

Followed Friend's Advice

After trying Fruitola and Traxo, Mrs. L. C. Clark, 940 Melba St., Dallas, Texas, wrote to the Pluss laboratories as follows:

"I have been a sufferer from gall-stones, and Fruitola and Traxo was recommended and I am glad to say I took advantage of your most wonderful medicine, with wonderful results."

Fruitola and Traxo are two remedies that are used in combination. Fruitola acts on the intestinal organs as a powerful lubricant, softening the congested waste and breaking up the hardened particles so that easy elimination follows quickly, to the relief of the patient. Traxo is a compound of splendid tonic properties, of special value in strengthening and restoring the system that has been weakened by constant suffering.

The Pluss laboratories have many letters on file testifying to the merit of Fruitola and Traxo; letters from people who have used the remedy and know from actual experience what it has done for them. For the convenience of the public, arrangements have been made to supply Fruitola and Traxo through leading drug stores. In Anderson they can be obtained at Evans Pharmacy—three stores.

DEATH OF ESTEEMED CITIZEN OF COUNTY

MR. BAILEY BREAZEALE DIED AT HIS HOME NEAR ANDERSON YESTERDAY.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN

Funeral Services Will Be Conducted This Afternoon and Interment in Silver Brook.

The death of Mr. Bailey Barton Breazeale, occurred yesterday morning about 9 o'clock at his home about six miles east of the city, at the age of 78 years. The funeral services will be held at the late home this afternoon at 3 o'clock, being conducted by the Rev. L. E. Campbell, and interment will be made in Silver Brook cemetery at 5 o'clock.

Mr. Breazeale was born in Anderson county near his late home where he has spent the greater part of his life. When the war between the States broke out, he joined the 4th South Carolina Volunteers under Capt. William Anderson. When this command was disbanded Mr. Breazeale joined Aiken's cavalry in Capt. Knight's company. At the close of the war he returned to Anderson county and tried to farming. It was about this time that he married the widow of Major Anderson, he having been killed in battle. Before her first marriage, she was Miss Lucretia McFall, daughter of the late John McFall of this county.

To this union were born four sons, Mr. Claude Breazeale of Texas, Mr. Thompson Breazeale of Mt. Olive, N. C., Mr. Frank Breazeale of Anderson county and one daughter, Mrs. Ruelle Sullivan of Easley, who will be unable to attend the funeral because of the serious illness of her daughter.

Mr. Breazeale was one of the most respected and most substantial citizens of Anderson county. He was loved by all who knew him and he will be greatly missed. He was an especial friend of the young people and they all loved and respected him. He had been in bad health for the past few years and was recently taken to the Anderson county hospital, having been removed to his home only a few days ago. Yesterday morning he was found dead by a neighbor who had gone for the purpose of taking a nap.

The photographer here caught the inventor, who is known the earth around, and the engineer, whose work on the Panama Canal has made him perhaps the best known in his profession in the world, in the same picture. Mr. Edison was so tickled by the honor that he could not repress his feelings into a mere smile. He laughed outright, despite the dignity that Princeton thinks ought to go with the degree of doctor of science which had just been conferred on him. General Goethals, whose photographs seldom show him with a smile, seemed to be wrapped in his professional pride as he was made a doctor of laws.

STOP CATARRH OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

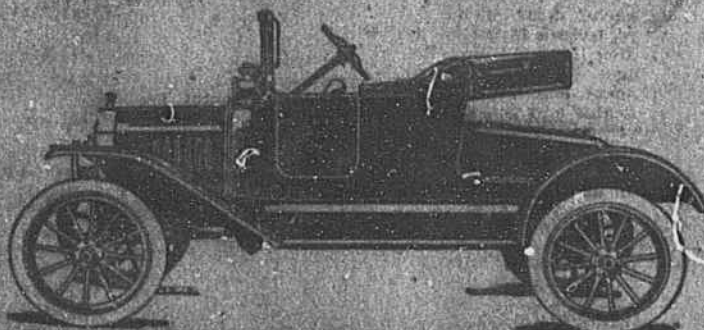

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffing, blowing; no more headache, dizziness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head, colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

PELZER

Pelzer, June 21.—The writer, while on a visit to Pelzer, found one of the most up-to-date and latest parks to be found in the upper Carolinas. In fact there are two parks—a base ball park and a pleasure park fitted up with skating rink, zoo, comfortable seats for the weary and so on. One of the latest additions to the park is a pet "coon" called "Mat" in honor of his new master.

That base ball park well its a wonder. You can't conceive of what it is unless you would see it. Two thousand feet board fence and eight feet high with entrances all around through the different gates. Built on the national highway from Anderson to Greenville. In the interior of this park is one of the most up-to-date grandstands to be found. Its seating capacity is 1,500 grown people and strong enough to hold 5,000 people. Its a wonder within itself. Seats as comfortable as an easy rocker.

Within this park is a quarter of a mile race track fitted for motorcycles, automobiles and horses. The management tells me that some very interesting motor races have been held on this track. But this year the program will be changed and some very high class trotting and pacing races will be held.

The baseball diamond will compare favorably with those of the big leagues so far as evenness is concerned—as level as a board floor surrounded by beautiful grass, and on the interior of the race track. Nature has provided a most beautiful shady clump of oaks for the bleachers, just in the right place so that you can locate yourself anywhere along the elevation among the trees and see everything going on in the ball park.

