Blythewood Briefs.

No news having been in the Herald from Blythewood recently, some may think our little town is down here on the list of dead towns. Not a bit of it, Blythewood was never busier.

Poor crops this year seem only to have been an incentive to the farmers to make them work harder to insure success with their next year's crops. A good deal of grain has been planted this fall. Little more than half a crop of cotton was made, so very few farmers paid out. There was a good deal of long staple cotton planted around here, and some of the farmers got as high as eighteen cents for it.

Quite a quantity of wood is being hauled to the railroad for shipment. The side tracks are lined with huge piles of it, both oak and pine. The greatest difficulty is in obtaining empty cars to load it in.

Dr. J. J. Robertson is making improvements on the store now occupied by Mr. F. E. Hood.

Blythewood Camp of The Woodmen of the World recently gave a hot supper at the home of Mr. D. B. Boney for the benefit of the camp. The nice sum realized is to be expended for axes and goats and other paraphernalia for the camp.

Mr. J. W. Brown and Mrs. Eugene Hogan of Sumter visited relatives here last week.

Mrs. Harrison of Blackstock is visiting Mrs. D. B. Boney.

Miss E. J. Brown of Denmark is visiting relatives here.

Rev. and Mrs. D. E. Camak stopped over from Conference to visit his aunt, Mrs. Henry Smith.

Miss Zola Wilson of the Mood-Osteen infirmary of Sumter is taking a much needed rest at the home of her brother, Mr. C. D. Wilson.

Mrs. A. M. Black and children are visiting at Dr. S. W. Bookhart's.

Mrs. J. A. Hinnant, Mrs. Mamie Jackson and Messrs F. E. and A. J. Hinnant recently visited the family of Mrs. Brooks Brown.

Sometime last winter a Sunshine society was organized in the Blythewood school, but it did not meet with much success as the work was not definite enough. So this fall the children disbanded as a Sunshine Society and reorganized as an Orphanage band. They decided to clothe a little girl at the Connie Maxwell Orphanage, and went to work with a zeal seldom seen in children. Quite a nice box of clothing was sent, and we can all imagine how proud the little 4 year old orphan is of her warm clothes, bought and made by other little girls more fortunate than she. Brave little band, work on, you'll not lose by it. B.

New Cure of Epilepsy.

J. B. Waterman, of Watertown, O., Rural free delivery, writes: "My daughter, afflicted for years with epilepsy, was cured by Dr. King's New Life Pills. She has not had an attack for over two years." Best body cleansers and life giving tonic pills on earth, 25c at Jno. H. McMaster & Co.'s drug store.

Recipes for Modern Use.

Novels.—Take one homely girl, a trip to Europe, a Chautauqua course in fiction, and a typewriter, and stir vigorously together. Add publishers' puffis to suit, enough reading notices to awake interest, and set in an open space to simmer. Serve with sugar and spice, and devour quickly, or it will spoil on your hands.

Home.—Put a man and a woman in a frame building and add children to suit. Run a few cooks through the kitchen and out, sprinkle with doctors' and dressmakers' visits, bills and scraps of various kinds, and bring to a boil. When cool, serve slowly during a lifetime.

Fad.—Take a large body of people waiting for something new. Go out and out a fresh fool idea. Sprinkle it over them and knead well. Serve when red hot. If allowed to cool off, will be spoiled.—Life.

A cold is much more easily cured when the bowels are open. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar opens the bowels and drives the cold out of the system in young or old. Sold by all druggists.

Irregular Children.

In a Chicago school a class was studying irregular plurals of nouns, when it was asked by the teacher to give the plural of "child." Then it was that little Edgar, who knew how it was at home, promptly answered, "Twin."—New York Tribune.

The Value of Advertising.

The live merchant—the merchant who wishes his business every success—continuously expounds to the buying public the merits of his wares through the newspaper's advertising columns. There is no such thing to him as a growl or grumble over dull times and light buying—he simply orders more advertising space in the leading newspaper of the town and with a smile and a hearty handshake gladly welcomes the customers his advertising brings.

Don't put off advertising—and say to the solicitor business is dull—"wait a while," "come back later." Talk to him now—get busy and advertise as good live consistent judicious advertising is the greatest panacea for dull business known. It's truly a great remedy, and he who uses it simply sitting still, figuratively, and jogging along in an old rag, and letting the "more aggressive merchant" take away his once just share of business.

A prominent manager of a leading New York publication says: "It's the advertising that you do that pays, not that which you think of doing." How many men are there to day in just this position? "I'm going to advertise. Many—entirely too many—but then they themselves are the real ultimate sufferers.

Live merchants know the value of printers' ink and are not too sparing in its judicious use—and they are the ones prospering. So when you sit and wonder why "So and So's" business is so good—just look at the daily papers—they will tell you why.

Now is the time for you to begin advertising and hence to get your share of the business.

Remember what Ben Franklin said: "There is much in merit, but of two stores of equal merit, the one that does the best advertising will do the most business." He knew.—Augusta Chronicle.

A Texas Wonder.

There's a Hill at Bowie, Tex., that's twice as big as last year. This wonder is W. L. Hill, who from a weight of 90 pounds has grown to over 180. He says: "I suffered with a terrible cough, and doctors gave me up to die of Consumption. I was reduced to 90 pounds, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Now, after taking 12 bottles, I have more than doubled in weight and am completely cured." Only sure Cough and Cold cure. Guaranteed by Jno. H. McMaster & Co., druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Not So Romantic.

Fond mother—"What are you crying for, Mabel?"

Mabel—"We were playing at weddings, and Tommy threw rice all over me."

Fond mother—"Oh, you needn't cry over that; it's to bring luck to the bride."

Mabel—"But what he used (sob) was in pudding form."—The Tatler.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, at whose laboratory Kodol is prepared, assure us that this remarkable digestant and corrective for the stomach conforms fully to all provisions of the National Pure Food and Drug Law. The Kodol laboratory is a very large one, but if all the sufferers from indigestion and stomach troubles could know the virtues of Kodol it would be impossible for the manufacturers to keep up with the demand. Kodol is sold here by all druggists.

Perhaps.

Henry Watterson says that the oddest and most humorous transposition of the types that ever came within his observation was in a New York paper which used to print its shipping news on the same page with the obituaries. One morning a long list of respectable names were set forth under the marine head, "Passed Through Hell Gate Yesterday."—Argonaut.

No Opium in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is not the least danger in giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to small children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug. It has an established reputation of more than thirty years as the most successful medicine in use for colds, croup and whooping cough. It always cures and is pleasant to take. Children like it. Sold by Obeur Drug Co. and all medicine dealers.

Forewarned.

"And you didn't propose to her?"
"No."
"Why?"
"I was leading up to it, but suddenly noticed that her voice had a sort of previous engagement ring."—Smart Set.

Trespass Notice.

All persons are warned not to hunt or enter upon my lands (near Dawkins and Strother). The law is sufficient notice, but I wish to prevent possible misunderstanding by neighbors. I am providing an area where the gun is not heard and where game may retreat and multiply. The practice of the country has been too destructive. Squirrels had become almost extinct in my neighborhood. Now I forbid even rabbit hunting. A sufficient reason for my rule would be that dogs and guns are a danger to sheep, cattle and hogs. I can make no exceptions in favor of certain persons; others would presume to hunt and expect to be excused from prosecution. Hence this full warning. Trespass of stock is also forbidden.
