OCONEE PEONAGE CASE VERDICT NOT GUILTY

WILLIAM T. McCLURE OF FAIR PLAY IN FEDERAL COURT

CASES NOT TRIED Charged With Bringing Parker Bowers From Georgia to Oconee County.

Greenwood, Nov. 17.—The jury in the case of the United States government against William T. McClure, of Oconee county, charged with peonage rendered a verdict of not guilty at 1:10 this afternoon. The evidence was begun and concluded at the afternoon session of court yesterday and the jury heard arguments by counsel and Judge Johnson's charge this morning, receiving the case at 12:20 o'clock. Arguments were made by Assistant District Attorney Mays and District Attorney Thurmond, for the government, and Messrs. Watkins and Featherstone, for the defendant.

There were separate charges also against E. B. Mahoney and D. J. Hicks, of Oconee county, in a second and against E. B. Mahoney and Robert Keys in a third case. It is understood that these cases will not be tried as Mr. McClure was found not guilty. They are charged with bringing Parker Bowers, the prosecutor, from Georgia to Oconee county.

Bowers, a comparatively young negro who has worked both in this state and Georgia, charged in general terms that he was held in involuntary servitude and whipped by Mr. McClure. He alleged further that he was arrested in Georgia and brought back to this state against his will on a charge of which he was not guilty, that of stealing, and a charge from which Mr. McClure later swore the negro was relieved after McClure paid him time on promise that the negro work for him.

Many witnesses from this state and Georgia, the Georgia men testifying that Bowers was a negro of very bad reputation. Among these were W. M. Kidd, former sheriff of Hart county, now deputy United States marshal for the Northeast Georgia District; A. N. Slaton, constable of Lavonia; J. W. Worsley, sheriff of Franklin county. Only one witness, a colored man, testified that there were any marks on Bower's body as the result of a whipping.

Bower's claim, Parker Bowers, the negro prosecutor, claimed that he was brought from Georgia by the several defendants against his will and was, in a sense, "bought" by Mr. McClure from Mr. Keys. He swore that Mr. McClure whipped him more than once, never paid him anything and if he had ever signed a contract he did not know it. He did recall signing "some sort of paper," which he said was not read to him. The negro denied positively that he had ever received any money.

As to the charge of stealing the clothing, Bowers also entered a flat denial, declaring that he had borrowed some clothes from another negro on the place. He did acknowledge, however, that Mr. McClure had given him a pair of shoes and a pair of overalls. He stated, upon cross-examination, that he had never been convicted of stealing anything, but had been indicted for taking some chickens in Georgia, a charge of which he declared, he pleaded not guilty.

Mr. McClure's Evidence. Mr. William T. McClure, a prominent young farmer of Oconee county, the principal defendant, stated that at the time Bowers left the Fair Play section he (McClure) was a magistrate and that Mr. Robert Keys asked him to swear out a warrant against the negro for stealing clothes. The warrant was turned over to D. T. Mahoney, constable, who served it and he himself had nothing to do with it. He found that the case was not in his jurisdiction, but after Bowers had acknowledged that he was guilty and begged Mr. Keys not to send him to jail, he (McClure) went on the negro's bond. Bowers then promised to work for him for nothing, but Mr. McClure swore that he told the negro he would not accept his services free of cost, but would agree to pay him $10 a month. A part of this money was to be taken out every month in payment for the $30 which McClure paid as a compromise in the suit for the alleged theft of the clothing. Mr. Keys and J. O. Jones, who missed the clothing, had agreed to the compromise. The witness said that he had never threatened or intimidated the negro and had a trouble with him until after Bowers had been working for him about six weeks.

Prosecution Dropped. Mr. McClure stated upon cross-examination that the case was not sent to Waltham court because J. D. Jones who had charged Bowers with stealing the clothing, had said that the settlement was satisfactory and the prosecution had been dropped after the $30 had been paid. The witness explained that he had been a magistrate and had taken time and necessary had taken experience, but he required of J. D. Jones, Smith of Oconee county how to enter the Bower case on his magistrate book, and the auditor told him to mark it "ended," which was done. The book was turned over to the auditor, when Mr. McClure took the magistrate's

MARKING AND PACKING RIGHTLY FOR FREIGHT

Washington, Nov. 17.—"Freight, properly packed and correctly marked is already half way to destination," declares Superintendent of Agencies W. H. Gatchell of Southern railway in a plea to shippers to give greater attention to the preparation of goods for shipment.

