MCCORMICK VERTICAL LIFT MOWER

The McCormick vertical lift mower has all the good features of the regular McCormick mowers, and, in addition, it is so made that the cutter bar can be raised to a vertical position and lowered without stopping the team. This makes the McCormick vertical lift mower one that is meeting great demand for cutting on rough and stumpy ground. It permits the driver to cut close to the tree, stump, or rock, and save all the hay without loss of time or inconvenience. The cutter bar also can be raised high enough to pass over stones and stumps by means of a very convenient foot lift.

Railroading in El Dorado.

Down in Arkansas there is a railroad, the El Dorado & Weston, which has no bonded debt, has issued only $5,000 stock per mile and owns property carried on the books at $15,000 per mile. It has no floating debt, and how it built a 10 mile road for $165,000 out of the proceeds of a stock issue of $50,000 is the mystery. Possibly it sold the stock before the road was built at a huge premium. Last year its gross earnings were $38,821, and it paid out in dividends $15,000 or 30 per cent, but only $5,527 of these were the net income. The year, the remainder having been taken out of profit and loss. In 1914 the road's gross was $32,039, and it paid dividends of $21,500 or 43 per cent, although the net earnings of the year were only $15,235. However, in its youth this railroad was more prudent. It was chartered in 1905. It was evidently completed in 1909, for its book cost was then stated about the same as at present. It paid no dividends until 1912, and then only 4 per cent. That year, moreover, fell in better times than these. Its gross earnings were $32,139 and its net $35,442. In other words, the operating ratio, including maintenance, if any, was about 30 per cent.

FOREIGNERS IN TURKEY FEAR TURKISH LAWS

Constantinople, Aug. 21.—Associated Press Correspondence.—It is well these days in Turkey to heed the law, especially military law. Europeans who have lived in Turkey long either fear or respect Turkish law and court procedure. Most of them feared it in the past and fear it today, because the abolition of the capitulations has made foreigners amenable to the Turkish law and courts, and neither of them are things to be trifled with.
As an example of what Turkish military law is the following should suffice.
The Bill of the 19th inst., contains this laconic account:
"Sentence of the commandant of Constantinople. The commandant: 'Perso named Serkiz, consular in the postoffice of Calata, to three years imprisonment and removal from office, for having abstracted bank notes from letters given him to censor.'
'Mohamed Izzet, tailor at Kara Ghumruk, to one month imprisonment; Terofik, employe of the Yildis hospital, to two months' imprisonment; and Kangrili Pashid, of Kadikuey, to thirty lashes; for having molested women on a public thoroughfare.'
'Christo, boatman at Prinkino and Panayi son of Shristo, of Marmaris, to eight months and 20 days imprisonment; for having thrown anchor in a proscribed zone without a special permit.'
'Hassan, son of Hannun, employe of a factory at Abadi; to three years imprisonment; Sava, a merchant of leather at Okajler-Bachi, to two years imprisonment, and Sipro of Yalova, hairdresser at Prinkino, to six months' imprisonment and fifty pounds fine' for having formed public opinion with unfounded news.'
'Chance, merchant tailor at Guedik Pacha, to three years imprisonment and fifty pounds fine, for having in his possession stiddy and making use thereof.'
'Yani Aspani, baker at Kanali Fornou, to six months' imprisonment, for having mixed bran into his bread.'
'Kaptop and Mariago, of the village of Tohante in Siliveri, to six months' imprisonment, for having made 'difficulties for the police.'
For the same reason were condemned to three months' imprisonment Andip and his wife Zafriche and one Arite.
'Hassan, son of Akil, of Tchenguelluey, to six months' imprisonment for having accosted ladies.'
'Ariz, son of Karabet, a restaurant keeper at Cessaree, to eight months and twenty days imprisonment, for having entered upon a proscribed zone.'
'Husrev, of Bechtiche, a painter, to six months' imprisonment, and Nesime, daughter of Mehmed Ali, to three months' imprisonment for having outraged public morals. Fines were also imposed.
'Novi, daughter of Kirker, residing at Ismid, to eight months and twenty days' imprisonment, for having placed a letter into a package for delivery by mail service, despite the inhibition.
'Onnik, a fireman at Kadikuey, to two years' imprisonment; Panayot, tobacconist, to 45 days imprisonment, for having, while drunk, insulted the police. Onnik was fined fifty pounds Turkish besides.'
While some of the sentences seem unduly severe Turk and non-Turk suffer alike.
