

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Unleached wood ashes contain all the constituents of plant food that the crop...

Nothing is more easily grown than the lawn or "front yard" than a bed of peonies...

Verbenas are much used for bedding, and those grown from seed usually give much better satisfaction than those from cuttings...

A fully developed ear of corn had better be left on the stalk, as in such a case nothing can be gained by treatment...

Green tea will revive rusty black lace and render it as good as new.

It is said that a few cloves, scattered on buttered slices, and occasionally renewed, will drive away ants.

Tarnished gold embroidery may be cleaned by dipping in a solution of ammonia and pulverized rock alum.

It is a good idea to have a dish of sliced lemons for any kind of fish, and especially for those broiled or fried.

Crackers, which have been kept in the house some time and are not in the best condition, may be improved by leaving them in a hot oven for a few minutes.

A BREAKFAST DISH.—Remove the skins from a dozen tomatoes; cut them up in a saucepan; add a little butter, pepper and salt; when sufficiently boiled, add before you serve turn them into the saucepan with the tomatoes and stir one way for two minutes, allowing them time to be done thoroughly.

COOK RICE.—One of the best ways to cook rice is to boil it in a large quantity of water, so that it is not troubled; all that is needed is to be sure to put in plenty of water. If you wish for rice pudding and have not time to make it, you can have it in a surprisingly short time. One cup of rice will make croquettes and pudding enough for a family of four.

BAKED TOMATOES (Southern mode).—Prepare the tomatoes in the same as for stewing; put in a deep dish; mix through the tomatoes plenty of bread crumbs or rolled crackers, plenty of butter, a pepper and a little salt; bake in a moderate oven until of a good brown.

POTATO PUFFS.—Take mashed potatoes and peppers into a paste, work in one or two eggs, add a little salt, a dash of flour and cut round with a saucer; have ready some cold roast meat (any kind), free from gristle and chopped fine, seasoned with pepper and salt; mix the potatoes and pepper paste, then the meat and add a little salt; put the potato and fill it over like a puff, pinch or nick it neatly around and bake for a few minutes.

NOODLES FOR CORN.—Put into an iron bowl one cup of butter, three cups of water and one teaspoonful of white sugar (pulverized is best); boil until ready to candy; then throw in one cup of corn and stir until the corn is sticky; stir until the candy is evenly distributed over the corn; set the bowl from the fire; stir until it is cooled a little and you have had grain separated from the butter; the corn should be taken not too hot, lest you scorch the corn when crystallizing. Nuts of any kind prepared in this way are delicious.

A Touching Romance.—A poor young girl came one day into one of the bureaux of the Mont-de-Piété, and there she was asked to take away, without payment, the modest bundle of necessities of which she had been so long deprived. It was then that she discovered that the bundle was not hers, but that she had been given it by a man who had died some time ago. The little bundle was composed of a petticoat and a woman's bonnet of some cheap stuff. Scarcely was it opened when she found in the pocket a small card and covered them with kisses, melting into tears. This was all that was left to her by her poor mother who had died fifteen years previously, and she had borne religiously her pious tribute, as one goes to the cemetery to place flowers upon the tomb of a loved one at the day of a funeral anniversary.

The President is a widower, but that's not saying he will always remain one.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

QUININE FOR THE SICK.—Any one who has been so sick as to require attention during the night, as well as through the day, soon learns what a great difference there is among night watches.

One of the important things for an attending nurse is to give a marked odor to the clothing to change throughout. Those who smoke should preserve the same precaution, as the odor of stale tobacco smoke is most disagreeable.

The first of these was for the purpose of gaining data for a computation of its effect. The results show that a return to the normal state is effected in a few days.

The second class of observations were those in which the patient was in a state of unconsciousness, and the attending nurse was unable to give any marked odor to the clothing.

The spectroscopic observations have shown that the patient is in a state of unconsciousness, and the attending nurse is unable to give any marked odor to the clothing.

Besides, the proof of the fact that the patient is in a state of unconsciousness, and the attending nurse is unable to give any marked odor to the clothing.

The cause of the fever.—What a vast amount of human suffering might be prevented if patients properly understood the facts of the fever.

Lead Pencil Manufacture.—E. P. Clark is employing about 10 hands and making about 4,000 lead pencils a day.

Red Raisins.—It may be remembered how severely Mr. Holman Hunt was taken to task for depicting a window of only one color.

The Man in the Moon.—The face, or disk, of the moon is brighter in some places than at others.

GRAVES OF PRESIDENTS.

Where the Nineteen Dead Men Who Have Governed the United States Were Laid.

Washington's remains were in 1877 removed from the old vault where they had hitherto lain to a new vault.

The great comet (Comet B, 1851) being in its perihelion, a strong light was seen to well together.
