E NEWS AND HERALD.

WINNSBORO, S. C.

WEDNESDAY, November 16, 1881.

JEANN DAVIS, Editor.

J. S. REYNOLDS, Associate Editor.

GENERAL Sherman will visit Atlanta on "Mexican Veterans' Day", and he will take the precaution of again denying that he has been buried that city and Columbia.

CHARLESTON will have about five thousand majority, and the Virginia Legislature will have a Readjuster majority of about eighteen on joint ballot, thus sending another Mahone to the United States Senate.

We see no reason for any longer applying the term Readjuster to Mahone's party. They have joined the Republicans, and why not call themselves Radicals at once and be done with it.

JOHN SYPHOX Pinckney White, of Maryland, was elected mayor of Baltimore last week, by a unanimous vote, the first instance on record. He is expected to reform the city, the party and things generally.

THE French Cabinet has resigned, and Gambetta forms a new ministry. The cartoonist is unable to tell exactly what this periodic row is about, but it has reference to Tunis. Gambetta does not believe in suffering France to be bottled up by other powers.

CHILI having practically annexed Peru and gobbled up Bolivia, the great Confederation, not to be outdone, contemplates the annexation of Paraguay and Uraguay, and possibly a protest with Brazil. Mr. Blaine will have his hands full if he contemplates becoming the arbiter and peace-maker of all the South American governments.

THE Washington Republican says: "Colonel R. M. Wallace, of South Carolina, will be strongly urged for the collectorship of customs at Charleston. He has held responsible positions under General Grant's administrations, and always rendered satisfaction. His opponent is the irrepressible T. J. Mackey, who has been on all sides of every political question for the past seven years."

THE secret of the dining and wining of the different Emperors is said to be an alliance of all the northern powers against France, whose rapid recuperation has again made her the bete noir of the powers. In order to prevent a "Latin Union" between France, Spain and Italy, King Humbert, of the latter country, has been feted by the Emperor of Austria in order to bring Italy in the anti-Gallic combination. As France and Italy have been quarreling about Tunis, this may be an opportune time for Austrian viands to tickle the Italian monarch's palate.

IN these days of lightning dispatches and rapid transit, small papers have much trouble in competing with their more pretentious contemporaries. In our own case this is apparent. It has, not once or twice, but over and over again, been our experience, that on any important occasion when we have prepared an editorial, just as it has gone into the hands of the printer for next week's copy of the News and Courier comes with an editorial on the same subject, and sometimes embodying the same line of thought, so that our article, instead of appearing as a coincidence, seems to be an imitation. It is very annoying to have one's thunder stolen, even if it be unconsciously.

THE WHOLE year will pass before the next election, and eight or nine months before the meeting of the State convention, yet on all sides are heard rumors of combinations to secure the different State offices. Why this unseemly haste? Are good men so scarce in South Carolina that the people are compelled to search standard-bearers a year and two in advance? Or is it that the politicians, instead of the people, are to arrange for matters to suit themselves? Are the public offices places of honor and trust, or are they mere perquisites to be parcelled out among a few? These are questions pregnant with the good or evil of the party and to the State, and it behooves the masses who do the voting and pay the taxes to consider them before it is too late.

THE Republicans, being, as it were, in despair of the Republic, that is to say, apprehensive of their control of the Senate, have set their minds to work to engineer a new State into existence—a Republican State, of course. It will send two stalwart Senators to the national capital. Dakota is the territory on which they have cast their greedy eyes. The territory was a few years ago a howling wilderness, and although it has rapidly developed, still it has nothing as yet to entitle it to the honor of full sisterhood. The Democrats will, of course, combat any such move to the bitter end, for we have enough rotten boroughs already in the list of States. Nevada, especially, has the collapse of her mines, has neither population nor wealth enough to make her a first-class territory, and yet in the Senate her voice is as potent as that of New York or Pennsylvania. The Republicans may as well abandon their scheme. Dakota must sit in the cold a while longer.

