SCHOOL OPENS AT PENDLETON

Starts With Good Attendance—Building Has Been Overhauled During Summer.

Pendleton, Sept. 13.—The Pendleton graded and high school opened its doors for work on Monday morning with an enrollment of 155 pupils. The largest number for the opening day in many years.

Quite a number of patrons and friends were present at the opening exercises.

After the scripture reading by Rev. T. L. Smith, the Baptist pastor, prayer by Rev. W. C. Owings, the Methodist pastor, and a few remarks by the principal, T. L. Hanna, the teachers returned to their rooms where the work of enrolling began.

A good amount of work has been done this summer on the school building with the use of the paint brush. The Civic League and school improvement association have given much time and attention to the flowers on the school ground during the vacation.

Principal T. L. Hanna begins his sixth year work here. Much credit is due him for his faithful work and untiring energy.

The teachers for this session are: Miss Belle McCutchen of Rembert; assistant high school teacher; Miss Agnes Seyle of Greenville, sixth and seventh grades; Miss Sadie Sullivan of Laurens, fourth and fifth grades; Miss Alma Cole, of Lynchburg, second and third grade; Miss May M. Hinnaunt of Edgewood, first grade.

KAIGER DECORATES FORTY WITH ORDER OF POUR LE MERITE

Berlin, Aug. 29.—(Associated Press Correspondence.)—Forty prominent figures in the present war, ranging from Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria to the commandant of a German submarine, had been, up to August 1, decorated with the order pour le merite, the highest military service medal within the gift of the German emperor. Eight of these forty have received the additional gold oak leaves with which the order is sometimes decorated as a mark of special favor.

The order is now 175 years old, but it has only been since 1810 that it has been conferred exclusively for extraordinary service in war. King Frederick William III in that year stipulated that he would not "loan" it for any other cause, and three years later created the oak leaf complement to the order.

The names of those who have earned the pour le merite in the present war are almost without exception known all over the world now though many of them, probably the majority, had never been heard of before the present conflict began. Many were not even known in Germany. Here is the list:

Emperor Francis Joseph, General von Emmich, General Field Marshall von Hindenburg, General von Zwehl, Lieutenant von der Linde, General von Reseler, General von Quast, Lieutenant General Ludendorff, Captain Otto Weddigen, Colonel General von Woyroch, General Field Marshall von Hackensen, General Litzman, General Litzman, General Scheffer-Boyadell, Lieutenant General von Morgan, General von Mulra, General von Falkenhayn, General Otto von Below, Lieutenant General Kossch, General von der Marwitz, Colonel General von Elnem, General Riemann, General Fieck, Prince Eitel Prince Eitel Friedrich, General Field Marshal von Buelow, Colonel General von Kluck, Archduke Frederick of Austria, General Conrad von Kottendorff of Austria, Major General von Seeck, General von Linsingen, General von Francois, Archduke of Saxony-Altenburg, General von Plettenberg, Lieutenant General von Kressal, Captain Kersing, Major General von Zeltin, General von Botmire, General von Gerok, General von Stolzmann, General von Gallwitz and General von Claer.

The extra oak leaves already referred to have been conferred on Hindenburg, Reseler; Mackensen, Emmich, Falkenhayn, Marwitz, Linsingen and Ludendorff.

By creation of King Frederick William IV in 1842 there now is a peace class of this order, limited to thirty "knights." A crown now is added, as are the oak leaves, but this can be given only on the 50th jubilee anniversary of the order. King William I, in 1866, added a grand cross, which however, has been given to but two persons—the then crown prince, later Emperor Frederick III, and Prince Frederick Karl.

HAS COST $7,982 MEN

Losses of Allies at Straits Include 8,099 Killed, According to Medical "Journal."

(From the New York Sun.)

The total casualties of the Allied troops at the Dardanelles up to the middle of July, according to an article in the current issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association, were 57,898 men, of whom 8,099 were killed or died of wounds.

The Journal describes the difficult conditions under which hospital work is carried on, saying that medical attendants are insufficient and that long voyages are necessary before the base hospitals at Lemnos, Alexandria and Malta can be reached.

"So exposed is the land that no site for a hospital can be found." The Journal says. "Within three weeks as many as 30,000 wounded were taken to Alexandria, two and a half days' sail. En route only the most urgent first aid treatment could be given. Sometimes the troop ships become so full of wounded that they have to leave the front before their stores are disembarked. Often the wounded drag themselves two miles to reach dressing stations." The article adds that the over-crowded hospital "bunks are frequently fired on by forts and are subjected to bombardment by aeroplanes.

Where Fear Lay.

Evelyn is very cowardly, and her father decided to have a serious talk with his little daughter.

"Father," she said at the close of his lecture, "when you see a cow, ain't you 'fraid?"

"No, certainly not, Evelyn."

"When you see a bumblebee, ain't you 'fraid?"

"No," with scorn.

"Ain't you 'fraid when it thunders?"

"No," with laughter. "Oh, you silly, silly child!"

"Papa," said Evelyn, solemnly, "ain't you 'fraid of nothing in the world but mama?"—Short Stories.

First Year Values

The first year values of Mutual Benefit policies constitute an attractive feature for the protection of the insured. While most companies grant non-forfeiture values after three years' and some after two years' premiums have been paid, the Mutual Benefit is the only company whose policies provide for extended insurance when less than two annual premiums have been paid. Nearly all Mutual Benefit policies provide for extended insurance after the payment of only one annual premium and in some cases after the payment of a semi-annual or quarterly premium.

On May 13, 1913, the Mutual Benefit issued a policy on the life of Mr. Albert R. Cate, of Spring City, Tenn. It was on the 20 Payment Life Plan for $1,000, the age of the insured being twenty-one. Semi-annual premiums were paid for one and one-half years, but the premium due October 1, 1914 (policy having been dated back to the first of April originally), was not paid. Under the peculiarly attractive non-forfeiture system of the Mutual Benefit referred to above the insurance, however, was automatically extended in full for two years and 153 days until March 3, 1917, the final dividend of $3.31 being used to lengthen the extension term. On June 8, 1915, Mr. Cate was accidentally drowned. This was within the extension period during which the insurance was insured, so on the day after proofs of loss were received at the Home Office, July 1st, check for $1,000 was forwarded to the administrator.

This case not only illustrates the value of the Mutual Benefit's practical non-forfeiture system, but it also emphasizes the uncertainty of individual life even for a young man.

TAKE SALTS FOR THE KIDNEYS IF YOUR BACK HURTS

We Should Drink Lots of Water and Eat Less Meat, Says Noted Authority on Kidney Disorders

Recommends a Spoonful of Jad Salts In Glass of Water Before Breakfast to Stimulate Kidneys and Eliminate the Uric Acid

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lit-in-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only
