

NO JOB FOR PERFUMED MAN.

Chicago Employers Say That They Don't Want Him Around.

Men in business have formed such an antipathy to the man who uses perfumery or has the barber put anything on his hair that has any fragrance in it that many men who don't know this are unable to connect with good jobs which might be theirs if they did know it.

Even the women have become affected. In more than one Chicago business house the stenographers have been asked to forego donning a lot of scent upon their handkerchiefs or blouses. A slight trace is not disagreeable, but in some cases even the smallest vestige is objected to.

This applies to the women. To the men the slightest shadow of it is fatal. It was only the other day the manager of a house in which many men are employed was examining an applicant for a position. The applicant was neatly dressed, had a pleasing although a slightly bold appearance and talked correctly and intelligently, although a trifle egotistically.

Suddenly the manager, who had seemed to be weighing in his mind the merits and demerits of the applicant, said:

"Sorry, but we can't use you."
"Can you tell me why?" asked the applicant; "perhaps if I were given an opportunity—"

The manager cut him short. "That's just the trouble," he said. "You were given an opportunity and you rejected it."

"But I've been given no opportunity," said the man, not knowing what was meant.

"Yes, you were," answered the manager, "you've been given an opportunity to cover yourself with cheap perfumery and of that chance you most generously have availed yourself. We can't use walking perfume bottles."

Others managers took the same view. They said that the day of the scented business man had gone by. They also said that their experience taught them that the man who used perfumery was likely to spend in thinking about himself time that he ought to give to his work.—Chicago Tribune.

Winter Work for Automobile.

There is a farmer out in Walworth County who hit upon a novel way of making the money he has tied up in an automobile. He uses the machine in the summer, but when winter sets in there is little pleasure or profit in automobiling and most of the gasoline buggies are left standing idle. In the case of this thrifty settler, however, there is no waste of this kind. He strips the machine of its wheels and sets it upon skids in the loft of one of the farm buildings. With a flywheel on one of the rear hubs and a drive wheel on the other he uses his engine to do all the farm grinding, pumping, feed cutting and other work where power is required. In this way he saves the cost of another gasoline engine, such as most farmers are now using.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Noiseless Steam Engine Exhaust.

The gas engine is not the only offender in the matter of noisy exhaust. Muffling tanks to minimize the noise of the escape of exhaust steam from high-pressure non-condensing steam engines are sometimes needed. In such cases it suffices to insert near the engine a tank of 15 or 20 times the volume of the cylinder and continue the exhaust pipe from this muffler. This will do away with the disturbance caused by high-pressure exhaust steam passing through a tortuous exhaust pipe.

A Doctor's Brother Thought Postum Was Coffee.

A wise doctor found out coffee was hurting him so he quit drinking it. He was so busy with his practice, however, that his wife had to write how he fooled his brother, a clergyman, one day at dinner. She says:

"Doctor found coffee was injuring him and decided to give Postum a trial, and we have used it now for four years with continued benefit. In fact, he is now free from the long train of ills that follow coffee drinking."

"To show how successful we are in making Postum properly, I will relate an incident. At a dinner we gave, doctor suggested that we serve Postum instead of ordinary coffee."

"Doctor's brother, a clergyman, supposed it was old fashioned coffee and remarked, as he called for his second cup, 'If you do preach against coffee I see you haven't forgotten how to make it.'"

This goes to show that well-made—fully boiled—Postum has much the flavor and richness of good coffee although it has an individuality all its own. A ten days' trial will prove that it has none of the poisonous effect of ordinary coffee but will correct the troubles caused by coffee. "There's a reason." A new deposit of manganese which promises to be an important source of supply is being opened up in Mysore State, India. It is situated 20 miles northwest of Shimoga Station, on the Southern Mahratta Railway, 340 Miles from Mormugoa.

Some years ago an instrument was invented by one of the Government's scientists that is intended to measure the force of an ocean wave. It was first tested at the extreme eastern end of Long Island, where the waves sweep in unhindered from the Atlantic. In summer a force of over 600 pounds to the square inch has been recorded. In winter as high as a ton to the square foot has been attained. This gives one some idea with what ships, lighthouses and other similar structures have to contend.

