SHAPING SUMMER COLLARS

The popular collar, for warm weather wear, is the low, turn down style. This kind of collar is one that we have given a great deal of attention to, in regard to its proper fitting and shaping, to insure a well fitting, easy to wear collar. The process which we use for this work from the collar smooths the fold before turning the collar, from the edge smooth and folds and shapes the collar perfectly. You will like the work we do upon your collars.

SOCIETY

Delightful House Party. The following ladies composed a charming house party, being entertained by Miss Anna Tribble for a few days prior to her wedding next Wednesday: Mrs. W. H. Powell of Columbia, Miss Willie Perkins of Washington, D. C.; Miss Nelle Hinely of Madison, Ga.; Miss Anna Warren Clark of Moultrie, Ga.; Miss Nina Carpenter of Greenville; Miss Eva Baker of Richmond, Va. Miss Frances Tribble who is in college at Richmond is at home for a week.

Mrs. and Mrs. Wade Humphreys have returned to their home in Charleston, after a two weeks visit to relatives here.

Miss Nancy Cross left yesterday for her home in Frankfort, Ky., after a visit to Mrs. Phelps Sasseen.

Mrs. Ella Jones is at home from the mountains where she has been all summer. Miss Ella Sue Jones stopped over in Spartanburg to visit friends.

Miss Julia Guyton is at home after a visit to Atlanta and the mountains.

Plantation Tea. One of the most original and yet most delightful parties given in honor of Miss Anna Tribble, was the "Old Plantation Tea" given in her honor on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Clarence Beatty and Miss Elizabeth Fretwell. The beautiful Fretwell home "Sunset Forest" is ideally fitted for entertaining and never did it look more attractive than on this gloomy rainy afternoon, when the brightness and beauty within were in striking contrast to the weather without.

Many lovely cut flowers and the bright fires made the coziness of scenery. In the dining room the table decorations were cotton balls, these forming an unique center piece while at each place were a cotton ball and a small negro doll dressed as a bride. An elegant course supper was temptingly served, and while the young ladies still lingered at the table, an old negro mammy came in with a huge pie and the pretty honor guest was given the privilege of cutting it. When cut it was found to contain all sorts of useful kitchen utensils, gifts from the two attractive hostesses. Mrs. Fred Maxwell sang several charming negro dialect songs that were greatly enjoyed by all.

R. E. Lee Meeting. The Robert E. Lee Chapter was delightful entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. R. S. Thompson, Mrs. John Anderson and Mrs. J. O. Sanders at the home of the latter on Greenville street.

A very interesting and enjoyable program was given. "An Interesting Incident in the History of Anderson" by Miss Edna Broyles. Paper, "The Tariff Acts of 1828-1832 and 1833 and their effect on the South," by Mrs. Will King. The music for the afternoon was beautiful and was furnished by Miss Bonnie Orr of Charlotte, an attractive visitor. Mrs. W. J. Mallow and two violin solos by Mr. Webb von Hassels with Miss Zenobia Welch as accompanist. During the social hour a delicious salad course was served by the hostesses ending a very pleasant meeting.

Delightful Musicals. In response to an attractive little invitation issued by Mrs. Ed. C. Mc-

Donald, quite a number of ladies gathered at her pretty home in North Anderson on Thursday afternoon and enjoyed a most beautiful musicale. Mrs. McDonald had arranged a most delightful program and her selections were particularly pretty and beautifully rendered. She possesses a voice of rare sweetness and beauty and it has been splendidly trained. Miss Zenobia Welch as accompanist showed perfect sympathy with the singer and added much to the program by her lovely accompaniments. After the program Mrs. McDonald served her guests with a dainty menu.

Mrs. J. E. Allen and Miss Aldrich are the guests of their sister, Mrs. M. L. Bonham.

