

IMPORTANT TO CANDIDATES.

Must Keep Itemized Account of all Campaign Expenses.

At the session of the legislature in 1905 an act was passed making certain offences in primary elections misdemeanors and prescribing a form of pledge to be taken and filed by every candidate before offering for election. The act was of no special interest last year, as no primary election was held. But in the election this summer for the State and some of the county offices all candidates will have to abide by the provisions of the act.

Among other requirements every candidate, immediately after the election, must file an itemized statement under oath showing all money spent during the election. In at least one county the filing of such a statement has been required before, but only according to the rule of the county executive committee, but it was incorporated into the State law at the 1905 session of the legislature.

The provisions of the act will be of interest not only to prospective candidates, but to the people generally, and is given in full as follows:

An action making certain offences in primary elections misdemeanors and prescribing penalty therefor.

Section 1.—Be it enacted by the general assembly of the State of South Carolina, at or before every political primary election held by any political party, organization or association, for the purpose of choosing candidates for office or the election of delegates to conventions, in this State, any person who shall by threats or other form of intimidation, or by the payment, delivery or promise of money, or other article of value, procure, or offer, promise or endeavor to procure, another to vote for or against any particular candidate in such consideration offer to so vote, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Section 2. Every candidate offering for election, under the provisions of Section 1, shall make the following pledge and file the same with the clerk of court of common pleas for the county in which he is a candidate, unless he should be a candidate in more than one county, in which case he shall file with the secretary of State, before he shall enter upon his campaign, to wit:

I, the undersigned, of the county of _____ and State of South Carolina, candidate for the office of _____ hereby pledge that I will not give nor spend money or use intoxicating liquors for the purpose of obtaining or influencing votes, and that I shall at the conclusion of the campaign and before the primary election, render to the clerk of court (or secretary of State, as hereinbefore provided) under oath an itemized statement of all money spent or provided by me during the campaign for purposes up to that time and I further pledge that I will immediately after the primary elections or election that I am a candidate in render an itemized statement, under oath, showing all further moneys spent or provided by me in said election. Provided, that a failure to comply with this provision shall render such election null and void, in so far as the candidate who fails to file the statement herein required, but shall not affect the validity of the election of any candidate complying with this section.

Section 3. That any violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be a misdemeanor, and any person, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $500, or be imprisoned at hard labor for not less than one month nor more than six months, or both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Approved the 6th day of March, A. D. 1906.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Grayville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong to-day. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest Cough and Cold cure and Throat and Lung healer. Guaranteed by McMaster Co. and Jno. H. McMaster & Co., druggists. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

MARRIED IN RICHMOND.

A Young South Carolinian Wins Virginia Bride.

The following from the Richmond (Va.) Evening Journal will be of interest, the groom in the marriage described having numbers of friends and relatives in Columbia and the state:

A beautiful home wedding celebrated last evening at 9 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Carter Camp, of 2522 Grove avenue, was witnessed in the marriage of Miss Helen Elizabeth Camp to the Rev. Carl Stanley Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Matthews, of Winnsboro, S. C.

The Rev. Dr. F. T. McFaden, of the First Presbyterian church, this city, officiated.

The house was decorated with palms, ferns and sweet peas. The maid of honor was Miss Louise Camp, and the best man the Rev. W. H. Stuart. Other attendants included the bridesmaids—Miss Lillie Camp, of Alabama, and Miss Gertrude Clarke, of Richmond—and the groomsmen—the Rev. H. M. Moffatt, of Horton, W. Va., and Dr. Phillips, of Rapidan.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white crepe de chine, with a berthe of rose point lace. Her veil was caught with white sweet peas and she carried a shower of the same blossoms.

The maid of honor and the bridesmaids wore pink point d'esprit over pink silk, and had bouquets of pink sweet peas.

At the close of the ceremony a reception was tendered the bridal party. Then Mr. and Mrs. Matthews left for a southern tour, from which they will return to Rapidan, Va., where Mr. Matthews has a charge.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Dr. Phillips, of Rapidan; Mr. and Mrs. William Williams, of Orange; Mr. Stuart Bresse, of Rapidan; Miss Young, of Alabama; Mrs. Young, of Staunton; and Mrs. M. D. Eastwood, of Portsmouth, Va.

Ripeness in Character.

One mark is beauty. Ripe fruit has its own perfect beauty. As the fruit ripens, the sun tints it with surpassing loveliness, and the colors deepen till the beauty of the fruit is equal to the beauty of the blossom, and in some respects superior. There is in Christians the beauty of realized sanctification, which the word of God knows by the name of "beauty of holiness." Another mark of ripe fruit is tenderness. The young, green fruit is hard and stonelike.

Another mark of ripeness is sweetness. The unripe fruit is sour. As we grow in grace we are sure to grow in charity, sympathy and love. We shall, as we ripen in grace, have greater sweetness toward others.

