IS CERTAIN VILLA DEAD AND EXPECTS TO FIND HIS BODY

Colonel Carlos Carranza Wires Confirmation of Bandit's End and Says He Hopes to Locate Remains in a Few Days.

TELEGRAM LAID BEFORE MEETING OF LEADERS HELD AT EL PASO

Obregon Insistent on Withdrawal of Troops, but is Warned if This is Continued the Conference Will End in a Deadlock.

(By Associated Press.)

El Paso, April 29.—A telegram received by the Mexican Consul Garcia tonight from Colonel Carlos Carranza, purporting to confirm the reported death of Villa, is understood to have been laid before the Scott-Funston-Obregon conference, which begun here at five o'clock today. The telegram, which came from Ousihuiriac, said that while Colonel Carranza has been unable to find Villa's body he established beyond a doubt that the bandit leader is dead and hoped to recover the body in a few days.

The initial meeting of the Scott-Funston-Obregon conference lasted two hours, and while details are carefully guarded two conflicting propositions developed during the session, which is being held in the Mexican custom house in Jurez.

It is understood Obregon reiterated Carranza's request that American troops be withdrawn at an early date. It is understood that he was informed that the American representatives told the Mexicans that they are not empowered to discuss the withdrawal and if this is insisted upon the conference would get in a deadlock. Obregon, then, is said to have expressed his willingness to meet Americans "half way."

While the instructions of Secretary Baker to Scott are kept secret, it is known the following general conditions are insisted upon by the United States: Extension of American lines into Mexico at least as far as Casas Grandes; relegation to American military duty of policing this northern zone; co-operation in handling the supplies of American troops and granting the use of Mexican railroads to American forces.

END LARGE FORCE TO HEAD BANDITS SAID TO HAVE CROSSED BORDER.

(By Associated Press.)

San Antonio, Texas, April 29.—Major O. B. Myers of the Fourteenth cavalry at Marfa, Texas, notified headquarters tonight that he had sent a strong detachment to Lajitas, Texas, to investigate the crossing at that point of a force of Villa bandits. Unconfirmed reports said that five hundred bandits had occupied without opposition twenty miles of American territory in the Lajitas district.

HON. GEO. M. REID TELLS REPORTER HE WON'T BE IN THE RACE THIS TIME

An interesting visitor to the city Saturday was Hon. Geo. M. Reid of Piedmont, who spent the day here on business. Mr. Reid, as usual, was in a jolly good humor, but not inclined to discuss politics, further than to say that he would not offer for reelection to the house of representatives.

"No," said Mr. Reid, "while I appreciate fully the assurance of support from friends all over the county, and feel confident that I could be re-elected, and all that, I think that I will stay at home this time. I have talked the thing over with my wife and she has advised me that she would have to worry along somehow or other without my services as a law maker, for the next two years anyway."

Mr. Reid was a most conscientious representative, always at his post, and alert in the interests of his constituents, and the news that he will not again offer for reelection will be received with regret by his friends all over the county.

He said the greater portion of the Irish people were displaying loyalty, and the damage from the outbreak is small, when preparations for it are taken into consideration.

UNITED STATES HANDS OFF IN IRISH TROUBLE

NO STEPS TAKEN TO PROBE ACTIVITIES AMERICAN SYMPATHIZER

NEUTRAL ACTIONS

United States States Not Responsible For Money Being Sent Sinn Fein Society.

POSTOFFICE BURNED.

(By Associated Press.) London, April 29.—Field Marshall French, commander of home forces, announced tonight that the postoffice in Dublin, principal stronghold of the Sinn Feiners, had been burned down and James Connolly, head of the Sinn Fein society reported killed. The revolt is on the verge of collapse.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, April 29.—Department of justice officials said tonight that no steps had been taken to investigate alleged activities of sympathizers in United States with revolt in Ireland. The only information of activities of such sympathizers, officials said, were newspaper reports and statement of John Redmond that movement had been abetted by persons in United States. Sending money from the United States to the Sinn Fein society, it is pointed out, is not a violation of American neutrality. Even the shipment of arms to Sinn Feiners would not alone be a violation.

Baron Wimborne admitted that rebels attacked Dublin Castle on Monday the same day they seized the postoffice and St. Stephens Green. He said that by Tuesday morning troops had arrived in city from Curragh and after that rebels attempted nothing but sniping. At present he said they have barricaded Sackville street and are in possession of houses there. Encounters took place in counties Wexford, Meath, Lough, but on the whole Ireland is quiet. This, he said, applied to Limerick, Kerry, Clare, Kilkenny, Mayo, Sligo, Tipperary, Leitrim, Kildare, Roscommon and all of Ulster.