"Did it ever occur to you," Mr. Gatchell continues, "to take a look every now and then through your shipping department to see how your people are boxing, crating, barreling, sacking or baling your goods for transportation; to satisfy yourself that they are giving the protection to the property you are shipping out to your customers; and to see that your shipments are properly marked, with old marks erased and the bills of lading carefully and legibly made? If not, try it—you will find it interesting."

"Many shippers have thanked us for bringing to their attention instances of bad packing, use of inferior containers, illegible marking, and poorly written bills of lading, of which they were not cognizant."

"You appreciate, we are sure, what all of this means to you and to the carrier in making a safe and accurate delivery of your property to the consignee. Your cooperation is necessary. We need your assistance. We want to help you. Won't you help us?"

Aunt Emmy's Code. The old blue cook of a southern family was horrified to find a young negro employed as a helper in the kitchen had been caught stealing.

"I don't believe in stealin," said Aunt Emmy. "I don't never take nothin'—cept it's something to eat—or somethin' to wear—or somethin' what I think the missus don't want—or somethin' de ole boss is got too blind to miss."—Exchange.

A Dollar's Worth. The manager of a small town called the grocer on the telephone the other day and gave him the following order: "Send me a dollar's worth of meat out to my house. If there is no one at home just poke it through the keyhole."—Harper's Weekly.

A woman's religion should be able to keep her frockies off her reputation.

Went to the Hospital. C. E. Blanchard, postmaster at Blanchard, Ga., writes: "I had kidney trouble so bad I had to go to the hospital. Foley Kidney Pills were recommended to me and they completely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of them." Sufferers in every state have had similar benefit from this standard remedy for kidney and bladder ailments. It banishes back-ache, stiff joints, swollen muscles and all the various symptoms of weakened diseased kidneys. Sold everywhere.

After the above transaction Mr. McClure testified that he went into another contract with Bowers. He worked for some time and one day, while the witness was in Anderson, he was informed that Bowers had run away. He sent word to Mahoney to arrest Bowers and when the negro was brought back he gave him a whipping and told him that he did not want his services any longer. Mr. McClure stated that he was provoked to whip the negro because he had learned that he and his wife's absence Bowers had become very prominent around the house and had visited a stranger to partake of a dinner that had been prepared for other men left at the place during the day.

INDICTMENTS RESULT OF INVESTIGATIONS

GRAND JURY RETURNED SIX
BILLS YESTERDAY AF-TERNOON

SHAW FAMILY Seems to Be in Trouble—Are Identified of Carswell Institute Section of County.

As a result of independent investigations by the grand jury, true bills were returned yesterday afternoon against Columbus Shaw, Carl Shaw, Eugene Shaw, Peter Shaw and two bills against Jesse Shaw. These men live about ten miles below the city in the Carswell Institute section, and it is said that citizens from that part of the county made reports to the grand jury which resulted in the investigations, and consequently the indictments.

Columbus Shaw is now in jail serving a term of four months, having been convicted of running an illicit distillery some time ago in federal court at Greenwood.

The true bills returned are as follows:
Columbus Shaw, violation dispensary law.
Jesse Shaw, carrying concealed weapons.
Carl Shaw, violation dispensary law.
Peter Shaw, violation dispensary law.
Jesse Shaw carrying concealed weapons.
It is thought that these cases will come up for trial at this term of court.

AT THE THEATRES

"The Prince of Pilsen." "The Prince of Pilsen" has contributed more to the gaiety of nations than any other musical comedy in the history of the theatre. It has covered the theatrical highways of the United States and Canada many times, invaded England where it played eight months at the Shilkesbury theatre, London, and for three seasons was one of the most successful attractions touring the English provinces. It was taken to South Africa by a company organized to present a number of American musical comedies there and was made the opening attraction. It scored a hit such as has never been made there before. The continued popularity and exhaustive vitality of this musical comedy is ascribed to the rare combination of presents of tuneful airs, lyrics of striking beauty and imagery and a story in which hilarious comedy is a natural corollary to its incidents and development.

We are recommending our 10-1-0 and 10-2-0 and 10-2-1/2-0 for wheat and oats this fall when you sow it.

This will give it stalk and grains in the head, and that it what you want in grain. If you will sow five acres in wheat and five in oats this fall, after preparing the land well and fertilizing it well with either of these goods, you will find it advantageous. The 10-2-1/2-0 is an especially fine goods for grain. Let us hear from you.