A PARAGRAPH has appeared in some of our exchanges to the effect that "General Bratton has resigned his chances for the governorship in favor of General Kennedy." We are not able to trace it to its source and do not know how it got into circulation. We have had no opportunity of interviewing either of the gentlemen in question, but from what we know of them we feel justified in saying that neither is responsible for this squib. It is early in the canvass, very early indeed, to start any such report in circulation. No possible good can come of it, whether propagated in good faith or not. Without having had any communication with General Bratton on the subject, our knowledge of him and of his high appreciation of public duty justifies us in saying that the report in question is without foundation. General Bratton has always held that public office is not a personal perquisite, to be claimed as a matter of right for one's self or disinterested in favor of anyone else. Although prominent in the councils of the State since the war, and an earnest worker in every movement undertaken for the good of the people, he has ever shrunk from thrusting himself forward, preferring to stand where he believes it is for the people and the times along to make the selection. He has long been the choice of a large portion of the State for governor, and we believe still is; and his friends are determined that he shall not be crowded off the track by newspaper squibs in advance of the opening of the canvass.

THE temper of the English people towards Ireland is said to be very ugly. Newspapers and public speakers demand that blood shall be shed to put a stop to the League. Practically the League has suspended, as it had inevitably to do when England's redcoats pervaded every hamlet and neighborhood in the land. The law has been vindicated, and England should deal liberally with the Irish. Practical benefits are already being derived from the Land Act, a number of rents having been lowered at least thirty per cent. In the meantime the land agitation has reached England and Scotland. A meeting of five hundred farmers in Aberdeenshire have agreed to press for a reduction and a land bill for Scotland at the next session of Parliament.

Professor Harris, of St. Louis, a gentleman of broad views and philosophic thought, was in Europe a year or two since, and he reports that in such circles as Oxford and Cambridge the opinion is quietly held that in about thirty years monarchy will disappear from England and an enlightened republic will arise. Such seems to be the general tendency of the times. The land laws, the hereditary peerage and other relics of old times are suffering severe shocks, year by year, from radical agitation in England and from land troubles in Ireland. The New York Herald, which has a word to say about everything, and believes itself competent to regulate the affairs of the Universe, including comets and the Star of Bethlehem, has proposed a scheme for a grand Confederation of British States—local government in the several provinces of England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales and in the Colonial dependencies, and a national body similar to the American Congress, composed of members from the different subdivisions. Whether Wales or Gordon Bennett shall be put at the head of affairs, the versatile Herald does not as yet signify. If monarchy be swept away, it is probable that such a plan as is proposed by the Herald will be adopted. In the present condition of American politics it is not apparent that either Ireland, Scotland or England would fare better under republican auspices, than tied as they now are to Victoria's apron strings.

The State Fair.

The State Fair was largely attended, and from all accounts was a success. A long list of premiums was distributed, of which Fairfield exhibitors came in for a gratifying share. The spectacular pageant on Thursday night, with its pyrotechnical display and its handsome and unique costumes, was quite brilliant, and it may become a feature of future fairs.

The Legislature makes no wiser appropriation than that to the Agricultural and Mechanical Society, and as we grow more properous, we see no harm in still further liberality, securing a still larger exhibit and still denser throngs of visitors.

The Net Result.

It seems to be conceded that Mahone's mongrel combination has carried the Virginia election, and he will emphasize his victory by Radicalizing and mongrelizing the State. His victory was won by Radical money, and we trust that Radical bondholders will suffer from a repudiation of their bonds. The result of this election cannot yet be foretold. Whether it will permanently carry the Old Dominion over, or produce a revulsion and a quarrel between the ascendant faction when it comes to a division of spoils, remains to be seen. It seems to us that this election will cause the Democrats in the Africanized States to hold more closely together, as they cannot afford the experiment that Virginia with her forty thousand white majority ventured upon. Mississippi, like South Carolina, has felt the woes of Reconstruction, and has stamped out her "people's" Radical ticket by twenty or thirty thousand.

The Democrats have made great gains in New York, but whether they have entirely redeemed the State is still in doubt. They have made gains in the Legislatures of Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Jersey, and very heavy gains in Wisconsin.

