"THE WHITE SISTER" ATTRACTION TONIGHT

Is Conceded One Most Wonderful Plays Ever Written—Complete in Details.

A big crowd witnessed the performance of "The Little Girl That He Forgot" at the Anderson last night, and the play was the best received of any yet offered by the company. It is a play of the south, and the leading character was portrayed by Mr. E. E. Pollock, and as Jack Rose from the Blue Ridge Mountains, he further strengthened his hold on his popularity in this city. Miss Francis as the daughter of the governor of Tennessee was at her best and gave her best performance of the week. Miss St. Clair as the octoroon gave a finished performance of a very difficult role. Miss Emouse Summers as June, was more than pleasing and won the sympathy of the audience from the start. Mr. Reaubon as Mark Briarson was clever as usual. The specialties were well received, and in every way, the performance was above the standard yet set by the Norene St. Clair company.

Tonight the company offers its feature production, the highest priced, royally play ever used by any popular priced organization in the south, "The White Sister," has been voted to be the greatest play ever written, and enjoyed the unprecedented run of three years in New York, with Viola Allen in the title role. The company here is the only company in the south who has the rights to this wonderful play, and "The White Sister" will not be presented here again by any company. On account of the nearly prohibitive royalty, the management is obliged to raise the price of admission for this one play, and the admission will be entire balcony, 25 cents, last four rows down stairs, 35 cents, and the entire balance of the lower floor and the boxes will be 50 cents. Seats have been selling all week, and a crowded house is assured. The management guarantees this production to be as complete, as finished, and in every way the equal of any play that has been, or will be offered here this season. Don't miss seeing "The White Sister," tonight only.

Two features vaudeville numbers will be introduced between the acts.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

PUT SULPHUR ON AN ITCHING SKIN AND END ECZEMA

Says this old-time Eczema remedy is applied like cold cream.

Any irritation or breaking out on the face, arms, legs or body when accompanied by itching, or when the skin is dry and feverish, can be readily overcome by applying a little bold-sulphur, says a noted dermatologist.

He states that bold-sulphur instantly allays the angry itching and irritation and soothes and heals the skin. It is up leaving the skin clear and smooth. Bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position for many years in the treatment of cutaneous disorders because of its parasite-destroying property. Nothing has ever been found to take its place in treating the irritable and inflammatory skin affections. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to subdue the itching irritation and drive the Eczema away and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

Those troubled should obtain at any drug store an ounce of bold-sulphur, which is applied to the affected parts in the same manner as an ordinary cold cream.

WILL CERTAINLY BE A GLORIOUS EVENT

FURTHER ANNOUNCEMENTS MADE REGARDING CELEBRATION

OCTOBER 12-14

Nothing But Continuous Down-pour of Rain Will Prevent it Being Grand Success.

"Nothing but a continuous down-pour of rain will prevent the Pendleton Farmers Society centennial celebration from being the biggest thing ever pulled off in this section of the state," declared Col. J. C. Stribling, president of the society, who came to Anderson yesterday to put on the finishing touches on some arrangements for the big event. Col. Stribling predicts that thousands will be present; that all sections of the Piedmont will be represented.

"We have assigned the prominent visitors to homes. Secretary Houston will be the guest of Dr. Riggs at Clemson college; Hon. Fairfax Harrison will be the guest of Dr. W. W. Long of Clemson college; Congressman Lever will be the guest of Prof. H. W. Barre at Clemson college, and Hon. Clarence Poe, Major, Benj. Sloan and Hon. John C. Calhoun will be my guests," continued Col. Stribling.

The platform for the speaking will be erected on the park near the farmers' hall. In case of rain Col. Stribling says the speaking will be held in the auditorium of the high school.

"Many of the people of the county are showing their patriotism by sending in antique farm exhibits," says Col. Stribling. He wants to impress the fact that a capable man, Mr. J. W. Wofford, will be in charge of the exhibits, and that they will be cared for. Mr. Wofford will be at the farmers' hall on Saturday and Monday to receive and place exhibits.

Col. Stribling announces that three secretaries will be present to receive membership dues, deliver histories of the society to members and to deliver the souvenirs. These secretaries are Mr. J. W. Sanders, who will be located near the speaker's platform; Mr. J. W. Wofford, who will be in the farmers' hall, and Mr. Seawright, who will be found in Seawright's furniture store. The names of active members only will be published in the souvenir addition.

Mr. Sam E. Whitten has been chosen chairman of the parade committee, and a better selection could not have been made. He has been actively at work for a week or so in arranging the parade, and announces that his representative in the mountains negotiating with the Indians. Col. Stribling says the Indians they are seeking to come to Pendleton to take part in the parade and camp during the centennial are the descendants of Old Chief Corn Tassel, who was chief of the tribe that "used" on the Seneca river not far from Pendleton.

"I remember seeing old Chief Corn Tassel on the streets of Pendleton one day," said Col. Stribling this morning. "The old fellow was wading around in the snow—it was desperately cold. He had on a straw hat and a linen coat—I remember that mighty well."

There will be plenty of music to entertain the crowds. The Zion school band has interested the Williamson band and the enlarged band, made of the two, will be present. The Clemson college cadet band will also furnish music.

Col. Stribling has announced the names of several new honorary members. Among them are Gov. Manning, State Senator Alan Johnstone, Dr. R. O. Peeley, Mr. H. A. Molony of Charleston, Hon. John L. McLeurin, Hon. Henry C. Tillman and Mr. J. Adams Campbell of New York city.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the society, which met in special session Wednesday morning:

"In appreciation of the fact that Dr. J. H. Maxwell is the oldest member of our society we send greetings and urgent invitation to our esteemed member to attend our coming centennial celebration October 12-14, and that a seat of honor will await him on our rostrum."

"In consideration of his interest in our society from boyhood his love for the community in which he was born, his name on our rolls for half a century, and that he is the only survivor of a committee of seven members of the Pendleton Farmers society appointed in 1866 to investigate the feasibility of establishing an agricultural college in this community that culminated in the establishment of Clemson college.

Resolved, That Pendleton Farmers' society now in session place the name of Major Benjamin Sloan, ex-president of the University of South Carolina, as honorary member for life, and we tender him a seat of honor on the rostrum at our coming centennial celebration.

When the home is left for an hour, a day, or a week, without someone to look after it, particular care should be exercised for the purpose of seeing that fires in grates or stoves are put out, and that all doors and windows are properly closed and locked.

BIG LEAGUES CLOSE SEASON

Interest Now Centers On World's Series Scheduled to Begin Saturday.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—With the close of the American and National league seasons today with the games between New York and Boston Nationals at New York and the same American teams at Boston all base ball interest centered here on the opener of the world's series tomorrow. A steady rain, which began this afternoon, is falling here. Friday's forecast predicts cloudy unsettled weather. The grounds are covered with canvas but the playing of the game is considered doubtful. There is little betting.

Most of the Boston rooters will arrive tomorrow. While neither Moran nor Corrigan would give their official playing order it is thought Alexander and Shore will be the pitchers with Burns and Cady backstopping.
