PRES'T WILSON TELLS CROWD HE'S IN A MOOD TO FIGHT

PROLONGED CHEERS AT PHILADELPHIA WHEN PRESIDENT DECLARES AMERICA HIS FIRST AND PRINCIPLES OF LIBERTY MUST BE VINDICATED.

(By Associated Press.) Philadelphia, June 29.—President Wilson, describing himself in a fighting mood in addressing a large crowd in Independence Square today, declared that America, in dealing with other nations, must "vindicate at whatever cost" its principles of liberty, justice and humanity. "America is first," he said, "and must be translated into action above all selfish interests and the nation's policy must be guided by the whole people and not by a small group. This crowd cheered the president, especially in his 'fighting' sentence. At no time did he mention Mexico directly. He said:

"America has a right to demand that other nations treat her with justice and respect, but she cannot with dignity or self-respect insist upon that unless she is willing to act in the same fashion toward them. That I am ready to fight for at any cost."

His statement that "America first means nothing unless you translate it into what you do," brought prolonged applause. He officially addressed the Associated Advertising clubs of the world.

GEORGIA WOULD STOP LYNCHING

Legislature to Give This Special Attention.

Atlanta, Ga., June 29.—That the general assembly of Georgia which convened yesterday in Atlanta will devote serious consideration to legislation intended to put a stop to lynching is evidenced by the fact that a number of prominent members of the house and senate have prepared bills on the subject, which they will introduce early in the session.

Among them is a bill to be introduced by Representative H. J. Fullbright of Burke county, who would make the sheriff directly responsible for lynchings and who would impose upon them the penalty of removal from office for letting lynchings occur.

The bill provides that where a prisoner is taken from a sheriff or his deputy or deputies and lynched by a mob, the sheriff shall automatically vacate his office.

Should the fugitive be taken by a mob and lynched before a warrant has been served upon him, the governor is authorized to displace the sheriff if it is shown that the sheriff gave the mob any hint of the fugitive's whereabouts.

Should a prisoner be taken from one county to another and lynched by a mob, the governor is empowered to remove the sheriff in the county where the lynching occurs.

THINK CARRANZA TO BACK TREVINO

Washington Understands Mexican Ruler Will Support Orders to Americans to Move Only Toward Border - Await Reply to Note

Washington, June 29.—A full comprehension by Carranza with the United States demands are still awaited here. While the release today of Americans taken at Carrizal averted the probability of retaliatory steps, both officials made it clear that the future attitude of Carranza toward American troops in Mexico remains to be settled. The state department had no advice tonight as to when a diplomatic reply to its demands might be expected. Although Carranza's experts are understood to have made up their minds to issue orders to Carranza's troops to move only toward the border, they are awaiting a reply from the state department. Carranza's resignation will be free from hostile language and containing the discussion of the advisability of withdrawing troops.

Secretary Lathrop made it clear to Assistant Secretary of State, today that a pending formal reply from Carranza to the offer of mediation will be accepted. The position of the United States is that Carranza should be allowed to withdraw his troops from Mexico and that the United States should be allowed to withdraw its troops from Mexico. Carranza's resignation will be free from hostile language and containing the discussion of the advisability of withdrawing troops.

Georgia Guard May Go to Vera Cruz

Ships Reported to Be Ready at Brunswick

Atlanta, Ga., June 29.—Will the National Guard regiments of the state of Georgia, now mobilized at Camp Harris at Macon, be dispatched to Vera Cruz in the event of a declaration of war?

It is reported in Atlanta on excellent authority that a United States transport ship is now anchored in the harbor of Brunswick, Ga., awaiting an order from the war department that will carry the Georgia Guard to the famous Mexican port the moment hostilities start.

Members of the Georgia legislature from Glynn county are authority for the statement that the transport arrived in Brunswick harbor the day before they left for Atlanta, and they further declare that the mission of the ship is to take the guard from this state to Vera Cruz.

Should the war department be planning to dispatch National Guard units to the port where the machines landed in the famous flag incident, it probably means that a quick drive to Mexico City is contemplated by the general staff in the event of a declaration of war.

A. The office of Adjutant General Nathan is stated that they have received no information from Washington as to where the Georgia Guard will be sent.

Negro Troopers Tell of Carrizal Battle Upon Arrival at Border—Story Conflicts With Spillbury's Statement that Capt. Responsible.

(By Associated Press.) El Paso, June 29.—Negro troopers told a story conflicting with Spillbury's statement that Captain Boyd's obstinacy was responsible for the attack made on Americans. Troopers blamed the Mexicans for starting the fight. They refused to give details, saying they must first report to commanding officers. Captain Lewis Morey of Troop K, arrived at Ft. Bliss hospital for the treatment of wounds early today. Fifteen of the troopers are members of his command. Spillbury denied he was covered into giving his original statement to General Trevino. When asked directly who was responsible for the Carrizal fight, he said, "I am partly prepared to answer that question. If Boyd had orders to go through Carrizal to Villa Ahuacada, he demonstrated that he was a brave man. If he did not have orders to go to Villa Ahuacada, he behaved very foolishly." Spillbury said he did not know who had the first shot, but Captain Boyd told him men got in first and fired on as he gave the order to advance.
