PUT SULPHUR ON AN ITCHING SKIN AND END ECZEMA

Says this old-time Eczema remedy is applied like cold cream.

Any irritation or breaking out on the face, arms, legs or body when accompanied by itching, or when the skin is dry and feverish, can be readily overcome by applying a little bold-sulphur, says a noted dermatologist.

Ho states that bold-sulphur instantly allays the angry itching and irritation and soothes and heals the Eczema right up leaving the skin clear and smooth. Bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position for many years in the treatment of cutaneous disorders because of its parasite-destroying property.

OFFICERS MADE RAID; NEGRO WAS WOUNDED

PARTY ENGAGED IN SKIN SURPRISED BY RAID. ING PARTY

FOUR CAPTURED

Wounded Negro Made His Escape and Was Found Sunday Morning.

George Boldin, a negro, was shot and severely wounded Sunday morning about 4 o'clock when a party composed of Constable H. D. Hendricks, Capt. Olin Bell of the city police force, Patrolmen Whitten, Dan Mayfield and George Conwell, made a raid on a party engaged in a game of "skin" on the place of Mr. C. F. Martin about five miles below the city.

About twelve negroes were in the game, and so carefully had the raid been planned by the officers that they were right on them before the gamblers realized what was happening. The game was in progress near a spring and when the officers ran up on them they began making a general exit. Several shots were fired an attempt to stop the fleeing gamblers, and in the mixup, Boldin was shot through the back.

Boldin escaped and went to the home of a negro living on the place of Mr. Martin where he remained until about 10 o'clock Sunday morning. He was then found there and was brought to the county hospital. It was found that the bullet had gone through his body and lodged just under the skin. An operation was performed and it was reported yesterday that he had a good chance to live.

Four of the party, Dan Walker, Lawyer Prince Arthur Williams and George Williams were caught. These are to be tried in Magistrate Geiger's court in a few days.

MR. LEVI H. JOLLY IS FOUND NOT GUILTY

WAS TRIED FOR KILLING NEGRO ABOUT THREE MONTHS AGO

DIRECTED VERDICT

Solicitor, After Witnesses Had Been Examined Directed Verdict of Not Guilty.

Mr. L. N. Jolly, charged with killing a negro last June, was found not guilty yesterday afternoon in sessions court here, the solicitor directing a verdict to that effect.

Only three witnesses were examined by the state. The first was Dr. H. A. Pruitt, who attended the negro. The testimony of another witness at the coroner's inquest was read, the witness not being able to attend court. The third witness was Levi Jolly, Jr., about ten years old, who very clearly told of the killing. Mr. Jolly then took the stand and related the occurrences that led up to and the shooting of the negro.

This shooting occurred in June and the negro killed was a hand working for Mr. Jolly. Early one morning there was a dispute about some work and the negro threw a rock at Mr. Jolly. Later he attacked the defendant and during the fight the negro was killed.

J. C. GARRISON'S HOME DESTROYED

WAS BURNED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON ABOUT 5 O'CLOCK

DETAILS UNKNOWN

Entire Family Was Away When Flames Started—Loss and Insurance Unknown.

The beautiful country home of Mr. John C. Garrison at Denver was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Last night it could not be learned what estimate would be placed on the loss or whether any insurance was carried.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Garrison and all the members of his family were away yesterday afternoon and they have no idea as to how the flames started. Some passersby saw the house burning and spread the alarm.

The house with the contents was a complete loss. A few pieces of furniture were saved but not enough to amount to anything.

CITY SCHOOLS OPEN FOR 1915-16 SESSION

DR. WHITE CONDUCTED EXERCISES AT WEST MARKET SCHOOL

ENROLLMENT 3,000

2,100 in White Schools Tentative Assignment of Teachers Holds Good for Present Time.

The Anderson city schools opened yesterday morning with one of the largest enrollments yet recorded, about 2,100 in the white schools and about 900 in the colored. This by no means represents what the total enrollment will be, though, for today, tomorrow and for several more days to come new pupils will start.

The only opening exercises of any importance was conducted at the West Market street school, where the high school department is located. The exercises here were conducted by Dr. John E. White. Nearly all of the members of the board of trustees were present and also several visitors.

The large enrollment at first causes some of the pupils not to have desks but Mr. McCants stated yesterday afternoon that all would be comfortably situated in a few days. The third and fourth grades saw the greatest influx of pupils and it will be necessary to divide these into several different sections.

As yet there has been no definite assignment of teachers beyond that announced in The Intelligencer four weeks ago. As stated above, the attendance will be greatly increased within the next few days and it will be impossible until a little later to make a permanent assignment of the teachers. Mr. McCants stated yesterday afternoon that he would make a report of the attendance and of the definite assignment of the teachers for The Intelligencer some time next week.

Good One on Harvard.

Nick Longworth tells this one on himself:

"When I was traveling in China I met a very delightful Chinese man who seemed to know something of America and as we chatted he asked me:

"What was your college?"

"Harvard," said I proudly.

"Ever interested in rowing in your day?" he inquired.

"Quite a bit," replied I.

"What's the length of the Harvard slide now?" he wanted to know, and something of the boat. So we talked of oarsmanship and water men and at last I asked:

"When you were in America were you ever at New London for the races?"

"Oh, yes," he said, softly, for three years."

"Then you've seen Harvard row?"

"No, never saw her," he almost lisped.

"You were at New London for three years and never saw Harvard row? How could that be?"

"I was cox'n in the Yale boat and Harvard was so far behind each year that I never saw her row!"—San Francisco Examiner.

Every man knows a lot of fool things he would do if he had the money.

Comb Sage Tea In Hair To Darken It

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Thick.

