A BIT OF PHILOSOPHY FROM GRIGGSBY'S STATION
BY
JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY

Pa'p's got his pattent-right, and rich as all creation;
But where's the peace and comfort that we all had before?
Let's go a-visitin' back to Griggsby's Station—
Back where we ust to be so happy and so pore!

The likes of us a-livin' here! It's jes' a mortal pity
To see us in this great big house, with cyarpets
on the stairs,
And the pump right in the kitchen! And the city!
city! city!—
And nothir' but the city all around us ever'— wheres!

Let's go a-visitin' back to Griggsby's Station—
Back where the latch-strings a-hangin' from the door.
And ever' neighbor round the place is dear
as a ration.
Back where we ust to be so happy and so pore!

Junction City, Kas.—D. McGinty, a farmer, had an entire wheat field of 240 acres ruined when the Republican river overflowed and the fish ate the heads off the wheat.

When hanging pictures always hang them with face to the wall first then turn them without unhooking the wire. This leaves the wire twisted up at the hook, and when they are hung up this way the jarring of the house will have no effect on them.

How to Make Hired Men Work Harder

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside a contributor writes an interesting little article, entitled "Premiums for Hired Men." In the following extract, taken from this article, appear suggestions as to the treatment of hired men:

"When the corn was planted and began to come up early in June we would find that it could not be plowed acrosswise because the rows were so crooked. This meant dirty corn and a large decrease in yield.

"I tried the plan of offering the man on the planter $5 if the rows were straight both ways. That evening I found him out fixing his machine and wires, and have never had trouble since.

"Was this $5 well invested?"

"I also promised the man that every pig weaned over 240 would be 50 cents for himself. The consequence was that the man raised and weaned 310 pig.

"On one cold stormy night there were 52 pigs born. These the man carried in warm boxes into his kitchen, and when he shoned me in the morning he had been up all night and had saved 47.

"I had the pleasure of paying him a bonus of $35."

To clean dust-stained alabaster ornaments, make a paste of whiting, soap and milk. The paste must be left to dry on and then washed away. The surface being first dried with a cloth and then with a flannel, when the ornaments will be found clean and unharmed.

Boys Showing Their Fathers How to Farm.

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published at Springfield, Ohio, appears the following account of how boys are showing their fathers how to farm:

"The boys corn club work is worth the study of the men. We have all heard arguments, in days gone by, as to whether or not it is possible to produce a hundred bushels of corn to the acre. It has been done in most of the states in which corn is grown at all—not only by men, but by boys.

"A statement is before us showing the results of the work of the corn club champions in the states of Minnesota, Indiana, Vermont, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, New Jersey, Illinois and Iowa. There are twenty-one of these corn champions, whose fields are equal to one 21-acre field. On this acre these boys grew 2,238.12 bushels of corn, at a cost of $525.58 or 23 1/2 cents a bushel.

"The average yield is 136.1 bushels an acre, the lowest yield 63.5 bushels. The lowest yield for champion is in Massachusetts, and the highest in Pennsylvania, where Frank Rimey grew 148 bushels to an acre, at a cost of about 28 1/2 cents a bushel.

"Other Massachusetts champions grew over a hundred bushels.

"These being club champions, not state champions, the results are remarkable, both as to yield and cost. There was a good profit on all the plots, as labor is counted as a part of the cost."

Bridgport, Pa.—Dreyful Bonham, while plowing in a field, caught an iron chain attached to a can containing 318 half dollars. The dates on the coins indicated they had been buried many years.

In three years a beech tree grows 1 foot 8 inches; a willow, 3 feet 3 inches.