Those who are quick to censure may be very acute in judgment, but they are as yet immature in heart. But when our virtues become more mature, I trust we shall be more tolerant of infirmity, more hopeful for the people of God, and certainly less arrogant in our criticisms.

Another and very sure mark of ripeness is a loose hold of earth. Ripe fruit easily parts from the stem.—Spurgeon.

It Is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

How often do we hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such ever slight, scarcely not to be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cure of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by Obeas Drug Co. and all medicine dealers.

"No truer words were ever spoken than these, 'A fool and his money are soon parted,'" said the lecturer. "Sure thing," piped a voice from the rear of the hall. "We all gave up fifty cents apiece to get in here."—Yonkers Statesman.

THEY SKINNED THE HOG.

Mr. Gilbert Tells of How He and a Comrade Secured Meat to Supplement Their Corn Rations.

It was during the winter campaign in East Tennessee in 1862-63 and our regiment (the old 6th) was on the march from Knoxville, Tenn., to Richmond, Va. We had gone into winter quarters at Morristown. Rations were very scarce during this winter; also clothing. For some time our ration was one ear of corn per day to the man. This we prepared for eating by shelling it into an oven and pounding it into a coarse hominy, for we were too hungry to take up much time in its preparation. I recall one snowy day, while in these winter quarters, when the snow was knee deep on the ground and the men had absolutely nothing to eat in their haversacks, one of my comrades (William R. Garrison) and myself went up into the mountains in search of food, or as we then expressed it, "we went foraging." We were both in bad plight for marching over the rough mountains covered with ice and snow, our feet being tied up with rags to hold our worn-out shoes together and keep our feet from freezing. We hunted a long time and could find no animal or meat for a distance of more than five miles. At last in joyful surprise we came across a sow and four nice shoats. They were near the owner's house, but some "old reb" must have been after them before, for just as they spied us the shoats began to "buff, buff," and made for the house; but the old sow was not so shy, or too poor and weak to run. We thought it "a cack or nothing," and we soon had her skin off—this was our way of cleaning a hog. She was so poor that you could almost see through the meat. We divided her equally and each taking a half set out for camp, where we arrived about sundown, hungry and worn out, but proud of our success.

Somebody's Jottings.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Suber have been visiting her parents.

Mrs. E. J. McMeekin and her little adopted son have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wallace.

Mrs. P. M. H. Holley has returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. R. C. Bland, at Mayesville. Mrs. Bland accompanied her mother as far as Alston, going on to the mountains.

There was an ice cream festival at Rev. and Mrs. Freeman's last Friday evening, given for the benefit of the San Francisco sufferers. Quite a nice little sum was realized.

Misses Queenie and Bettie Swygert attended the commencement at Newberry this week.

Mr. Joe Davis arrived home from Wofford last Friday.

Miss May Roberts is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. A. Mayer, of Peak.

Mr. W. T. Glenn, who has been the agent at Chappell's for quite a while, has resigned and is now drumming.

Mrs. E. A. Fowler has been quite sick at her home near Alston for some time. We hope for her a speedy recovery. Y. June 15, 1906.

What a Master Painter Says.

East Radford, Va. Messrs. Hirsberg, Hollander & Co.

Gentlemen—The "Stag Brand" is giving me entire satisfaction. I think it the best all around paint I ever used.

Respectfully, B. W. Payne.

One trial will convince you that Stag Semi-Paste Paint contains a combination of merits unequalled by any other brand on the market. Made from pure material and by improved process—it is the best that money and experience can produce.

The Roads of Fairfield County or the Calif-Path.

One day through the primeval wood, A calf walkt home, as good calves should; But made a trail all bent askew, A crooked trail, as all calves do. Since then two hundred years have fled, And, I infer, the calf is dead. But still he left behind his trail, And thereby hangs a moral tale. The trail was taken up next day By a lone dog that passed that way, And then the wise bell-wether sheep Pursued the trail o'er vale and steep And drew the flock behind him, too, As good bell-wethers always do. And from that day, o'er hill and glade, Through those old woods a path was made, And many men wound in and out, And turned and dodged and bent about, And uttered words of righteous wrath Because 'twas such a crooked path; But still they followed—do not laugh—

The first migration of the calf, And through this winding wood-way stalkt Because he wobbled when he walkt. This forest path became a lane, And bent and turned and turned again; This crooked lane became a road, Where many a poor horse, with his load, Toiled on beneath the burning sun, And traveled some three miles in one.

