A scholarship carrying a stipend of $100 will be given the winner of the general scholarship contest sponsored by the State High School league at the University by the Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic fraternity.

Each high school will be allowed to enter five contestants in the preliminary district contests in general scholarship. The examinations will include compulsory tests in English and United States history. The contestant will be given the choice of one test in either of the following: French, biology, elementary Latin, advanced Latin, algebra, and plane geometry.

South Carolina is divided into eight districts and five contestants will be chosen from these districts to take the final tests in history, English, and general scholarship to be held at the University.

Both the preliminary and final contests will be counted in judging the winners and in bestowing honorable mentions.

The University offers a total of 13 honorary scholarships: the Harper scholarship, Preston, McDuffie, Marion, Simms, Thornwell, Rion, Allston, Legare, First Hampton, Second Hampton, Hutcheson, and the Manning.

The Lawrence M. Keith scholarship, carrying a stipend of $100 annually is awarded some worthy student from Orangeburg, Bamberg, Barnwell, Lexington, or Calhoun counties.

The Beaufort Watts Ball scholarship is awarded to a worthy student in journalism by the faculty of that school. The requirement is that the student must have completed two years in the University School of Journalism.

DEPRESSION
Washington, D. C. (ACP).—So that college and university students who have been shadowed by the spectre of depression may continue their higher education, the National Youth Administration of the federal government this year will distribute almost six million dollars among the collegians of the 48 states.

Odds And Ends

Murchison
Dr. Hugh R. Murchison has reported that, although the total number of students enrolled in Bible classes is smaller this year, the freshman and sophomore classes are filled to capacity.

It seems that the male students are more interested in the study of the Bible than the co-eds. Out of 91 students who are enrolled in these classes only 22 are of the gentler sex.

Moot Courts
Two moot courts will be staged this year by the University Law School, according to Paul Taylor, president of the Law Federation at Carolina.

One of these courts will be held the first semester, Mr. Taylor stated, and one the second.

The courts are being arranged so as to attract the attention of the entire student body and will be of practical benefit to each person attending. Jurors to serve on the anticipated cases will be chosen from the University academic school.

Orchestra
Professor Harry Feld of Newberry College, and Mrs. George Sumner will be the guest soloists for the all-Beethoven concert of the University Symphony Orchestra, which will be given late in November, is was announced by Madame de Horvath, Tuesday. Mrs. Sumner will play the Pathetique Sonata, and Professor Feld will play a violin concerto.

The orchestra will play for the concert the Egmont Overture, the Contra Dances, and the Minuet in G. The orchestra, which has a membership of about thirty-five musicians is directed by Madame Felice de Horvath, head of the music department of the University. Its concert master is Winfred Dent and it is accompanied by Mrs. E. O. Black.

Clemson
Monday night a group of students headed by Dr. J. E. Copenhaver and Prof. Lincoln Moore started out to Clemson College to hear a lecture given by Dr. Turrentine, nationally known authority on potash.

But somehow and somewhere they took the wrong fork of the road, and instead of landing at Clemson, they found themselves in Newberry. This was unfortunate, they agreed, but still undaunted they decided to turn around and try again.

This time they were successful, and managed to find their way to Tiger-town. They arrived—just in time to see the lecturer departing, but not too late to receive the sympathy of the Clemson students, not because they arrived late, but because Clemson's football team—well, you know.

Faculty Resolves On Dance Affairs

tions, salaries, or any necessary expenditures shall be regarded as binding unless the contract is filed in writing with the chairman of the faculty committee and countersigned by the chairman in advance of the social event. The countersigning of the contract places no obligation on the University.

It was further stipulated that the treasurer of each organization giving a formal dance shall be required to keep a uniform set of books, as suggested and outlined by the business manager's office of the University. On the day following the dance the treasurer of the organization shall submit to the faculty chairman an itemized statement of collections and disbursements with an attached copy of all bills due and payable. These books and financial statements for every formal dance are subject to audit.

The annual quota of formal dances granted the following organizations is: German Club, 3; Contillion Club, 3; Damas Club, 1; Nondescript Club, 1; Pan-Hellenic for men, 3; four sororities (selected by lot) one each year; six fraternities (selected by lot) one each for 1936-1937; seven fraternities (selected by lot) one each for 1937-1938; Block "C" Club, 1; Beaux Arts

Profs Seldom Cut Classes

Green Among Leaders

"Rock" Smith Has Missed But One Class In Twelve Years Of Teaching

University students complain about having so many classes to meet but they should take a look at the attendance records held by some of the most prominent members of the faculty. Here are a few of the outstanding records of our faculty:

Dr. L. L. Smith of the Geology department is probably the holder of the best record in class attendance among the faculty group. He has missed one class in 12 years! Dr. Smith explained that he was absent from this meeting of his class because his clock failed to alarm. "It was an eight o'clock class," he said, "and I had been working so hard that I could not awake without some assistance. Dr. Tabor substituted for me and after all the students didn't get a 'cut.'" This occurred during Dr. Smith's second year at the University.

