THE INTELLIGENCER ESTABLISHED 1860.

Published every morning except Monday by The Anderson Intelligen-cer at 140 West Whitner Street, Anderson, S. C.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER Published Tuesdays and Fridays

L. M. GLENN....Editor and Manager

Entered as second-class matter April 28, 1914, at the post office at Anderson, South Carolina, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES Telephone321

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

DAILY
 One Year
 2.50

 Six Months
 1.25

 Three Months
 1.26

SEMI-WEEKLY

The Intelligencer is delivered by carriers in the city.

Look at the printed label on your paper. The date thereon shows when the subscription expires. Notice date on label carefully, and if not correct please notify us at once. Subscribers desiring the address of their paper changed, will please state in their communication both the old and new addresses.

To insure prompt delivery, complaints of non-delivery in the city of Andersan should be made to the Circulation Department before 9 a. m and a copy will be sent at once, All checks and drafts should be drawn to The Anderson Intelligencer.

ADVERTISING

Rates will be furnished on applica-No tf advertising discontinued ex-

The Intelligencer will publish brief and rational letters on subjects of general interest when they are ac-companied by the names and ad-dresses of the authors and are not of a defamatory nature. Anonymous communications will not be noticed. Rejected manuscripts will not be re-turned.

In order to avoid delays on account of personal absence, letters to The Intelligencer intended for publication should not be addressed to any indi-vidual connected with the paper, but simply to The Intelligencer.

TUESDAY, JULY 13, 1915.

WEATHER FORECAST

Partly cloudy Tuesday and Wednesday with probably scattered shewers.

Cheer up, just suppose it was twice

Someone evidently has forgotten to start the ice famine cry.

Speaking of yarn mills, what's the matter with the war correspondents?

We imagine old Huerta finds little bliss in being imprisoned in Fort

The more it begins to look like war the fainter grows the howl of the War aeroplanes are being called sky fleets. Wonder if their drivers are called sky pilots?

Four of being held up by those bandits operating in the west will cause many a newspaper man to call off his trip to Frisco.

Yeggmen Crack Standard Oil Safe. -Headline. Somehow we can't stir up any vast amount of sorrow over that incident. Interest Drops With Wife Out of and the same will be true. Believing that President Wilson is entirely competent to handle the situawe shall refrain from offering sug- the United States last year?" the gertions.

It may be true that all things come to him who waits, but considering the degenerated to the extent of drinking number of things not worth waiting for, you can't blame a fellow for going out after what he wants.

The hint that Thaw will sue for divorce if he wins but in his sanity test case almost makes us wish he will be placed back in Mattewan. Who wants to see the Thaw family linen washed again in the courts?

THE PLETHORIC FARMER.

The American farmer has no caus for complaint, even if the grain pric level is a small fraction of a per cent below the seven-year average for this time of year. As matters stand, it is about one per cent higher than ; year ago, and in any event the enormous volume of all the principal crops will more than counteract any possible lowering of prices,

The government's crop report for July 1 indicated the greatest agricultural output in our history, or in the Listory of any country. Wheat is expected to total 963,000,000 bushels, which is about 70,000,000 bushels more than last year, and more than onethird of the world's 1914 production. Corn is expected to reach the 2,814,-000 mark, which has been surpassed three times in our own history, but which is more corn than the entire close to our highest mark, made in 1912, and will be 44 per cent of the

There are no crop failures whatever. The condition of all crops together, on July 1, was 2.3 per cent above the average for ten years.

It's great for the farmer, great for the merchant, great for the railroads and great for the general public. Reinforced by the growing boom in the iron and steel industries, and bulwarked by the general shortage of grain in Europe, it insures at least the fat year after the lean ones.

THE DELUGE OF LAWS.

"I had a count made not long ago in he Library of Congress" says Elihu Root, "of the number of laws that had been passed in five years ending December 1, 1913. I found that more than 62,000 laws had been passed by congress and the State legislatures in this country in that five years, and J found that there had been reported during that five years and published in 630 volumes of reports of the courts more than 65,000 decisions of courts of last resort in this country. Now not even Mr. Choate knows them all by heart. How can you conduct your business and keep out of jail?"

How can any man, whether in busi ness or not, keep out of jail, with those 62,000 laws and 65,000 court decisions on his trail, reinforced by the hundreds of thousands of laws and decisions of other years? Perhaps the reason is the very fact hinted at by Mr. Root-that no human being can possibly keep track of them.

Anybody would think that the legal profession, in sheer despair at trying to keep up with legislation and court decisions, would try to curb the output, limiting the scope of legislation to essential things, and reforming out semi-legislative judicial system.

