FOX TERRIER BECOMES ATTACHED TO FORD CAR

JUMPS ON RUNNING BOARD AND REFUSES TO BE DRIVEN AWAY.

WAS LOST IN CITY

And Thought Another Car Was His Master's and Took Possession For Day and Night.

Yes, it seems that dogs, especially fox terriers, become attached to automobiles as well as they do to their masters and although they may make a mistake by bestowing their affections and attentions on the wrong machine, they are very good judges of the different makes of cars and never claim a Mercedes when they are accustomed to riding in a Ford.

Saturday afternoon a little fox terrier, which it is supposed came to the city with its master, got lost and after running all about the streets for awhile, spied a Ford automobile that he thought looked familiar and made a run for it. When he reached it, he made one dive for the running board, and although the car was moving at quite a rapid rate, the leap was successful and in a few seconds the little dog was perched up on the fender right near the engine.

Now the driver of the car not being especially fond of stray dogs and not wishing this little animal for a mascot tried to scold him off but was not successful. The car was stopped and the dog put off, but he ran along like the automobile and soon found his old place occupied again. Seeing that he could not get rid of the dog, the driver decided that he would cease his efforts to do so and when arriving at the place where he was to stop he left the dog with his Ford.

While there he noticed that the dog took special care not to let anyone go near the car and guarded it as if his very life depended upon it. The driver was affected by his loyalty, and took the dog home with him and on Saturday night the little terrier curled up in the seat of the auto and slept with one eye open.

All day Sunday the dog stayed with the automobile and although different drivers drove, he was always on the job. During the day it was learned that a certain physician in Pendleton was the proud owner of the dog and he was notified of its whereabouts.

Summer Aches and Pains.

That backache or stiff muscle that can not be explained on account of having "sat in a draft and caught cold" is more than likely the result of weakened or disordered kidneys. Foley's Kidney Pills promptly relieve backache, sore swollen or stiff muscles and joints, rheumatism and aches and pains, bladder ailments. They put the kidneys in sound, healthy condition, and help them eliminate uric acid and other poisons from the system. Evans Pharmacy.

HUNDREDS ARE TAKING ADVANTAGE OF OFFER

SOUVENIR STATE SPOONS GOING FAST AND MANY INTERESTED.

GEORGIA SPOON

New Spoon Will Be Given Each Week and No One Spoon Offered Two Weeks.

Early yesterday morning a lady came into the Intelligencer office bringing a coupon and 15 cents for a South Carolina souvenir spoon. She was the first and all through the day they kept coming.

The ladies particularly appreciate the wonderful value offered in this coupon scheme to advertise Onelda silverware, and at the same provide orders for a giant factory, to run full time, whereas without this souvenir spoon scheme these factory people would be working only part time.

Quite a number of the ladies who were prevented from coming downtown yesterday afternoon on account of the rain phoned that they would come down this morning. Some of them seemed to fear that if they did not come down yesterday that they would be too late to get these beautiful souvenir state spoons at the ridiculous price of fifteen cents.

We will put on a new spoon each week. Next week we will put on another state spoon, and each week a new one, so that every one can get a set of just as many as they wish, but this fact should be kept in mind, that after a state spoon has been on sale for a week and withdrawn, that it will then be too late to get that particular state spoon again at the coupon rate of fifteen cents.

His Recipe Paid.

The souvenir spoon idea has become a fad throughout the United States and the popularity of the state spoon as a souvenir was proven by the demand for the first one to be distributed exclusively among readers of The Sunday Republic.

Georgia Spoon Next Sunday.

Readers of next Sunday's issue will get a coupon, which, with 15 cents, will entitle them to an Georgia spoon and the other state spoons will be offered from week to week.

The Onelda community spoons are not like the ordinary gaudy premiums so commonly offered. Each spoon is guaranteed by the manufacturers, the Onelda Community, Ltd., of Onelda, N. Y.

