THRIFT

If thrift does not come natural to you, cultivate it. Realize the fact that every man who has a dollar put aside is a capitalist.

We earnestly urge you to open an account with this bank for any sum. Either a Checking or a Savings account, in addition to being convenient encourages you not to use your money except in a wise way.

The prosperity you enjoy today does not guarantee you prosperity tomorrow. Changes in the business and industrial world may later on deprive you of your present measure of prosperity.

We Pay Interest On Deposits.

PEOPLES BANK OF ANDERSON

The month of June is the fly month. With the advent of the flies in great numbers, the demand for screen doors and window screens increases. Screens are no longer a luxury—they are a necessity.

We have complete stock of all sizes and styles of screen doors and windows. The saving effected by buying in carload lots, enables us to make prices that will warrant your favoring us with your business.

You can get just what you want at prices that will please you.

A Mistake Made by Many.

Don't wait for rheumatism to indicate diseased kidneys. When you suffer pains and aches by day and sleep disturbing bladder weakness by night, feel tired, nervous and run down, the kidneys and bladder should be restored to healthy, strong and regular action. It is a mistake to postpone treatment. Foley Kidney Pills put the kidneys in sound, healthy condition and keep them active and strong. Begin taking today. Good results follow the first dose. CITROLAX

CITROLAX!

Best thing for constipation, sour stomach, lax liver and sluggish bowels. Stops a sick headache almost at once. Gives a most thorough and satisfactory flushing—no pain, no nausea. Keeps your system cleansed, sweet and wholesome.—R. W. Welch, Salt Lake City, Utah, writes: "I find Citrolax the best laxative I ever used. Does not gripe—no unpleasant after-effects." Evans Pharmacy.

Greatly Benefited by Chamberlain's Liniment.

"I have used Chamberlain's Liniment for sprains, bruises and rheumatic pains, and the great benefit I have received justifies my recommending it in the highest terms," writes Mrs. Florence Slife, Wabash, Ind. "If you are troubled with rheumatic pains you will certainly be pleased with the prompt relief which Chamberlain's Liniment affords. Obtainable everywhere."

IN ANOTHER KEY

Danger Signals.
Kentucky Editor—Better go easy on Colonel Fireater this issue.
Assistant—Has he made any threats?
Kentucky Editor—No; he hasn't uttered a word. That's what worries me.

All Depends.
"Bread cast on the waters will return some day. Don't you think so, John?"
"Some bread might," replied her husband cautiously. "Some bread would sink."

She Can't Get a Grip.
Young Bachelor—Why on earth do you put oil on your hair, old man?
It's such a filthy habit, and—
Middle-Aged Married Man—Wait until you're married, my boy, and then you'll know.

The Reason.
"Why did the ladies in the days of chivalry give their gloves to the knights?"
"I suppose it was to show they had an admirer on hand."

Collectors.
"Of course we must have a watchdog of the treasury."
"Not yet. What we want is a few good shepherd dogs to chase the funds in."

Raising It.
"Why do you go so fast when you take that prospective customer out in your machine?"
"Because he wants speed, and I'm out for the dust."

Sure Proof.
"Mr. Smith, to whom you were talking so much, is a married man."
"Oh, I know that."
"How did you know it?"
"By the way he listened."

A LONG WAY AHEAD.

She—Papa wants me to wait until I am thirty before I get married.
He—If you're like most girls, you will never admit you're thirty.

Better Late Than Never.
"I don't believe in early weddings."
Her mother said: "It's all too soon."
"I'm quite agreed," her daughter answered.
"I'm willing to wed at noon."

Smart Set Comparisons.
"Why should you regard yourself as her social superior? Her family is as distinguished as yours?"
"Yes, but my alimony is much larger."

Fatal to Bachelorhood.
He—Do you think kissing is as dangerous as the doctors say?
She—Well, it has certainly put an end to a good many bachelors, at any rate.

Disatisfied.
Small Daughter—Dad, did the doctor bring my little sister?
Dad—Yes, dear.
Small Daughter—Dad, would you mind trying another doctor next time?

Gashed.
First Chauffeur—Who was that fellow you ran over?
Second Ditto—I guess it must o' been th' glass eater at the voodlyville theater. Look at that tire!

Qualifications.
Caller—Pardon me, sir, but is there another artist in this building?
Artist—There is not. There is, however, a man on the fourth floor who paints.

Curious Formation.
"Professor, you seem interested in my jelly cake."
"Yes," said the eminent geologist, "you seldom see such regular and sharply defined strata."

An "Old Sweetheart" Bridesmaid.

Dear Margaret:—You" be astonished to receive my picture as Sylvia's bridesmaid. Yes, Sylvia has been wooed and won and wedded! A husband carried her off yesterday for the moon of honey.

Sudden? A month ago she didn't know him. The gossips are still babbling with the story of how it happened.

Hear now the manner of Sylvia's wooing. You know Sylvia is said to be the image of her grandmother when a girl.

The grandfather of Sylvia's new husband was a "dabbler" in painting, besides being a financier. He met and loved Sylvia's grandmother long, long years ago, runs the romance that has just come to light. He painted a portrait that he prized because it had the gray-eyes, the gold hair and the sweet face of that "Sweetheart of his." Others prized it as an exquisite, bit of art.

It came about that those long-ago lovers married—the omnipresent "somebody else." So the "old sweetheart" portrait with gray eyes, gold hair and quaint frock was hung away in the gallery, just like any other portrait, and there is hung for years.

Robert, his little grandson, used, long after, to stand before that portrait and call it "my sweetheart," and when he grew up and went to college he still called that picture in the gallery "my sweetheart." Robert came home from his travels this spring. At the Carlton dance he met a girl marvelous unlike that old portrait—gray eyes, gold hair, and sweet face. The next day he led his grandfathers to the portrait in the gallery and asked:

"Who is the lady in the sweetheart picture? I danced with her double last night."
"Her name was Sylvia," said the grandfather dreamily.
"Her name is Sylvia!" exclaimed Robert.
"She was an old sweetheart of mine," said the grandfather.
"And she is—she is expecting me to call this afternoon!" And Robert strode away as do lovers in romance.

First thing we knew came a wedding, a wedding all to be traced back to that "old sweetheart" portrait, even to the inspiration of the gowns, Sylvia, the bride, her bridesmaids, and flower girls were arrayed old time like the portrait of Sylvia's grandmother, whom Robert's grandmother loved.

And I, even I, Sylvia's oldest friend, was her "old sweetheart" maid of honor. Behold me in light green taffeta and silver lace in that old fashioned mode, so happily for this very wedding come back as the newest of the new for this June's frocks.

Old fashioned—new fashioned are my pinched in waist, with really whaleboned seams; my wide gathered skirt, the tabs and scallops, sleeve caps and lace bertha. Still in the scheme are the green and pink roses down the front, the quaint leghorn hat trimmed with green ribbon and pink roses, and even the little ivory fan. Robert's gift to each bridesmaid.

Now it's all over and I've been maid of honor at Sylvia's "old sweetheart" wedding, it amuses me to wonder if any one ever painted my grandmother's portrait. However, Sylvia threw her bridal bouquet and—I caught it. Yours ever,
May.

PUTTING AWAY YOUR BLANKETS?

This is the time of the year when you are putting away your blankets, comforts, winter wraps, etc.

Don't make the mistake of packing them away soiled. Have them cleaned and renovated first. They will not only be ready for instant use when you want them, but you'll find they will keep a lot better—won't attract moths so easy either, for we get all of the grease out of them. Don't put the work off till later and then forget it!
