

CHRISTMAS NATURALLY SUGGESTS CANDY

And more naturally—

Quit worrying about what to give "her," and order a package of Whitmans. We have such a nice assortment of different kinds that you cannot miss "her" kind. And that's exactly what "she" wants.

The "Sampler" is hard to equal, and impossible to beat.

Whitman's Chocolates and Bon Bons are delightfully delicious.

Chocolate Covered Fruits and Nuts are rich and luscious.

"Pink of Perfection," "Super Extra" Chocolates and Confections, and

Fussy Packages for Fastidious Folks are just what their names imply—and more.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE ANDERSON

"Everywoman."

The puzzling nature of the dramatic spectacle, "Everywoman," with its display of scenery, its special symphony orchestra, and its dramatic ensembles of one hundred and fifty people, will be made clear at the Anderson, December 29, when Henry W. Savage will offer his massive production for the first time in this city. It partakes as an entertainment of the form of grand opera, musical comedy and drama, but it is a clever admixture of the whole and while it amuses it has a deep moral lesson and instructs as well. Many people who seldom attend the theatre have flocked to the "Everywoman." The success the piece achieved in America was duplicated in London in the big Deury Lane production. Over four million people have witnessed "Everywoman" and it is now being played in five foreign countries. It defies some of the most cherished traditions of the theatre and that, perhaps, is one of the reasons for its remarkable hold upon the affections of the public, because it relies upon originality and not upon custom. It has an engrossing story, telling of the adventures that befall a young and beautiful woman of our day who sets out from her home in search of love. Her quest leads her into strange places. At one time she is behind the scenes of a metropolitan theatre, herself the leading actress, a petted favorite; at another she is riding high carnival in her sumptuous apartment at midnight, the toast of the hour, surrounded by her worshippers and satellites; at a still later period she has paid the toll for her dissipation and alone, and friendless, she wanders the city's streets at midnight on New Year's Eve, as roisterers are celebrating the passing of the old year and are welcoming the advent of the new. The production is on a huge scale and no expense has been spared either in the effects employed or in the selection of a company which includes both operatic and dramatic stars of the first magnitude.

DEATHS

Death of a Child.

On the 21st day of December the death angel visited the home of W. H. Homes and claimed little Bernice Odell. She was only 22 months old and was a bright beautiful little child. Her death was unexpected and she was sick only three days. The services and burial took place at Prospect church in Hart county, Ga. A friend.

Mrs. Sara J. Chapplear.

Mrs. Sara Jane Chapplear, wife of Mr. R. A. Chapplear, of 11 D. street Anderson mill, died at the home of her father, Mr. M. M. Patterson on T. Noble street at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. Interment was made yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Silver Brook cemetery.

SCARCITY OF COAL

Scandinavian Countries Are Trying to Make New Arrangements.

Christiania, Dec. 23.—The difficulties in getting coal from England and Germany have attracted the Scandinavian countries to Spitzbergen, where enormous coal fields are still intact. The Spitzbergen coal is of the hard variety and steamers to north Norwegian waters are very eager to use it. It has, however, been rather difficult to keep the mines going. The climate is so disagreeable there that miners and laborers do not care to stay. Navigation is only possible a couple of months after midsummer. American business men, represented through the Arctic Coal company, hold the largest coal claims at Spitzbergen, on the south and east side of Advent Bay. About 50,000 tons of coal were mined there last summer, half of which has gone to Norwegian consumers.

This company through its director, Scott Turner, is negotiating with Norwegian business men who want to buy the American claims and mines. Besides the American company, Norwegian, British and Swedish stock companies are holding coal claims at Spitzbergen. A great Russian concern has an option on some Norwegian claims located at Green Harbor and is going to work them in order to have coal to supply the new Russian railway running from Petrograd to Kola Bay. The other Norwegian and British coal companies are not willing to sell as long as prices on the European markets are maintained at their present high rate and with no prospect of dropping much the first few years after the close of the war.

What He Wants Do.

A subject for their weekly essay in a collector asked his pupils to say what they could do if they had a million.

At such a point were bent, eyes and ears scratched busily. The one exception was little Willie. He could say nothing, evidently his fingers and watching the flies on the ceiling.

At the end of the time the master rolled up the papers and Willie handed out a blank sheet.

"How's this Willie?" asked the teacher. "Is this your essay? Why all the others have written at least two sheets, while you've written none."

"What's the matter, Willie?" said the teacher. "I would do it if I were a millionaire."

Proposes Conscription

Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of senate committee on military affairs, has introduced a bill in congress proposing conscription for all between the ages of twelve and twenty-five. It is proposed that young men should be organized into under corps, and from eighteen to twenty-five into a citizen army.

Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon.

In a court in a certain city of Pennsylvania, according to the Baltimore American, both the judge and the jury had grown old in the service and neither had missed a single day for many years. One day the judge ascended the bench and waited for the "Oyez Oyez" with which the court is opened by the clerk on this particular occasion. The old jurist, growing impatient, called to the clerk and said:

"Where is 'Thomas'?"

"He is here, your honor," answered the clerk.

"May it please your honor, Thomas O'Connell says he can't cry today, his wife died last night."

"To which the clerk replied: 'May it please your honor, Thomas O'Connell says he can't cry today, his wife died last night.'"