The base of the spoon is 18 per cent nickel silver and the spoon is plated with a heavy plate of pure silver. The guarantee is that it will be replaced, free of charge, at any time it does not give satisfaction.

The handles are tipped with the American Eagle, perched upon the shield of the United States. Beneath this the seal of the state is engraved deeply on a gracefully designed cut-throat.

The name of the state is on the handle near the bowl and between the name and the state seal is a floral design. The laurel wreath of victory, a partly unfurled American flag and the manufacturer's stamp appear on the back of the handle, which is finished in rich French gray.

Factory to Run 24 Hours Day.

The bowls are smooth and deeply burnished. In all the table utensils is a beautiful souvenir and a very serviceable table article.

Thirty days ago the Onelda factory was running only four days a week on account of slack business. Since it began the manufacture of the state souvenir spoons the factory has been operating six days a week and, to meet the demand, the factory has announced it will work 24 hours each day.

The Onelda community is a settlement of about 2,000 persons in a village called Kenwood, four miles from Onelda, N. Y. The community is the outgrowth of a religious settlement.

The silverware factory, a canning works, a large iron and other industries are owned by the community and operated on a profit-sharing basis. The community is the largest manufacturer in the world of flat silver, and the trade-mark has been recognized as a guarantee of real value and superior quality.

The souvenir spoons being distributed by The Republic are the greatest value for the money ever offered by the Onelda community and the low price was set only to spread on the wheels of the plant and put all members back to work.

To Be Sewed on Pillow.

At the distributing points several persons who presented coupons for the South Carolina spoon told of their purpose. One man said his wife had wanted it for some time, but that it looked so good he "guessed" he would use it himself and throw away his old spoon when he got the whole set.

A young woman said she was going to get a set of the spoons and sew them in a circle on a piece of purple velvet, a big piece for a pillow cover.

The coupons can be redeemed at The Intelligencer office. If the spoon is to be used to sell 5 cents extra must be added to pay for packing and postage.

You May Prefer or Dislike.

Many persons dread fire on account of the uncertainty of how long Foley's Spoon and The Community have been manufacturing the silver spoons. It is true that the spoons are made in a factory, but they are made in a factory that has been in existence for over 100 years.

HOW TO GROW FALL POTATOES

Successful Farmer Tells Methods Used to Bring Best Results.

"I have grown fall potatoes successfully for 10 years, making from 100 to 240 bushels per acre. I use the Lookout Mountain variety. Potatoes are grown one fall are kept over and used for seed the following fall. I do not grow this potato at all in the spring.

"I usually use land that has been in grass. As soon as grain is off the land I break two or three times harrowing after each breaking. About ten days before planting I put in guano but no stable manure. I put this on grain. Rough manure makes potatoes scabby. I use from 600 to 800 of 6-4-8 guano to an acre, mixed well in the furrow and then plow out middles. Then as soon after the 20th of July as there is a season in the ground I plant in three-foot rows, dropping potatoes (which are cut in rather large pieces and are already sprouted) about 12 inches apart. I open planting furrow four or five inches deep, following immediately with potatoes, then covering at once. This is important, as it prevents the sun injuring the potatoes and the land drying out before potatoes are covered. Plow out middles and harrow level. If potatoes are not up in 10 days harrow again. Cultivate shallow and often until vines are too large. Harvest about two weeks after vines are killed or before hard freezes come. They can be kept in ground all winter by throwing mor-dirt on them with the plow. I keep mine in a house on open floors, one above the other, about three feet between each potato, about two and one-half feet deep on each floor. This allows potatoes to dry out and to have light and air as the spring months come on. I find that they sprout best with plenty of light, so I have wire over the floors and windows and open them when the weather gets warm.

Potatoes that are to be used to eat should be kept in the dark all the time, as light turns them green, makes them bitter, and unfit for use. They are used on my table (stewed or baked, French fried, chips, cream-
