

FORD NOT FINANCING BRYAN'S PEACE TOUR

He Did Not Offer Ten Million to Peace Fund—Will Withdraw His Own and Auto Company's Funds From Bank Participating in Anglo-French Loan.

Albany, Sept. 28.—Henry Ford has come out of the woods and with a new green felt hat and started back home.

During Mr. Ford's mysterious absence he was scouting around through New England in an automobile with a Brattleboro, Vt., man who recently manufactured an organ for the Ford country.

Other than talking about his new organ, crops, tractors, automobiles and religion, Mr. Ford said: "He has never offered $1,000,000 nor any other amount to stop war preparedness."

He never has promised $10,000,000 to be devoted to the furtherance of a peace propaganda.

He "most certainly will, yes, sir-e-e" withdraw his money from any banks assisting in the proposed allies' war loan.

As for Prof. Herschel C. Parker, who says that he is the real father of the Ford midget submarine idea, who is he anyhow, Mr. Ford would like to know.

And now about that little matter of the Kaiser shooting his pen across the room after signing his declaration of war. Mr. Wilson never told Mr. Ford that he had heard it on good authority, nor anything of the kind. It was like this:

When Mr. Ford saw the president he was reading a book which made that statement about the Kaiser. Ford thought it a rather significant incident, so he mentioned it to somebody. Whoever that somebody was got things all mixed up, and Mr. Ford was misquoted.

Mr. Ford thinks that Almighty sent President Wilson to the White House to look after the welfare of this country during the war.

"I'm not much on religion," Mr. Ford said, "but I certainly think Providence had a hand in sending us Woodrow Wilson. He will go down in history as one of the world's greatest Americans."

Mr. Ford also exploded the story that William Jennings Bryan talked peace with him while in Detroit, a few days after Mr. Ford was supposed to have announced that he would contribute a vast sum in order to bring about peace.

"Without profit, no plan of any kind will succeed," he declared. "But he won't tell what it is. Not no! Maybe he will in five years. He thinks the war will be over in a year and a half."

In the mean time he will continue to mix thoughts of a $200 tractor, a $300 automobile—and he says both are coming—and peace at a profit.

The Boom Town. The Washington Star relates that praising America's growth, James J. Hill said:

"America's growth almost robs the Tin Can story of its hyperbole. A tenderfoot visiting the boom town of Tin Can said to the mayor: 'Why don't you get out literature about this locality? Why don't you get out booklets, illustrated with official photographs? Is it possible you haven't ever had the town photographed?'"

"Stranger, said the mayor. Tin Can progresses so gosh-almighty fast that there ain't no camera quick enough to snap her."

Comb Sage Tea in Lifeless, Gray Hair If Mixed With Sulphur it Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out of took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

AN INTERNATIONAL HOSPITAL AT TOKIO

Tokio, Sept. 1.—(Associated Press Correspondence.)—The establishment of an international hospital at Tokio is practically assured, beginning next year. Dr. Rudolf B. Teusler, formerly of Virginia, leaves for the United States soon to complete plans for the foundation of the institution which will be an enlargement of the present St. Luke's hospital, of which he is the director.

Today he was honored by Premier Count Okuma, assisted by several members of his cabinet, at a farewell luncheon at the Peer's club. The function developed into a striking demonstration of Japanese-American friendship through the presence, also, of the members of the Rockefeller Medical Mission who are on their way to China—Dr. William H. Welch, Dr. Simon Flexner, Dr. Wallace Buttrick and Dr. F. L. Gates. The American physicians had been previously introduced or had renewed old acquaintances with the leading Japanese medical men at a dinner given by Dr. Teusler.

Count Okuma voiced the hope that Dr. Teusler would obtain the active cooperation of the American public in his plan to establish St. Luke's international hospital. He pointed out that the Japanese people had testified to his earnest interest. The premier felt certain that the hospital would strengthen the friendship between Japan and the United States. He wished to welcome also, the Rockefeller Medical delegates with whose mission to China the Japanese nation was profoundly sympathetic.

Dr. Teusler explained just what the hospital was to be. The purpose of his visit to the United States was to awaken further interest and complete the hospital fund, so work on the buildings might be begun next year. He paid a tribute to the brilliancy of Japanese physicians, but explained that a modern hospital was needed for foreigners in order that the services of these men might be secured. The new St. Luke's would be an important link in the chain of hospitals now being forged round the world. It should run from Cairo to San Francisco with units at Peking, Shanghai and Tokio—all contributing to the betterment of the conditions of mankind and to furthering the progress of the human race.

