1,400 Men Will Be Added to Funston's Command all told—Feeling of Uneasiness Spreads At Capital—Attack On Pershing's Expedition Feared

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, June 12.—Secretary Baker announced today that one thousand additional coast artillerymen and battalions from Washington had been ordered to the Mexico border. In all about fourteen hundred will be added to Funston's command. Secretary Baker said the additional troops would be used to strengthen the guard along the American side.

The ordering of new troops to the border is coincident with continuing reports of the rapid spread of the anti-American uprising in Mexico. Tonight administration officials made no attempt to conceal their uneasiness. There is a growing alarm that the agitation may produce an attack on General Pershing's expedition. Part of the apprehension is due to the renewed raids in the Laredo region.

It was stated officially that new troops would be ordered to the Laredo section to increase the border patrol there. Several reports dealing with the situation at Laredo have been received. One said three raiders were killed and three captured when they were trying to burn a railroad bridge.

Secretary Lansing is still at work on his reply to the Carranza note demanding the withdrawal of American troops, and it is indicated that the reply will not be sent for ten days.

Laredo, Texas, June 12.—One of the three Mexican bandits killed today in the chase of outlaws who raided Coleman ranch, northwest of Laredo, last night, wore a Carranza uniform and was identified as Webb, Texas, tonight by one of the bandits captured as Lieutenant Colonel Villareal, of the Carranza army. The Mexicans were surprised trying to burn a railroad bridge near Webb. A sheriff's posse and bandits fought desperately, the latter making no attempt to escape until the leader and two others were killed. Captain Bell, with a detachment of the fourteenth cavalry, is scouring this section.

RECRUITING OFFICES ON WHEELS INNOVATION

Marines Will Go Into Country for Naval Timber

Washington, June 12.—To reach virgin recruiting fields off railroad lines, the United States Marine corps has put in operation three combination freight and passenger automobiles fitted up as virtual rolling recruiting offices to strike into interior sections where the "soldiers of the sea" are but little known and the opportunities their services offers to enlisted men, less understood.

These recruiting offices on wheels will first operate from San Francisco, Atlanta, and Boston, but if the experiments made are successful, the idea may be extended to other sections of the country.

The ranks of the marine corps have been kept to overflowing for more than three years, but a congress is expected to increase the strength by three thousand men, the automobile innovation has been worked out in line with the corps' brilliant reputation for preparedness in all things.

'STEAM ROLLER' METHODS MAY BE TRIED ON MARSHALL

MOVE TO DEFEAT VICE-PRESIDENT SET GOING AT ST. LOUIS—MACK REFERS TO TALK OF OPPOSITION AS 'SILLY AND ABSURD'

(By Associated Press.)
St. Louis, June 12.—Seven hundred and fifty-four of the 1092 delegates to the democratic convention, or more than the two-thirds necessary for nomination, came either instructed or pledged, according to official compilation issued today. There is no doubt, however, that their votes are for President Wilson.

A move to defeat Vice President Marshall for the nomination took form today when Henry Morgenthau, who recently resigned as ambassador to Turkey, announced that a "stronger man" than Marshall should be nominated. He brought forward the name of Secretary Baker. National Chairman McCombs admitted he had received a letter from Jacob Schiff, New York banker, saying a stronger man should be nominated. However, McCombs said there would be "no hitch" in the plan to rename the democratic ticket. National committeeman Mack of New York, said the talk of upsetting the plan to name Wilson and Marshall is "silly and absurd."

It was learned that Bryan might not after all precipitate a fight before the resolutions committee and it was said definitely he would make no effort to obtain a proxy that would seat him on the convention floor.

WILSON SENDS ADVISER AHEAD

Baker Goes to St. Louis as Personal Representative of the President

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, June 12.—Secretary Baker left tonight for St. Louis as President Wilson's personal representative. Before he left he declared that Marshall would be nominated vice president and the use of his own name in connection with the candidacy was a bit of "friendly enterprise." Baker took with him President Wilson's draft of his platform and other political suggestions for the convention. President Wilson went to New York tonight and goes from there to West Point tomorrow on the Mayflower to address the West Point commencement.

REPUBLICANS ARE SANGUINE

Anderson Man Talked Very Interestingly About Big Affair When Interviewed Last Evening

Mr. Ernest F. Cochrane, delegate from the third district in South Carolina to the National Republican convention which has just come to a close in Chicago, returned to the city yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. During the evening he was interviewed by a representative of The Intelligencer and spoke very interestingly of the convention.

"It was one of the most interesting conventions I have ever attended," stated Mr. Cochrane. "A disappointing feature was the weather which was perfectly awful. The wind from the lake blew up a gale and the rain fell in torrents. Not until Friday afternoon did the sun pierce through the clouds, and this lasted only for about ten minutes. This happened while Governor Wilson of Ohio was making the nominating speech for Senator Burton and he took advantage of the sun to exclaim that the sun was coming out for the party and that everything was going to turn out right."