The old time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair in grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also induces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff itching scalp and falling hair.

Danger Signals of Tuberculosis

IN a previous article, it was stated that nearly everybody has tuberculosis at some time or other during his lifetime. Autopsies on people have shown that hardly a single human being reaches mature life without a scar on his lungs or elsewhere showing where tuberculosis had attacked him, and he, by his normal resistance and vitality, had warded off the continuation of the attack.

Because tuberculosis is so widespread, every man, woman and child should give the most careful attention to those signs of the disease which point out danger. The treacherous disease germs may enter the body in early childhood and may not cause any serious trouble for ten or fifteen years. Then, all of a sudden, when the body is weakened by overwork, worry, sickness, or bad living and working conditions, these sleeping germs wake up and become active in the destruction of the lungs or other organs. The working man or woman, therefore, cannot be too careful in the safeguarding of health and in watching out for those symptoms which indicate that the disease of tuberculosis is actually present. What, then, are some of the danger signals and what should be done about them?

(1) First of all, there is a cough that hangs on and will not clear up. If it lasts for a month or longer, it is a red light, a danger signal, which you cannot afford to ignore. It may start with wet feet or some other insignificant circumstance, but no matter how the cough started, if it does not go away, see your doctor at once. Colds frequently weaken the bodily tone and resistance, so that it is easy for the lurking germs to get a foothold.

(2) Loss of weight, accompanied by a loss of appetite, and a certain amount of "stomach trouble" is another danger signal, which you must not pass unheeded. Sometimes loss of weight may come from some other cause than tuberculosis, but it pays to be on your guard. You may not have a cough, and you may experience very little trouble except a sort of chronic weariness. You ought to know what your normal weight should be. If you begin to lose five, ten or more pounds without any apparent reason, look for sound medical advice at once. Sometimes with loss of weight goes a loss of appetite, and trouble with bowels and stomach, even running to diarrhea. Whether you are losing much weight or not, look out for this danger signal. It is a warning that something is wrong.

(3) Then there is that run-down, all-the-time-tired feeling. Most people have days when they feel unusually tired, for some reason or other. Such an occasional period of "spring fever" or "lazy liver" may not be at all dangerous, but when every day for two or three weeks you hate to get up and dread to do anything but lie around and be lazy, there is danger ahead. This is Nature's warning to you that some enemy inside your body is sapping your vitality. Don't ignore the warning signal!

(4) Anyone of the three symptoms just mentioned may occur singly or all of them may come at one time. When, to any or all, there is added a fever in the late afternoon or during the night, accompanied possibly by sweats, beware of this danger signal. It is a bright red flag which Nature waves before you, cautioning you to give immediate heed. Anyone's temperature may rise at times, some people's more easily than others. But when for a week every afternoon about four or five o'clock you've felt feverish, or when night after night you wake up in a dripping sweat, you may rest assured that there is nothing normal about that. Go to your doctor at once and tell him about it. You may have no cough and no other sign of disease, and this may be the only warning you'll get. Give heed to it at once.

(5) If you have a cough and in spitting you find streaks of blood in your sputum, you may rest assured that something is wrong. It may not be a direct sign of tuberculosis, but whatever it is, you should attend to it at once. You cannot afford to waste time putting it off. Nature may give you that more emphatic warning of the presence of tuberculosis, a hemorrhage of the lungs. If so, don't be scared unduly. It is a danger signal, and if you heed it, you may be safe.

There are other danger signals, some which you can see and some which only a trained physician can detect. Your safety lies in getting medical attention as early as possible. Tuberculosis can be cured if it is discovered in time. The time to discover it is when the first symptoms show themselves. Don't take chances with Death. You'll lose every time.

Go to a good doctor, if you notice any of these danger signals, and insist that he examine you stripped to the waist. If you can't afford a doctor, go to a free clinic and be examined. It may cost a few dollars to be examined, but it may save you hundreds of dollars, untold suffering, and possibly your life and that of your wife and family.

"SAFETY FIRST" is a motto that applies to tuberculosis, especially when it is first showing itself.

"LUSITANIA" CLAIMS

TIPTON S. BLISH Seymour, Indiana

Mr. W. J. Greenwood, Special Agent, Indianapolis, Ind.

Dear Sir: Mrs. Thompson acknowledges with thanks receipt of your letter of July 1st and returns herewith the receipt form properly signed. She is very much pleased with your prompt adjustment of the policy, and I want to express my appreciation of your kindness.

Yours very truly, T. S. Blish.

On June 29th, the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company paid a claim, resulting from the Lusitania disaster, in settlement of a policy issued December 8, 1914, less than five-months before the sinking of the Lusitania. The insured was Mr. E. Blish Thompson, of Seymour, Ind. His policy with the Mutual Benefit was on the 10-Payment Life Accelerative Endowment plan. Mr. Thompson was 32 years of age, and was Secretary of the Blish Milling Company, dealers in flour, and was bound for Europe on business. His wife was beneficiary. It is a rather remarkable fact that the insured in this case took the Mutual Benefit policy for investment rather than protection.

There was one other Mutual Benefit policyholder lost in the Lusitania disaster—Rev. James A. Beattie, connected with the Board of Foreign Missions, Arcot Mission, who with his wife had started for India. Mrs. Beattie was aboard the Lusitania with her husband, but she was saved. This Mutual Benefit policy was issued in 1891 on the 20-Payment Life plan, at age 30, for $2,000. The insurance was payable to wife of the insured. Settlement was made by the Mutual Benefit in full, July 13th, the final dividend of $15.26 being included in addition to the face of the policy. Check has been sent to Europe.
