

LOCALS

Never before in the history of the institution has a session opened with brighter prospects. The excellent advantages offered at the University; the winning of the State championship in baseball last season, and the reinstatement of football, have all done their share in persuading many young Carolinians to become wearers of the Garnet and Black.

Our new "fellows" give promise of a strong will and determination to do all that within them lies for the welfare of Carolina, and with this united spirit 1909 bids fair to be a banner year.

During the first week the several classes, societies, clubs, and publications have been busy starting the work of a new session.

The Senior Class met in the chapel on the afternoon of October 1st and elected from among their faithful "thirty" the following officers for '09:

President—B. J. White, York.

Vice-President—J. I. Humphrey, Florence.

Secretary—L. W. Smith, Spartanburg.

Treasurer—J. O. Allen, Greenville.

Historian—Miss A. L. Bowen, Richland.

Honor System—W. H. James, Chester.

The Junior Class met on the following afternoon and elected the following for their officers:

President—A. D. Oliphant, Union.

Vice-President—H. L. Izlar, Orangeburg.

Secretary and Treasurer—F. G. Cain, Berkeley.

Historian—F. S. Speigner, Richland.

Honor System—D. E. Finley, Jr., York.

The Sophomores also have organized, and these are their officers:

President—W. B. Perrin, Abbeville.

Vice-President—R. F. Bradley, Jr., Greenwood.

Secretary and Treasurer—R. F. Simpson, Laurens.

Historian—C. T. Graydon, Greenwood.

Honor System—R. F. Simpson, Laurens.

The Freshmen have been unable to find time for such trivial matters; nor have they been able to select from a body of such capable men the ones to whom they wish to entrust for the first time the guardianship of their flock.

The German Club met on Wednesday afternoon, and after electing and initiating several new members, elected for the first collegiate term the following officers:

President—L. W. Smith, Spartanburg.

Vice-President—R. M. Cooper, Jr., Sumter.

Leader—H. W. Hughes, Edgefield.

Secretary—Bernard Manning, Sumter.

Treasurer—Randolph Murdaugh, Hampton.

The Athletic Association met Monday morning, September 28th, and after receiving about a hundred new members, elected officers as follows:

President—I. F. Belser, Richland.

Vice-President—Bernard Manning, Sumter.

Secretary and Treasurer—J. E. Crouch, Saluda.

Many new clubs, such as tennis and golf, will be organized this week, but the three most important clubs, "The Scribes," "The Glee Club," and "The Dramatic," have to rely upon the support of the student-body, hence their organization is not complete.

As we are so fortunate as to have once more among us Messrs. McGowan Holmes, and "Cope" Massey, of Taxahaw, the two stars of '07's Dramatic Club, we would urge that they use their uttermost efforts toward getting up a "minstrel" and fill their long standing engagements with the "Academy of Music" in Charleston, and with "The Grand" in Atlanta. This would be of great financial aid to athletics, as well as a splendid advertisement for the University.

Come on, boys! Help out a good cause!

"The night was growing old

As he trudged through snow and sleet;

His nose was long and cold,

And his shoes were full of feet."

—Fresh Russell.

If any of the above knocks you, don't get haughty; be an optimist. If a fellow biffs you in the jaw and you swallow a few teeth, imagine they needed pulling anyway. Be satisfied with your lot; you'll have to be when you're finally buried in it, you know.
