WINNSBORO PEOPLE ATTEND CONVENTION

The Christian Endeavors Hold State Convention In Game Cock City.

Mrs. Bessie Hood, Misses Minnie Lee Seigler, Hazel Haynes, Stroy Robinson, Catherine Moore, Cleo Clowney, Lily May Weir, Hazel Hardin, Bertha Turner, Iva Robinson, and Messrs. J. M. Douglas and William Robinson of this place were among the more than five hundred Endeavorers attending the South Carolina Christian Endeavors convention held in Sumter, last Friday through Sunday, Nov. 10-12. It was one of the biggest and best Christian Endeavor conventions ever held in South Carolina. Dr. Melton Clark of Charleston, Rev. L. L. Legters of Bishopville, Rev. K. G. Finley of Columbia, Dr. E. E. Gillespie of York, Karl Lehmann, Southern States Secretary of the Christian Endeavor, were among the speakers. Mr. Lehmann also held conferences.

The music of the convention was led by Robert G. Jones of Wilmington, and this was one of the strong features of the convention. Mr. Jones is a fine song leader, and an Endeavorer himself, he entered into the spirit of the convention and helped to make it a great success. He is a Welshman and has a baritone voice of unusual richness.

The Junior convention on Saturday afternoon was one of the features of the convention. This was in the hands of Dr. E. E. Gillespie of York, Junior Superintendent of the State Union. There were talks and conferences by the Juniors and for the Juniors. There were nearly a hundred Juniors attending the convention.

The next convention for the State is to be held in Greenville next November. Several cities put in bids for the convention.

The following officers were elected to serve the Endeavor Union for the coming year:

President, Bert T. Corcoran, Charleston; Vice President, E. H. Wilkes, Laurens; Recording Secretary, Miss Claudia Fraser, Sumter; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Iva Robinson, Winnsboro; Treasurer, Miss Clelia Gray, Columbia; Vice President World's Christian Endeavor Union, Allen Nicholson, Union; District Vice President, Miss Sara Tillinghast, Spartanburg; J. T. Fain, Rock Hill, G. H. Cartledge, Clinton, W. Anderson, Clarkston, Columbia; Miss Janet Jaeger, Florence, J. G. Dinkins, Manning, Glenn McKnight, Charleston; Miss Marianne Paul, Superintendent Missions Department; Dr. E. E. Gillespie, York, Superintendent of the Junior Department; Miss Sophie Richardson, Liberty Hill, Superintendent of the Quiet Hour and Tenth Legion; W. Kirk Allen, Efficiency Department; S. L. Latimer, Columbia, Press Department; Intermediate Department, Miss Hannah Plowden, Greenville; Pastor's Advisory Board, Revs. J. P. Marion, Sumter; K. G. Finley, Columbia; A. B. Reeves, Columbia; A. S. Gaffney, Charleston.

One of the strong features of the convention was the closing consecration service following the address of Dr. Melton Clark. This was led by Karl Lehmann.

There will be a number of South Carolina Endeavorers to attend the International Convention next July in New York City. The delegates will probably go by way of the Clyde Line.

FAIRFIELD MAN KILLED BY SOUTHERN TRAIN.

John Hugh Milling Killed At Rock Hill. A Brother Of Mrs. S. E. Richmond

Rock Hill, Nov. 14.—John Hugh Milling, wholesale grocer and large planter, was instantly killed late this afternoon by Southern railway train No. 32. The accident occurred at Steele's crossing about two miles from Rock Hill.

Mr. Milling was coming to the city from his farm, riding in an automobile. The car was smashed and Mr. Milling's body was found on the cow catcher. An inquest was held at the Southern depot here, the body being brought to Rock Hill on the same train.

The death of Mr. Milling shocked Rock Hill. He was one of the city's most prominent men, widely known and universally liked. He was a native of Fairfield county but for many years had made his home in Rock Hill. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Misses Frances May and Isabelle Milling; two sons, J. H. Milling, Jr., and William Milling; a sister, Mrs. S. E. Richmond of Winnsboro and a brother who lives near Carlisle. He was a deacon in the First Presbyterian church. He was about 50 years of age.

If You Want to Save Money, Read This.

In an article in "The Family Money" department of the November American Magazine a writer says:

When an old uncle of mine died and left me a little bequest of $545, my first impulse was to "even it off," and if it hadn't been for an old friend of my father's I think I would have succeeded in neatly paring it down to zero.

"What were you thinking of doing with that money?" he asked casually one day.

"Well," I replied, "I think I'll just take that $45 and go for a little lake trip, and then I'll have $500 to put in the bank."