AMERICAN TEA.

The recent death of Dr. Charles U. Shepard has attracted attention to his unique agricultural achievement. He had succeeded in doing something that the experts of the government had long attempted without success—the mand in reference to submarine was domestication of the tea plant. On fare will be shocking to all who love his South Carolina plantation he not only made the exotic herb live and Come to think of it. Germany is frow, but made it commercially prof-teally nice to allow us to use the table. His yearly production was about 15,000 pounds. That isn't much compared to the 91,000,0'0 pounds we import from Asia every year, but nevertheless it's as creditable a feat as many of the celebrated successes of Luther Burbank who creates new species of fruits, vegetables and grain. nevertheless it's as creditable a feat It doesn't seem likely that tea will ever be so thoroughly domesticated in America as to be raised easily and profitably by the sverage farmer. Nature seems to have marked out certain sections of China, Assam, Japan, India and Java for this plant just as definitely as she has made Kansas the great corn State, and adapted South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Thaw case .- Headline. Eliminate the Mississippi and Texas particularly to "woman in the case" from any case to the raising of cotton.

THE RETORT ALCOHOLIC.

In reply to the question asked by Leslie's Weekly, "Who drank all the tion growing out of the German note, 88,000,000 gallons of whiskey made in Madisonville (Ky.) Hustler says:

"We sincerely hope it hasn't been drunk. If the American nation has whiskey less than a year old, then all the mean things the Germans have said about us must be true."

The Enterprise has received a number of fine tomatoes this season, but the largest we have yet received was grown by Rev. Edw. S. Jones at the Methodist parsonage. Mr. Jones brought up two yesterday, one of the Stranger things have happened than that in a couple of weeks W. J. Bryan will be addressing monster recruiting mass meetings.—The State. And then the redombrable Col. Aftermath casting aside the typewriter, pastepet and scissors for a rife, a pastepet and scissors for a rife, a mail a good, all round fellow in gentlements. The German government is the mildest word that can be used to characterize the German government's reply.

A Flat Denial.

Washington Star.

It may as well be recognized that the German answers to these American can notes constitute a flat denial of the American demands. The German government has been asked whether pair of running shoes and a canteen. and a good, all round fellow in gen-

American Press On German Answer

Boston Evening Record, Germany's latest word is ridiculous —and we do not believe the American people relish being ridiculed in this

"Victory by Default."
Kansas City (Mo.) Journal.
The press version of the answer from Berlin seems scarcely to be viewed as a defiance. The only other meaning to be raid into it is that Ger many is unwilling to make formal acquiescence to our demands, but will allow us a victory by default.

Modus Vivendi.

Chicago Tribune The German reply offers a modus vivendi by which safe passage of Americans in the war zone can be assured. There is, we are confident, disposition to undertake a for the sake of enforcing a whose exercise we can substantially enjoy by any reasonable concession.

Would Extend Wrongs.

Chicago Herald. The German government practicall affirms that because of its wrong at the hands of the British government. the rights of Americans and other neutrals have ceased to exist. the abandonment of these rights it offers certain privileges. The American people are not asking favors or "privileges" from the German or oth-

Ignores Principle.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The German note evades responsibility for the Lusitania, or rather, shifts it and ignores the principle involved in its destruction upon which the American note laid stress. The measures of regulation proposed by Germany are irrelevant. To con-sent to such regulations without a definite understanding as to the principles would make associates in the violation of international law.

A Convenient Shift.

Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer.
The United States makes a demand and Germany discusses in reply the wickedness of here enemies. The most pleasing feature of the note is the apparently sincere expression of friendship for the United States.

Not Conclusive

Columbus Ohio State Journal. Germany's answer to President Wilson's second note is not conclusive and satisfactory. We hope President Wilson will not see enough in Germany's replly to draw us into the conflict over so little, but if he does we feel sure that he sees the right of it.

Augry With Britain.

Milwaukee Sentinel.

As a specific reply to specific requests, it is more open and satisfac-tory than the evasive and cavalierlike British memorandum in reply to American protests against what is virtually an embargo on American Evades Real Issue.

Seattle (Wash.) Post-Intelligencer. Von Jagow politely evading the real issue, presents Germany's case strongly. Germany craves this ma-tion's friendship and respects the American flag. This is manifest. American flag. This is manifest Hence an understanding should be reached without diplomatic breach.

Shocking to Just.

Germany's reply to America's de peace and right and justice. Her demands are that Germany must sur-vive, though it be necessary to de-

Amazing and Disappointing.

