Improving The Lawn

ERADICATION OF WEEDS.

Washington, June 11.—While weed enemies of the lawn are troublesome throughout the growing season, they are most particularly so from the latter part of June until frost. During this period crab-grass is by far the worst weed present, says the U. S. department of agriculture's laws specialists. There is no really satisfactory method of checking its growth, and the only treatment to be recommended is to cut or pull the plants before they have formed large mats. This is a very tedious and expensive practice, but where a good lawn is involved the results justify the expense. Rational fertilizing and careful watering during the summer help to overcome the effect of weeds. Chemical sprays or treatments have proven to be of very little assistance. Much difficulty is experienced in cutting crab-grass with the ordinary mower on account of its semiprostrate character. This difficulty can be overcome to a certain extent if a rake is used in conjunction with the mower. By means of the rake the branches of the grass may be lifted so that they can be clipped reasonably close. It is almost impossible, however, to cut crab-grass sufficiently close to prevent the formation of seed.

There are many other weeds that are troublesome in the lawn not only in the spring but also in the summer and autumn. Among the most important ones are dandelion, plantain, chickweed, oxeye daisy, and yarrow. While chemical sprays are more effective in the eradication of these weeds than in the case of crab-grass, the best method of preventing their development is to remove them with a spud or similar implement.

Top Dressing.
The weed problem can perhaps best be solved by making the conditions as favorable as possible for the lawn grasses and to maintain a strict watch at all times to check the growth of the troublesome weeds at the beginning. At the end of the growing season before the severe weather of winter arrives the lawn should be given a good top-dressing of well-rotted barnyard manure. If the manure is not well rotted, it is likely to introduce an abundance of weed seeds, which will ultimately cause considerable trouble. Topdressing not only adds fertility to the soil, but gives the grass protection during the severe weather of winter and the freezing and thawing of early spring.

Business Asset Is Command of Languages

By GISELLE D'UNGER, Chicago

A valuable business asset is command of one or more foreign languages. Business requires the personal supervision, the personal interview with the foreign representative who realizes the value of personal contact. To have command of French, Spanish or German assists a young man or woman to progress with the firm. Dentistry, law, medicine and other like professions are slow and arduous because the student is rarely equipped to read or understand the phrasings of higher and foreign authorities, whose words are needful for study. Hence, much valuable time is lost and the student makes slow progress.

Foreigners arrive in this country, associate with Americans, attend night schools and devote their minds to a study of our language. Japanese young men in particular seek situations as butlers, waiters and general utility in order to be in contact with the language. I have met graduates of colleges of Japan, men of high birth, priests and soldiers, merchants and college students, engineers and theological students who have acquired the difficult American tongue.

For intelligent young men and women there are opportunities as interpreters, stenographers, proof readers, copy holders, governesses, teachers, chaperons, professional men and in many other vocations.

Notably, the Spanish possessions and Mexican commercial, professional and mining interests are demanding assistance from students of Spanish. The first practical interest dates from the Cuban and Spanish war, when Americans flocked to Cuba and the Philippines. Clerical and professional men and women eagerly sought language schools and by concentration and application they soon acquired a certain knowledge, which was developed later when they settled in their new homes.

To train the mind in a study of languages is fine discipline. The concentration required through this means is valuable in many ways, for it is the mind that develops the successful man. In one's spare moments a language may be learned by means of a study at home through excellent books for this purpose, the phonograph, or at night school. Contact and study with natives is preferable, but many men learn as they can.

Benefits of Sleeping in the Open Air

By Erastus W. Woods, Springfield, Miss.

We read much about the healthfulness of sleeping out, but I have not read any explanation as to why it is more healthful to sleep out, other than the stereotyped advice that "fresh air is good for us." I therefore venture to suggest that the reason of the beneficial result is that the more dense the air the less action is required of the lungs to sustain normal animation. Inside the house it may require as many as half a dozen inflations to secure the same amount of oxygen that would be secured by one inflation of the lungs in the denser air.

Therefore it seems reasonable to conclude that the lungs become quieter and the whole physical system also becomes quieter and the whole man, lungs, brain and all, goes more soundly to sleep in the denser outside air.

When the weather is cold enough to require fire for comfort, the air in all ordinary houses and rooms is less moist and vital than the cold, dense air outside, and as a consequence when one enters such a place the action of the respiratory organs becomes more laborious, so much so in extreme cases as to manifest itself to us and we say the room is stuffy.

A health department bulletin published during extreme cold weather advised: "Don't stay in a stuffy room any longer than you need to get out." Stiffness is manifested through resistance to breathing and in no other way. The degree of stuffy unwholesomeness is plainly indicated by the degree of breathing relief felt when stepping from such a room or house out into the open air if it is not sufficiently stuffy to attract our attention while inside.

Again, outside, in cold weather, sufficient oxygen is contained in so small a quantity of air that one can breathe as nature intended, through one's nostrils, and this explains the rapid recovery from bronchial trouble.

Other things noticeable in those who sleep out are less snoring and fewer stories of horrid dreams. They sleep.

School for Training Girls for Wives

By H. O. JOHNSON, Columbus, Ohio

Now the influence of a good mother is such that when the time comes for a daughter to make her own home she will cook all right and be able to attend to all the details of her home. It is the indifferent and foolish mothers who make poor housekeepers of their girls and bring upon them matrimonial hazards.

There is a wonderful preservative in the spirit of a home, and it has saved from misfortune and ruin many a boy and girl.

Where these influences are lacking, didactic teaching in a training school will be beneficial, but there will be nothing that will take the place of a sensible mother.

Lucky, indeed, is the girl who has one.

Influence of Idleness Upon Man's Character

By J. P. McARTHUR, Pittsburgh, Pa.

No matter what one's station in life may be, if he is habitually idle from choice, his character in every direction undergoes disintegration. If he be dependent on daily toil as a means of support, he is likely to become a criminal and prey on his fellow-men. If he be able to live without work, he will, in all probability, become morally feeble or dangerous.

Idleness is far more potent in its influence upon character than is either earlier training or environment. The first a man who works may rise above; to the second he may be superior. American character is derived from ancestors who were so busy with hands and brains building a great nation that few of the corrupting and enfeebling vices of the old world idle classes found lodgment here.

As a consequence, our forefathers were a sturdy race of men and women. They may have been narrow and puritanical, but they worked to achieve for us a country rich in resources and in safety.

If idleness follows wealth it will be transmitted rapidly to those who are not wealthy, and sensuous ease or vicious crime will sap the life of the American nation.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tonic" Shirts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.
Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tonic is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.
I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.
Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it seeps into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic on my guarantee.