Dr. E. L. Green has missed only six classes during his 36 years at Carolina, three of these absences occurring while he was ill in 1934. Dr. Green is head of the Ancient Language department.

Dr. W. E. Hoy, Sr., of the Biology department, has established another remarkable record by missing only two classes during his eight years of teaching at the University. One of these were missed because his car failed to perform and he was unable to secure a cab, it was an eight o'clock class and he was on the campus to meet his nine.

After looking at these records there is no wonder that they are displeased when you "cut" a class.

Glee Club Has New Director

William C. Baldwin, Columbia, has been selected to train and direct the Men's Glee Club of the University of South Carolina for the remainder of the academic year, J. Rion McKissick, president of the University, announced this morning.

Mr. Baldwin, a native of Sumter, was educated at Furman University and at the University of South Carolina. At the former institution he was student director of the Glee Club, and at the latter he was a member of the Glee Club and its soloist. Since leaving the University he has frequently been a soloist for churches and other organizations.

A change of policy as to trips by the Glee Club is planned by Mr. Baldwin, who intends that the itinerary this year shall be confined to South Carolina. The Club will probably be heard in several communities next winter.

Club, 1; Social Cabinet, 5; and Kappa Sigma Kappa, 3.

The committee interprets a "formal" dance as being a dance given by an organization where it is necessary to use a dance hall and employ an orchestra.

Members of the faculty committee on fraternities and student organizations are: W. H. Harth, chairman, Dr. Havilah Babcock, Dr. T. F. Ball, Dr. F. W. Bradley, John A. Chase, Jr., Mrs. Arney R. Childs, and Prof. R. L. Sumwalt.

Alumni Assoc.

Edwin R. Jeter, Rock Hill, of the class of 1914, recently made an address before a gathering of insurance men at French Lick, Ind. During the past summer, Mr. Jeter has spoken at Knoxville, Tennessee, Myrtle Beach and other points in connection with insurance conventions.

Hugh O. Hanna, of Hampton, of the class of 1915, has recently assumed the post of Commander of the South Carolina Division of the American Legion. Hanna has been active in Legion circles for many years and his elevation to the highest office within the gift of the legionnaires of this State comes after he had successfully served in other official capacities.

J. S. Dudley, class of 1914, now a practicing attorney in New York City, attended the Carolina-Clemson game. Dudley is a member of the firm of Mitchell, Taylor, Capron and Marsh, 20 Exchange Place, New York City.

The Alumni Association is cooperating actively in the movement to secure an adequate extension department at the University. It is not alone in this effort, since the importance of such department has been officially recognized by the State Education Association, State Federation of Women's Clubs and other groups.

There has been appointed from the Association a committee consisting of John H. Martin, Hartsville, chairman; E. R. Jeter, Rock Hill and R. Beverly Herbert, Columbia, with Professor Havilah Babcock, as faculty advisor. This committee held its initial meeting in Columbia on September 26th and agreed upon a plan of action looking to the re-establishment of the department.

A meeting of the Alumni Council of the Alumni Association will be held in the Moot Court room of the Law Library at ten o'clock on the morning of November 7th. As this is the date of the Villanova game, the meeting will adjourn in time for the members to get lunch and attend the game.

Home Coming Day for the alumni of the University of South Carolina has been set for Saturday, November 21st, the date of the game with the University of North Carolina. A lunch will be held at one of the hotels in the city prior to the game, and it is hoped that many reservations will be made. A large attendance is desired. Dr. J. Rion McKissick, President of the University, will address the gathering.

McKissick Speaks To Freshmen In Chapel

President J. Rion McKissick addressed the freshmen in chapel Wednesday on student life at Carolina, according to Dr. F. W. Bradley, dean.

This will be the third of this year's series of addresses to freshmen on the history, traditions, and ethics of the University.

Declaring that the University of South Carolina was the first university in the United States entirely supported and controlled by the state, Dr. Orin F. Crow, dean of the school of education, recently addressed the group.

Last week Dr. E. L. Green, professor of ancient languages, related interesting facts about the first buildings, history of the wall around the quadrangle, and the style of architecture of the University buildings.
