ACROSS THE BORDER.

North Carolina News Condensed for Quick Reading.

The twelfth annual session of the W. C. T. U. convened at High Point Monday.

A negro convict was shot at Salisbury Monday while trying to escape and is expected to die.

The Democrats of Durham county have nominated R. B. Boone for the Senate; S. F. Tomlinson for the House, and renominated all the other county officials.

Vance's old company, the Rough and Ready Guards, will meet at Asheville in annual re-union August 25th, and hear a memorial address on their great Captain.

The North Carolina State Convention, which met at Raleigh Wednesday, declared for a ratio of 16 to 1 and against senatorial primaries. It endorsed President Cleveland's tariff reviews.

Jabez Myers, a drummer, was shot twice by Fred Oliver an oil mill man in Charlotte Monday. Myers had a fancied grievance against Oliver and made threats against him. His mind is said to have been unbalanced. The wounds are not necessarily fatal.

STATE NEWS.

Woodruff is to have a stock and agricultural exhibit.

There have been heavy and excessive rains in the middle and eastern sections of the State the past week.

The State canvass closed Wednesday in Abbeville. A large and well behaved audience attended the meeting.

Jasper Paris died in Spartanburg last Sunday. His remains were interred in Magnolia cemetery. A wife and one brother survive him.

Greenwood people are working earnestly for a new county. They ought to have it. The counties in this State are too large anyhow.

A woman on Mr. W. C. Ellerbe's plantation near Hagood Saturday night fell in a ditch and was drowned. She was subject to epileptic fits.

The Reform executive committee met in Columbia Tuesday night and determined to make no change in the matter of the county and State conventions.

Last Sabbath a $4,200 debt was raised by the congregation of the Baptist church at Spartanburg after listening to an eloquent discourse by the pastor along that line.

Fielder Walden, an old soldier of the Palmetto sharpshooters, died last Friday. His father, who in all its varied relations, had prepared him to answer the final roll call without fear and trembling.

Miss Ella C. Blough daughter of Col. D. C. Blough of Greenville, was married Wednesday evening to J. R. Vaughan, of Charleston. The ceremony took place in Greenville and was a swell affair.

Mr. J. N. Spann, Sr., died very suddenly Sunday at Sumter from heart trouble. Mrs Spann died the same way about six weeks ago upon hearing of the death of her son Bennie at Americus, Ga.

There was a shooting scrape at Cripple Creek on Monday afternoon. A dusky denizen of that dark and bloody quarter by the name of Ida Butler was shot in the back by one Bob Jones, also colored. From information given by Ida and others the shooting was entirely unprovoked.

Jim Peter and Perry Cheatham, two colored convicts procured an old saw and cut their way out of their iron cell in the state penitentiary Sunday night. They had liberty but for a day, for both were captured Monday night and placed back in prison.

The Mayor of Greenville had the disorderly arrested for violating the ally ordinance in relation to the selling of liquor, and in turn was arrested for interfering with the officers in the discharge of their lawful duty. The whole business was a piece of tomfoolery.

Mrs. John E. Carlisle, wife of Rev. John E. Carlisle, pastor of the First Methodist church at Darlington, died in Spartanburg Tuesday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Cedric W. Wright, after a week's illness. Mrs. Carlisle before marriage, was Miss Emma Jones, the oldest daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Samuel R. Jones. She was a remarkably fine woman.

Cowpens Chronicles.

[Correspondence WEEKLY LEDGER.]

COWPENS, S. C., August 7.—Mrs. C. L. Burnett and children are visiting friends at Gastonia, N. C.

Mr. J. L. Webster, of Hicksville, N. C., gave us a pleasant call last Friday.

Miss Belle Brown, of Pacolet, is visiting Mrs. E. O. Webster.

Miss Bettie Harmon returned to her home at Rich Hill last Friday after spending several days with friends at this place.

Mrs. J. A. Cantrell and niece Miss May Yarbon spent last week with friends in Polk County, N. C.

Our streets have been flooded with water melons. They are as plentiful as eggs and almost as cheap.

The first thing that occurred in our town Monday morning was the marriage of Mr. Jas. Reynolds to Miss Nannie Smith, daughter of Mr. A. S. Smith. Rev. J. D. Baily performed the ceremony.

Mr. B. E. Wilkins has purchased five acres of land on Main Street adjoining the Mitchell Vineyard—Ball is a "hustler" and will soon erect a ten-room dwelling on the premises.

Mr. Frank Moore has completed his dwelling which is an ornament to our town. Wonder what Frank will do next?

The painter's brush has added much to the appearance of Mr. Eddy Martin's residence.

Several cars of lumber have been received for the new bridge at Linder's Ford.