Oil Field Development. Vienna, April 29.—The oil fields of Galicia are to acquire a new importance in the near future through the construction of an important pipeline, which will save much railway transportation in bringing the oil to market. The line extends eastwardly from the Drohobiz-Barysaw field to Chyrov, which lies on the main line of railway from Przemyel to Budapest. It is forty miles long and has been built entirely by the Austro-Hungarian military authorities since the Russians were driven out of Galicia. The laying of the pipe has recently been completed and it will soon be put into operation. The line will be used exclusively for refined oil, and it has a capacity of about 75,000 barrels a day.

REPORT PICTURES THE GEORGIA SANITARIUM AS FRIGHTFUL PLACE

Atlanta, Ga., April 29.—That the buildings of the Georgia State Sanitarium are totally inadequate to accommodate the inmates, and are so overcrowded that the death rate has been increased and it is impossible to properly treat curable diseases; that large number of perfectly sane people are imposed upon by the institution, and that criminals, even murderers, are housed with innocent people because there is no other place for them, are some of the startling revelations made in the annual report of the trustees of the sanitarium which has just been made to the governor.

While the report is a plain statement of facts, it presents such a deplorable condition at the sanitarium that the governor will probably call the special attention of the legislature to it in his annual message. There were 105 persons sent to the sanitarium, the report states, who were found to be sane when they arrived, and this may have been due, it is suggested, to the laxness in lunacy tests. The number of patients in the sanitarium at the close of the year was 3,047, or 292 more than at the close of the previous year. The new patients received during the year numbered 1,582, or 256 more than in 1914. The number of patients receiving treatment numbered 5,338, or 335 more than in 1914. The average daily number was 3,812, or 116 more than in 1914.

KUT'S CAPTURE MARKS END MEMORABLE SEIGE

London, April 29.—After a siege of one hundred and forty-three days, General Townshend has surrendered his force of about ten thousand men at Kut el Amara, one hundred and thirty miles below Bagdad on the Tigris river, bringing to an end another phase of the ill-fated British campaign in Mesopotamia. This campaign had for its end the capture of Bagdad, and to divert Turkish troops from Gallipoli. When all most on the point of succeeding last December, the British effort broke down at Ctesiphon, eighteen miles south of Bagdad. Here the Turks defeated the British, forcing them to retreat to Kut, where they were besieged. The surrender came only after all effort to relieve the beleaguered force had failed.

ARE HOPELESSLY APART ON BILL TO REVISE ARMY

CONFEREES REACH A DEADLOCK AFTER THREE DAYS CONFERENCE

ASK INSTRUCTIONS

Measure Now Goes Back to Congress and Later Be Passed on.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, April 29.—After three days of consideration of the army reorganization bill the conferees reached a deadlock tonight. It was intimated that they will report a disagreement and ask for further instructions. One member of the conference, declared: "Hopelessly apart" on the size of regular army, senate proposals for federal volunteer force and nitrate plant. He said congress will be asked shortly to pass again on these features.

The senate conferees are understood to be standing for the senate proposal of a regular army of 300,000 and fifty thousand and Representative Kahn of the house conferees agrees with them. Representatives Hay and Dent, however, insist on the house proposal of an army of one hundred and forty thousand.

ASA G. CANDLER, NOTED MILLIONAIRE LED INTO DANCE DESPITE PROTEST

Atlanta, Ga., April 29.—Asa G. Candler, the Atlanta millionaire who gave one million dollars to Emory University and bought the state of Georgia's entire bond issue of three million and five hundred thousand at a higher price than all the bankers of New York, Atlanta and other financial centers offered, is a supporter of grand opera in Atlanta, as of all other enterprises, and he enjoys the music and singing immensely, but he got a taste of grand opera of the off-stage variety this week that was almost too much for him.

At a brilliant reception given by the Druid Hills Golf club to the opera stars Mile Rostan Gall, the petite and beautiful premiere danseuse of the Metropolitan Ballet, was giving some entrancing steps from the virtuoso ballets of the repertoire last week, and was likewise demonstrating her familiarity with the popular society dances in vogue in the ball rooms of America and Europe. In the midst of an especially exhilarating and enjoyable dance Mile Gall passed the corner where Mr. Candler, with some other gentlemen about his age, were quietly observing the couples on the floor, and something in the benevolent face and kindly eyes of "The First Citizen of Atlanta" seemed to attract the little Russian woman's attention.

In the midst of her dance she deserted her partner, a young swain of Atlanta society who is more about of the dancing than of anything else on earth, and went over to Mr. Candler and invited him to dance with her. Mr. Candler blushed and thanked her for the compliment but declined on the ground that he is no dancer. "Oh, that makes no difference," exclaimed Mile Gall in her delightful English, "come with me and I will teach you."

Holds a Souvenir.

Paris, April 29.—As a perpetual souvenir of his last visit of the Zepplins to Paris, the hole pierced through the vault of the Metropolitan subway on the Boulevard Montholon that is to be left open and bricked up to serve as a ventilator.
