Legal Notices

Columbia, March 13, 1915. Mr. Winston Smith, County Auditor, Anderson, S. C.

Dear Sir: The State tax commission of the State of South Carolina has sent me the following communication relative to the enforcement of the income tax law:

"The time for making returns under the income tax law of this State expired on the 20th of February, last, and a very large number of persons liable to the payment of the tax omitted to make such returns within the time limited."

"The neglect to make the returns in time may have been caused by an erroneous impression that the returns and payment of the income tax to the federal government relieved these tax payers from paying the income tax imposed by the laws of this State."

"The failure to make returns within time has been so general and widespread that we think further opportunity should be allowed such persons to make these returns before the penalties provided by law are imposed upon them."

In order, therefore, to save such persons who will now come forward and make the proper returns, I, Carlton W. Sawyer, Auditor, and by virtue of power conferred upon the comptroller general, in Section 187 of Volume 1, Code of Laws of South Carolina, 1912, do hereby extend the time for the making of returns and assessment of income taxes without penalty until the first day of July, A. D. 1915. You will govern yourself accordingly.

CARLTON W. SAWYER, Comptroller General. RICHARD I. MANNING, Governor.

equipped with masked guns, supplied with trained gunners and special ammunition, transporting troops from Canada, carrying a cargo not permitted under the laws of the United States to a vessel also carrying passengers and serving, in virtual effect, as an auxiliary to the naval forces of Great Britain.

"Fortunately these are matters concerning which the government of the United States is in a position to give the Imperial German government official information. Of the facts alleged in your excellency's note, if true, the government of the United States would have been bound to take official cognizance in performing its recognized duty as a neutral power and in enforcing its national laws. It was its duty to see to it that the Lusitania was not armed for offensive action, that she was not serving as a transport, that she did not carry a cargo prohibited by the statutes of the United States, and that, if in fact she was a naval vessel of Great Britain, she should not receive clearance as a merchantman; and it performed that duty and enforced it's statutes with scrupulous vigilance through its regularly constituted officials. It is able, therefore, to assure the Imperial German government that it has been misinformed. If the Imperial German government should deem itself to be in possession of convincing evidence that the officials of the government of the United States did not perform their duties with thoroughness the government of the United States sincerely hopes that it will submit that evidence for consideration.

"Whatever may be the contentions of the Imperial German government regarding the carriage of contraband of war on board the Lusitania or regarding the explosion of that material by the torpedo, it need only be said that in the view of this government these contentions are irrelevant to the question of the legality of the methods used by the German naval authorities in sinking the vessel.

"But the sinking of passenger ships involves principles of humanity which throw into the background any special circumstances of detail that may be thought to affect the cases, principles which lift it, as the Imperial German government will no doubt be quick to recognize and acknowledge, out of the class of ordinary subjects of diplomatic discussion or of international controversy.

UNPARALLELED IN HISTORY.

"Whatever be the other facts regarding the Lusitania, the principal fact is that a great steamer, primarily and chiefly a conveyance for passengers, and carrying more than a thousand souls who had no part or lot in the conduct of the war, was torpedoed and sunk without so much as a challenge or a warning, and that men, women and children were sent to their death in circumstances unparalleled in modern warfare. The fact that more than one hundred American citizens were among those who perished made it the duty of the government of the United States to speak of these things and once more with solemn emphasis, to call the attention of the Imperial German government to the grave responsibility which the government of the United States conceives that it has incurred in this tragic occurrence, and to the indisputable principle upon which that responsibility rests.

CONTENDING FOR HUMANITY.

The government of the United States is contending for something much greater than mere rights of property or privileges of commerce. It is contending for nothing less high and sacred than the right of humanity, which every government honors itself in respecting, and which no government is justified in resigning on behalf of those under its care and authority.

"Only her actual resistance to capture or refusal to stop, when ordered to do so, for the purpose of visit, could have afforded the commander of the submarine any justification for so much as putting the lives of those on board the ship in jeopardy. This principle, the government of the United States understands, the explicit instruction issued on August 3, 1914, by the Imperial German admiralty to its commanders at sea have recognized and embodied, as do the naval codes of all other nations, and upon it every traveler and seaman has a right to depend. It is upon this principle of humanity, as well as upon the law founded upon this principle, that the United States must stand.

"The government of the United States is happy to observe that that your excellency's note closes with the intimation that the Imperial German government is willing, now as before, to accept the good offices of the United States in an attempt to come to an understanding with the government of Great Britain by which the character and conditions of the war upon the sea may be changed.

WOULD BE PEACEMAKER.