A protracted meeting is in progress at the Baptist Church at this place, under our pastor Rev. J. D. Bailey, assisted by Rev. Boock of Inman. It is hoped that much good may be accomplished.

Miss Jessie Smith has a flourishing school at Mountain View with an attendance of 83 scholars.

Prof. W. Hurst and family left for Blackshoal last Sunday. We regret to lose the Prof. as he was one of our most influential members of the "Sons of Rest."

Several gentlemen went from this place to Charleston on Cudd's excursion. Among the number we notice Messrs. W. A. Moore, R. H. Howe, Marion Howe and Eli Bogan.

Mr. S. J. Hammett has been admitted into the "Sons of Rest." He will furnish water melons for each and every meeting until "Jack Frost" comes along and nips them. Brother Hammett has the "Bradford" melons which he says are the best. The "Sons" eat none other.

The mill is running on full time now. Having completed the work of putting in the new Corliss Engine. The twins now pull the mill nicely. The slashers and weavers also some looms have arrived and the weave shop will be running possibly in three weeks.

Prof. J. T. Crawley has a very good school at this place now. He is a competent teacher and liked by all who come in contact with him.

Corinth Chunks.

[Correspondence of THE LEDGER.]

CORINTH, S. C., August 7th.—P. H. H. Clary is on the sick list this week.

Gill Clary was over in Macedonia settlement last week.

We understand that some of our fair readers of the "Possum Trot diggings" object to us calling their settlement "Possum Trot." We see our mistake now and hope our fair reader will pardon us for we never did believe the above name was right. It ought to have been called "Possum Rack" for a possum never trots.

Mrs Mary Clary and Mrs Sarah Wheldon visited Mrs Margaret Huskey last week. The "girls" claim to have enjoyed themselves immensely and we know they did, for it is rumored that Mrs. Huskey is a genial hostess.

Some of our boys went to Spartanburg on the 1st inst., and they have not quit hollowing for "Uncle Ben" yet. They said you could buy a watermelon for a nickel that you could not turn the flat side up.

We are beginning to think about "fodder pulling" time.

Mr. and Mrs Ed A. Clary visited their uncle Colonel Robert Kirby of Etta Jane Union Co. last week. They report the crops of all kinds. Ed knows what kind of timber it takes to make a good Legislature man, and he thinks Mr. W. C. Kirby possesses the very identical wood. He also passed Mr. Wm. J. Blanton en route to and from Etta Jane. He says Mr. B. served him with plenty of "The Black Man's Weakness."

Mrs Dora Blanton is very ill.

We regret to learn that Mr Vincent Blanton is very ill.

Miss Julia E. Wheldon visited her sister, Mrs Mollie Blanton, who lives near Home, S. C., last Saturday night.

B. G. Clary, of Gaffney City, visited Mr. and Mrs John James last Saturday night.

A protracted meeting will begin at Corinth next Sunday.

The first and second nines of the Home baseball club crossed bats on their diamond near John Pettit's last Saturday. Captains F. Parker and A. Boyles. The score stood 25 to 18 in favor of the latter. Batteries—Parker's—F. Parker and Eli Wheldon; Boyles.—J. Thompson and B. Boyles.

David Baily, of Gaffney, visited Jas A. Allen last Monday night.

Mr. John James is the proud father of a bouncing boy.

Sam Kirby is at work on his ginnery.

The next cool afternoon the boys will meet and organize a "Sons of Rest" club. We have some mighty good timber for the business.

BIG BOY.

THE STRONG POINT about the cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla is that they are permanent. They start from the solid foundation—Pure Blood.

Algood News Notes.

[Correspondence of THE LEDGER.]

ALGOOD, S. C., August 7.—The protracted meeting at Macedonia begins next Friday. It is expected that Pastor Tate will have ministerial help in the meeting. It is a leisure time now, and the people ought to unite with their pastor in an effort to have a good meeting.

Our school will stop one week for the meeting.

We expect to have a picnic at the close of our school, and so we now extend the Editor of THE LEDGER a special invitation to be with us and address us on that occasion. Our school will close the second week in September.

Miss Laura Pettit opened school at Centerview last Monday. We are glad to welcome Miss Laura into the brotherhood and sisterhood of pedagogy.

Among those who have been visiting recently are Messrs. J. S., J. W. and Sarah Byars, who visted relatives at Earls, N. C., last week; and Misses Ophelia Young, Sallie Byars, Laura and Lizzie Tendall, and Walter Young, all of whom have just returnd from visiting in Spartanburg.

Miss Bertha Tendall, of Spartanburg, is visiting in our community.

Miss Mamie More, of Lancaster, is at her father's, A. S. Waters, this week.

