ANDERSON, S. C. SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 27, 1915.

NUMBER 144

Meeting Live Stock Association Friday

WILL BE HELD AT CLEMSON COLLEGE 2 O'CLOCK IN AFTERNOON.

MANY WILL ATTEND

Valuable Hints and Instructions Will Be Given in Dairy and Creamery Business.

Mr. S. M. Byars stated yesterday that he wished to emphasize the Anderson county day at Clemson College on next Friday, and that a cordial invitation was extended to farmers and business men in the county to attend. On this day the visitors will be shown the various equipment, cattle, hogs, etc.

One of the features of the day will be a meeting of the Anderson County Live Stock association at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the visitors will be shown the creamery and cows and various talks will be made along these lines. The officers of this association are: S. A. Burns, president; T. T. Wakefield, vice president and B. M. Aull, secretary and treasurer. It is hoped that there will be a full attendance as this will be a very important as well as a very profitable meeting.

Mr. Byars stated yesterday that during the last month Clemson College has sold 1,500 pounds of butter at a price which totalled $4,000.

This butter is being sold from Baltimore to Jacksonville, Fla., and Clemson butter is getting to be a standard all over this section of the country. Although the output of the product has increased considerably during the past few months, the cream is coming from approximately the same number of cows, the increase being due to the fact that the patrons along the creamery routes have been better instructed in regard to giving the right kind of feed and the proper care for the cows. This is getting to be one of the biggest industries in this section and all live stock men who attend the meeting on Friday will receive valuable hints about feeding for the best results, care of stock, and the dairy business, in general. A good dinner will be served at the mess hall for 25 cents and the authorities have promised that it will be a good one. Anyone who wishes to make the trip by train may leave Anderson at either 8 or 11 a. m., and may return almost any time during the afternoon.

Floating Motion-Picture Show and Dance Hall.

With the idea of providing amusement for the summer residents along the shore of Lake Wawasee, in Indiana, there has been built a motorboat that is in effect a combination of motion picture theatre and dance hall. The boat is 90 1/2 feet long and has a beam of 30 feet and a draft of from 30 in. to 48 in. It is to be propelled by a 75-hp. internal-combustion engine and is capable of carrying 300 passengers. Trips around the lake are to be made six nights a week during the summer, the deck being used on alternate nights for motion-picture shows and for dancing. The boat will have five regular landing places so located that any cottage or hotel around the lake can be reached. The July Popular Mechanics Magazine, contains a picture showing the moving pictures being displayed on the boat.

Can You Make People Laugh? David Grayson, writing his story "Hempfield," in the July American Magazine, says: "In the country there is always such a consuming and ungrateful need of something to laugh at! Anyone who can make the country laugh can have his way with it."

Two Crews for the Poughkeepsie College Races.

Cornell Varsity Eight.
Columbia Varsity Eight.

Cornell and Columbia will be contenders in the races on the Hudson River at Poughkeepsie, an event which is attracting more attention every year. In time this is likely to become the college rowing event which will far overshadow the race of Harvard and Yale at New London. Columbia and Cornell have both done races in past years. The experts have not yet dared to make definite predictions about their performances this year. The Pacific Coast crew from Leland Stanford, Jr. University, may cut a figure, since it is the champion of the coast crews.

WAR CAUSES SCARCITY SERVANTS IN HOLLAND

Rotterdam, Netherlands, June 26.—For the first time in history, the Dutch housewife is today face to face with a servant problem. With 10 per cent of the male population of the country called to the colors, the girl who does not wish to be a servant can very rapidly find well paid work as clerk or factory hand, or in an office or even on the farm. Many are doing so, and it is now rare to see in the Dutch papers the customary form of advertisement for a place in domestic service.

Following the Dutch custom, domestic servants are employed by the year at yearly fixed wages, and in case of dissatisfaction on either side, a rupture of the contract can only take place quarterly on the first of February, May, August or November. Notice by either must be given at the very least three months in advance, or before one of these dates, and must for full three months from the next following term date. Thus, to discharge an ill-tempered or incompetent girl the day after she has come to work, requires six months' toleration of her, or the payment of six months' wages.

The wages, however, are not high, though the war and the consequent servant famine is tending to raise them. A cook ordinarily receives $100.00 per year with all her food and washing paid, and one cent as commission in every dollar's worth of household supplies purchased, which the cook collects from the tradesmen.

A good housemaid received $80.00 per year all found—with the added hope of falling heir to some of her mistress's clothes. A footman or house boy receives about $140.00 per year, also all found. The housewife must, in addition, pay workmen's compensation insurance.

The tipping system is the curse of domestic service in The Netherlands. In addition to the cook's commission, each servant, at the New Year and All Saints Day receives 5 golden on every hundred of yearly wage, or $1 on every $20. But these are not all, nor indeed the most important tips in a Dutch house. Every guest invited to dinner is expected to leave a florin (40 cents) with the butler on departing. All receipts from this source as well from an equally in-exchange tax placed upon guests stopping in the house, go into a common pot under the guardianship of the butler, to be distributed at the end of the quarter, among all the servants, in the proportion of their yearly wages.

At a recent meeting of the Netherlands Association of Housewives, Miss G. M. van Oorschot, assistant director of the Amsterdam Municipal Labor Exchange, made a spirited and frank talk upon existing conditions in domestic service in the Netherlands.

