UNCLE SAM FIVE TIMES IN MEXICO

When Stars and Stripes Entered Southern Neighbor Before.

SCOTT'S TAKING OF CAPITAL

Texas' Fight For Independence Which Led to Massacre at the Alamo—No Mexican Has Provoked Us More Than Has Bandit Ridden Republic—Near War When Austria Ruled Mexico.

Once again as the United States celebrated Flag day Old Glory waved on foreign soil. Down in Mexico the stars and stripes are flying over camps of American troops.

For the fifth time in history the American nation is engaged in a dispute with her obstreperous southern neighbor. No other nation on the face of the globe has harassed our feelings as provokingly and as persistently as Mexico. And the end is not yet.

Tracing the beginning of the trouble takes us back to the early days of Texas. In 1820 Texas was a Mexican province. The territory was originally included in the Louisiana purchase, but had been ceded to Spain in 1810 in the treaty which gave Florida to the United States.

Among the emigrants who flocked to Texas in response to land inducements was a band of Connecticut Yankees under the leadership of Moses Austin, who rode into San Antonio in the fall of 1820 and coolly requested a grant of land for a colony of Americans. His request was granted.

Slowly the colony grew. By 1835 15,000 Americans had drifted into it across the border. By virtue of their industry they accumulated power and incidentally aroused the jealousy of Mexican officials. This jealousy centered in Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna. One of his first acts was to send an army into Texas to overawe the settlers.

The Alamo Massacre.
The Alamo is a name that has become a watchword of lovers of liberty the world over. Here in the stronghold of San Antonio 180 Texans took their stand against 4,000 Mexicans and fought till they died, and died to a man.

"Remember the Alamo!" became the slogan of the Texans. Under the leadership of Sam Houston they met the Mexicans a few days later on the immortal field of San Jacinto and gave them the worst thrashing that any army ever received on a battlefield.

The next time Americans carried a flag into this region was in 1846, when the Mexican war began. This was over the Texas boundary. Our flag was flown in the Mexican breeze for two years, and during the entire time our troops won every pitched battle in which they engaged. General Winfield Scott marched into the enemy's country and wrested stronghold after stronghold from the hands of greatly superior forces. Scott then went to Vera Cruz, capturing that city and working his way to the very capital itself, where he raised the American flag to the breeze.

Meanwhile, General Taylor was sweeping into Mexico. Matamoros was taken, Monterrey followed; then came Buena Vista with its overwhelming victory.

Soon after the beginning of our civil war France sent troops into Mexico to overthrow the government and establish an empire. Archduke Maximilian, brother of Franz Joseph, the present emperor of Austria, was to reign at its head. President Juarez, the full blooded Indian patriot, was ordered treated as a bandit.

Maximilian Deserted.
Our government refused to recognize the empire so long as it was supported by France. In July, 1860, it emphasized its disapproval by massing troops on the border in Texas. Napoleon III, with a few troops from Vera Cruz, leaving Maximilian to his fate.

From that date until 1914—comparative recent history—all went well between the United States and Mexico. After Diaz came Madero. Madero's power was soon weakened. Victoriano Huerta came upon the scene. His career as president of Mexico was marked by the murder of his predecessor, Madero.

Now comes the memorable incident of April 9, 1914, an insult to this nation's flag.
The United States government upon being informed of the Tampico incident demanded an apology of Huerta in the shape of a salute to the flag that had been so unjustly harassed. But the salute was not forthcoming. Then away went the battleships to Vera Cruz.

Following the occupation of Vera Cruz active preparations for mobilizing the army were begun. General Frederick Funston was sent, with a portion of the army for a march to the City of Mexico. But the stream of events were turned in their course. A proposition came from the U. S. D. E. powers of South America, proposed principally at the instance of Argentina, Brazil and Chile, to allow them to mediate and settle the difficulty. This was agreed upon. The troops were withdrawn from Mexican territory and the battleships from Mexican waters. The dispute history was shut up to the past with an Texas treaty.

Farmer, who will remain here until Saturday. It is not known how long Capt. ## OPERA SINGER MAKES RECORD MOTOR TRIP—OMAHA TO NEW YORK IN EIGHT DAYS

From Omaha, Nebraska to New York City in eight days—probably the fastest automobile run on record for a woman—was made by Miss Lillian Stanley, a Metropolitan Opera Singer of New York, the report of the trip reaching D. P. Sloan and Son., Inc., local Crow Elk-Hart representatives today.

Miss Stanley left Omaha Sunday morning and arrived in Detroit in four days. Four days later she was in New York City. All the difficulty she had was summed up in a single puncture.

The car she drove was a beautiful Crow Elk-Hart Clover-Leaf roadster which she drives like a veteran.

One of the startling facts about her trip was that Miss Stanley had never run a gasoline car before she bought the Crow Elk-Hart, several months prior to her trip. She was the sole operator of the car on the trip.

Her car is a 35 horsepower machine of handsome lines. On the trip it was very economical in its use of gasoline and oil. This was a surprise to Miss Stanley, who had known something of higher priced cars, and whose route took her through some of the worse roads in the middle west. She enjoyed the similar trip to the city very much. She enjoyed the trip immensely and expects to make a similar trip again this summer. Miss Stanley declared that every woman ought to at some time during the year take a motor trip for its recreation benefits. She makes the statement that the fresh air and the exercise of driving is a wonderful energizer.

PATRIOTISM

A spirit of patriotism has been the predominating and exalting virtue of the American people since the eventful day that the Mayflower landed at Plymouth Rock.

And was he unto any nation that dare take liberties with our honor because the same spirit lives and burns today in our hearts just as it did in the breasts of those sturdy pioneers.

Another form of patriotism can be applied to business methods—that of giving honest values—for the merchant who does not, can be neither a good patriot, a good citizen or a good merchant.

We invite you to examine the values quoted below.