Charleston News and Courier The German governments' reply p. ovokes utter amazement, keen discome what may.

Two Courses Open.

Pittsburgh Gazette-Times. Under the circumstances it ies difficult to see how President Wilson can refrain from doing one or two things: Either communicate, in positive terms, a final request that Germany comply with the representa-tions made in the note of May 13, and await violation of these, if any there be, to determine his next step or else discontinue diplomatic tions with Germany until such time as its attitude is adjusted in harmony with American rights.

Does the Country Accept This?

Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution. While the German problem reaching a stage wherein it now seems its solution will readily be found, a far more serious situation confronts us in the attitude of Eng-. . . As Between the German and Eng-lish situations, the latter is now evi-dently the more serious and the more delicate of the two. land toward neutral commerce. . .

Albany (N. Y.) Evening Journal.
"Unsatisfactory" is the mildest word that can be used to characterize in its relation with this government and its citizens, it proposes to conduct itself in a manner befitting a civilized nation, subject to and re-gardful of international law. To this plain question a negative an-swer has been received.

Insolent and Evasive.

Chicago Journal.

The German note is one of the most insolent and evasive ever addressed by the government of one great nation to that of another. It fails to offer any reparation or apology for the killing of Americans on the Lust-tania and other vessels. Clearly "the jingo. Revention brand of statesmanship," is in control. It remains to be seen whether President Wilson can discover any peaceful method of making such jingoes respect American rights.

Offensively Instinuating. Boston Transcript.

Without equivocation and with politeness offensively insinuating, Germany rejects each and all of our demands and attempts to bargain with respect to the future. . . . What right have we to retain a seat among the self-respecting nations of the world if we abandon our dead to their fate and bargain with the murderers for the safety of our living?

Hopes For Peace. Cincinnati Times-Star. Not by any stretch of the imagination can the latest German note be the course it was following at the time of the sinking of the Falaba, the Guiflight and the Lusitania there remains hope that any dispute will be kept within the bounds of diplomatic negotiations.

Ignores Demands.

Augusta (Ga.) Herald.

The German note is deceitful, evasive and unsatisfactory. It ignores every essential demand of America. It is an insult to intelligence, humanity and civilization.

A Selfish Chance. Columbus (Ohio) Dispatch.

To the American appeal in the in terest of a wide humanity the note offers some concessions that impute to us mere soffishness. Ways are offered, by adopting which Americans can be safe at sea, while the slaughter of other noncombatants goesc on. Germany tells the United States how it can escape. But it is sometimes worse to escape than

The Total Fault.

Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. The fatal fault in Germany's reply to the American note is that this is no disavowal of the assault on the Lusitania. . . . There can be no Lusitania. There can be no satisfactory settlement of the issue and friendly relations can not perma nently continue unless there shall be expatiation in some form.

Can't be Accepted.

Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

The reply can not but be regarded as unsatisfactory and its pro-posals will be regarded as impossible of acceptance.

Plain in Spirit.

Chicago Abenpost.

The German answer to the Amer ican note of June 10 is friendly and firm. As an answer to the demands made by our administration the note is what was expected—unsatisfactory. In form it is more of a justification of the German standpoint and an appeal to the American love of justice than an answer to the American note. In spirit, however, it is an answer, and a plain one at that.

Must Maintain Stand

Seaatle (Wash.) Times.

America's stand is clearly defined. The country must maintain it. We have no fear that the president will

Calls For Action.

New York Evening Post
The German reply will require action by our government. This need not be hasty, but it should be definite. That the president can retreat from his position, that certain acts of the German government are the acts of an international outlaw, is inconceivable. How best to maintain that position is now the grave duty laid Astounding Proposals.

Worcester (Mass.) Gazette.
The note bristles with an ego that is supreme—it is staggering. . . . It is not a reply to the American note. It is an astounding array of un-heard of proposals which the United States must and will reject in their entirety.

"Germany Meets Us More Than Half

St. Poul Volks Zeitung. St. Poul Volks Zeitung.

The new German note is a governmental guarantee of safety to all Americans who cross the Atlantic in vessels properly flying the American flag. However, if American citizens prefer to enter the dangerous war to be a helicontent would be seen to be a perfect to the dangerous war to be the content of the dangerous war. zone in a belligerent vessel carrying a cargo of arms and ammunition to the allies, the German government declines to protect such foolhardi-

Good Things in Leurens.

There is one thing certain, and that is: Laurens County has something to cat. Never have we seen before so many farmers bringing in chickens, canteloupes, watermelons, truits and vegetables of all kinds as now. Though the bottom should fail out of the cottom market the people of Laurens are not going to starve. There is quite a contrast in this county in this respect now and a year ago.

