HOUSE OF DEPUTY SHERIFF Miss Marguerite De Von Captivat-SANDERS WAS ENTERED BY NIGHT

STOLE HIS PISTOL

Two Watches and Pocketbook-Gamblers Raided Early Yesterday Morning.

An unknown burglar entered the home of Mr. J. Olin Sanders, deputy sheriff, sometime Friday morning between 2 o'clock and 5, taking two watches, a pistol, pocketbook, and a few other aticles. The burglar en-tered quietly and made his exit the same way. Mr. Sanders not knowing anything about it until this morning at 5 o'clock when he was called by the sheriff to go on a call.
Mr. Sanders stated yesterday that he went home about 2 o'clock yester-day morning, having been out on different duty calls during the night, and went directly to bed. At b o'clock Sheriff Ashley called him over telephone asking that he go out and as sist in raiding a bunch of gamblers. When he started to dress he felt for his trousers on the chair where he had placed them but they were gone. He began looking about and seen He began looking bout and scon discovered that a burglar hat been in his hous. ed Audience in "The Red Rose"-Good Chorus.

Miss Marguerite De Von, as Lola, the artist's model, in John C. Fisher's production, "The Red Rose," made a goers in her performance at the Anderson last evening. The audience was rather cold in enthusiasm but it it not thought that this was because the play and Miss De Von were not appreciated. A great many of those present had been to a performance of the circus and all were tired because of it being circus day and having to contend with the crowds.

contend with the crowds,

Miss De Von, as the artist's model, played the part to perfection and appeared to be perfectly at home in the Bohemian life, which is tyical of the artists in Paris, where the scene of the play was laid She was very pretty, had a charming and winning manner, and from the very start had the audience with her. Miss De Von is a southerner by blaying heav. ls a southerner by birth, having been born in Birmingham, Ala., and stated last night that she liked to play to audiences in the south.

Miss De Von was tacked by a splen-did cat, well balanced and decidedly musical. The singing was good es-pecially that of Andre, in reality Jethro Warner; Gyp, Edith Carlisle; and Dick Lorimer, the model's artist. These singers were aided by a well trained chorus of good voices and the ongs were much enjoyed.

The play was full of fun and al-though the first act was rather dry, the second and last made up for this shortage. Several of the players need mention, especially Miss Carlisle as Gyp, but space forbids. Those taking the lead and the parts that they played were as follows:

GRAY HAIR BECOKES DARK, THICK GLOSSI

I'ry Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage and Salahari.

Almost everybne knows that Sage Fea and Sulphur, projerly compounded brings back the natural color and tracts to see help wise fades, streaming acate and or bray; also ends desirunt itching scalp and stops falling lair. Veare see the only way to get this miximre was to make it at home, which is musary and troublesoms.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyelh's Bage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about to centa. Everyhody uses this old, falmon recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and eventy. You dampen a sponge or suff brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a line; by morning this tray hair disappears and after autiture application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.