"One of the most noticeable things of the convention was the lack of enthusiasm for Roosevelt. There were probably something over 100 delegates who were in favor of him but there were about 100 or 200 who were against him. A surprising thing to me was the applause that came when Taft's name was spoken in the convention."

Hughes was favored.

"It became apparent on the second day that Hughes would be nominated, or at least it seemed that way to me. There was a contrary feeling among the delegates toward the nomination of a nominee who would be favored by the progressives and there was a band sympathy between the two conventions, but they did not materialize in the way that many thought it would.

"On Friday the convention adjourned about 9 o'clock p. m., after it had been in session since 11 o'clock a. m. Two ballots had been taken but no one had been selected. The next day it was said that the allies tried until 1 o'clock Saturday morning to unite on a candidate but found that they could not. The Illinois delegation, about so strong, was the only to support Hughes."

"It was apparent before the convention was called to order on Saturday morning that Hughes would be nominated."

Mr. Cochrane then gave the vote of the South Carolina delegation on the three ballots as follows: First, Hughes, 2; Weeks, 2; Root, 1; Burton, 2; Fairbanks, 2; Roosevelt, 1; Second, Hughes, 4; Weeks, 3; Burton, 1; Fairbanks, 3; Third, Hughes, 6; Du Pont, 5.

Progressives Disappointed.

"From what I could gather from talking with other delegates, it seems that the progressives are somewhat disappointed because of Roosevelt's attitude since his nomination," continued Mr. Cochrane. "They realize that by his action their party will lose out. The majority of them will go back to the republican party."

Woman Suffrage.

"The most interesting feature of the entire affair to me was the woman suffrage phase of the convention. I was on the committee on resolutions and heard all the speeches of the three different delegations of women which appeared before us. The speeches of the women impressed me very much and they showed that they knew how to get what they wanted. About four from each delegation made speeches."

"My first proposition to appear before the committee was the one which favored a declaration in favor of woman suffrage for the party and was led by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt."

The second declaration of Henry was one desiring a plank in the platform favoring the extension of suffrage by constitutional action, by a constitutional amendment, not by a party plank, all the states. This was led by Mrs. Chapman. This in the beginning of the convention was a declaration of war, which had formerly been in New York and which had moved to Kansas, an endorsement of the party.

Delays in Exams Due to Administration—France and British Prepare Reply

(By Associated Press.)
London, June 12.—Delays in the examination of mails, due to faults in the administration, have been corrected according to the British foreign office, which is working with the French government on a reply to the American note. The foreign office feels that the chief American complaint is due to the application of principle involved rather than any divergence of opinion as to the right of the allies to examine the mails.

Minor Consideration

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, June 12.—It is indicated that the British notification that England is prepared to expedite the mail search could be accepted as only a minor consideration and not affecting the question of the right of seizure over which the countries disagreed. Intimations reached the State department that Great Britain would not accede to the American position that the allies had exceeded their rights in extending their censorship outside territorial waters.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT OUT OF POLITICS

Tells Reporter He Positively Has Nothing to Say

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 2.—Theodore Roosevelt reiterated last night that he is "out of politics."

"I want to tell you newspaper men," he said, "that it's of no use for you to come up here to see me. I will answer no questions, please don't ask me to. I am out of politics."

If the former president has any plans for the immediate future other than to continue his literary work, he has not made them public. His secretary John W. McGrath, is expected to arrive here tomorrow from Chicago with a detailed report of the happenings at both the republican and progressive conventions.

STONE WANTS TO KNOW IF ROOSEVELT WILL LEAVE SUPPORTERS VICTIMS OF "MOST PITIFUL AND TRAGIC BETRAYAL COUNTRY HAS EVER KNOWN."

(By Associated Press.)
St. Louis, June 12.—Senator Stone, who is chairman of the resolutions committee, issued a statement today calling the republican platform a "remarkable fulmination" with one-half of the legislation it demanded already enacted and the other half being worked out by the democratic party. Stone said Hughes is a man of ability and character, but regarded his descent from the supreme bench to take the republican nomination full of menace and danger.

"Hereafter," he said, "it is more than probable that men appointed to the supreme court will begin to regard that position not as a stepping stone, as Hughes does, to political advancement. In this view, it will follow the decisions of judges will become more or less subject of suspicion."

Stone said that while the progressive platform said its issue was one of men and not of words, Roosevelt "sulked in his tent at Oyster Bay." He asked the question whether Roosevelt would respond or leave his supporters victims of the "most pitiful and tragic betrayal ever recorded in American history."
