GOVERNOR MANNING ON BROGON STRIKE

EFFORTS MADE TO GET AMICABLE SETTLEMENT OF TROUBLE TRYING TO FIND COMMON GROUND

Managing Officers Have Conceded the Right of Employees to Organize.

Columbia, Nov. 13.—Governor Manning gave out the following statement tonight:

"From the beginning of the strike at Brogon mills, I have been making an effort to get the two sides to an amicable settlement. I have been especially active along these lines during the last week, but apparently the situation is no nearer a settlement than before. Nevertheless, I am not discouraged, but am still trying to find a common ground on which they can meet.

"At the Judson mills in Greenville prospects for a settlement are more favorable.

"In both mills the managing officers have conceded the right of the employees to organize.

"Thus one of the fundamental sources of disagreement has been removed.

"There is one thing which both sides should understand clearly. No violence will be tolerated. The sheriffs of Anderson and Greenville counties will be held sternly to their duty to maintain order. I do not anticipate that they will force me to take the preservation of order out of their hands, but if I am convinced that either of the sheriffs is not fulfilling his duty, I am prepared to act.

"There is right and wrong on both sides, and the bitterness is increasing. As good citizens of South Carolina, I feel that both sides should agree upon some plan that will terminate the trouble.

"Arbitration in such disagreements has been universally recognized as a safe business. The public is everywhere much inclined to believe that the people who avoid arbitration put themselves in the wrong.

"The communities in which these mills are situated and the state of South Carolina are deeply interested in a just settlement being reached. Private differences of this sort will not long be tolerated by the people of the state. Some means must be devised to bring all parties to an amicable frame of mind.

"At present I am gravely considering recommending to the legislature a compulsory arbitration law in the form of a board of conciliation. I am not committed to this proposition, but am studying it as we view in other places.

"All citizens will recognize that our people have the right to organize if they wish to do so. It will also be generally recognized that the lives and property of our people must be protected.

"I will stand to both propositions."

OFFICIALS STIRRED UP ESCAPE OF GERMANS

Washington, Nov. 13.—Navy officials are so stirred at the escape of seamen from the interned German cruisers at Norfolk, following a party of non-commissioned officers that they asked the state department to what lengths the marine guards would be justified in going to stop the unauthorized departures.

"The possibility of placing the Germans in a guarded camp was being discussed today. The state department will look up precedents to learn whether marine guards have the right to shoot if necessary."

800 Bank

London, Nov. 13.—An official admiralty statement says the British submarine E-20 was sunk 11 miles from the coast of the crew and prisoners. The vessel has not been heard from since October 30.

WILL RETURN TO LONDON

Washington, Nov. 13.—Robert F. Elliott, American consul general at London, recently recalled to discuss the trade situation with the state department, will return to his post November 22. There have been rumors that the recall was due to the displeasure of the British authorities.

CHURCHILL WILL EXPLAIN ACTION

WILL REVIEW WAR OPERATION IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

IS MUCH BLAMED BY THE BRITISH

His Boastful Method of Public Address Has Been Much Ridiculed.

London, Nov. 13.—Winston Spencer Churchill, who intends to explain his resignation from the cabinet to the house of commons on Monday and who, it is said, will review the war operations of the admiralty during his term as first lord of the admiralty, has been the greatest target for criticism of any of Britain's public men since the war began.

Rightly or wrongly Churchill is blamed for the inadequacy of the British relief of Antwerp, ending in the internment of a large part of the British marine expedition and for the attempt to force the Dardanelles without the help of the army, which produced a British casualty list of a hundred thousand.

He has been termed the duke of Antwerp and Gallipoli.

His boastful method of public address such as prophesying that the British navy "would dig the German ships out of their holes like rats" and "the Zeppelins would be surrounded by a swarm of hornets if they attacked England" is being ridiculed here.

FOOTBALL GAME HAS 2 SERIOUS ACCIDENTS

Half Back of Columbia College Possibly Fatally Injured at Valdosta, Ga.

Valdosta, Ga., Nov. 13.—Half-back Blitch, of the Columbia College football team, was possibly fatally injured and Coach Sams of the same organization received a broken leg and his ankle dislocated in the game won by Mercer 32 to 0 here today.

Blitch is suffering tonight from concussion of the brain, the result of a blow on his head, and the doctors are doubtful of his recovery.

Coach Sams and Coach Zellers of Mercer both played under an agreement made by the teams.

THE WHEREABOUTS OF STEAMER ZEALANDIA

Washington, Nov. 13.—The captain of the American steamer Zealandia, forcibly searched by a British cruiser at Progreso, Mexico, denied that the ship was outside the three mile limit, therefore she was in a neutral port. The British commander claims the Zealandia was not inside the territorial limits of Mexico.

Efforts will be made by the state department to determine just where the vessel was. The American consul at Progreso has been instructed to take affidavits of witnesses.