As for the hospital at Tokio, Dr. Teusler declared it would be the great meeting ground of the physicians of the east and west. It would have about 150 beds and as complete an equipment as is found anywhere in the world. Tokio as a site was, in his opinion, admirable on account of the large number of expert physicians, surgeons and laboratory men available and also because of the climate and the hot-spring and mountain resorts within easy reach.

In addition to the regular foreign staff, it was planned to have several young American physicians. Every three years one of these would be allowed to return home and a new man would take his place. In this way the hospital would offer exceptional advantages for post-graduate study to young American doctors. "I am glad to announce," concluded Dr. Teusler, "that many prominent men in the medical profession in Tokio have offered their service to the new institution and also that we will have a complete dispensary and social service work. The value of our institution to a better international understanding and to the promotion of a true international spirit can hardly be over-estimated."

Dixie Chapter. A large number of members and several visitors were the guests of Mrs. J. E. Barton, Mrs. Lottie Estes, and Miss Nellie Barton yesterday afternoon when they entertained the Dixie chapter. It was a very pleasant meeting and was presided over for the first time by their new president, Mrs. James R. Anderson, who acquitted herself with ease and grace. The principal business was the election of delegates to the general and state-conventions. To the general convention in San Francisco Mrs. Carrie Patrick and Mrs. Rosa McCally were elected, while to the state convention in Aiken the delegates selected were Mrs. J. P. Anderson and Mrs. Rufus Fant. The chapter decided to give their annual dinner to the veterans in October and the chair appointed committees to make all arrangements for it. After all business was completed the following delightful program was given: Instrumental selection by Mrs. Charles Spearman; gleanings by Mrs. A. P. Johnstone, and a lovely solo by Mrs. Cora Ligon. During the social half hour, the hostesses served a elegant salad course.

In Honor of Miss Tribble. Another pretty part in honor of Miss Alice Tribble October's lovely bride, was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. T. E. Howard, at her attractive home on Greenville street. The guests were principally young ladies and each one was given a dainty card and told to write a wish or some advice for the bride-elect using the letters in Tribble-Pearce. These cards when finished were laced together with white ribbon and presented to Miss Tribble to be used for future references. A very delightful musical program was then given and was fully enjoyed by every one present, each selection being beautifully rendered. Solos were sung by Mrs. W. H. Nardin, Mrs. J. R. Vandiver, Mrs. F. B. Maxwell, Mrs. William Laughlin, and Miss Mab Bonham. Miss Grace Fudisall, an attractive visitor from Kings Mountain, gave several instrumental selections. The charming hostess, assisted by Mrs. K. P. Smith, Mrs. John Frank, Mrs. D. A. Ledbetter, Mrs. E. G. Anderson and Mrs. Eubank Taylor, served an elegant salad course.

Pretty Party. Little Miss Elizabeth Davis entertained a few friends at a delightful little party yesterday afternoon. It was a very happy occasion for the little folks, and each one fully enjoyed it.

Mrs. C. W. Riser has gone to Greenwood for a few days.

Mrs. H. H. Harris has gone to Brevard for a short stay.

NORWAY AND SWEDEN FEAR FOOD SHORTAGE

Exports of Some Articles of Food to Be Prohibited Until Prices Return to Normal.

Christiania, Norway, Sept. 8.—(Associated Press Correspondence.)—Something very close to a panic is spreading over both Norway and Sweden, as a result of the alarming scarcity of provisions and the unprecedented prices which are demanded for the simplest kind of food.

The advance in prices in Norway is approximately the same as in Sweden, but in some cases it has been even more marked. Herring which is one of the main articles of diet among the peasant population, have risen from two cents to four and a half and five cents apiece, and the present price of oatmeal is 250 per cent higher than it was before the war.

The meat shortage was temporarily relieved some time ago, as it was in Sweden, by the slaughter of a large number of cattle, which there was not enough grain to feed, but prices have now advanced again, reaching the highest level ever known in Norway.

The Bank of Norway—the government's bank—had a year ago twenty million dollars of gold in its vaults. Today it has forty million. A year ago it had issued paper money to the extent of five and a half million beyond its deposits, while today with the same amount of paper currency in circulation, it has a reserve of three million dollars.

Deposits in private banks are at present thirty million dollars greater than a year ago on the same date. These banks had to their credit in foreign banks $700,000 last year. This year they have ten millions. The war has thus brought Norway a flood tide of prosperity, and if government action is taken to reduce present prices and provide the poorer people with food, Norway will have little to lose and a great deal to gain from a long war.

Norway's friendship for England and the fact that she has had less to complain of in the restriction of imports than Sweden, have made her trade question a much less serious one than in her sister country. Her chief grievance against England remains the English censorship of her mail and cablegrams to America and other neutral countries. Norway is still trying to devise a more direct and speedier communication with America.