The Eleventh New York Congressional District flattened out Astor under a majority of nearly three thousand, although Grant and Conkling personally canvassed his district for him. This is a Democratic gain of one Congressman, and it leaves the straight Republicans in a minority of one in the House. They must seek Greenback and Readjuster alliances in this body as they have already swallowed Mahone and David Davis in the Senate.

Altogether the Democratic party has made some gains as the net result of the fall elections.

The Atlanta Exposition.

Reports from Atlanta give a glowing discription of the magnificent exhibit made there by all sections, and especially by the South. Cotton is there from all parts of the world, a collection of the products of other cotton growing countries having been furnished by Secretary Blaine, through the American Consuls. Cotton machinery, from the best to the latest and most approved, is there, and all the different processes of manufacture are exhibited. Machinery of all sorts is also displayed for the benefit of the Southern visitors, while the natural resources of the South have astonished all visitors. All kinds of minerals from the different sections have been collected, and manufactured iron from Alabama and Tennessee. The native woods embrace every variety found in temperate regions, and tell of untold wealth yet to be cut from the forests. Six hundred and fifty different specimens of grasses demonstrate its adaptability for stock raising, while tobacco is shown in variety and excellence sufficient to make the mouths of the old Dutch Knickerbockers water even in their graves.

The exhibit, as a whole, is said to equal that of the Philadelphia Centennial.

It is a pity that the unfavorable crop year prevents a general pilgrimage of Southern manufacturers and farmers to this Exposition, that they might learn new ideas and appreciate the value of the resources lying everywhere around them. The railroads have at last agreed to give cheap rates, at one cent a mile in Georgia, and we presume at correspondingly cheap rates in other States. We hope to see some of our citizens visiting Atlanta, that on their return they may give their less favored brethren some idea of what may be seen there. The Exposition is bound to do good, and the more largely it is attended the more beneficial the results accruing from it. Who will attend?

THE STATE ELECTIONS.

New York.

NEW YORK, November 8.—Although returns come in slowly on account of the unusual number of split tickets, there seems to be no doubt as to the Democratic victory. Even Republicans in the Fifth Avenue Hotel to-night concede a majority of fifteen thousand in the State and thirty thousand in the city.

The probable defeat of Astor is the only satisfactory thing connected with that young millionaire's canvass. Many Republicans voted for Flower, his Democratic rival, upon the ground that Astor had disgraced his party and his name in attempting to carry the day with money. Hamilton, another Republican, has been badly scratched by his party.

The general effect of the election will be to make the County Democracy the rulers of New York City in place of Tammany. The independence of both Democrats and Republicans in scratching is a hopeful indication of still better candidates in the future.

Virginia.

RICHMOND, November 8.—Returns come in slowly. The Readjusters claim to be certain of Cameron's election. The Democrats have strong hopes and believe that full returns will entitle them to increase their gains. The Readjusters claim to have gained four members of the House of Delegates over 1879, viz: Chesterfield, Henrico, Culpeper, Madison and Green. One district, Caroline, is very close. The Democrats express confidence that they will secure the Legislature, or if not that it will be very close. Not enough returns are yet in to give a definite idea of the result. Petersburg gives Cameron a majority of 1,084, a loss of 289 over 1879. Richmond gives Daniel a majority of 1,694. The Readjusters carry Norfolk city by 453. Goode is defeated there for the House of Delegates. The Democrats claim that from the returns received from thirteen cities and counties they have made gains of 3,699, and believe they have made a gain of eleven members of the Legislature and lost but one.

RICHMOND, Va., November 8.—The official vote of Richmond for Governor is: Daniel, Democrat, 5,020; Cameron, Readjuster, 3,326. Daniel's majority, 1,694; Readjuster gain, 673; 106 scattering. Precincts outside of Richmond give Daniel 16,169, Cameron 14,585; making the Democratic net gain 2,498. Majorities for Daniel are also reported in twenty-five other precincts and four counties, which makes his total majority as far as heard from 3,845. Returns thus far indicate that in the Legislature the Democrats gain eleven members and lose one.