OPTIMISTIC REPORT FOR COTTON GROWER

Washington, Nov. 13.—The cotton used during October was 500,032 bales compared with 451,389 during October of last year, the census bureau announced. Cotton on hand on October 31 in consuming establishments was 1,045,149 bales, compared with 718,243 a year ago. In the public warehouses and compresses 1,171,174 compared with 2,377,469 against 497,332 imports 13,506 against 17,150.

Spinnings active numbered 31,375, against 30,461,320.

CONNECTED STORY OF ANCONA SINKING

Account Given of Actions of the Submarine—Fifty Shots Fired.

Paris, Nov. 13.—A connected story of the sinking of the Ancona from Ferrisville, dated November 12, follows:

"The Ancona left Messina at 6 o'clock the morning of November 6. About 7 in the morning of the next day she picked up a wireless message from the steamer France reading: 'S. O. S. We are being shelled.'"

"The message ended abruptly without the position of the France being given. The Ancona continued on her route about an hour afterwards the sea being calm and the weather misty."

"Without any sort of warning report of a gun being heard, shells simultaneously struck the Ancona forward causing considerable damage. The wireless operator without an instant delay sent out the distress signal with the name of the ship and her position. The first wireless telegraph apparatus was demolished. Then the life boats were shot to pieces and a number of passengers were killed and wounded. Fifty shots at least were fired until the Ancona stopped. The submarine then hoisted the Austrian colors and the commander announced he would allow ten minutes for all to quit the ship. The unmarked boats were lowered and after the wounded had been placed in them the passengers and crew followed. This was going on for half an hour when the submarine fired a torpedo which struck the Ancona on the bow. The ship sank gradually and disappeared at 2:30 p. m. The submarine then steamed away. Toward 6 p. m. the mine layer Flinton picked up survivors near the scene."

EXCHANGE VIEWS ANCONA AFFAIR

Rome, Nov. 13.—The conference between Minister Sonnino and Ambassador Page today is believed to have brought about a full exchange of views concerning the sinking of the Ancona.

"While the nature of the conversation was not revealed, it is believed that the Italian view-point is that the attack on the liner is a breach of international law and neutrals should take energetic measures to secure full reparation."

Ambassador Page was advised today of the sinking of the Ancona. The dollar ship sunk by submarine.

AMERICANS FATS IN DOUBT

Rome, Nov. 13.—Thomas Nelson Page, the American ambassador returned a report from the Italian foreign office stating that fate of several native or naturalized Americans aboard the Ancona was still in doubt.

AN ATLANTA WOMAN CLAIMED TRAMP'S BODY

Fake Wedding Invitations in Society Columns of Atlanta Newspapers.

Atlanta, Nov. 12.—That "Dr. Allyn Hensley" announced in formal wedding invitations and the society columns of local newspapers as the fiancée of Miss Julia Choate Crumley, the music teacher, existed only in her imagination became definitely known today. Friends and relatives did not suspect anything unusual when she went to Chicago and identified the body of an unknown man killed in a railroad accident and shipped it here as Dr. Hensley. She is being attended at the home of her father, Foy Howard Lee Crumley, formerly a prominent Methodist minister. Controversial statements after the body arrived led the family to call a physician to observe her. It is said she told him Hensley was the creature of her mind and she did not know whose body it was at the undertaking establishment. The funeral was set for Thursday and an announcement in the newspapers yesterday merely stated it had been postponed. Friends stated that they wanted time to investigate. Those who saw the body said it was not a man accustomed to the life of a surgeon. Two years ago the woman was operated on at Johns Hopkins and returning telling friends she was engaged to a man who lived in Quebec, Canada. She received letters she said he wrote.

AUTHORITIES ARE HOLDING BODY

Chicago, Nov. 13.—The unidentified body taken by Miss Julia Choate Crumley to Atlanta to be buried as her fiancée will be left there, so far as the Chicago authorities are concerned. Officials here will not pay to return the corpse.

Deputy Coroner Jones, who said Miss Crumley wept incessantly during the interview in which she gained permission to send the body to Atlanta, said he never suspected anything but a bona-fide identification.

Miss Crumley's statement, given to the coroner here, declared that she had married Allyn Hensley in Tampa, January 1914, and that he left immediately after the marriage. She met him in New York in July 1915.

Word from Atlanta tonight indicates that authorities there are waiting a disposition of the body.

ITALIAN RESERVISTS LEAVING FOR THE WAR

New York, Nov. 13.—Sixteen hundred Italian reservists called for Naples today on the Italian liner Taormina, sister ship of the Ancona. David H. McCullough was one of the 100 passengers. The sailing of the Italian liner, steamers America and Palermo to Italian ports from New York have been cancelled. It was said the vessels would be used as transports.

