Pretty Birthday Party.

Little Miss Georgia Power entera ta delightful birthday party yes-terday afternoon at her home on South McDufile street. It was the young hostess eleventh birthday and a very happy afternoon it was for all pre-ent.

The time was spent playing games, on the lawn until the guests were in-vited into the prettily decorated dining room, where a color scheme of pink and white, was daintily car-ried out in the flowers and candies, also in the delightful swelt course served. A fish pond was ar-ranged for the little folks and each one pulled a string, to which was attached a pretty souvenir.

IN MEMORIAM

When death came into the home of Mr. H. Mahaffey and carried away our sister, Mrs. Ida Copeland Mah-hafey, the dearest tie that bound home together was forever broken and a gentle spirit released to return to the Father who loves and cares for us. Father who loves and cares for us. All that physicians skill and loving hands could do availed nothing and gradually the frail body grew weaker until the end came just at noon on the morning of May 27th. For several years her life was one long hour of pain and suffering, but she never complained or rebelled at the Providence that thus afflicted her. While others enjoyed the numberless pleasures of life, they were denied her and she was forced to be shat in from the outside world but she lavished a hehrt full of love on her home which she always strove to she lavished a heart full of love on her home which she always strove to make a place of happiness and sunshine. She loved everything beautiful and bright, and ever looking forward to a time when she should be well and strong, she bore her suffering with a patience that was traly heroic. We shall miss her as the days go by, and home will never again be the same to the kind, loving husband and daughter who nursed call tenderly cared for her, but looking beyond our own zorrow we see her freed from pain in a home where sil js light and love, her presence all is light and love, her presence there making Heaven more dear, so we reverently accept the Providences of a Father who watches over his children and doeth all things wall.