The county has something to canciller the county of the cottom market the people of the cottom market the people of Laurens are not going to starve. There is quite a contrast in this county in this respect now and a year ago.

The county has something to canciller the county of them. Being taught to consider the catch other first, Bobble said: "Take of the cottom, said Elsie, "you take your choice."

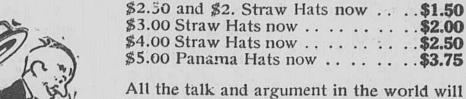

Each kept insisting that the other take first choice, but finally Elsie broke the deadlock by taking the highest and he excialmed wrathfully, and the county of the county of the cottom market the people of the cottom market the people of Laurens are not going to starve. There is quite a contrast in this county in this respect now and a year ago.

The county of the cottom county is the county of the cottom that the county of the cottom cancel the county o the American demands. The German ty in this respect now and a year ago, government has been asked whether —Dublin Courier.

Special Offerings

Yes, we've split the price on all our "Split Straws," Sennits, Mackinaws, Bankoks and Panamas.

Head this way for headquarters in the hat not make an ill fitting shoe comfortable. "Comfort first" is the motto of our shoe man. Here's a lot of Hanan oxfords on which we've cut the price. The lot is small but includes tans, gun metals and patents, but not all sizes of each. If your size is here in any leather it's a money saving proposition for you. All taken from our regular $6 Hanan stock, now......$3.95

 ODDS AND ENDS. *****

A Critique.

Col. George Harvey said at a banjuct in his honor in New York:
"We editors like criticism, especially when it is of the very favorable kind that I've received this evening. "But not all criticism is favorable, "But not all criticism is favorable, even for the most successful editors. A good many editors, in fact, often find themselves in the position of the rich ment that the Carranza-Villa faction themselves in the position of the rich old broker whose little grand-niece

"Uncle, how long do people live?" ranza
"The natural span of man's life," the su
the uncle enswered, "is, as the Good Book tells up, three score years and Contributory Negligence.

Aunt Rosa, who had presided in the Aunt Rosa, who had presided in the kitchen for many years and was a person of high privilege in the family, came into the library in a highly flustrated state, wiping her fat hands upon her apron, says the Literary Digest. she was painly both distressed and indignant. She addressed herself without preamble to the master of the house.

"Mister Willie," she said, "please, suh, len' me $15, suh. Dey done 'rest and Carranza agents as closely as my boy 'Rastus ag'in. Dey got him shet up in he jall, an' dey 'fuse to let him out 'lessen I navs hail'" him out 'lessen I pays bail.'

ing, Aunt Rosa?" "He ain't done nothin' 'tall, Mister Wile—nothin' 'tal, sun. De boy was jest a settin' on de do' step wiv a knife in his han,' an' a onery nigger come by, and fell on it, and rip hisself open—dat's all. suh." -dat's all, suh.

-Bible Names for Warships.

The custom of giving Bible names to men-of-war at one time pravailed extensively in the British navy. The Goliath, however, which was sank in the Dardanelles recently, was the only battleship which had a Bibical appellation. The names are chiefly pagan, like Hercales, or adjectival, like Au-

In the seventeenth century, how-In the seventeenth century, however, the British naval fleet included vessels named Abraham, Benjamin,
Ephriam, John the Baptist, Jonathan,
King David, Ruth and Solorion. In Nelson's time there was both an Adam and Eve and an Eden, but by then the use of Biblical names for engines of destruction began to be out of favor.
At a still earlier date the practice was very much more common. One warvery much more common. One war-ship, commissioned in the time of Henry VIII, bore the name of Christ, and among the fighting fleet of Henry V's time were ships named Jesus, Holy Ghost, Peter, Paul and Paternoster.

"I tell you," said Pat, "the old the friends are the best, after all, and, wher's more, I can prove it."

"How are you going to prove it?"

"Where will you find a new friend that has shtud by ye as long as the ould ones have?"—Chicago Herad. It Was His Chelco

HUERTA AND MEXICO

(Army and Navy Journal.)

The arrest of Huerta and the threat to prosecute his alleged financial backers is another indication of the present attitude of the administration toward the former president of Mexico. On the assumption that Huerta was a disturbing element in Mexico. would shortly restore peace. Later when there was a break between Car-ranza and Villa the latter received the support of the administration and was heralded as a second Washington. When Carranza appeared to have the upper hand a statement

"Oh, then, you'll live to be 140, won't you, uncle?
"The old man looked around the room crowded with relatives and laughed heartily.
"Why, no," he said. 'Why no. How you make that out?"
"Isn't it true, then,' said the little girl, isn't it true what mamma says about you living a double ife."—
Washington Star.