ZWIEDINEK DENIES GERICAR'S CHARGES

In Regard to Instructions Given to Austrian Consuls About Strikes.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Baron Erich Zwiedinek, Austrian charge, called at the state department today and denied for his government the charges of Dr. Gericar, formerly of the Austrian consular service, that Austrian consuls in the United States were fomenting strikes in munition plants.

The Austrian embassy later gave out a statement declaring Dr. Gericar offered to discontinue his utterances against Austria-Hungary for a money consideration.

Zwiedinek was told that the United States was investigating.

CHARLESTON MAY GET 1917 CONVENTION

Charleston, Nov. 13.—The executive committee of the Atlantic Deep-sea Waterways association and members of the association, looked with apparent favor upon Charleston's invitation that the 1917 convention of the association be held in this city, according to Secretary Snell, of the chamber of commerce, who extended the invitation. In accordance with a custom of the association, the 1916 meeting will be held in a northern city, and the following year, in a southern city. Mr. Snell and nine other Charlestonians attended the convention which closed at Savannah yesterday.

REPORT STEAMER LOST LAKE SUPERIOR STORM

Grain Laden Vessel Not Heard From Since Last Wednesday.

Duluth, Nov. 13.—The steamer Charles A. Luck with a crew of more than twenty, was reported lost in a storm which swept Lake Superior this week.

The steamer passed through Sault Ste. Marie last Wednesday and has not been reported since. C. A. Tomlinson, who had the vessel under charter to take grain from here to Buffalo, said tonight that he feared the reports were true.

The Luck is a wooden ship 228 feet long and is commanded by Duncan Bole, one of the oldest of the lake navigators.

KITCHENER MAY SEE CONSTANTINE

REPORTS OF HIS TRIP HAVE RECEIVED NO CONFIRMATION

DISSOLUTION OF GREEK CHAMBER

Caused Great Consternation in France But Not Felt in England.

London, Nov. 13.—Although the report that Lord Kitchener had been sent on a mission to King Constantine to offer proposals received no confirmation, the coincidence of his departure and the dissolution of the Greek chamber makes the supposition plausible.

The consternation which the dissolution of the Greek chamber caused in France is not entertained here, but no attempts are being made to minimize that the king's action and hopes for Greek co-operation, at least until after the Greek election months hence.

It is reported that an Austro-German mission is now in Athens and that the Rumania king is receiving deputations from both sides.

The Austro-German armies continue the Serbian drive, reporting the capture of the heights of Jastrebak, but Serbian resistance in the mountains stiffened. The French cavalry, it is reported, has surrounded Velest, but the Bulgarians still hold the town.

On the eastern front the lack of German reports indicate that the German drive at Riga and Dvinsk is abandoned, temporarily at least. The Russian offensive is gaining momentum at all points. It is reported that von Hindenburg told Emperor William that the advance was not a success without reinforcements.

The Teutonic submarines are still active in the Mediterranean and several British ships are reported as gone down and assumed to have been sunk in the Mediterranean.

Of these the steamer Don of Crombie, 5,000 tons, is the largest. Six passengers and fifteen of the crew of the Italian steamer Firenze, sunk off the Egyptian coast reported missing. No Americans aboard far as learned.

GREEK ATTITUDE TROUBLES ALLIES

London, Nov. 13.—Uneasiness is being shown by the allied powers over the attitude of Greece. This feeling is not likely to be allayed by the latest news that the German military mission had arrived at Athens via Bulgaria and Saloniki. Paris official circles believe there is no possibility of Greece changing her attitude for one distinctly favoring the central powers. Rumors that such a step was being considered, became so persistent that the Greek minister to France felt called upon to visit the foreign office with assurance of Greece's adherence to her traditional friendship for France.

Progress in the Balkan campaign is slow with Serbia's allies beginning to make their presence felt along the Macedonian frontier. The French troops are reported within a mile and a quarter of Velest and have occupied several villages on the right bank of the Vardar, but the expected Serbo-French junction before Babuna Pass has not yet been effected. The Germans are facing the most difficult phase of the campaign in the front of a mountain barrier which they must surmount before they can hope to completely disorganize the Serbian army. News from the eastern front agrees that Hindenburg's position in the Riga district is extremely difficult. The Russians are continuing their attacks between Olla and west of Lake Babut are reported to be forcing the Germans into the woods and marshes, which greatly hamper the movements of the Teutons. The Germans are exercising every energy to complete railroads which they are building in Courland. Along the western front artillery actions again become the prominent feature. Infantry activity is reported.

Paris, Nov. 13.—Outside of some artillery engagements along the French line the French official report this afternoon recited spirited fighting with hand grenades at three other places in France.

WILL ISSUE STATEMENTS

Washington, Nov. 13.—Former secretary Bryan closed his Washington home today and left for his winter home in Miami Fla., to spend the next three months. He said he would issue statements on public questions from time to time from Miami.