"The government of the United States would consider it a privilege thus to serve its friends and the world. It stands ready at any time to convey to either government any intimation or suggestion the other may be willing to have it convey and cordially invites the Imperial German government to make use of its services in this way at its convenience. The whole world is concerned in everything that may bring about even a partial accommodation of interests or in any way mitigate the terrors of the present distressing conflict.

"In the meantime, whatever arrangement may happily be made between the parties to the war and whatever may, in the opinion of the Imperial German government, have been the provocation or the circumstantial justification for the past acts of its commanders at sea, the government of the United States confidently looks to see the justice and humanity of the government of Germany vindicated in all cases where Americans have been wronged or their rights as neutrals invaded.

"The government of the United States therefore very earnestly and very solemnly renews the representations of its note transmitted to the Imperial German government on the 15th of May, and relies in these representations upon the principles of humanity, the universally recognized understandings of international law and the ancient friendship of the German nation.

CANNOT CORRAL NEUTRAL RIGHTS.

"The government of the United States cannot take the proclamation of a war zone from which neutral ships have been warned to keep away may be made to operate as in any degree, an abbreviation of the rights either of American ship masters or of American citizens bound on lawful errands as passengers on merchant ships of belligerent nationality. It does not understand the Imperial German government to question these rights. It understands it, also, to accept as established beyond question the principle that the lives of non-combatants cannot lawfully or rightfully be put in jeopardy by the capture or destruction of an unresisting merchantman, and to recognize the

THE GRAIN ELEVATOR BEGINS OPERATIONS

First Supply of Grain Arrived Yesterday Morning and More to Come.

Yesterday the grain elevator was put into operation when a supply of grain was brought in. This marks the beginning of what is hoped to be the starting of a great and new enterprise for Anderson.

This elevator has been erected and put into commission because it was thought that the county needed one and to promote the further raising of grain in this section. Although it may not prove to be such a great success the first year, it will continue to do an increasing business from year to year until it will not only be a great benefit to the farmers and grain producers of this section of South Carolina, but will also be a paying proposition for those who have their money into it.

J. SAM WILSON WAS VISITOR YESTERDAY

Says His Grain Crop Is One of Biggest He Has Ever Raised.

Mr. J. Sam Wilson of the upper section of the county was a business visitor in Anderson yesterday. Mr. Wilson is probably the biggest individual land owner in upper South Carolina and has so much that he says that he does not know how many acres he has.

While in Anderson yesterday Mr. Wilson was asked about his grain. He stated that he just had acres and acres of it and that it was fine. He has no idea how much he will make and says that it will be so much that he will not try to estimate it.

It is stated that Mr. Wilson has so much cotton stacked around in his yard that it looks as if he was expecting an attack like the Austro-Germans put up before Przemyel. He is a great farmer and raises practically everything that can be raised on a farm in this section. He does not seem to be worrying about an attack from the Germans and says he has enough of fighting right on his farm now since the rats have been so heavy this last month.

obligation to take sufficient precaution to ascertain whether a suspected merchantman is in fact of belligerent nationality or is in fact carrying contraband of war under a neutral flag. The government of the United States therefore deems it reasonable to expect that the Imperial German government will adopt the measures necessary to put these principles into practice in respect to the safeguarding of American lives and American ships and asks for assurances that this will be done.

Mr. Norton Returns From Northern Trip.
Mr. J. J. Norton of Walthalla was in the city yesterday. Mr. Norton who is well-known in Anderson, has just returned from a several days' trip through the North and says that business men in New York seem to think that cotton will bring a good price this fall in spite of the war.

Bar Association to Meet This Afternoon.

Meeting Trustees This Afternoon.
A meeting of the board of trustees of the Anderson city schools will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Reports will be made and any other business attended to that may come before the body.

of organized slaughter be silent, while the disease spreads?
"As an humble follower of the Prince of Peace, a devoted believer in the prophecy that they who take the sword shall perish with the sword, I beg to be counted among those who earnestly urged the adoption of a course in this matter which will leave no doubt of our government's willingness to continue negotiations with Germany until an amicable understanding is reached or at least until the stress of war is over, when we can appeal from Philip drunk with carnage to a historic friendship and by a recollection of the innumerable ties of kinship that bind the fatherland to the United States."

"Some nations must lead the world out of the black night of war into light of that day when swords shall be beaten into plowshares. Why not make that honor ours?"

GARDEN HOSE THAT'S GOOD

Rubber Hose isn't a good thing to experiment with. It requires more than good optics to tell the difference between the kind that's of cast-off rubber boots and the brands that have good stuff in them. We have found out all that by experience, and you may depend on the Hose you buy of us as being the best the price will buy. We have this Hose in several grades—eight cents per foot and higher. We offer you the best values it is possible to procure.
