MANY TROOPS ON GUARD AT SLATON HOME

ARTILLERY, CAVALRY AND INFANTRY PREPARED FOR TROUBLE.

NO INDICATIONS OF DEMONSTRATION

Nothing Overlooked to Insure Protection of Life of Georgia Former.

Atlanta, June 26.—A battery of artillery fully equipped, a battalion of infantry and a troop of cavalry of the Georgia National Guard tonight stood guard at the country home of John M. Slaton who retired at noon today as governor of Georgia.

It was quiet and there seemed to be no indication of further demonstrations by persons who disapproved of the former governor's action in commuting the death sentence of Leo Frank.

Conditions appeared to be normal in the downtown district of Atlanta, but as a precaution against any disorder there was a double watch placed on guard. All near-by schools remained closed by police orders throughout the day and night.

Twenty-six men were arrested early today in the vicinity of the Slaton estate, but no further arrests have been made by the national guard tonight. Some of those arrested are alleged to have had firearms. They are detained at the county jail tonight under orders from Adjutant General Nash.

Former Governor Slaton remained at home tonight. It is understood the guardsmen will remain on duty indefinitely.

At a luncheon which was given this afternoon by a Rotary Club of Macon in honor of Nathaniel E. Harris, Georgia's new governor, Mr. Slaton said: "Honest people may disagree with me, but we realize we must be measured by our conscience. Two thousand years ago another governor washed his hands of a case and turned over a Jew to a mob. For two thousand years that governor's name has been accursed. If today another Jew were lying in his grave because I failed to do my duty, I would, all though life, find blood on my hands and would consider myself an assassin through cowardice."

Atlanta, June 26.—Twenty-six men were brought to the county jail here today by militiamen guarding the country home of Governor Slaton. Militiamen said the men were arrested while trying to enter the governor's estate last night and are held on the orders of Major Hall, commanding the guard at Slaton's home.

Atlanta, June 26.—Beer saloons and locker clubs were closed here today, a night watch of police were at Slaton's residence for extra duty and a militia guard still surrounded Governor Slaton's country home in an effort of the authorities to forestall any trouble today or tonight which might result from possible demonstrations over Slaton's commutation of Leo Frank's death sentence.

Slaton's term of governor expires at noon today when Governor Nathaniel E. Harris will be inaugurated. Every thing is quiet early today, the business section is patrolled by a double watch of police and forty extra mounted police were sent to the capital.

UNCERTAIN WEEK ON THE EXCHANGE

New York, June 27.—Movement stocks this week was mostly uncertain with undercurrents of heaviness. This was particularly true of securities comprising the southeastern group of railways, virtually all of which issued a severe decline.

High grade investment issues were under frequent pressure as a result of offerings caused by the issuance of the huge new British war loan. Domestic war securities are comparatively heavy and inactive. Copper lost most of their recent advance. Called States Steel and allied shares were firmer than other industrial, owing to steady improvement in the trade.

Another change is again an increase in all European securities, however, the market weakness, especially in the case of the French and Italian securities.

London, June 26.—The London market was quiet today, and the 100-day bill was at 100. The 100-day bill was at 100.

Warden's Wife Victim of Kindness.

This photograph shows Mrs. Odette Maizes Bordeaux Allen, wife of the warden of the Illinois State Penitentiary at Joliet, when she was a member of the "Tom Jones" company, controlled by Henry W. Savage. She was one of Mr. Savage's prima donnas and had a promising career on the stage until she decided to quit. She was born in New Orleans, but her home before her marriage was in Los Angeles.

The murder of Mrs. Allen by a member of the prison whom she had befriended caused great excitement in the institution. Many reforms suggested there had been due to her initiative and the prisoners felt grateful to her. The feeling against the trusty suspected of killing her is as strong in as outside the prison.

EVELYN THAW MAY BE WITNESS

STATE IS SEARCHING FOR FORMER WIFE OF DEFENDANT.

New York, June 26.—In a lull today in the court proceedings to determine the sanity of Harry K. Thaw, it became known that the state is trying to find Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, the central figure in the shooting of Stanford White, to place her on the witness stand. Process servers made a fruitless search throughout the city.

New York, June 25.—Several residents of Manchester, N. H., today testified that they believed Harry Thaw sane. State's counsel announced that they will stage in the court movies Thaw posed for.

IMPORTERS PROTEST ENGLAND'S BLOCKADE

State Department Promises to Cooperate in Effort to Relieve Conditions.

Washington, June 26.—Twenty members of a committee appointed by more than one thousand American importers today laid before Secretary Lansing and other state department officials a petition in which Great Britain's interference with commerce in non-contraband articles through neutral countries to and from Germany is deplored. The officials promised aid.

A note is now in preparation for Great Britain. Secretary Lansing took the facts presented by the importers under consideration and will communicate with President Wilson.

TENNESSEE CLUBS LEGAL

Court Declares Law Forbidding Storage of Liquor Invalid.

Memphis, Tenn., June 26.—Tennessee's new lock club law, prohibiting the storage of liquor for individual use in social and fraternal clubs, was held unconstitutional in a decision by Judge Dickinson, a criminal court judge today. He expected the supreme court will pass upon the law.

RUSSIANS HOLDING POSITIONS ALONG BANKS OF DNIESTER

GERMANS FAIL TO GAIN Foothold ON NORTH BANK AFTER SIX DAYS SIEGE—ATTACKING FORCES SUFFER HEAVY LOSSES.

London, June 26.—The hammering by the Austro-Germans against the Russian forces in Galicia continues without cessation, but apparently with less success to the Teutonic allies than in most of the many battles fought during the Galician campaign for the possession of Przemyel and Lemberg.

