FROM OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

Pickens, R. F. D. 4.

O'Neal Cantrell of Transylvania, N. C., visited the family of A. B. Cantrell last week.

Miss Lillie Lynch spent last week with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cooley, at Liberty.

Miss Ida and Oscar Baker spent Saturday night with Miss Lillie Lynch, and also attended preaching at Oolenoy.

Miss Lizzie Day visited relatives at Greenville last week.

Fodder-pulling is the order of the day this hot weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Rigdon and family, of Easley, are visiting relatives of this section this week. PANSY.

Mile Creek.

Nice weather for saving fodder. Cotton is opening, and the young people who have been having such good times will soon have to go to work.

After a severe illness of several weeks the many friends of Miss Essie Finley, will be pleased to learn that she is improving.

There was an all-day singing at Crow Creek, Sunday. Everything was jolly.

Little Bowen Hill, who has been visiting his uncle, Smith Bowen, has returned home.

Misses Nannie Robertson and Annie Potter, of Oconee, visited Miss Essie Lumpkin one day last week.

R. B. Lumpkin and wife visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curtis, Sunday.

Supt. Looper passed through our burg last week. We hope he got through our rough roads in safety. PAPA'S GIRL.

Pickens, R. F. D. 2.

The county commissioners are having some work done on the roads in this section, which is very much appreciated by the people.

R. T. Merck is erecting for himself a fine dwelling.

A new school building will shortly be put up at Six Mile.

P. M. Durham's school at Garvin will close on the 6th.

Mrs. L. E. Hopkins has been spending the past week with friends and relatives in Greenville.

Dr. Colonel Smith will leave on the 14th inst. for Nashville, Tenn., where he will enter school.

Preaching will begin at Six Mile, Friday night before the second Sunday in September.

Married, Sept. 1, at the home of the bride's brother, Walter Pinson, Cleveland Merck and Miss Alice Pinson; Rev. D. Hatcher officiated.

A large rattlesnake with 12 rattles was killed in R. Parrott's yard Sunday afternoon.

Calvin Woodson, of Bolton, spent Saturday and Sunday with the home folks. READER.

Liberty.

The two Sabbath schools at Liberty combined last Wednesday and enjoyed a picnic at Hunter's mill. I haven't heard how many ticks and cheques were brought home as souvenirs. The return trip was marred by the sudden and severe illness of Miss Calla Chapman, one of our most popular young ladies. I am glad to report her much better.

Mrs. Meta Hunt accompanied her S. S. class to Clemson last week. I like to see the teachers encouraging their pupils in little innocent diversions like this.

The graded school at this place opens Monday. Miss Irene Clark will be on hand to take charge of the music class.

Additional Locals.

Have you seen the comet? It takes an early riser to see it.

Last week was very hot but the nights were cool and pleasant.

Get up your books. The Pickens graded school opens next Monday.

While the nights are a little cooler the sun is as hot in the middle of the day as one could wish for.

B. E. Grandy started work on the addition to the court house Tuesday morning with a large force of hands and will rush the work to an early completion.

Ben T. McDaniel says for no one to try to build. He is remodelling his house and living in it at the same time and says it is a job. When completed he will have the prettiest residence in town.

Saturday was an unusually busy day in Pickens and for our merchants generally. Lots of people from the country were in town purchasing goods and the mill element was very much in evidence at the different stores.

The Liberty Township Singing Association will meet with Reunion Baptist church, two miles east of Liberty, the 3d Sunday in September 1907. Come one, come all. Bring your song books and dinner. By order P. C. Cartee, Pres.

Pickens has not rushed her first bale of cotton on the market yet. Several towns in the state have already bought their first bales paying 13 cents therefor. This is about the price the entire crop should sell for and should be held for that figure.

Bolt & Co., the new druggists, have a new, clean, fresh up-to-date line of drugs, patent medicines, sundries, toilet articles and preparations and have built up a good trade. Their prescription, candy and soda water trade have gone beyond their expectations. They are, all the time in a gentlemanly and legitimate way, reaching out for new customers, and they are succeeding fairly well in bringing new trade to Pickens. Should every business enterprise here try as hard to bring new trade to the town as they have we would certainly be a commercial centre to be proud of.