New Jersey.

NEW YORK, November 8.—Returns up to 1 a. m. indicate that the new Legislature of New Jersey will stand: Senate, Republican 13; Democrats 8; Democratic gain 3. Assembly, Republicans, 32; Democrats, 28; Democratic gain 2.

Mississippi.

MERIDAN, Miss., November 8.—Four white men were killed and two severely wounded by negroes to-day at Marion Station, in this county. The negroes opened fire on the whites at the polls while the election was going on. The whites had no arms to defend themselves with, and consequently none of the negroes suffered. One of the men killed was A. F. Harvey, Democratic candidate for county assessor. The sheriff, with posse from this place, found about 100 negroes barricaded in the dwelling house of their leader, Ed. Vance. The posse was fired upon by the negroes as they approached the house. Another body of armed men have gone from here to the scene of the disturbance to assist the sheriff. With this exception the election in this county has been quiet and orderly.

A HAPPY OCCASION.—The principal event of the week has been the marriage of Miss Emma Christian. This estimable young lady was married at 11 o'clock a. m. last Wednesday to the Rev. R. M. Stevenson, of Fairfield county, S. C. We had suspected as much. Like one other, this young gentleman had been "lingering around" for some time. But he has caught his birdie. A sweet pretty one it was. "For softness, she, and sweet attractive grace." Milton had just such a young lady in his mind. The Rev. W. L. Pressley married the happy couple. Mrs. Lou. J. Brownlee gave them an elegant dinner. This good lady has quite a reputation at the festive board. We know whereof we affirm. We have proved our faith by our works. A bevy of pretty college girls was present, and lent their charms to the happy occasion. The bride and groom left on the evening train for his home in Fairfield. Remaining there a short time, they go direct to Virginia, the field of his labors. Miss Christian was a general favorite in Due West. We heard a young lady wishing something "awful" would happen to him for taking her away, and the boys feel about the same way. This makes three graduates of the Female College who have married inside of two weeks. And they do say that, "On——;" La, we just now remember that we are under a dreadful threatening.—Mr. Stevenson is a fine looking gentleman, and we hear, popular with his people in Virginia. May "the sweet influence of the Pleiades" ever bind their love "in the golden chain."—Abbeville Medium.

Messrs. Williams & Rutledge, Greenville, S. C., Dear Sirs: The piano recently purchased of you is a great delight to my family, and a source of praiseworthy comment from all the musical critics who have examined it.

Yours truly,
W. K. BLAKE.

A NEW KIND OF WATCH CASE.

Now because it is only within the last few years that it has been improved and brought within the reach of everyone old in principle because the first invention was made and the first patent taken out nearly twenty years ago, and cases made at that time and worn ever since, are nearly as good as new. Read the following, which is only one of many hundreds, your jewelers can tell of similar ones:

MANSFIELD, Pa., May 28, 1878.

I have a customer who has carried one of Boss' Patent cases fifteen years and I knew it two years before he got it, and it now appears good for ten years longer. R. E. OLNEY.

Remember that it is Boss' is the only patent case made of two plates of solid gold (one outside and one inside) covering every part exposed to wear or sight, the great advantage of these plates over electro-gilding is apparent to every one. Besides the only patent case with which there is given a written warrant, or with the following is a fac simile:

MY PRICES THEY CATCH THE EYE,

AND fix the attention of wondering thousands, and as the news spreads our patrons grow more and more numerous. As the factory sells by the bale I sell by the yard.

3000 Yards of Standard Prints reduced to 5 cents.
10 Pieces Kentucky Jeans at 11½ cents.
6 Pieces Kentucky Jeans at 18, 22, 33 up to best goods at 45 and 50 cents per yard.

CROCKERY AND TINWARE—In order to close out the stock I will sell both lines of these goods at seventy-five cents on the dollar for CASH ONLY.

SHOES, SHOES—Two thousand dollars worth of shoes to be sacrificed. Now is your time to invest before the cold weather sets in. I must have money, let goods sell for what they will.