Have the upper hand a statement came from the president which was construed in some quarters as a threat of intervention. More recently villa seems to be becoming stronger and nothing is being heard of the purpose of the administration to a sume a more aggressive attitude in dealing with the Mexican troubles. Its entire attitude seems to amount to a declaration that none of the leaders of the Mexican factions will be tolerated with the exception of Vilbe tolerated with the exception of Vil-If this government intends to pros-

secret service of the government will take the trouble to watch the Villa propaganda from this country?

Many Americans acquainted with conditions in Mexico have more faith in the ability of Huerta to establish a stable government than any of the other leaders. At least he could do as well as Villa if he had the moral support of the administration. Everyone acknowledges that what is needed in Morals and the state of the one acknowledges that what is needed in Mexico is a strong dictator, and Huerta sizes up to these specifications better than any of the other leaders. Of course, no one who has any knowledge of Mexican affairs considers seriously any probability of establishing a real republic in Mexico. Not over 15 or 20 per cent of the voting population of the country ever exercised the right of suffrage, and the majority of the people do not expect it. What the great mass of Mexicans want is an honest government which would give them an opment which would give them an op-portunity to make a living without interference of bands of robbers who are ravishing the country under the guise of fighting for a principle. Whatever should be based upon the recognition of facts, and not upon beautiful theories. The facts were well understood at the beginning by a large class of our citizens who had learned, by close observation and experience, the actual conditions in Mexico. It would have been wise if official action could have been deter-mined by the advice of such men, but according to the information we have financial backers here. Both ceived, they were not even accorded factions maintain headquarters in a courteous hearing at the state de-Washington and New York, and their partment under Mr. Bryan.

ABOUT THE STATE

Wheat Does Well.
H. R. Merritt, of York, Route 3, has just finished threshing his wheat crop for this season and is immenselly

It is a matter for congratulation and of special pride on the part of Postmaster George D. Balkey and his assistants that the Greenwood office is one of the very few in the state that did not show a decrease in receipts at the end of the last fiscal year as compared with the year before on account of the European war. Instead of showing a decrease the postoffice here made an increase of over $1,000 while in a number of cities of equal size the decrease was as much as $5,000.—Greenwood Jouras much as $5,000.—Greenwood Jour-nal.

Pumpkins and Cucumbers

Wheat Does Well.

H. R. Merritt, of Yor's, Route 3, has just finished threshing his wheat crop for this season and is immensely pleased over the result. Mr. Merritt had sown only four bushels of wheat and from this planting he made a total of 103 bushels. There are a number of splendid wheat crops in the Philadelphia section where Mr. Merritt lives.—York News.

Receipts Increased.

It is a matter for congratulation and of special pride o nthe part of Postmaster George D. Balley and his proportions with the equipment was good looking and no effort to make his department as efficient as possible with the equipment at hand.—Horry Herald. make room for the ladders and wa-

Fruit Goes North.

Fruit trais; are passing Seneca now on fast schedule to the northern markets. Reports from South Georgia are that the growth was greatly requeed by late cold periods, but there is said to be a bounteous supply left and the Southern has made extensive arrangements for the prompt handling of these trains .- Seneca Farm and Factory.

Pumphins and Cucumbers.

Dr. P. G. Sloan, of Little River, is somewhat of a wonder when it comes to farming. A couple of years age he raised a pumphin vine that bore something like one hundred of the deflicious fruit, and covered about one-eighth of an acre. Last week, he sent to the courty farm demonstration office two mammoth cucumbers, one wellshing five pounds and five ounces, and the other four pounds and ten ounces. These "culres" were perfect in every way and were without doubt the copial if not the superior of any is the state.—Conway Field.

Pire Equipment

Last week the simili fire proof building in rear of the town hell was altered and enlarged, in order to the some Courter force for some of the New Hope section, has the sincere thanks of The Courter force for some of the New Hope section, has the sincere thanks of The Courter force for some of the Sincere thanks of The Courter force for some of the finest apples that we have seen this year. Mr. Boggs states that his crop this year is perfect in every respect, and he attributes the excellence of the fruit entirely to the fact that he has been persistently apraying and fines that it is a splendid paying investment to put a little cash into apples with which he favoired The Courter are of the Carolina June and the old variety of June, with which he has been experimenting for more time with good results.—Walland Keowee Courter.