C. E. Robinson's building is done, and it is one of the prettiest little store rooms to be found anywhere. The up-stairs has been partitioned off into two rooms, the front one into an office to be occupied by Mr. Robinson, while the back room reached by a stair way from the rear of the store room, will be a storage room for surplus goods for the use of those occupying the store room. Messrs. Ashmore & Nimmons will occupy the building and are moving in and arranging their stock of goods this week. They have a nice stand, a pretty store and a splendid stock of goods.

Craig Bros. have a dissertation on "The Labor Problem" in this issue, and proves how the scarcity of labor coupled with the high prices of same has been the means of many labor-saving inventions being brought into practical use. The best labor-saving device on the market to-day is the washing machine. This boon to woman breaks her chains at the wash-tub, does away with tired backs, headaches and all ills that a day spent at the wash-tub produce, and enables the washing to be done on time, keeps peace in the family and allows the lord of creation to have his dinner at the usual hour.

Miss Clark is very popular, and when she comes to our town you will notice the young men begin to sicken up a little more than usual.

Of course, "Clevie," I may have "fifty faults to others one," and I am glad you told me; but, "Clevie" dear, how in the world would there be any reforms made if some one didn't expose, didn't point out the faults. I have got you, "Clevie," for there are others who seem to be stirred up over the same things. I recently noticed in the Saturday Evening Post where a certain periodical had asked a young woman to dress herself very plainly and go to churches of various denominations, until she had attended 150 in all, to test two points in church work. One was "Strangers welcome," and the other to what extent the "average minister would reach out his hand to help her." So you see the minds of the great run in the same channel. Some of these days Mr. Thompson will be wanting some one who dresses "plainly" to do some work for him on the reporting line, and I'll be the one, for my clothes are sure enough plain, but I'd have to take you "Clevie" to do the reporting, for I see signs of future greatness, and when you become a famous author I will feel proud to have been reproved by you. By the way, let's each write a little story and send it to the editor, to see if he will do as he advises others, "not to send off after things, taking the money away from home." Don't you reckon he'd say, "Pshaw! what stuff?"

I was reading the other day, when one of the children spoke up and said, "Ma, what's the meaning of 'Salmagundi'?" Another little "smart alec" said, "Why, that's just a short way of saying Sallie Montgomery." I was almost sure it wasn't in the dictionary, as I prided myself on knowing a whole heap of words. I thought perhaps it was one the editor had coined himself. However, I hunted for it and found it. So when the subject was brought up again I said, "Now, I will tell you the meaning of the word you wished to know." To my surprise they all knew it; had hunted it up "on the sly."

One of the preachers last week at the tent meeting said that he was "going to heaven" at the rate of a thousand miles a minute. I thought that was pretty fast to travel on the "straight and narrow path," and that if some of us slow travelers didn't watch out we would be run over. I think it best to take time to "add to your faith, virtue; to virtue, knowledge; to knowledge, temperance; and to temperance, patience, Godliness, brotherly kindness, charity," etc.

I hope "Clevie" won't think I am finding fault again. DREAMER.

In Memory of Little Clarence Gantt.

On Thursday, 29th ult., about 19 a. m., the death angel entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Gantt and claimed the spirit of little Clarence, aged 4 years.

His sudden death was a shock to his parents; but weep not, dear parents, for we know he is not dead, but lives where there is no death. Only a bud transplanted to bloom above.

While it was sad to look on that dear little face the last here, let us think of meeting him some day in the sweet bye and bye and say, "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away, blessed be the name of the Lord."

His remains were laid to rest the day following in the Liberty cemetery. Rev. Bailey conducted the funeral services. We extend our sympathies to the bereaved family.

Another little lamb has gone
To dwell with Him who gave;
Another little darling babe
Is sheltered in the grave.
God needed one more angel child
Amidst His shining band,
And so He bent with loving smile
And clasped our darling's hand.
LOVED ONE.

I will close my gallery from September 7th to Nov. 15th. E. M. Farmer, 15-16