The density of the earth as a whole has been estimated, with close agreement among the several scientists who have made the determination, by different methods, to be about 5.5 or 5.1-2 times as heavy as an equivalent sphere of water. On the other hand, the average density of the materials forming the accessible portions of the earth's crust is between 2.5 and 3.0, so that the mean density of the whole globe is about twice that of its outer part. This indicates that the central part of the earth is composed of heavier materials, and may even be metallic, which condition would accord perfectly with the nebular hypothesis.

One of Uncle Sam's naturalists at Washington asserts that tortoise-shell, which is made from the horny skin overlying the bony case of most species of turtles, possesses the property of welding so perfectly that no trace of junction is visible. Two plates to be united have their adjacent edges beveled in opposite directions, and are then squeezed together in a metal press under the action of boiling water. Imitation tortoise-shell is made by painting horn with paste of lime litharge and soda, which is rubbed off after drying. This process leaves dark spots of lead sulphide in the horn, resembling the mottling of real tortoise-shell.

Trackless Trolleys in Europe.

In districts where the construction of permanent tramways would be out of the question owing to prohibitive initial cost there are in use in Germany and France electric transport systems running on the ordinary roads. These draw their supply of electricity from overhead wires similar to those in use in tramway working. Provision is made for passenger traffic by means of omnibuses run singly or with a trailer, while goods traffic is handled by motor vehicles drawing two or three trailers. The first of such lines was opened in 1901, and since that time quite a number of services have been inaugurated in different districts. The routes are for the most part comparatively short. One of the longest lines is that of the Charbonnières-les-Bains, near Lyons, which is worked with six motor cars of a seating capacity of thirty-eight passengers each. A line is also working between the towns of Neuenahr, Walporthian and Ahrweiler. A line is working regularly in connection with an industrial centre in the neighborhood of Wurzen, Germany, over which some thirty wagons are taken each way daily.—Engineering.

Census Shows Increase.

The figures of the twelfth census show that the death rates due to suicide were highest in Maine, with 10.8; with New York second, with 10.6, and Connecticut third, with 10.5; the lowest in Michigan, with 8.7, and 9.1 in New Jersey and Rhode Island. The death rates were highest in the United States among those whose mothers were born in France, with 22 per 100,000 of white population in Germany, and in "other foreign countries" 15.1. It was lowest among those whose mothers were born in Italy, 5.1; in Russia and Poland, 5.8, and in Ireland 6.1 per 100,000 of white population.

The death rate from suicide among those whose mothers were born in the United States, 6.8, was lower than among those whose mothers were born in England and Wales, 10.4; in Scandinavia, 10.7; or in Scotland, 11.6.

The Tyranny of Clothes.

Place a man in a silk hat and frock coat and transport him to a farmyard. Agricultural pursuits may be the one passion of his life, but clad in these garments he feels in such surroundings miserable, out of place, essentially urban. Clothe him, conversely, in flannels or knickerbockers and place him in a church, and it is utterly impossible for him to assume a fittingly devotional frame of mind. Unlimited autocracy itself cannot impose such tyrannies on the subject. Civilization is the slave of its clothes—and there is no prospect of freedom.—London Daily Graphic.

COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulae, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

Worn Down by Five Years of Suffering From Kidney Complaint.

Mrs. Remetha Myers, of 180 South Tenth St., Ironton, O., says: "I have worked hard in my time and have been exposed again and again to changes of weather. It is no wonder my kidneys gave out and I went all to pieces at last. For five years I was fading away, and finally so weak that for six months I could not get out of the house. I was nervous, restless and sleepless at night, and lame and sore in the morning. Sometimes everything would whirl and blur before me. I bloated so badly I could not wear tight clothing, and had to put on shoes two sizes larger than usual. The urine was disordered and passages were dreadfully frequent. I got help from the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills, however, and by the time I had taken four boxes the pain and bloating was gone. I have been in good health ever since."

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure. The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N. Y. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years."

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.

What to do After Eating.

Should one lie down after meals and, if so, should one sleep? Dr. Shule, an assistant of Baumer at Freiburg, has analyzed the contents of the stomachs of two normal subjects removed several hours after an identical test meal of bread and distilled water, followed in one instance by sleep, in the other by simple rest in a horizontal position. Schule shows that sleep during digestion always results in weakening the motility of the stomach and increasing the acidity of the gastric juice, a fact attributed by him to the irritation caused by the chyme's remaining abnormally long in the stomach. He has also remarked that simple repose in a horizontal position, not accompanied by sleep, stimulates the gastric function without increasing the acidity.