I am advised the Pelzer people don't do things in halves. They will celebrate the Fourth this year, which comes on Sunday, on the second and third. The mills will close Friday at noon and the park management has provided that the entertainment shall start immediately after dinner on Friday. All Friday afternoon at ball park, Friday evening at moving picture air dome. Saturday morning, again at ball park for the whole day, and again at picture show at night.

If you want to spend Friday and Saturday, July 2nd and 3rd, and enjoy yourself don't fail to go to Pelzer. There you will find high class entertainment and plenty of it, the kind that is fitted for the babies, the young folks, father and mother, grandfather and grandmother. If you are not in Pelzer Friday and Saturday, July 2nd and 3rd, don't blame anybody but yourself.

Water is free and in abundance. Refreshments sold on the grounds. Music furnished by the best band in the State. Plenty swings for the little folks. Flags, balloons and souvenirs a specialty.

Come early and stay late. Highest passenger trains daily, 8:30 a. m. to 12:12 p. m. Two roads, T. & N. and Southern railway. Park located between stations.

Farm Women's Work Easier Than It Used to Be.

In the July Woman's Home Companion Frank A. Waugh writes a very interesting article entitled, "The Country Woman's Opportunities." He takes up several subjects—church work, rural work, neighborhood social work and work for country boys and girls. On these various subjects he writes a number of interesting and timely practical suggestions. Discussing old-time crudery among farm women as compared with present-day life on farms, he says in part:

"Some women there are who crave the city life. Let them live it. To others the country makes the stronger appeal. They love its breadth, its quiet, its simplicity, its wholesomeness, its unquestionably better environment for children. Yet to the past many women have given it up out of disgust with its grinding labor, and many still fear that country life does not supply the opportunities for the serviceable employments of civic and social life which they feel they should undertake for the sake of humanity and their own consciences. It is time all doubts on both heads were cleared away. The slavery of woman's work has been or can be abolished on every farm; and in every country neighborhood are opportunities for social service."

A House Built From Advertisements.

In the July Woman's Home Companion appears a page containing half a dozen good ideas for the teacher and others. In the following little article a contributor gives some practical advice to prospective house builders:

"A house built of ads: Someday, I am looking forward to planning and owning a home of my own, and I have started a novel filing book, which may be of help to other prospective house-makers.

"Whenever I see an advertisement of a new invention, appliance, labor saving device or convenience of any other article, which appears to me superior to anything of its kind hitherto on the market, I cut out the advertisement and paste it in a blank book that I keep for that purpose. Under it I write my remarks. I may care to make about it, or else I give the name of the article, general description, and name and address of manufacturer. When I am ready to buy I have only to turn through my book to find all the information necessary to purchasing the article that I have long been sure I wanted.

"I have an index to my book with all the advertisements in alphabetical order according to subject. Of course, as I keep adding to the book it is impossible to keep it strictly systematic in any other way. I do not make a task of keep the book, and it is indeed, one of my favorite diversions."

Safety First.

"Did any man ever kiss you before I did?" he asked.

"Yes, dear."

"Tell me his name, that I may marry him."

"The strangest Algerian that he might be too many for you." Philadelphia Ledger.

Do You Remember the Good Eating of Your Children?

In the July Woman's Home Companion a contributor writes an article on country life, entitled "Alderbrook Farm." It is full of interesting facts and practical suggestions. In the course of the article the author tells the following story about his father, and comments on it:

"My father, on the old Ohio Farm, used to have a fixed idea that we must always have green peas and new potatoes for dinner on the Fourth of July. He always worked toward that end and rarely missed it. I can well remember, too, how good those small tender round potatoes used to taste all cooked together with the peas in an abundance of cream.

"It is odd how much of the enjoyment of all such things comes from purely psychological associations—from the memories of youth how much of it, in short, is pure imagination—simply poetry. Many of the joys of country life are of this poetic, imaginative sort. Indeed, right here lies the point of disagreement between those honest persons who think farm life all drudgery and those who think it all so glorious. The matter of fact is, however, that the person of imagination, who can see the poetry of life in simple things, finds large rewards in country living."

Cause to Think.

Not long since the pastor of a small church in a remote section got into a misunderstanding with the deacon over some small matter, and eventually the coldness spread to the congregation. The pastor stood it for awhile and then went to the deacon for an explanation of the congregation's attitude.

"Well, among other things," said the deacon, planning in his work of planting peas, "I don't practice what I preach." "I don't practice what I preach!" was the amazed rejoinder of the pastor. "What do you mean?"

"I mean," answered the deacon, "that you've been preaching on the subject of ventilation for nigh on two years now, and you ain't resigned yet."

"No, sir, I've never written for a comic paper before."

"Then how did you get that ugly scar on your face?"—Vale Record.

TAKE SALTS FOR THE KIDNEYS IF YOUR BACK HURTS

We Should Drink Lots of Water and Eat Less Meat, Says Noted Authority on Kidney Disorders

Recommends a Spoonful of J&S Salts in Glass of Water Before Breakfast to Stimulate Kidneys and Eliminate the Uric Acid

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's noxious waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. As first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach-ache, and fatigue, and you feel the uric acid twice when the weather is bad.

breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with litmus, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in the urine, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.
