DECIPLES OF CHRIST CHURCH MEET MONDAY

Clergymen and Laymen From Over U. S. and Canada to Meet at Hammond, Ind.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 28.-The second National Church Efficiency and Expansion congress is to convene in Hammond Monday, bringing together clergymen and leading lay-men of the Disciples of Christ church of the United States and Canada. The ongress which will be in session until September 3, represents a depar-ture from the delegate church con-vertion that the disciples heretofore patronized. It is estimated the at-tendance this year will be 2,500. Reservations have been made for more than that number.

The congress will be divided into five schools. P. H. Weishimer of Canton, O., is dear of the school of vangelism and expansion; J. Sturgia of Mansfield, O., is dean of he school of singing evangelism; W. S. Buchagan of Union City, Ind., is dean of the school of church effi-ciency and E. C. Mescram of Cininnati is dean of the school of Christian education

Rev. Cecil J. Sharp of Hammond is president of the congress. Hammond was selected as the congress ity because of the great activity of Rev. Sharp who came here twelve years ago as a college student. Sharp patched the roof, washed the win-dows and repaired an old delapidated church building about to be abandon-ed by the few remaining members of its congregation and set to work removing the third, second and first mortgages. He built the congregation up to a membership of 1,200 after having preached on the first Sunday to two men, six women and their children. He adopted the motto, 'Plant a church a year," and the lammond church is parent to nine other congregations in the neighbor-ing cities and communities as a result.

He introduced the movies several years ago and to this attraction added a jitney service to and from Sunday school from distant pants of the Three special trains will bring congress attendants from Cincinnati, O. Kansas City, Mo., and the Moines, Ia., respectively. Parties have been formed in Canton, O., Springfield, Mo., Dubuque, Ia., and Cleveland., O., and special cars will be reserved.

There will be sixteen simultaneou salons of the congress every heur of the day except at times set aside for assemblies and lectures. For the latter three churches are to be used. F. W. Burnham, of Cincinnati, O., is to speak on "Our Plea and the World Crisis." Other lectures and

No Peace Until Kaiser Is Crushed, Grey Replies To Bethmann-Hollweg

London, Aug .. - The positive asser- | retary explained that Germany must to continue to fight until Germany abandons her ambition of supremacy was made in a statement issued to-might by Sir Edward Grey, in reply to the speech last week of Dr. von Bethream-Hollweg, the German imto the speech last week of Dr. von Bethreann-Hollweg, the German imperial chancellor, in the reichstay;

Sir Edward Grey's statement is a complete refutal of the German charges with regard to the alleged plan by Britain to violate Belgium.

The Bitten foreign maintees states. It was a matter to be a produced by the first of the germany could suggest if mine were not acceptable. I said I was ready to ce-operate in any method advance into France by the quickest and easiest way so as to be able to get well ahead with the operations and terest of peace.

Sir Edward fortun Great Britain will not discuss the freedom of the seas while there is un-freedom and unsecurity against war and against German methods of war

"One Belgian record, a conversation with the British military attache, was published by Germany last autumn to prove that Belgium had trafficked her neutrality with us, and was, in effect, in a plot with us against Germany. The conversation, of which the ...st use ha sbeen made, never was re-ported to the foreign office nor, as far as the recordse show, to the war offive at the time, and we saw a record of it the first time when Germany published the Belgian record.

Aid Only If Attacked.

"But it bears on the face of it that it referred only to the contingency of Belgium being attacked, that the entry of the British into Be gium would take place only after violation of Belgium territory by Gormany, and that it did not commit the British gov-ernment. No convention or agree-ment existed between the British and Be'gian governments.

It was put to hi min a communication from Charies F. Hoeckel, Mr. Hoeckel was riding horseback recently after dark in the outskirts of the city. Automobiles wilized past him to the right and to the left. It was dark—very dark. Mr. Hoeckel grow nervous in the far that he would be run down. His steed was not equipped with a tail Mght. Suppose there had been a rear-end collision!

Commissioner Nisbet says: "I don't know whether it would be best it was not send troops ourselves into and that so long as it was not violated by any other power we should certainly not send troops ourselves into their territory

Charges Bribe Offer.

"Let it be romember that the first use made by Germany of the Belgian document was to charge Belgium with had faith to Germany. What is the true story? On July 20, 1914, the Ger-ion that Great Britain is determined go through Belgium to attack France cause she could not afford the time to do otherwise.

Cites Von Jagow Statement. "The statement of Herr von Jagow

The British foreign minister states specifically that Germany wanted the ter of life and death with them, as if they had gone by the more south-ern route, they could not have hoped, in view of the pancity of reads and the strength of the fortresses, to have got through without formida-ble opposition, entailing great loss of time. This loss of time would have neant time gained by the Russians for bringing up their troops to the German frontier. Rapidly of action was the Great German asset, while that of Russia was an inexhaustible supply of

"There are some points in the speech of the German chancellor made last week," the statement says, "which may, I think, he suitably dealt nothing more despicably mean than nothing more despicably mean than to attempt to justify it ex post facte by bringing against the innocent, in-offensive Belgian government and people the totally false charge of having plotted against Germany.