"Why $500?" he said. "Why not $545?"

"Oh," I replied, "you might as well have an even amount."

"Do you suppose you could spare me five dollars?" he asked suddenly.

"Why, yes," I replied, "a little surprised that he should ask to borrow money of me; but I handed it to him."

"All right, then," he said; "here's five dollars"—handing me back that same bill. "If you'll just put this with that $545 you will have $550, and that's a nice even amount. Now, if you'll put that in the bank, in three months it will have earned fifty more, and surely in the meantime you can scrape together $44.50 and then you'll have an even $600 instead of $500."

"Well, what could I do with $600?" I asked, not very much impressed, as the difference did not seem worth the trouble.

"One thing you could do," replied the old gentleman, "would be to ask your banker to buy a thousand-dollar bond for you or, rather, to lend you the extra $400, keeping the bond as security, and then it wouldn't be long before you would have a thousand dollars, which, for 'even amounts' is a little better than five hundred."

"Then with a pencil and paper he showed me carefully just how long it would take.

GET RICH IN NAVY

POSSIBLE FOR ENLISTED MEN TO RETIRE WITH FORTUNE.

In Addition He Can Have Income of $104 a Month for Rest of His Life if He Has Served Thirty Years.

There are other advantages to being an American sailor than having a wife in every port, if we are to believe the conversation picked up around a recruiting station. And, strangely enough, it is the idea of growing rich, one of the thoughts furthest from the minds of the ordinary man entering the navy, which seems to be the greatest drawing card. At least that looms largest in the minds of the men who are doing the recruiting. There is a glamour to the tar's life, a romance to his adventures. Moreover, the chance to go about the globe and see something of foreign shores is alluring to many, even though it is sandwiched in between endless decks to wash and eternal brasses to polish. In the Harrisburg Telegraph a recruiting officer tells of the financial advantage of going into naval service. It ought to appeal greatly to the man who is without responsibility, and to whom the prospect of ever having stacked up $30,000 is classed along with owning a flying carpet and other such tales of the unreal. Our recruiting officer says:

"Do you want to retire at the age of fifty with $28,788.70, and have an income of at least $104 a month for the remainder of your life?"

"If you do, join the United States navy."

"The American sailors are the best paid in the world, and after thirty years of service the man-o'-warman is retired on a pay of not less than $104 a month, and, in addition, should have saved $28,788.70 from his monthly pay."

A young man enlisting at the age of eighteen as an apprentice seaman will be paid $17.60 a month during six months spent at training station and receive an increase to $20.90 a month when he boards a ship. By the end of his enlistment, under ordinary course of advancement, he should be receiving $33 a month, and meanwhile he is outfitted with clothes and all necessities. If he re-enlists within four months after the expiration of his first enlistment, he will receive a seven-dollar monthly increase in pay, and a bonus of four months' pay in addition. If by the end of his second enlistment he should have received a good-conduct medal (which adds 83 cents a month to his pay), he should be receiving $55 a month. After twelve years he should have reached chief petty officer's pay with a salary of $99.62 a month, and thereafter his pay is increased with each enlistment. Good-conduct and other medals for meritorious services also add to his pay. Under ordinary courses, according to the figures furnished by the navy department, a sailor usually saves one-half of his pay, which is deposited in the ship's bank, receiving 4 per cent interest. Thus, beginning at the lowest level in the navy and reaching the highest point in the service as an enlisted man, after the end of twelve years and continuing in this capacity for sixteen years, the average sailor retires after thirty years of service with a pension of $104 a month, besides having the $28,000 or more in addition.

Grass in Paper-Making.

In England there is a large use of a Spanish grass called esparto as a diluent for rag paper stock in making fine white papers. As far back as 1786 thistles were made into paper in England. In 1788 autumn leaves were made into paper in France. In 1828 corn husks were made into paper in England, part of which furnished the title-page for "Corbett's Treatise on Corn." Corbett having grown the corn. In 1839 spent tan bark was made into paper in England. In 1854 an English patent was issued to Alexander Brown, a Scotchman, for the making of paper from ferns. In 1862 stalks of maize and sorghum were made into paper.

A Wonderful Maze.

At Waltham, Mass., there is a maze which is a duplicate of the historic one in the gardens of Hampton Court palace, near London. It is a winding and confusing group of paths, bounded by high hedges; there are 1,000 trees which were planted in 1896. The total length of all the paths is about one-third of a mile, and the shortest path to the central pool is about one-fifth of a mile. It sometimes takes visitors more than an hour to find their way to the center; sometimes they give up and call for help in finding their way out.