More signs of prosperty. A. W. Smith is having some of his out buildings repaired and A. Harris has torn down his old gin house and is rebuilding a more accommodating one.

Now is the time for farmers to make improvements and repairs on the farm.

Quitely and secretly, Cupid does his little work. Nevertheless it is done and often done quickly. He has just finished one job of work in our community. Mr. J. W. Reynols and Miss Smith, daughter of A. S. Smith, having concluded that they had been shot with the same arrow, decided to unite in an effort to heal each other's wounds; and so on the 6th instant, after Mr. Smith had gone to a singing at Grassy Pond and some of the children to school, Mr. Reynols and Miss Smith thought it a good time to be united, so they drove over to Cowpens and were happily united in the bonds of wedlock. Miss Smith is quite young—not yet sixteen.

Cow-Peas.

It is encouraging to know the extent to which the cultivation of cow-peas has been extended in this State. There is nothing better for the renovation of worn out land, and they can be plowed in after the bulk of the cultivated crop has been laid by. The cow-pea has the same property as clovers and leguminous plants in extracting nitrogen from the atmosphere, and can be grown on land too poor to grow the clovers. There is no better forage than well-cured pea-vine hay, and it is decidedly the best for milch cows of any thing I have ever used.

To make the hay, mow after the pods have commenced to ripen, put into small stacks at once about the size of ground-pea stacks as soon as cut, before the vines have time to wilt, and they will cure well in a few days. They can be thus handled in wet weather to great advantage.

Sow all the cow-peas you can and make into hay, and you will not regret it. Now is the time to begin to prepare for the pea crop, which should not be neglected by any farmer.—Bulletin.

Sticey Shoals Statements.

[Correspondence of THE LEDGER.]

STICEY SHOALS, N. C., August 6.—Please allow me a small space in your valuable paper to give you a few items from this flourishing neighborhood. Corn and cotton are looking fine since the refreshing showers have come and the farmers have a smile on their face.

Mr. Will Davis and his sister, of Bellwood, N. C., are visiting their friends and relatives in this community.

Mr. Davis will return to Bellwood in a few days, but his sister will remain here for some time. She is a charming young belle, or at least some of the boys think so.

Mr. William Hoover is attending the normal school at Grassy Pond.

Mr. Jim Randall has been very ill with heart trouble. We are glad to learn that he is some better and wish him speedy recovery.

Miss Lou Garrett who has been visiting friends and relatives at Blacksburg has returned home.

If this escapes the waste basket I will write again. I close wishing THE LEDGER much success.

ALVIN.

[Correspondence of THE LEDGER]

GRASSY POND, S. C., August 6.—T. Clingman Wood's school will come to a close on the 10th inst. Mr. Wood is an industrious teacher, and has been teaching with success for the past four years, and we wish him continued success.

Prof. N. M. Cordell, of Cherryville N. C., has reached the summit in music. The greatest musician in the South. A. J. Showalter, has wrapped him in a sheep skin with the little word "Diploma" written upon it. Not content with taking all the steps possible at home he has taken lessons under Prof. Edwin Moore, of New York. Prof. Cordell is now teaching a school at Grassy Pond, and has students from North and South Carolina. At the close of his engagement here he will go to North Pacolet. He has engagements that will command his attention until the latter part of the winter.

Invention of the Fan.

The poets of the Celestial empire attribute the invention of the fan to one of their emperors—Wu Wang—who reigned 11 centuries before the Christian era. The first fans were made of bamboo only, but in time feathers and silk were used with good effect, and old writers pompously describe the imperial chariots decorated with these emblems of power on all state occasions. It was only at the beginning of our era, however, that a Chinese fanmaker beat plates of gold "until they were as thin as locust wings" and applied them on both surfaces of screen fans, which he further decorated with paintings of birds, beasts and fabulous monsters, wherein he set glittering bits of mica. The folded fan, long unknown in China, is said to have been imported from Japan in the tenth century, when it began to replace screen fans.—New York Post.

Novel Tests.

Experiments at the Yale psychological laboratory on 1,200 boys and girls from the public schools between the ages of 6 and 17 show that, averaging the various tests, the boys surpass the girls. In color discrimination the girls are ahead, in weight discrimination the boys, though each sex is equal in the two at the age of 11 years. In quickness of motor ability the boys surpass the girls, though the latter are stronger in endurance.—Exchange.

Kossuth's Legacy.

An interesting puzzle in connection with the recent death of Kossuth is, our Vienna correspondent says, being circulated at Buda-Pesth. The question is, What did Kossuth bequeath to his two sons? Answer—A life from 1802 until 1894. Add these years. The result is the total heritage, which, divided equally between them, gives 1848.—London News.
