

A DUTCH ARGUMENT AGAINST RACE SUICIDE

Peter Schoonen, Wife and Fifteen Children.

Peter Schoonen, his wife and their fifteen children are now on their farm in Minnesota. Mr. and Mrs. Schoonen got tired of trying to care for their large family in Holland, where business has been disturbed by the war. They have come to the United States bringing their fifteen children, ranging in age from 7 months to 18 years. The family was raised in Friesland, where, despite the handicap of this family. Schoonen managed to save sufficient money to bring his whole brood to the United States.

One Horse for Every Five People in the United States.

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside appears the following digest of some interesting statistics furnished by the government in regard to the number of animals in the United States:

"On January 1, 1915, people were five times as numerous in the United States as horses; and horses were five times as numerous as mules. Texas had over twice as many mules (753,000) as Missouri, its closest competitor. Texas also led in cattle (6,121,000), having nearly twice as many as Iowa. Iowa had twice as many swine (8,720,000) as Illinois, its closest competitor.

Montana and Wyoming are the two greatest sheep States, each having about 4,400,000 head. New Mexico and Ohio came next with about 3,300,000 apiece.

"Rhode Island has 23,000 milch cows, and Nevada 24,000. Wisconsin has the most—1,626,000."

How Russia Aids Land-Ownership.

Though the fact is less generally known, Russia has gone even farther than Great Britain in extending state aid to purchasers of small farms. From 1858 to 1861 millions of Russian serfs were liberated, and the government undertook to provide them with small farms. In this way over 20,000,000 small holdings to the value of over one billion dollars, were created, the government funds so advanced being payable on long time and at very low interest rates.

In 1883 the Russian Peasant's state Land Bank came into existence, its purpose being still further to aid in the acquirement of small holdings. Loans to the extent of 90 and even 100 per cent of the value of the land are made repayable in from 13 to 55 1-2 years, with interest at the rate of 4 per cent. As a result of this aid many thousands of tenants have become home owners.—The Progressive Farmer.

Barge That is Propelled by Automobile.

For crossing a bay 20 miles wide connected at each end with a fine driving beach along the seashore, a motorist of Aberdeen, Wash., uses a barge built for less than $100 and so equipped that it can be driven by the automobile that it transports across the water. The auto-ferrying barge is shown in the cover design of the August Popular Mechanics Magazine. A propeller wheel, that is housed for safety, is located at each side of the barge near the stern. The axle of each wheel is at the right height to come in line with the rear car axle when the end of the car is raised a few inches above the deck of the barge, and is capped with a hardwood wheel, 18 inches in diameter and 2 inches thick. On each wheel are leather clamps for securing it to the spokes of the car wheel. With the rear of the car raised so that the wheels are clear of the deck and these wheels connected with the propellers by the straps, the barge is ready for operation by the engine of the automobile. The work of placing the car aboard the barge and making it ready for use requires about eight minutes.

Motor-Car Bathing Outfit Designed for Army Use.

Another use of the motor car in war has been found by a British company which is now manufacturing portable bathing equipments for the British soldiers at the front. The motor bath car carries 12 folding tubs made of specially prepared canvas provided with substantial iron frames which hold their form rigidly when extended. When in use, these are placed in rows on each side of the car and covered by a tent made by drawing out canvas pieces fixed to the top of the machine, and securing them to tent poles. Two boilers, each of which heats approximately two gallons of water a minute, are mounted in the car. Paraffin sprayed under pressure is the fuel used with these. A 50 gallon water tank is fixed to one of the runabouts, and to replenish it, water is drawn in by means of a hose and hand pump. For transportation, the tubs are folded compactly, so that the entire equipment is readily carried in the body of the machine, which is lined with sheet iron and provided with shelves. A picture of the bathing outfit is a feature of the August Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Lincoln Highway Pictured by Movie Camera. Motion pictures are now being made of the Lincoln Highway, dealing with the road conditions along the entire route between New York and San Francisco, as well as the scenery and points of historical and industrial interest. Between 7,000 and 10,000 feet of film will be exposed and subsequently shown in various cities in different parts of the country, including all points touched by the trans-continental road. The tour is being made by official cars of the highway commission and will be completed some time in September. The purpose of the undertaking is to give publicity to the highway and stimulate an added interest in its upbuilding and use.—From the August Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Train Baseball Pitchers With Bull's Eye Box.

For drilling pitchers and teaching them control, as well as for trying out new material, the coach of Harvard's baseball team developed a pitching box which proved useful during the spring training season. The device consists of a large canvas and board box approximately six feet in height and two feet in depth. In the middle of the front side is a rectangular hole, 3 feet by 2 feet, while within the box, against the back wall, is a red-flannel bull's eye, 1 ft. in diameter. When in use, the box is placed at a distance from the pitcher's mound which corresponds to the home plate. To hit the bull's-eye is in this instance, the thing to be avoided. The pitcher must throw a curve which breaks quickly, so that the ball after entering the aperture does not strike the red flannel. This readily shows the pitcher, and his coach as well, what he can do. A picture of the device appears in the August Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Civic Flag is Adopted by Pennsylvania Town.

Following a local competition, the city council of Altoona, Pa., officially adopted a design for a municipal flag. The purpose of the banner is to arouse civic pride, advertise the community and stimulate allegiance to its home industries. The flag is described, with illustration, in the August Popular Mechanics Magazine. It has a dark-blue rectangular field, one and one-twelfth times as long as it is wide, surrounded by a gold border. The design consists of a large keystone of blue outlined with white, on which is placed the seal of the city. At the top of the keystone is the coat of arms of Pennsylvania done in gold black, pale green, and pale blue.

TAKE SALTS FOR THE KIDNEYS IF YOUR BACK HURTS. We Should Drink Lots of Water and Eat Less Meat, Says Noted Authority on Kidney Disorders. Recommends a Spoonful of Jad Salts In Glass of Water Before Breakfast to Stimulate Kidneys and Eliminate the Uric Acid. Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad. Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Britain's biggest bell is Great Paul, which hangs in St. Paul's Cathedral. It weighs nearly seventeen tons, and is rung by the efforts of four men.