"The servant problem," said Miss van Oorschot, "is rightfully a international question which, until now, has received altogether too little serious attention. The principal trouble is that the relationship between the housewife and her domestic employees is regarded rather as a patriarchal one than as one of pure business, with social and economic aspects far outweighing the purely personal considerations. Many a girl today has left domestic service for factory or shop work solely because her personal freedom has been abridged by the terms of her employment and by the intrusiveness of her employer. The smallest matters, which may seem to have no fundamental significance, are sufficient to make a girl dissatisfied. Many girls, for example, object to wearing caps as a mark of service, or to being addressed as 'servants.'"

"There is but one solution of the social difficulties presented by this problem. That is to provide for competent instruction in domestic service, and to regard those who have availed themselves of this training as skilled workers, pursuing a trade for the exercise of which there shall be as for any and as definite legal guarantees as for the exercise of the bricklayers', tailors', or plumbers' trades."

"The hours of labor demanded of domestic servants, their rare hours of freedom, and the tipping system in vogue here in Holland all need regulation."

Attention, Farmers!

If you have more oats or wheat than you need we will exchange anything we have for it and allow you a good price.

We have several nice driving horses that we want to sell or trade for mules, also have nicest line of buggies and carriages in the upper part of the State, which we want to sell or exchange for good sound mules.

We will guarantee more for cotton to be delivered this fall as part payment on buggies and carriages.

We Are The Farmer's Friend
Try Us and Be Convinced

Who paid the most for cotton last fall? If you don't know, ask your neighbor! We bought more cotton at ten cents a pound than any other concern in Anderson county. We did this simply to help our customers.

Let us paint and repair your buggy. We have a first-class rubber tire outfit, use best material and guarantee our price and quality of work. This department is in charge of an expert. Call around and let's do business together. We will appreciate you trade.

Yours very truly,

J. J. Fretwell

PENDLETON SOCIAL

A party of young people, chaperoned by Mrs. B. Hardy Sadler went on a moonlight picnic, Friday evening last, to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Sharp. They had a most delightful evening, as well as a very jolly one. The handsome and talented daughters of this pleasant home, are charming hostesses.

The wedding yesterday of Mr. Edwin Terrie, of this town, and Miss Carson of Central, was an occasion of much interest. It was a quiet home wedding. Only the two families being present. The bride is unusually pretty and attractive, and the young couple will be given a hearty welcome when they return from their wedding trip.

The Fortnightly Club met Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Floyd Herron, an enjoyable two hours was spent by the many that attended. Mrs. Herron is always a most cordial and graceful hostess.

Miss Annie Lee Boggs has organized a Young Women's Christian Association which bids fair to be a success. About thirty girls have become members, the second meeting was held yesterday at the home of the Misses Evans. They sew for half an hour, and study some interesting subject for the same length of time, then have a pleasant talk on the topics of the day. Light refreshments are served.

Miss Boggs deserves much credit for commencing this good work, anything that will give the young people an interest in something besides themselves is bound to be good, and every one hopes the venture will be very successful, besides being helpful and instructive.

The fourth meeting of the School Improvement association took place this afternoon. There was a very good attendance, about thirty-five including children, being present. After the business part of the program was over Miss Zoe Foster gave us some very charming music, and a charade of three acts was well acted by six young girls, afterwards Mrs. Ralph Watkins rendered a piano solo exquisitely. Mrs. Watkins is not only a brilliant musician but an unusually clever amateur actress. Iced tea and crackers were served, and a pleasant half hour talk followed. It is gratifying to see the interest taken in this work by some of the members.

ODDITIES IN THE NEWS

Barrow, Eng.—The 600 women hands employed here in the manufacture of war ammunition have given such satisfaction that an additional 1,000 women will be employed immediately.

Long Beach, Cal.—A petrified knee-joint of a mammoth, estimated by scientists to be 250,000 to 275,000 years old, was unearthed here by Anton Cheroske twenty-eight feet below the surface. It is well preserved and measures 15 inches in diameter.

Petrograd, Russia.—A deserted Turkish baby was found by a Russian regiment in a farm house and adopted as the daughter of the regiment. The foundling was christened in the Greek church of the village of Bardus, the commander of the regiment acting as god-father and Princess Gelovanna, a Red Cross nurse, as god-mother. The child was named Alexandra Donskaja, after the regiment, and the officers and men subscribed monthly amounts to rear and educate her.

Thibodaux, La.—Mrs. Paul Breaux of Lafourche Parish, claims to be the oldest mother in the South. She is 110 years and has great-great-grandchildren among her 1000 descendants. Her youngest child is in the seventies. Another, still living, is over ninety.

New York, N. Y.—George de Coligny, who started thirty-five months ago from Bangor, Me., to slug his way around the world for a prize of $2,500 on the last lap of his journey. He has travelled more than 30,000 miles. Another contestant is now a prisoner of war in France. The other two have disappeared.

Atlanta, Ga.—C. B. Stafford, taken ill five years ago, was placed in the City Detention hospital. He threatened to commit suicide if he was removed to the health authorities have put him on the payroll for $10 weekly to prevent his carrying out his threat.

Armored Motor Car Driven From Both Ends.

Several of the European armies now engaged in war are using an American made armored motor car which is designed to be driven from either end, a picture of which appears in the July Popular Mechanics Magazine. It has four forward and reverse speeds, enabling it to be driven as rapidly in one direction as in the other and doing away with the necessity of having to turn the machine around before it can proceed in a direction opposite to that in which it has been traveling. It drives, brakes and steers on all four wheels, and has a place at each end for a chauffeur. The man at the front of the car has complete control of it when it is going forward, but when it is run backward, the steering wheel, brakes and clutch are operated by the rear driver.