And thus a century and a half They trod the footsteps of that calf. The years passed on swift as fleet, The road became a village street, And this, before the men were aware, A city's crowded thoroughfare, And soon the central street was this

Of a renowned metropolis. And men two centuries and a half Trod in the footsteps of that calf; Each day a hundred thousand rout Followed the zigzag calf about; And o'er this crooked journey went The traffic of a continent. A hundred thousand men were led By a calf near three centuries dead. They followed still his crooked way And lost one hundred years a day; For thus such reverence is lent To well-established precedent. A moral lesson this might teach Were I ordained and called to preach.

For men are prone to go it blind Along the calf-paths of the mind, And work away from sun to sun And do what other men have done. They follow in the beaten track, And out and in, and forth and back, And still their devious course pursue, To keep the path that others do. But how the wise wood-gods must laugh, Who saw the first primeval calf; And many things this tale might teach— But I am not ordained to preach. —Sam Walter Foss.

Postmaster Robbed.

G. W. Foutz, postmaster at Riverton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters; which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years." Sure cure for Biliousness, Neuralgia, Liver, Kidney and Bladder derangements. A wonderful Tonic. At McMaster Co.'s and Jno. H. McMaster & Co.'s drug stores. 50 cents.

The fellow who noses around to get what he buys at the cheapest price generally pays more, in the end, than his neighbor does who is willing to allow those who sell goods to make a reasonable profit. Besides, he is not looked upon as a desirable customer and is more avoided than sought after.

White Oak Notes.

Rain and grass, small cotton and flax corn are in abundance up here at this time. The oat crop is very good; the most of them have been cut and housed, but some are in the fields yet and it is feared they will be damaged by the constant rains. Gardens and melons are very promising.

The Southern is having its buildings here covered with metal and is making general improvements thereon.

Mr. J. B. Patrick is down with measles at his home.

It is hoped that Miss Julia Patrick will be able to return home in a few days. She is improving slowly.

Misses Fannie Dewitt and Della Crouch of Winnsboro were the guests of Mrs. T. H. Patrick last week.

Mr. John A. Nichols of Chester visited his brother, Mr. J. E. Nichols, recently.

Mr. A. J. Moley of Columbia visited our town a few days ago.

Mr. William Stewart doesn't seem to improve but very little, if any. He has been sorely afflicted for several months. N. June 13, 1906.

It is possible to obtain relief from chronic indigestion and dyspepsia by the use of KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA. Some of the most hopeless cases of long standing have yielded to it. It enables you to digest the food you eat and exercises a corrective influence, building up the efficiency of the digestive organs. The stomach is the boiler wherein the steam is made that keeps up your vitality, health and strength. Kodol digests what you eat. Makes the stomach sweet—put the boiler in condition to do the work nature demands of it—gives you relief from digestive disorders, and puts you in shape to do your best, and feel your best. ### The Old Man's Letter.

The old man answered the letter of the young man at college, as follows:

"Dear Billy: I got your letter, which you said was written in Greek; but I didn't read it to yer mother, as you know she is afeared o' lightnin', an' I didn't want to risk it with her, as it looked like zigzag lightnin' in print—as ef you had took a snapshot at a thunderbolt, an' it landed upside down. All that I did git the hang of wuz the postscript—where you drawd on me fer $100 in the American language. You'll oblige me, next time you write, by writin' in American, an' drawin' on me in Greek!"

Letter to J. E. McDonald.

Winnsboro, S. C.

Dear Sir: What's the penalty for selling adulterated paint in your state?

What is adulterated paint? Is clay paint? Is chalk paint? Is barytes paint? Is lime paint? Is benzine? Is water? Is soap? Is mud?

We know what is; what is not is the question. Apparently nothing is not; but we're only a paint-manufacturer, not a lawyer.

Devote is paint, all paint; and full measure; no whitewash; no nothing. We know what is; what is not is not the question.

Yours truly, F. W. Dever & Co. Jno. H. McMaster & Co. sell our paint.

Not So Dull.

John, who lived in a Pennsylvania village, was thought to be very stupid, states the Philadelphia Ledger. He was sent to a mill one day and the miller said: "John, some people say you are a fool. Now, tell me what you know, and what you don't know." "Well," replied John, "I know miller's hogs are fat."

"Yes, that's well, John. Now what don't you know?" "I don't know whose corn fats em!"—Holland's Magazine.

It pours the oil of life into your system. It warms you up and starts the life blood circulating. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain does. 35 cents, Tea or Tablet. Jno. H. McMaster & Co.

We heard on the street the other day of a man who claimed he was too poor to take his home paper, but all the same he read a notice in one of our county papers, telling how to prevent a horse from slobbering, and sent $1.50 for the receipt. When the $1.50 worth of information came it said: "Teach your horse how to spit."

A torpid, inactive liver can produce more bodily ills than almost anything else. It is good to clean the system out occasionally. Stir the liver up, and get into shape generally. The best results are derived from the use of De Witt's Little Early Risers. Reliable effective, pleasant pills with a reputation. Never grip. Sold by all druggists.
