"Princine is Worthy of Its Container!"
—says Miss Princine

WHEN we revolutionized the making of baking powder and gave our product the name Princine, we sought for a perfected container to keep it in. And so the Princine cup was devised.

It preserves the leavening power of Princine by preserving its dryness. It is more convenient to use because of the handy handle. And it is useful around the kitchen after the Princine is all used up.

No solder to cause lead contamination. No rough edges to cut or scratch your hands. It is easy to open, and airtight when closed. And best of all, Princine is worthy of it!

QUIET WEDDING AT THE ST. JAMES

Mr. A. M. Myers of This City and Miss Mary Nunamaker of Columbia Married.

Miss Mary Nunamaker of Columbia and Mr. A. M. Myers of this city were quietly married at the St. James hotel yesterday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. W. Speake.

Mr. Myers was formerly of Columbia and came to Anderson about a month ago where he is employed by the Southern Bell Telephone company. Sunday morning Miss Nunamaker left Columbia with a party of friends for Altapass where they were going on a vacation. Mr. Myers met them in Belton and there persuaded the young lady not to put off their marriage any longer. Her mother, who was visiting in Greenville, was notified of the decision and was asked to come to Anderson for the ceremony. Miss Nunamaker came to Anderson Sunday afternoon and spent Sunday night with friends and her mother reached the city yesterday morning.

The ceremony was performed yesterday afternoon at 4:30 in the parlors of the St. James. Mrs. Nunamaker and Mr. James Jresley being the only witnesses. Immediately after the ceremony the young bride's mother left for Greenville and was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Myers. They returned to the city last night and are stopping for the present at the St. James hotel.

Mrs. Myers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Nunamaker of Columbia. She was wearing a smart tailored and colored coat suit and is a very attractive little blond.
