioner of Agriculture would be a very paying institution to the State—for the cause of agriculture would be very considerably enhanced thereby.

The official dissemination of useful information among our farmers, would stimulate them to greater efforts in their work and consequently to the better development of our various resources.

The duties of a commissioner of agriculture would be various, and the information that would be obtained through such a bureau is such as our farmers stand most in need of.

It would make our farmers more intelligent and enterprising, and therefore more prosperous. What our farmers need is agricultual education and a State Agricultural Bureau would be the best school for the purpose that we can think of. The system has worked admirably in Georgia, and resulted in incalculable benefit to the planting interests in that State, and could easily be made equally so in South Carolina.

We think it a duty that our Legislature owes to the people of this State, to establish an Agricultural Bureau in their midst, and hope that they will do so.—True Southron.

THE CONFEDERATE SOLDIER'S RETURN, OR THE LOST CAUSE.—A magnificent picture, beautiful in design and artistic in execution. It represents a Confederate soldier after the war returning to his home, which he finds ruined by shot and shell, looking lonely and desolate. In front of the ruined cottage, telling the sad tale of the miseries of war, are two graves, with rude crosses, on one of which some friendly hand has hung a garland. The graves are overhung by a weeping willow, in shadow of which stands the returned soldier with bowed head, as if thinking of the past. To the right the calm river and rising moon indicate peace and rest. The stars seen through the trees represent the Southern Cross, draped over the graves an emblem of the Confederate flag as well as a harbinger of brighter days to come. The flood of glorious moonlight streaming through the trees and reflecting on the peaceful river adds to the sentiment and beauty of the scene and its surroundings. No description of this gem of art will do it justice—it must be seen. It is a picture that will touch every Southern heart and should find a place in every Southern home. It is 14x18 inches in size, on heavy plate paper. One copy will be sent by mail, in a paste-board roller, to any address, post paid, on receipt of 25 cts., three copies for 60 cts., or six for $1, in currency or postage stamps. Agents wanted everywhere, to sell this and a variety of other popular cheap pictures. No money required until they are sold. No trouble to sell them. Send stamp for our catalogue and terms. Address,