From Petrograd comes claims of victory in the six day battle along the Dniester river, all attempts of the Teutons to gain a foothold on the north bank having been frustrated with heavy losses to the attacking troops.

The latest German official statement admits the Russians still hold the right bank near Haloz, but says the fighting still continues. Accounts of German military activity in Russian Poland come at the same time as reports that many big guns from Essen, Germany, have been shipped to that region. That action is possibly in preparation for another drive at Warsaw.

Pronounced German successes seemingly have occurred not far from the east Prussian border. Germans claim the capture by storm of Russian positions north of Przanayaz, and the Russians admit a reverse, in that region through the superior artillery fire of the Germans.

Neither the French or German statements indicate operations of immediate moment in the western war arena. The French admit the lack of progress. Germans say some trenches were regained.

London, June 25.—With breathless expectancy reflecting a momentary pause in the great battle between the British public is awaiting the next play on the European chessboard. It is conceded the next move is Germany's, and that will probably be against Warsaw, Paris or Calais.

FEDERAL MEAT INSPECTION AIDS WORK OF ERADICATION OF DISEASE AMONG HERDS

San Francisco, June 26.—The fact that the cost of federal meat inspection is less than six cents for each of the millions of animals slaughtered was brought out in a paper by Dr. George Ditewig of the Bureau of Animal Industry, of the United States department of agriculture presented before the annual meeting of the American Academy of Medicine here today. In citing his figures, Dr. Ditewig was trying to drive home "The Economic Importance of the Federal Inspection of Meats and Meat-Food Products Destined for Commerce," which was the subject of his address.

"In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914," he said, "inspection was maintained at a total of 893 establishments in 244 cities and towns in the United States. The total of animals inspected at the time of slaughter was 5,909,000, and the number of these passed on slaughter inspected was 4,473,000. The quantity of meats and products condemned on re-inspection, on account of having become tainted, rancid or otherwise unwholesome, amounted to several million pounds.

"The sum appropriated by congress for meat inspection for that year was $3,200,000, within which sum the service was maintained. In other words the cost to the people of the United States was less than six cents for each of the 56,909,000 animals slaughtered. This charge covered the entire inspection, from the live animal to the final examination of the meats and the finished products when ready for delivery to dealers or customers."

It was, however, not only in the protection of the people from unfit food that the value of federal inspection, should be found, he said, but also in the eradication of diseased herds, which cause such enormous losses on the farms.

INAUGURATION OF HARRIS WITNESSED BY THOUSANDS

Atlanta, June 26.—The largest throng of people who have gathered for an inauguration in Georgia since the civil war overflowed the hall of representatives at the capitol this morning when Governor Nathaniel E. Harris took the oath of office and delivered his inaugural address.

The members of the assembly and the hundreds of interested Atlantans made up less than half the crowd, as nearly 2,000 Macon people came for the special purpose of participating in the inaugural parade and giving their distinguished fellow townsman a proper send-off.

The official military escort in the inaugural parade was headed by the Second Georgia, N. G. G., which came from Macon for the purpose. The Macon people may never succeed in their attempt to move the capitol to Macon, but this morning they made the old dome feel like it was in Macon for a day at least.

He expressed the hope that the European war would be a blessing in disguise in teaching Georgians to rely on and develop their fullest extent

HUERTA MAY BE ENROUTE TO MEXICO

RUMORED FORMER DICTATOR IS PLANNING NEW MOVE.

REPORT HUERTA GOING TO MEXICO

Entrance of Huerta Would Likely Bring Factions Now at War Together.

Washington, June 26.—Official news of the severe defeat of the Carranza forces advancing on Mexico City, was quite overshadowed in interest today by announcements from both Carranza and Villa agencies here that a large party of Huerta adherents; former military commanders and legislators, are on route to El Paso, presumably with the intention of starting a new military movement.

The Villa agency's announcement said it had an unverified report that General Huerta is in the party. No verification of that was received tonight from any quarter, however, Huerta left New York for the West last Wednesday. It was reported he was bound for San Francisco.

Both Villa and Carranza agencies indicated in their announcements that they expected the United States to use its influence to prevent the former federalists from entering Mexico. It is regarded as probable in some quarters that the Huerta adherents' actions might bring the Villa and Carranza factions together.

Washington, June 26.—Charles A. Douglas and Eusebio Arrandondo, representatives here of General Carranza, left today for Vera Cruz to confer with the first chief. It is understood the object of their mission is to acquaint Carranza with the American viewpoint as outlined by President Wilson recently.

It is also understood that Douglas and Arrandondo will endeavor to effect a reconciliation between Carranza and Villa, and the Espata factions.

Official attention here today was focused principally upon the situation in Mexico City. Anxiety of Washington officials was increased because of reports of a battle between Carranza and Villa-Zapata forces for possession of the city, because telegraphic communication with Mexico City is cut off and famine conditions here are growing worse.

Mexico official advices from Vera Cruz reported the failure of General Gonzales to enter the city, while unofficial advices from Carranza sources said the Gonzales troops had occupied a considerable portion of the capital. It is stated department advices announced Carranza's guarantee of protection for non-combatants at Mexico City.

Reports of continued unrest in Yucatan, Mexico, have caused the navy department to instruct Rear Admiral Caperton, with the cruiser Washington to call at Progreso on his way to Cape Haitien. He will reach Progreso tonight.

General Villa in a message dated yesterday at Aguas Calientes, and received at the Villa agency here today says: "Reported capture of Aguas Calientes by Carranzists is absurd. Our operations are progressing favorably."