"A Wishing Well Party." A "Wishing Well Party" was the charming original party at which Mrs. Horace McGee entertained in honor of Miss Anna Tribble yesterday afternoon at 3. As the guests arrived they were served with nectar after which they were invited into the parlor where they enjoyed music and song by Mrs. Page and Miss Grace Rudisall. Mrs. McGee's two charming sisters and a solo by the lovely honor guest. Mrs. McGee then blindfolded Miss Tribble and led her into another room and seated at a table where the witches' usual incantation was spoken over her. After she was touched by a lovely little fairy, Little Dorothy Page, the bandage was taken from her eyes and she found herself seated at a table on the center of which was arranged a pretty little well, over which was arranged a trellis work of vines, all so tastefully and uniquely arranged. With the small windlass she drew package after package from the well, each proving to be on inspection some dainty gift from the guests present. It was most charmingly original and was the source of greatest pleasure to all, especially the popular young honor guest, whose many friends are vying with each other to show her some pretty social attention. After they had inspected the pretty gifts, the gracious hostess served a tempting sweet course.

For Two Charming Visitors. At five o'clock Mrs. McGee entertained in honor of her two sisters, Mrs. Page of Clover and Miss Grace Rudisall of King Mountain, and quite a number of friends were invited to meet these two charming visitors and enjoyed a delightful musical program which the thoughtful hostess had arranged.

The program was as follows: Instrumental duet—Mrs. Page and Miss Rudisall. Vocal Solo—Mrs. W. H. Nardin. Violin Solo—Mrs. G. W. Chambers. Duet—Mrs. Page and Miss Rudisall.

Vocal Solo—Miss Bonnie Orr. Piano Solo—Mrs. Page. Vocal Duet—Mrs. Page and Mrs. Nardin. Vocal Solo—Mrs. G. W. Chambers. An interesting little contest afforded a great deal of pleasure, the prize a lovely bunch of American Beauty roses being won by Mrs. A. L. Smethers.

The ladies of the faculty of Anderson college will be at home to their friends on the first and third Thursday of every month, from 4 to 6.

Prayer Before Battle. (Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.) "When the British ships under Lord Nelson were bearing down to attack the combined fleet of Trafalgar, the fleet lieutenant of the Revenge on going round to see that all hands were at quarters, observed one of them devoutly kneeling at the side of his gun. So very unusual an attitude in a British sailor, exciting his surprise and curiosity, he went and asked the man if he was afraid. "Afraid!" answered the honest tar, with a countenance expressive of the utmost disdain. "No! I was only praying that the enemy's shot may be distributed in the same proportion as the prize money—the greatest part among the officers."

Appendix His Shot Pouch. (The Louisville Courier-Journal.) Chillicothe, O.—William Butler, 62 years old, of this city had a shot pouch for an appendix. When operated on at the local hospital 85 shots weighing more than two ounces were removed from his appendix. The arsenal in his digestive tract was discovered by accident during the course of a minor operation. The appendix was almost five inches longer than normal and was almost filled with shot. All were badly battered. Butler who had never been shot, accounts for this lead through his fondness for game. In the course of several years he thinks he swallowed the shot with his meals. He never suffered from appendicitis.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR. It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Thickness. Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe. Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre, and gives it an appearance of abundance.

CLEMSON COLLEGE. Clemson College, Sept. 30.—Clemson's new athletic field, which will be dedicated and formally named Riggs field Saturday afternoon in recognition of the work that President Riggs has done for athletics at this institution, lies north of Barracks No. 1, and directly west of the new Y. M. C. A. building, and so near to both as to be exceedingly convenient. The old gully skirted with briars and flanked with red hillsides, formerly a receptacle for refuse, has been transformed into one of the most attractive spaces on the campus. What was once an eyesore is now an attractive view. The field is 400 feet wide and 1,000 feet long and will be bordered with a half mile track. The permanent football field is located in the southeast corner, next to the textile building and the Y. M. C. A. The principal baseball diamond will be just west of the gridiron. The remaining space will be used for football and baseball as the exigencies may demand. There is room for three or four diamonds and gridirons. The formal christening of the field will take place Saturday, October 2. At three o'clock the parade will form in front of the college building. The cadet band will lead the procession, followed by the speakers, the athletic council, the alumni, the faculty, and the corps of cadets. On the athletic field yells will be given in the "C" formation. President Riggs will formally present the field to the cadets, and H. C. Tillman, president of the alumni association, will christen the field. Immediately following these exercises the Davidson-Clemson game will start. Dr. Riggs is kicking off. No Partiality! Barber—Want a hair cut? Customer—No, I want 'em all cut. CHICHESTER'S PILLS. THE DRUGGISTS' HEADQUARTERS. Sold by Druggists Everywhere.