"The German chancellor does not emphasize in his latest speech, that charge which has been spread broad-cast against Belgium. Is it with-drawn; and, if so, will Germany make reparation for the cruel wrong done

Advantage With Kaiser.

"The two negotiations for an Auglo-German agreement in 1912, referred to by the oGrman chancellor. were brought to a point at which it was clear they could have no success unless we, in effect, gave a promise of absolute neutrality, while Germany remained free under her alliance to take part in a European war. This can and shall be explained by pub-lishing an account of the negotiations taken from the records in the foreign

"The chancellor quotes an isolata sentence of my speech of Aug. 5, 1914, to prove that we were ready for war. In the very next sentence, which he might have quoted but does not quote,

Not Militant Speech.

"I leave it to any one outside of Germany, in any neutral country, to settle for himself whether those are the words of a man who had desired and planned a European war, or of one who had labored to avert it. The our ally, had not entered the war, and when we were not pledged to the other allies as we are now by the agree-ment of Sept. 5, 1914, did I say anything so ridiculous or untrue as that it was in the interest of Germany it was in the interest of Germany that we had gone to war, and with the object of restraining Russia.

Berlin Balked Conferences.

"The war would have been averted if the conference had been agreed to. Germany, on the filmsiest pretext, shut the door against us. I would reck nothing on the point for form, and expressed myself ready to acquiesce in any method of mediation that Germany could suggest if mine to his speech encouraged nothing except direct discussion between Vien-na and Petrograd. But what chance had that of success when, as we leard afterwards, the German ambassador at Vienna was expressing the opinion that Russia would stand aside and was conveying to his colleagues the impression that he de-sired war from the first and that his strong personali bias probably color-ed his action there.

"Some day, perhaps, the world will know what really passed between Germany and Austria respecting the ultimatum to Serbia and its consequences. It has become only too ap-parent that in the proposal for the conference, which we made and which Russia, Italy and France agreed to and which Germany vetoed, lay the only hope of peace. And it was such a good hope!

Germany to Be Supreme.

"And what is the German program as we gather it from the speech of the chancellor and the public utterances in Germany now-Germany to control of all other been the shield of peace and freedom of than big and small nations. Those are the chancellor's words—a iron peace and a freedom under the Prussian shield, under German supremacy, German supreme.

"Germany alone would be free-free to break international treaties, free to crush when it pleased her, free to refuse all mediation, free to go to war when it suited her, free when she did go to war to break again all rules or civilization and humanity on land and sea; and while she may act thus all her commerce at sea is to remain as free in time of war as all commerce is in time of nations after this war, but not by itself alone; not while there is no freedom and no security against war and German methods of war on land.

"For decades to come Germany claims that all the nations who resisted her should labor to pay her tribute in the form of war indemnity.

"Not on such terms can peace be concluded or the life of other nations than Germany be free or even toler-able. The speeches of the German chancellor and finance minister make it appear that Germany is sighting for supremacy and tribute. If that is so and as long as it is so our allies and we are fighting and must fight for the right to live not under German supremacy but in real freedo and safety."-Chicago Tribune.

"Run upstairs, Tommy, and bring baby's nightgown," said Tommy's a promise of future Belgian independence to become a party to the violation of Belgian neutrality by Germany.

"On the outbreak of the war he described the Belgian treaty as a scrap of paper and the German foreign section."

The Houston Ship Cannel.

(From the Post.)
The arrival of the Satilla from New York with 2,000 tons of merchandise for Houston tells its own story of the triumph of the Houston ship channel.

The vessel steamed up the channel and me no obstruction, despite the worst hurricane that has ever visited this portion of the gulf coast.

There have been no alterations in the channel, save possibly increased the channel, save possibly increased depth all along the way, and the Satilla's cargo will be promptly discharged and she will soon be on her return trip with a full cargo.

A few days more and another ship of the New York-Houston line will arrive in port and within a week the third vessel will be sailing from New York.

Thus the Houston ship channel and the port of Houston is now in operation for the accommodation of

Some years ago an American business man, wishing to get freight through a Russian port, approached the government agent with a request for expedition. He was told delivery might be made in some weeks. The American protested that he must have those goods immediately.

"Have a cigar," said the Fussian official, pushing a box toward the American and leaving the room. The American opened the box, found it empty and dropped in 50 roubles. Russian came back, looked at the box, pushed it toward his visitor and as he again left the room, remarked

"Have another cigar?" The American dropped 50 rouble; in the box, the Russian offi-cial returned, looked at the cigar box and politely remarked, "Your goods will be delivered tomorrow, sir."
